But, ... then, Hartford has more literary people— ... Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. ... Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among ... the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward ... A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Su... perior Court, who office is No. 10 in the ... Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known ... to the legal profession throughout Connec... ticut and has also the reputation of being ... a favored writer for the press. As such ... this little story, coming from him under ... date of September 24, 1885, possesses no ... slight interest:

"Day before yesterday, and for a day or ... two prior thereto, I suffered great pain in ... my right arm, which I felt sure was rheu... matic. Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such ... prompt measures to check the pain. ... Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of ... Athlophoros, the rheumatism from which ... he suffered would have been cured with ... equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus ... tells the story of his cure:

"I had the rheumatism nine months before I heard of your Athlophoros. I was prostrate all that time and could do nothing. I had several doctors, but they did no good. I tried all the medicine I could hear of with no better results. At last I saw Athlophoros advertised and sent for some. On the day it arrived I took three doses in the afternoon before I went to bed, and that night I slept as well as I did when a boy. It seemed to kill the pain at once, and I never have been troubled since. My joints were badly swollen at the time, but as soon as the pain stopped the swelling began to go down very gradually. I am satisfied that if I had taken Athlophoros when I first troubled with the disease it would have saved me $500 in expenses, time and pain.

"I have recommended it to several others in this place with equally good results. One case was that of a boy 15 years old, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that his father had to carry him up stairs to bed for two weeks. His mother came to me to inquire about Athlophoros. I advised her to get it at once by all means and she did. In two days after taking the medicine the boy was out at play with other boys, being entirely cured and has been well ever since.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

TWO TOUCANS.

Thirst of a Bird with a Big Name to Devour a Small Companion.

The toucan is a bird known to few men, but when once seen it is apt soon to be forgotten. Nature, in making the toucan, seems to have started out to see how much bill she could make one bird carry. Having achieved a very remarkable success, she has attached to the beak a small body, just big enough to hold it, and then, apparently seized with remorse, has done all she could to make atonement by lavishing on the toucan's diminutive frame the brightest and most fantastic colors on her palette. In a dingy little store in Roosevelt street lives a big toucan who is not happy for all his gaudiness. Cruel science, taking advantage of his captivity, has named him Rhamphastos erythorynchus. This name is written on the toucan's cage, and, added to the weight of his bill, it seems to have been too much for him. Ever since he came to this town from his native place, in the hottest part of Mexico, he has been down-hearted and miserable, resting his beak wearily on a perch while he stands on the ground, and refusing to eat except when he feels ravenously hungry. Nothing could be more interesting than a study of the satanic method invented by this toucan for giving vent to his feelings. It was explained and illustrated yesterday by a yellow-haired boy, who has a friendly feeling for the bird despite the latter's evil disposition.

In the cage with the big toucan lives a smaller toucan, who seems to be of a gayer disposition and disposed to take life more cheerfully if it could. He is very small, and his bill is enormous, and that is his only safeguard. When the big toucan gets homesick or fancies that the neighboring parrot, whose language he does not understand, is ridiculing his Latin name with unusual bitterness, his eye assumes a wicked expression, and he watches his youthful companion intently. Of course that naturally gay young bird can not be constantly suspecting evil, and sooner or later he is bound to turn his back to the big toucan. That is the opportunity sought for. The big bird opens his large bill, and quietly ingulfs all that he can possibly hold of his companion. If the small one is taken unawares, his entire body usually disappears, with a considerable part of his beak. If he is quick and opens wide his bill before being swallowed, then only his body can be taken in, and he has the pleasure of utterly baffling his foe. For the baring ambition of the big toucan seems to be to swallow his companion bill and all. Every time he makes a most praiseworthy effort to accomplish his end, and when he sees that it's impossible he holds the small bird prisoner until he is very tired, and then reluctantly allows him to escape.

The yellow-haired boy told this with a candor and simplicity that ought to have carried conviction. But his hearer showed incredulity. This grieved him.

"Come here," he said, "and I'll show you."

He led the way to the toucan's cage, and did all he could for a few minutes to make the toucan's life bitter. He called him names, rattled his cage, pulled his bill, and was at last rewarded by seeing a yearning look for revenge light up the toucan's eye. The little toucan was hopping about gleefully, greatly enjoying the fun and wagging his bill in great mirth, when he was suddenly seized by the bill and encompassed as has been described. A look of patient resignation appeared in the eye of the little toucan. He opened wide his bill to keep from being surrounded too extensively, and kept it open, until he was at last reluctantly dropped and allowed to go in peace.

"It's a funny thing," the yellow-haired boy observed, "but there doesn't seem to be any bad blood between those two toucans. The big fellow never tries to hurt the little chap, and the little chap never tries to get even. I guess the big fellow thinks it would relieve his feelings if he could swallow the other one, and he has made up his mind to do it. The little one has made up his mind just the other way, and it is a tussle between them. At first, though, before he learned that trick of opening his mouth, the little fellow used to have hard times. The big one would struggle until he almost succeeded in swallowing the little one. That must have been an awful sensation, and then there was the unpleasant feeling of having his breath almost squeezed out. I think that young toucan has the most to complain of, but he is growing all the while, and will soon be as big as the other. It will be fun, when both are big, to see them watching for a chance to swallow what they can or each other. We ask $30 a pair for them. That is very cheap; but they can't sing, and only attract those who want a curiosity. I am not in a hurry to sell them go, for I just want to see the small bird when he's big enough to get even."

During the conversation the big toucan had taken offense at something, and was found again struggling with his fellow. Baffled once more, he retired into a corner, and only nodded gloomily at the friendly salute made by the visitor as he passed out.—N. Y. Sun.

"Has America need of a Westminster Abbey?" asks an exchange. "Well, wouldn't it be rather ungrateful to bury the 'Sweet Singer of Michigan' and the author of 'The Bloody Bucaneer of the Bounding Billows' in a common, every-day cemetery, where repose the remains of base ball players, editors, roller-skaters, congressmen, and other ordinary people?"—Norristown Herald.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Samuel Miller, a prominent contractor of Chattanooga, Tenn., and a leading member of the Baptist church there, disappeared eighteen months ago, leaving a beautiful young wife to whom he had been but three months married. He also left some debts, but his integrity was not doubted, and it was believed he was murdered. It has just transpired that Miller is secreted in Texas, and that he has wives in five different states, each of whom he deserted a few weeks after marriage. It is also alleged that he has left debts unpaid in half a dozen cities.

THE NEW YEAR.

Hardly have we had our fill of Christmas enjoyments, and ceased for a while in the contemplation of those numerous tokens of appreciation which are annually at this festive season brought to the good and appreciated editor, ere New Year's comes and demands a notice.

This is the peculiar time when we turn over a new leaf. It is the era of good resolutions, promises of self-denial, and determination to begin a systematic self-improvement.

To some, the departure of the old year brings memories of sadness and an occasion of solemn retrospection. To others, the buoyancy of hope, the delights of anticipation, and the happy expectancy of better things in store, are a source of joyous pre-gratification.

As we indite these lines just as the year goes out, we are moved in bidding adieu to '85 to speak kindly of it, and to remember it with due regard for its respectability in its place in history; and as the Sentinel on Market Square reminds us, as it sounds the last notes at midnight, that it is "twelve o'clock and all's well," we gladly wish for our readers a "Happy New Year."

Yes, our old companion 1885 has gone, and has become a period of the past; and we this morning greet our friends with the fond hope that the new year will be, in every way, one of happiness and prosperity. In this respect, of course, much depends upon ourselves individually; for in many relations the world is what we make it unto ourselves. So then:

Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The year is going, let him go;

Court Assignments for 1886.

The following assignment of judges for the trial terms of the supreme court in the early part of 1886 has been made: Judge Allen, at Newport the fourth Tuesday of January, at Ossipee the third Tuesday of April, at Plymouth the second Tuesday of May; Judge Smith, at Manchester the third Tuesday of March; Judge Clark, at Exeter the third Tuesday of January, at Lancaster the fourth Tuesday of February, at Haverhill the fourth Tuesday of March, at Exeter the second Tuesday of April; Judge Carpenter, at Concord the first Tuesday of April; Judge Bingham, at Dover the second Tuesday of February, at Laconia the fourth Tuesday of March, at Keene the first Tuesday of April.

Judgement in Alabama Claims.

The court of commissioners of Alabama claims has sent to the department of state a certified list of the judgments and decisions in cases of the second class, rendered since the organization of the court in 1882, together with a certified list of judgments and decisions in cases of the first class, not heretofore reported. There are nine cases of the first-class in which judgments ranging from $200 to $3000 are rendered in favor of claimants, and thirty-one cases in which judgment is for the United States. Those of the second class fill several large books, and award to the claimants amounts ranging from $100 to $80,000 or $90,000. They will be certified by the secretary of state to the secretary of the treasury for payment, according to law.

MATRIMONIAL.

The Sentinel of Stuart, Iowa, of date Dec. 23d, has the following in regard to the nuptials of the daughter of Mr. Jacob G. Crockett, who some years ago held the position of foreman machinist on the Portsmouth navy yard, but for a number of years has resided in Stuart:

Today while most of our citizens were busied with the active preparations attendent upon the coming Christmas festivities, an impressive ceremony was being performed at the residence of Mr. J. G. Crockett and wife, uniting in marriage their daughter, Miss Carrie T. Crockett, with Mr. C. S. Smart of Sioux City, Ia., Rev. Rogers, of the Universalist church, officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one, none but the immediate members of the family being present. Both of these young people have spent most of their youthful days in Stuart, the parents of each having been connected with the C. R. I. & P. R. R. Co., Mr. Crockett as master mechanic of the machine shops, and Mr. Smart as station agent, so that the union of these young hearts is but the ripening of years of acquaintanceship and pleasant associations. The bride is one of Stuart's most pleasing and attractive young ladies, at one time a teacher in our public schools, and is possessed of all those rare accomplishments which go to make up a perfect womanhood and which have endeared her to the hearts of her many associates. The groom is a young man of exemplary character and fine business qualifications. For several years he held the position of teller in the Exchange bank of Stuart, but some six months ago he accepted the position of cashier of the Western Home insurance company's offices at Sioux City, whither he takes his bride to adorn the new home he has prepared, and where the best wishes of a host of friends will follow them.

Peter B. Sweeney, Esq. the leading light of the notorious Tammany-Tweed ring, has returned to New York from a somewhat prolonged residence in France. There has probably not been a similar announcement of such interest since it was made concerning the late Aaron Burr, who also resided in Paris for some time, under circumstances which led him to regard the society of his native country as distasteful.

Mr. James R. Morrison and family started from this city on the morning of Dec. 31st for their winter residence in Florida. Mr. Morrison will probably return in March, but the remaining members of the family are likely to stay in Florida until May.

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the best Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, beautiful, to make their annual holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE selected expressly for the and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONN, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safes are full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

THE NEW YEAR.

[By Mrs. Anne Lippitt Marvin.]

What hopes—what recollections thrill
The hearts that greet this festal day!
What new and nameless fancies fill
The old and young, the sad and gay!

What vows of sterner faithfulness!
What closet prayers, what contrite tears!
And all the purposes that press
To grander deeds through future years.

And what of thee, my soul? What gain
Though conflict crowns thee? Dost thou wear
A peace that overreaches pain?
A trust that triumphs over care?

We stand not now where once we stood—
Well—better than the dreams of youth,
To see the gradual growth of good,
And the unfaltering march of truth!

The Love that stoops to hear, and still
With answers, every human cry,
Shall, with a sweet unswerving will,
Lead on His hosts victoriously.

And so my faith takes freer wing,
And pierces all the cloudy years!
I put my hand in His, and spring
Beyond all grief, and change, and fears.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

THURSDAY, Dec. 31st.

Jerry Murphy, an individual not unknown to the readers of the police court records for the past ten years or so, was introduced to the police magistrate as being a gentleman who had compassed a big drunk the previous day. The magistrate advised him to retire to Brentwood for the space of thirty-days, and charged him $6.90 for the advice, etc.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Dec. 31st, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board, except Aldermen Coffin and Littlefield.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Invitation to the mayor and aldermen to attend the emancipation ball on New Year's night was accepted.

Bills amounting to about $4000 were ordered paid.

The city solicitor appeared, and gave information as to the new move of Marcus P. Norton.

The resignation of Robert H. Hall, as assistant engineer of the fire department, was laid on the table.

David Urch and other residents of the south end appeared in regard to the condition of the sea-wall at Newcastle street; matter referred to a special committee.

The laying of planks in the north pond to support suction hose was referred to the committee on fire department, with power. The subject of making a new reservoir on Christian Shore was referred to same committee to report.

Proposition of Wm. P. Israel to furnish gravel for streets was referred to the committee on streets with power.

Matter of reducing the compensation of the gas company for street lights, on account of the establishing of so many oil lamps, was referred to the mayor, to confer with the company and report.

Questions concerning the fire alarm, and answering the same by the department, were referred to a special committee.

Adjourned.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital will be very grateful to those interested in the institution if they will remember that the reception days are Tuesdays and Fridays, from two to four o'clock in the afternoon. Friends of the patients will please call between two and four on Saturdays and Sundays. It is of great importance that these regulations should be kept up and adhered to.

The Concord & Portsmouth railroad paid a dividend of 3 1-2 per cent Dec. 27th, and the Portsmouth & Dover railroad pays three per cent Jan. 1st.

Write it 1886.

Martin Garrity is turning over a new leaf with the advent of the new year, and is to-day distributing among the luckiest persons an extra lot of fine fowls, including Green Mountain geese from Vermont, fat turkeys from Rhode Island and the Providence Plantations, canvas-back ducks from the waters of Maryland, and the best chickens of Maine and New Hampshire.

The alarm of fire shortly after seven o'clock last Thursday evening, from box fourteen, was caused by a mass of smoke-like steam issuing from a building on Market street occupied by Hon. Frank Jones as a storehouse for hops. The services of the department were not needed, there being no fire.

Some individual better provided with breath than with brains amused himself about midnight on the night of Dec. 30th, by several times blowing the police signal for aid on a police whistle, in the vicinity of Market square. It would have served the silly ass right had an officer caught him and given him such a clubbing as would have kept him in bed for a month. Who the fellow was should not be difficult to find out, for the whistles are owned by the city, and supplied only to the regular police, for their protection and the protection of the public; and if any officer loans his whistle, he should make sure it is to a man and not to a jumping-jack. The fact is, there is room for a vast deal of improvement in the present police force, and unless such improvement sets in pretty soon the hoodlum element will have the upper hand entirely; it has pretty nearly got it now.

Among the fishing arrivals on Wednesday, Dec. 30th, were the schooners A. C. Newhall, Solomon White master, with 4,000 lbs., the George Hagan, Nathaniel White master, with 3,480 lb., the Flying Dart, Miles master, with 2,800 lbs., the Flying Eagle, Randall master, with 4,000 lbs., and the Comet, Creamer master, with 4,500 lbs.,—all bought by E. Newton & Co. Edw. Jameson shipped on Wednesday night twenty-two boxes of large cod. The prices paid averaged $2.50 per hundred pounds.

Mrs. M. J. Brown of Andover, Mass., formerly Mrs. Marr of this city, and well known as the keeper of a boarding house on Market street, died suddenly in Andover a few days ago.

The remains of Mr. Joseph E. Adams, who died Dec 24th in Minneapolis, Minn., arrived in this city on the evening of the 30th ult., for interment.

Smelts were selling on Wednesday of this week by George W. Randall & Co. at twelve cents a pound; they are brought from Nova Scotia, and while very acceptable as a substitute for New England smelts when the latter cannot be obtained are decidedly inferior to them. The Great bay smelters have so far this season been unable to accomplish much on account of the thinness of the ice: and as the river on Thursday, at ebb tide, was thickly sprinkled with small sheets of porous and melting ice, brought down from upper waters, it is not likely they will do much for some time to come.

Some of the citizens of Rockport, Mass., interested in the fish business there, having sent a communication to the mayor of this city asking that he take some action to prevent the purchase and shipment of fish on Sunday here, Mayor Eldredge replied, saying that while he as chief executive of the city should endeavor to see that all Sunday laws were complied with, he was unable to learn that the fish business is carried on in this city in any such manner as to disturb citizens, and he does not consider that any action on his part is necessary.

Messrs. George B. Wallace, telegraph operator, and G. H. Hooper, night yard master at the station of the Boston & Maine railroad in this city, who have been taking a subscription for the relief of the family of Mr. James C. White, who was killed in the yard a short time since, have collected and paid over to Mrs. White $172. A very handsome sum to be devoted to so worthy an object.—Times.

Patents.

Inventors seeking patents, to secure which with facility requires long experience and thorough conversance with the laws and technicalities relating to American and foreign patents, find in Mr. R. H. Eddy, of No. 76 State street, Boston, an expert second to none. For a long series of years we have with pleasure commended him to all seeking patents in any part of the world, as a leading and most successful solicitor in this line. Though our patent laws are more liberal than those of any other country, there is much to be considered before taking out a patent: the value of the invention; conflicting claims as to its patentability; the proper manner in which to present the application to the commissioner; desirability of securing foreign patents, etc. Mr. Eddy's knowledge and judgment in these matters have been proven in a long and honorable practice; and he is in every respect most eminently qualified to furnish the best of advice, being perfectly familiar with the workings of the government office, acquainted with patents already granted, and posted on all points regarding patents.

The True Secret of Living.

There is a saying that we spend half our lives in living and the other half in thinking of it. The worst of it is, however, that in the rush and hurry of the present age we cannot always find time to think of how we can live the most comfortably, and before we realize it disease has got into our systems. The best way is always to be prepared for such emergencies, and we know of no safer plan than to use St. Jacobs Oil. It will drive pain away, expel all tendency to rheumatism and neuralgia, and make you feel so happy that you will spend all your time in enjoying life without going around moping about it.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1879.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Siamese Royalty.

The Siamese call their first or supreme king the wang luang and the second king the wang na. During the early history of Siam it was the custom for the wang na, or second king, to succeed to the supreme power in the realm in the event of the death of the first king. This custom was abolished about fifty years ago, when a law was enacted providing that the succession to the crown could be determined only by the "senabodee," or council of state. The right of primogeniture has never been recognized in Siam, and in the event of the death of the present monarch one of his younger brothers, instead of his eldest son, might succeed him. In Siamese history the usages of royalty show that at various periods there were instances when wang nas, or second kings, did not exist, and there were also periods when three kings reigned, having almost equal powers. During the reign of Somdetch Para Chaum Klow, his majesty appointed his younger brother, Prince Chow Fah Kromakun, the wang na, or second king, and during the reign of the present monarch, Chulalongkorn, the "senabodee" elevated the late second king, who was then a prince, as before stated, and his cousin to the royal post, which he had at the time of his death. It is not likely, in view of the progressive policy of the supreme king and the changes which he has been adopting in the governmental system, that the vacancy will be filled, so that with the death of the second king the office is practically abolished.

Dr. J. W. Griggs' suit against the Western Railroad was terminated last Friday. The jury gave the doctor damages to the amount of $260. We asked him what he proposed to do with so much money. He said: "I shall buy a first-class donkey and name it for the judge who presided in the case."—West Point (Ga.) News.

A well-known Westfield character recently wrote to one of our public school teachers that he wanted his children to learn to read, not to march—that they could be taught to do that at home, and that he had previously sent two of them to another school where they did nothing but march, until they finally marched into the Reform School.—Westfield (Mass.) Times.

The financial ruin of Berry Wall of New York, the "King of the Dudes," is said to be complete. He has spent every cent of the fortune left by his father, and into possession of which he came at his majority only five or six years ago. Wall's mother has a large fortune, a part of which may come to him, and for the present he must rely upon her for support. He has a younger brother, "Billy" Wall, who is not so reckless with his money, but of whom the story is told that, having some dispute with the keeper of a Broadway bar-room, he rented the adjoining store the next morning, and fitted it up with a bar and the best, at a cost of nearly $5,000. Then he set up a barkeeper in it, and got for it such a run of custom that within two months the neighboring establishment was ruined.

The National Complaint.

Dyspepsia is the national complaint. Almost every other man or woman you meet has it, and the result is that the numerous as Pharaoh's host. They are for the most part worthless. There is, however, a searching eradicant of this distressing and obdurate malady, one whose merits long since raised it to a foremost place among the simple medicines of America. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters extirpates dyspepsia with greater certainty and promptitude than any known remedy, and is a most genial invigorant, appetizer and aid to secretion. These are not empty assertions, as thousands of our countrymen and women who have experienced its effects are aware, but are backed up by irrefragable proofs repeatedly laid before the public. The Bitters also promote a regular habit of body and give a healthful stimulus to the urinary organs.

The police of Detroit, Mich., formed themselves into a mob on the night of Dec. 29th, and destroyed the office of the Sunday Sun, a sensational newspaper which had criticized their conduct.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites

In General Debility and Emaciation.

Is a most valuable food and medicine where the appetite is poor, and the ordinary food does not seem to nourish the body. This is easily digested and assimilated and gives strength and vigor to the enfeebled body.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel Installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $8,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

One of the very best of all earthly possessions is self-possession. Another equally as valuable is the Red Star Cough Cure. A bottle of that medicine will remove the very worst cough or cold ever contracted.

The new steamship City of Nassau, intended to run between Jacksonville, Fla., and Nassau, N. P., was on Dec. 31st reported to be missing, with a crew of seventeen men, having been more than a week on the trip from Delaware breakwater to Jacksonville.

At Braddock, Pa., Dec. 31st, the Edgar Thompson furnaces were closed, throwing 700 men out of work. The employers offered an advance of ten per cent in wages, but the men refused to accept it unless the hours of labor were also reduced from twelve to eight per day.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Maine street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Jerry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.

When Congress re-assembles one of the first bills to come up will be the one to remove the sentence of the court martial from Fitz John Porter, and place him on the retired list. The bill will again pass, as it did last winter, and President Cleveland will undoubtedly sign it.

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

Treasury officials think that the public debt statement will show an increase of nearly $2,000,000 in public debt during the current month.

Look Out For Your Head.

No matter what parts it may finally affect, catarrh always starts in the head, and belongs to the head. There is no mystery about the origin of this direful disease. It begins in a neglected cold. One of the kind that is "sure to be better in a few days." Thousands of victims know how it is by sad experience. Ely's Cream Balm cures colds in the head and catarrh in all its stages. Not a snuff nor a liquid. Applied with the finger to the nostrils.

—While the soldiers were at Seattle, says the Sacramento Record-Union, a number of them who were impecunious struck a brilliant plan for making a "raise." They started out and made a census of all the Chinese in the town, charging each one of them a fee for taking his name. The whole of Chinatown was gone over, and $150 were realized.

J. L. Estes, Burnsville, Chickasaw nation, Indian territory, writes: "I have to thank Allcock's Porous Plasters for saving the life of my wife; she was attacked with pneumonia which commenced with a violent chill, great coughing and high fever. I could not get a doctor, but fortunately had a box of Allcock's Porous Plasters in the house; I placed one between her breasts, one on each shoulder-blade, and one on the small of her back. In two hours her cough almost ceased and was very loose; in four hours she broke into a profuse perspiration. The next day, though very weak, she was free from fever, and the third day was quite well. I also cured my child of diphtheritic sore throat, by wrapping the neck in an Allcock's Porous Plaster."

THE DECAY OF THE HILL TOWNS.

Those who have traveled through the hill country of New England must often have been struck by the sight of a white church standing almost alone upon a summit of the great ridge. Once it was the meeting place of some flourishing village, but when the railroads came, making their way through the rough forbidding country by following the water courses closely the villagers descended into the valleys, built up towns along the great highways of travel and left the old church to mourn over its lost glories and to struggle along weakly until it too had to succumb to the new order of things. The clergy who built up these pillars of orthodoxy were strong and earnest men, and those who have succeeded them are not less so. Their lives are marked by self-sacrifice and severe work. Their labors are carried on under many difficulties and hardships, and it is not surprising that many suffer from rheumatism and neuralgia. That many of them have found a cure, however, for these diseases may be seen from these letters. Rev. A. S. Cooper, of Williston, Vt., says:

"Twelve hours' use of Athlophoros greatly removed the pain from my system and rendered the muscles so supple that I could get up and down with ease, which I have not done for a long time. I called yesterday on a gentleman who got a bottle from me and who I expected would send for more through me, but I found he had got the start of me and ordered for himself, having been much benefited by it."

Henry L. Hall, editor of Willimantic (Ct.) Journal, who is well and favorably known for miles around, says:

"Three doses of Athlophoros relieved me from a very acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism in nine hours. I consider it an invaluable remedy in rheumatic affections, and esteem it a pleasure to recommend Athlophoros."

Mr. J. B. Webster, who is the carpenter for the Willimantic Linen Co., of Willimantic, Conn., and is well-known and much respected in that neighborhood, says: "For three months I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism, and failed to receive any relief from any of the numerous remedies for that complaint until I took Athlophoros, which entirely cured me."

Rev. S. Donaldson, of Lyndon, Vt., writes:

"The bottle of Athlophoros helped my wife greatly. She had up to the time of taking it been a great sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatic difficulties, making it almost impossible for her to walk with any ease. These difficulties have been about her more or less for fourteen years. Since taking the medicine she has been comparatively free from pain and is able to walk better than before for several years."

Rev. Charles E. Harris, formerly of New Haven, now of Brooklyn, says:

"Athlophoros acted like a charm, and I have been quite free from any attack of rheumatism from that time until the present. I can, therefore, with all sincerity testify to the valuable quality of Athlophoros as a rheumatic cure."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

The Farmer's Daughter's Dowry.

They tell in England a profitable anecdote about Mr. Bakewell, of Dishley, who was an eminent agriculturist and breeder of stock. He was also regarded, as a very wise and shrewd man, and his neighbors were in the habit of resorting to him for counsel and advice. On one occasion an old friend went to pay him a visit for the purpose of explaining to him his position, and at the same time begging him that he would recommend him what to do. He had lived all his life upon his own farm of 1,000 acres; he lived very well, but he had never saved a shilling. He had three daughters, and the eldest was about to be married. He highly approved of the match, but the intended husband expected some portion, and he had nothing to give him. Should he mortgage his estate, or what should he do? Mr. Bakewell begged him to spend the night with him, and promised, the next morning, to give the result of his cogitations. Accordingly, the next morning, when they met at breakfast, Bakewell said: "I have made up my mind what you ought to do; give your son-in-law one-fourth of the farm, keep the remaining three-fourths, and do not part with any portion of your capital and stock, and work the remaining three-fourths with it. Do it better than you have hitherto done, and your income will be rather increased than diminished." His friend followed his advice, but at the end of two or three years another daughter would be married, and the perplexed father again resorted to his friend Bakewell for advice under this new difficulty. Bakewell coolly said he had watched his proceedings and seen their results; he must do in this case as he had done before; he must give up another fourth of his farm, and keep the original capital and stock. The father seemed somewhat puzzled, but as the first experiment had succeeded, he determined to try it in this case also. Last of all the youngest daughter was to be married, and, in utter despair, the poor father paid another visit to Dishley to explain his perplexity. "Well," said Bakewell, "tell me honestly whether your income has diminished by having your farm reduced one-half?" The father acknowledged he thought it had not. "Then," said Bakewell, "you must give up another fourth of your farm, and keep the remaining 250 acres for yourself, and, to tell the truth, you will then have just such a farm as your stock, your capital and your head are fit for, and will be a better and happier man than ever." Old Bakewell used to tell this story with great glee, and declared his friend left as much stock and capital upon the 250 acres as he ever had upon the 1,000, and, as he believed, made a better income out of it.—American Cultivator.

Siamese Royalty.

The Siamese call their first or supreme king the wang luang and the second king the wang na. During the early history of Siam it was the custom for the wang na, or second king, to succeed to the supreme power in the realm in the event of the death of the first king. This custom was abolished about fifty years ago, when a law was enacted providing that the succession to the crown could be determined only by the "senabodee," or council of state. The right of primogeniture has never been recognized in Siam, and in the event of the death of the present monarch one of his younger brothers, instead of his eldest son, might succeed him. In Siamese history the usages of royalty show that at various periods there were instances when wang nas, or second kings, did not exist, and there were also periods when three kings reigned, having almost equal powers. During the reign of Somdutch Pra Chaum Klow, his majesty appointed his younger brother, Prince Chow Pah Kromakun, the wang na, or second king, and during the reign of the present monarch, Chulalongkorn, the "senabodee" elevated the late second king, who was his cousin, prince, as before stated, and his cousin to the royal post, which he had at the time of his death. It is not likely, in view of the progressive policy of the supreme king and the changes which he has been adopting in the governmental system, that the vacancy will be filled, so that with the death of the second king the office is practically abolished.

Kissing is Doomed.

Some recent observers have remarked that the kiss as a salutation, except among near kindred or friends, is passing out of use. We should be glad to believe that this is so, but in many portions of the country it is certain that the kissing habit is still almost universal among women. Those between whom an actual dislike is known to exist touch each other's lips in their calling rounds, and even on the street and at railroad stations.

At a certain girls' school some years ago, where the kissing fever was prevalent (as is the case in most schools of the sort), a society was formed, which was dubbed A. K. L. These mystic letters stood for the words Anti-Kissing League, and the society embraced at one time most of the "solid" girls of the school. We understand that it is no longer in existence, but its influence was most salutary and is felt even to the present time. If the teachers in girls' schools and colleges would only take the matter of kissing in hand and create a public sentiment against the indiscriminate indulgence in the practice there would be much less of the absurd "mash" epidemic among the callow maidens in our educational institutions.—Philadelphia Press.

Fenced Off.

The French inhabitants of Ste. Cunegonde, a suburb of Montreal, being violently opposed to any rational methods of crushing out the smallpox, the city government decided to barricade the dangerous place off with a fence twelve feet high. This was done, but about eleven o'clock at night on Dec. 31st a mob of 500 or more persons attacked the police at the fence, drove them away, and destroyed the obstruction. More police were called out, the mob driven off, and the barricades re-erected.

A GREY SQUIRREL FARM.

The Dover Democrat gives a pleasant little account of "the grey squirrel industry" as carried on by Mr. William Penn Tuttle, an enterprising and successful farmer living on the Dover Point road. It says:

He has for some time past been engaged in leisure hours cultivating and promoting the grey squirrel industry, until he has to-day in a belt of woods near his residence several hundred of the nimble, bushy-tailed chatting creatures, running about wherever they will, some of them tame as kittens, others wild as hawks, and really the most interesting and funny lot of live stock ever seen in these parts. In fact his "woods are full of 'em," and he takes infinite pleasure in seeing them frisk about over the ground, up and down the trees and in and out of their holes.

It has not been an unfrequent occurrence in the past to see dozens of them all at once running around the house, or chattering away from the window sills at the family inside. Once or twice every day in this cold wintry season the owner visits the woods with a supply of corn and other things which they will eat, and as he approaches scores of the nimble things can be seen slipping toward him from all directions, and as soon as he throws out the corn they are on hand to pick it up, and, look whichever way he may, he can see them sitting erect taking their rations in the heartiest fashion.

On being asked how he keeps the cats and dogs from devouring them and the vandal boys from shooting and destroying them utterly, he said no cat dared to touch one of them, for a dozen would be upon the feline's back at once and kill him outright; and as for dogs they are not spry enough to catch one if they tried ever so hard. As for the gunners who might go for them for game, he had rigidly forbidden anybody and everybody to venture with a gun upon the premises at all, under the extreme penalties of the law, which he would certainly enforce if a shot should be fired. The law gives him just the same right to keep and propagate his squirrels as it does his horses, cattle and swine, and everybody knows that he intends to exercise the right and "come down" on anybody who invades it. And that is correct. Nobody trespasses or interferes, and when he wants a squirrel pie he has it.

Now we have written and published this about the most unique and pleasurable industry of Dover, nobody need think he can go gunning and shoot even one of these pets with impunity, for he will find his mistake if he tries it. Nobody but a heartless, thoughtless, cruel hoiden would ever do it or attempt it.

GOOD COWS.

C. Hiram Hayes of Portsmouth, of the firm of C. H. Hayes & Son, who was in attendance upon the meeting of the New Hampshire State Agricultural society in this city yesterday, is the owner of two thoroughbred Ayrshire cows which give fifty quarts of milk a day, weighing between 107 and 112 pounds. They require milking three times daily, and their yield has never before been equalled by Ayrshire cows. They are eight years old, and Mr. Hayes has owned them four years. One he values at $500 and the other at $300. They are well fed, and their milk is of an excellent quality. The one which is considered to be the better gave sixty-two pounds of milk on Christmas day.—Manchester Union.

A new volume. The one hundred and sixty-eighth volume of "Littell's Living Age" opens with the issue for the week ending January 2d. Foreign periodical literature continues to grow not only in bulk but also in the variety, interest and importance of the topics treated; and it absorbs to a greater extent every year the work of the most prominent authors of the day. Presenting with freshness and satisfactory completeness what is most valuable of this literature, the Living Age becomes each year more and more a necessity to American readers. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year) the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to end any of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leasing the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty!" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

NORTON'S QUITCLAIM.

In view of the fact that that objectionable person, Marcus P. Norton, proposes to disturb the quiet of our goodly city once more with a ridiculous request for dollars from its treasury, the following documents, which explain themselves, will be of interest to our readers:

AGREEMENT OF MARCUS P. NORTON.

Be it Known, that we, James P. Foster as attorney in fact, Marcus P. Norton, trustee and as plaintiff in certain suits against the cities herein referred to, and J. C. Caverly, attorney of record for plaintiffs in said suits, in consideration of one dollar to us paid by the city of Dover, the city of Concord, the city of Manchester, the city of Nashua, and the city of Portsmouth respectively, each a municipal corporation within the state of New Hampshire, and for other good and sufficient considerations by us received do hereby fully remise, release, discharge, and acquit the said cities, and each of them, from any and all claims, demands and causes of action whatsoever under Letters Patent of the United States, No. 42,920, dated May 24, 1864, and granted to James Knibbs and Marcus P. Norton for improvements in steam fire or other engine pumps, or arising from any infringement or infringements upon the exclusive rights secured by the same, or for any use or uses which the said cities or either of them may have made of the invention therein described, or for any damages which we or the owners of said letters patent may have at any time suffered by reason of any such infringement or use by the said cities.

Boston, August 2, 1883.

Witness our hands and seals.

James P. Foster, attorney in fact for the owners of the patent; Marcus P. Norton, trustee; J. C. Caverly, attorney of record for plaintiffs.

AGREEMENT OF CITY MAYORS.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 1883,

It is hereby mutually agreed by the cities of Concord, Manchester, Nashua, Dover and Portsmouth, all situated in the state of New Hampshire, defendants in the Knibbs patent suits, so-called, that the release made and executed by the owners of said Knibbs patent to said cities, and now in the possession of Geo. L. Roberts & Bros. of Boston, Mass., shall be delivered to H. B. Putnam mayor of Manchester, who shall place the same upon the files of the city of Manchester, there to be safely kept, for the use of all parties hereto.

City of Concord, by Edgar H. Woodman, mayor; city of Nashua, by A. M. Norton, mayor; city of Portsmouth, by John S. Treat, mayor; city of Dover, N. H., by Jas. E. Lothrop, mayor.

Received the above document this day, 18th June, 1884. H. B. PUTNAM.

It having been rumored that Mr. George L. Roberts of Boston, counsel for the cities in the former trial of the Knibbs valve cases, had gone over to the enemy, Ex-Mayor Lothrop of Dover took the trouble to call upon him, and reports that Mr. Roberts said he "could think of no change he could make in the paper of release that could add to its validity or strength, or any other party who could be required to sign it; and further, he is not now, nor has he ever been, retained by or in the employ of Marcus P. Norton.

At a meeting of the Governor Wentworth Associates, held on Thursday evening, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing six months: president, John Wood; vice president, James Janvrin; secretary, Ellen M. Trefethen; treasurer, John L. Randall; collector, James Sanborn. Regular meetings will hereafter be held on the 2d and 4th Fridays of each month.

At the annual meeting of Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., held on the evening of Dec. 31st, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year; Fred H. Ward, N. G.; Freeman H. Marden, V. G.; Charles H. Clough, R. S.; C. Dwight Hanscom, P. S.; Edwin B. Prime, Treas; Moses Plummer, Chas. E. Hodgdon, and W. S. Hazel, trustees; Moses Plummer, H. C. After the regular business of the lodge was over, Mr. Charles H. Clough, who for several years past has served the lodge faithfully and ably as recording secretary, was the recipient of an elegant gold pen and pencil combined, from the brethen, Bro. Simon R. Marston making the presentation speech.

The annual meeting of the Rockingham Masonic Mutual Relief Association was held in Masonic hall on Friday evening, and officers chosen as follows: William P. Walker, president; Lemuel T. Davis, vice president; William H. Sise, treasurer; John H. Choever, secretary; Lemuel T. Davis, Wm. A. Meloon, James W. Wingate, and Thomas Coyle, trustees. Five members of the association have died during the past year.

Friday (New Year's day) was a government holiday. Work was suspended on the navy yard, and the post-office general delivery was only open as is usual on holidays.

Mr. Henry Works, formerly of this city, was instantly killed at Oakland, Cal., Dec. 21st, by the fall of an unoccupied building. He was engaged in peddling medicine through the country, and a heavy shower coming up, stepped into the doorway for shelter, when the building, which had been undermined by the water, fell upon and crushed him, death being instantaneous. No one was near at the time, and it was some hours before the remains were discovered through a hand being seen protruding from the wreck. The body was then quickly taking out by several men, one of whom was Hall B. Rand formerly of this city, a police officer of Oakland and a brother of Mr. Alexander L. Rand, who at once recognized the body as that of Mr. Works. The deceased was fifty-four years old, and leaves a wife but no children.

The national ensign was flying from the flagstaff on the custom house, Friday, instead of the revenue flag. Reason, the custom house was closed, New Year's day being a national holiday.

We are informed that it was nine minutes after the alarm of fire was given on Thursday evening before the first engine went past the end of Bow street on its way up Market street, and sixteen minutes before the second one passed the same point. The alarm is now said to have been caused by smoke from the chimney of Henry L. Garrett & Son's store, which was blown against the end of Mr. Jones' hop storehouse in such a way as to make it appear to be coming out of the latter building.

There was a large amount of fish brought in on Friday, some of the fares being as follows: Schooner Flora Temple, 5,000 lbs.; Flying Dart, 9,000; Legal Tender, 9,000; A. C. Newhall, 6,000; Georgie Hagan, 7,000; Cora Greenwood, 9,000; Dixie, (commanded by Capt. Hodgdon, who was master of the schooner Onward when she was wrecked on Hampton ledge on the night of Dec. 10th,) 12,000; Clyde, 10,000. All these fares were bought by E. Newton & Co., who purchased a total of between 75,000 and 80,000 lbs. The schooner Jeannette, of Gloucester, sold 21,000 lbs. to Ed. Jameson; and Dan'l Clark bought the Lightning's fare of 7,000 lbs. The price paid was $1.50 per hundred lbs. The fishermen say the cod have struck into Ipswich bay more heavily than ever before known.

A Comic 1886 Almanac Free.

BOSTON, January 1.—Starting off with a solid gain of 30,000 in circulation in 1885, the Boston Sunday Globe proposes to be still more entertaining and vigorous in 1886. Frances Hodgson Burnett, one of the most eminent and popular story writers in America, will have a new story in next Sunday's (January 3d) Globe. In the same issue will appear a comic Globe almanac for 1886, and a humorous review of the events of 1885. This last feature will be intensely funny, and be worth ten times the times the price of the paper. If you do not take the Sunday Globe regularly, try it one month, and order it of your newsdealer to-day.

A correspondent writes from Ogunquit to a Biddeford paper as follows: "We notice that quite a story is going the rounds of the papers as to the big amount the schooner Emily A. Staples, which was built for Capt. M. L. Staples and named for his wife, and run by him a number of years, has stocked the past season. We claim that the schooner Lillie, of Ogunquit, which has been run by Capt. C. L. Perkins, beats the record of the Staples every way. She has been three trips of wood from here to Boston, and twenty-seven trips with bricks from Dover to Boston, and one trip of lime from Rockland to Dover, carrying 172 cords of wood, 800 barrels of lime and 1,404,000 bricks, stocking a little rising $2,600, and is now loading with wood again for Boston. The schooner Lillie is not valued as high by a large amount and does not carry as many bricks by fifteen thousand as the Emily A. Staples, which gives her the best record."

Mr. Charles W. Hart is this week engaged in putting a new ash-pit in the steamer Pinafore, at Appledore wharf. The Pinafore came in on Wednesday, the 30th ult., in charge of Capt. Oscar Laighton, who stated that for ten days previous they had not been able to leave the island on account of the heavy sea.

Perfumed Belles.

For the past two seasons an animated discussion has been going on in society as to the propriety of using perfumes. The anti-perfumers practically carried the day until last year, when several of their fair opponents succeeded in creating a reversal of opinion, so to speak. The correct thing now is for a lady to have a perfume of her own. Some accomplish this by a combination of perfumes, and a very few have sought professional aid from the outside and purchased secrets which have been zealously guarded. Perfume should not be used upon the handkerchief. Of course this will not interfere with the flower craze. Many of the belles in society wear but one kind of flower and thus seek to individualize it.

It is a rather pretty custom and gives the young men ample opportunities of knowing just what their lady friends can wear in the line of floral decoration. The Traveller correspondent was allowed to enter a secret a day or two ago which is vitally and violently agitating the mind of the society young man just now. The latest, the newest, the most agonizing, the most excruciating, the most fascinating thing out, according to the authority of a young man whose life is but an endless whirl of fashionable dissipation, is the silk handkerchief quilt craze.

"Now, my dear fellow, you mustn't laugh, you know. Really, it isn't fun until you know all about it. It isn't any relation to the crazy quilt craze, which belongs solely to the ladies. All we have to do with that, you know, is to supply pieces of our cravats to our lady friends. But this is something for men. You'll appreciate it—I know you will. Well, I'll tell you all about it.

"You see, in the first place I buy a number of plain white silk handkerchiefs. Then I distribute them among my lady friends—one to each. The lady is expected to embroider her initials or monogram in her own hair in the corner. Could anything be more beautiful? The idea came from abroad, but it has taken immensely here. You see, the lady who has long, luxuriant hair has a chance to display it, show the fact, while the girl who hasn't—well, I suppose she either buys or borrows some of the same shade as her own. Only the short-haired girls are fighting this craze. I'm with the long-hairs' in the contest, because it's the popular thing, you know."—Washington Correspondence.

Steps are being taken in Ireland to prevent any further decline of the cattle interest in that country. One of the plans proposed is to establish a dead meat trade with England.

Mum socials are all the rage. The following are the rules: 1. Attendring the room will be expected to maintain perfect silence. 2. The first person who speaks will be fined 83 cents. 3. Each succeeding person will be subject to a fine of 25 cents and be entitled to a ticket for refreshments and the privilege of talking and of making others talk. 4. No writing allowed. The churches are using them to fill their exchequers.

The National Complaint.

Dyspepsia is the national complaint. Almost every other man or woman you meet has it, and the result is that the number of pseudo-remedies for it is as numerous as Pharaoh's host. They are for the most part worthless. There is, however, a searching eradicant of this distressing and obdurate malady, one whose merits long since raised it to a foremost place among the staple medicines of America. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters extirpates dyspepsia with greater certainty and promptitude than any known remedy, and is a most genial invigorant, appetizer and aid to secretion. These are not empty assertions, as thousands of our countrymen and women who have experienced its effects are aware, but are backed up by irrefragable proofs repeatedly laid before the public. The Bitters also promote a regular habit of body and give a healthful stimulus to the urinary organs.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly instalments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with flame stand, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $40,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

The "Overland Monthly" for January is a number of especial interest. The first article is Leonard Kip's Christmas story, "Golden Graves," a tale of the mines at "Lowber bar," in the stirring times of '49. Andrew McFarland Davis contributes a historical study of the famous "Voyage of the Ursulines" across the Atlantic in 1727, in the ill-fated ship Gironde. Miss Helen Locke's new novel of California life, entitled "For Money," begins in this issue. "An Autumn Ramble in Washington Territory," and an article on "Water Rights in British Columbia," show that the Overland is not unmindful of the great North Pacific region. Kate Heath contributes a holiday story, "Mr. Grigg's Christmas," a story full of human interest, love and pathos. The picturesque features of Mexico have not been and hardly will be better described than by Mr. D. S. Richardson, formerly Minister Foster's secretary, in his "Cruise Among the Floating Islands." Hon. A. A. Sargent writes again of the Chinese problem; and an article that will perhaps attract more attention than any other contribution in the book is "The Lost Journals of a Pioneer." Sol. Sheridan contributes an attractive story, and there are poems by Agnes A. Manning, Francis E. The Only medicine I ever found that helped me at all is ATHLOPHOROS, and I have not had the Rheumatism since I took it."—EDWIN SEARS, Provincetown, Mass.

A professor in a medical college once said to his class "put your hand in a vice, turn the screw until the pain is all you can bear, and that's rheumatism; turn the screw once more, and that's neuralgia—and gentlemen, the medical profession know no cure for either." That was before the discovery of ATHLOPHOROS which does and will cry out quickly cure both rheumatism and neuralgia, and many physicians use it regularly—frankly admitting that they can prescribe nothing else as a cure.

Many persons have tried so many so-called remedies, without benefit, that they have no faith to try more, but this one trial will convince you. Athlophoros, if you have any doubts as to its value write for names of parties in your own State who have been cured by its use.

Ask your druggist for Athlophoros. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

She Knows So Much.

I know a maiden very fair to see,
She's lived of years one little charming score;
Often, when from my daily labors free,
I seek admittance at her father's door.
I like her well, and I would like her more
But that I fear me there may be many such,
Of learning she has such a mighty store;
Alas! alas! this maiden knows so much.

She reads the Greek, and very learnedly
She talks, this maiden that I might adore,
Of music, art, and science; poetry
She writes. Alas! this most of all I deplore.
Learning exudes, I say, from every pore,
While ignorance doth hold me in its clutch,
I say again, just as I said before,
Alas! alas! this maiden knows so much!

She also works in clay, and valiantly
She hammereth brass, to all the heavy lore
She adds the lighter. So it seems to me
She paints. Ye gods! to-day her canvas bore
A scene like none on sea and shore;
The ivory keys know well her skillful touch,
Like any college man she pulls an oar;
Alas! alas? this maiden knows too much!

ENVOY.

But she for whom my very being's core
Is sad, is not this very learned sue.
To all her excellencies I do agree;
But still I do not want a wife to soar,
A bile I go bubbling on upon a crutch.
I want a real nice girl, no less, no more;
I want a girl who does not know so much.
—Carlotta Perry.

THE VILLAGE DRESSMAKER

The arrival of the new minister in Locust Hollow, as the pretty village was called, was regarded as quite an event by the congregation. A new minister is always an object of interest to the people for a month or two; then the interest flags, and finally he is accepted as a matter of course, and—generally to his delight—is no longer fussed over.

But this particular divine seemed likely to keep speculation going for a longer period than the customary nine days, and, being a somewhat humorous fellow, he thoroughly enjoyed it.

For the Rev. Jerome Grant was unmarried—warranted by the gossips to have no lady-love—young, handsome, and possessed of a private income, which made salary a secondary consideration.

Now, in Locust Hollow there were a number of very plump and pretty girls, with a few slim graceful damsels; but the plump ones outnumbered the slim, as always is the case in country villages, with their fresh air, healthy diet and regular hours.

Among the very plumpest of the village maidens was Gussie Elliston; and Miss Gussie's blue eyes and red-and-white complexion seemed to have found favor in the eyes of Mr. Grant, for he speedily placed himself on familiar footing at the long low farmhouse, where he met with very warm greetings from the farmer and his wife, and dimpling smiles and shy blushes from their daughter.

Among the very slimmest and palest of those who listened to the young minister Sunday after Sunday, was Louise, the daughter of a helpless widow, who had lived a little out of the village, and who had therefore escaped the knowledge of Jerome for some time.

Perhaps Louise's cheeks would have had more color in them, and her eyes less of that wistful tenderness, did not the burden of her own invalid mother's support fall on her slight shoulders.

But day after day—on cold dark days, when winds swept weirdly by the little cottage—on warm wooing days, when her pulses throbbed with longing to be out among the violets—she sat quietly at the little window, her brown head bent over the sewing in her hands, the garments to be worn by more fortunate ones than herself, when she finished.

Jerome had noticed the girl's sweet patient face, and wondered why he only saw her on Sundays—wondered how it was he had never seen it in the many homes that had been opened for him to enter at, a welcome guest.

But Gussie's blue eyes had been enough like violets to make him speedily forget the wistful brown ones, and it was not until he had been installed at Locust Hollow for three months, and had begun to think that Gussie Elliston would make a very sweet minister's wife, that accident brought him to the door of the cottage which the Widow Vennevale and her daughter occupied.

It was warm; the young man was warm, too, and tired, from a long ramble; he was thirsty, as well; and so, after hesitating a few moments, knocked lightly on the open door, intending to ask for a glass of water.

His knock had not been heard evidently, for nobody replied to it; and while he waited, a low murmuring voice reached him from within.

"I did my best mother," girlish tones answered wearily, "and I thought it very nice. I often wonder how people can say such harsh and cruel words to me, when I try so hard to please them. Mother—my poor mother—it is very hard to be poor; to be a woman, and poor—there is nothing harder in this whole wide world!"

The sweet voice had taken more than weariness on its music. It became passionate and bitter, and ended in a burst of sobs.

The young man was profoundly touched, but he lifted his hand once more, and knocked more loudly.

This time he was heard, and light but languid step crossed towards the door.

In a moment Louise Vennevale, with undried tears on her long lashes, was looking at him with wondering eyes, brown as hazel-nuts.

He held out his shapely hand.

"You are one of my people, are you not? he questioned, with a smile. "I have not called before, but you will pardon that, and bid me enter-now, will you not?"

"Certainly."

And she led him into the tiny room, where Mrs. Vennevale lay on a sofa

The National Complaint.

Dyspepsia is the national complaint. Almost every other man or woman you meet has it, and the result is that the number of pseudo-remedies for it is as numerous as Pharaoh's host. They are for the most part worthless. There is, however, a searching eradicant of this distressing and obdurate malady, one whose merits long since raised it to a foremost place among the staple medicines of America. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters extirpates dyspepsia with greater certainty and promptitude than any known remedy, and is a most genial invigorant, appetizer and aid to secretion. These are not empty assertions, as thousands of our countrymen and women who have experienced its effects are aware, but are backed up by irrefragable proofs repeatedly laid before the public. The Bitters also promote a regular habit of body and give a healthful stimulus to the urinary organs.

this side of Boston, I would respectfully call your attention to the same, believing that in most cases it is better for persons about purchasing to see what they are buying than to buy of irresponsible agents with nice looking Photographs of Monumental work. Having a thorough knowledge of the business gained in the principal cities of the Union and still giving my personal attention, I will be satisfied who will give me a call, as to quality of work and prices.

Athlophoros completely cured me of rheumatism and I have recommended it to a friend suffering from neuralgia. I think it the best remedy for rheumatism I have ever known and I believe it is a good thing. Joseph Gibson, 97 Narragansett avenue, Newport, R. I.

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

The White Mountain Freezer Co., at Nashua, has secured $15,000 insurance in the Miller's Mutual Insurance Co. of Minneapolis, Minn.

A luxury is said to be something which you don't want until you see somebody else with it. In that case St. Jacobs Oil is not a luxury. You want it, not because somebody else has it, but because you know it will do you good.

The Keene postoffice earned $11,914.02 during the last fiscal year, an increase of $114.06 over the previous year. The expenses were $3,785.44, a decrease of $269.56, leaving the net revenue to the government $8,129.43, against $7,755.80 the previous year.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before 30 years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

Tariffs and Ships.

The Boston Transcript states in one editorial that ship-building in Maine has been practically killed by protection, only one ship having been built during the past year. In the next column the same paper states that over-production caused by free trade has ruined the steamship owners of Great Britain. In this case the defects in our tariff have certainly worked less evil then the no-tariff of England has caused. Our harbors are not crowded with useless steamships, each one representing thousands of blighted hopes, and our capital has been turned into more useful channels.

Naval Intelligence.

The navy department is informed of the arrival of the Omaha at Hong Kong.

Admiral Jouett reports his arrival in the Tennessee at Curacoa, W. I., on December 15th, having left La Guayra, Venezuela, on December 12th. While at La Guayra he and his staff were present at the ceremonial beginning of an extensive scheme of harbor improvement, and at a banquet given by the contractors, at which the Venezuela president and cabinet were fellow-guests. The wildest enthusiasm was manifested at each mention of the United States—"The mother Republic." President Crespo and staff afterwards visited the Tennessee, and were fittingly saluted and entertained. Admiral Jouett proposed to remain at Curacoa several days and to sail thence for Savanilla and Aspinwall, touching at intermediate points.

Chief Engineer Walter D. Smith, U. S. N., who has become insane, has been taken from Washington to the naval asylum in Philadelphia.

Laighton Brothers, of the Isles of Shoals, have bought of Howell C. Russell the hull of the wrecked British schooner Maggie Quinn, and will fit her as a barge for the transportation of ice, hay, coal, etc., from this port to the islands. Her motive power will be a towboat on ahead.

The schooner James S. Pike of Calais, Me., 65.46 tons register, W. S. Thurston master, left Boston on Wednesday, Dec. 30th., for Tremont, Me. When near Boon island on Thursday she became becalmed, and drifted in near Cape Neddick. About half-past six o'clock that evening the wind commenced to blow heavily from the east-southeast, and the schooner endeavored to reach Portland harbor, but when abreast of Cape Porpoise her mainsail was blown away, and at about half-past ten o'clock, with the wind blowing a gale, she went ashore on Bunkin island in a bad position. Friday morning she was fast breaking up, and became a total loss except her sails and rigging; crew all saved. The schooner was built in Calais in 1872.

The sloop Stephen Orr, bound from Boston to Portland to lie up for the winter, and the fishing schooner W. B. Keen, while lying at anchor in the lower harbor on the 1st inst. were run into by the fishing schooner Caldwerwood, of Gloucester, while the latter was making the harbor, and had their main booms broken.

The prices of fish continued low last week, in consequence of the mild weather. Saturday evening E. Newton & Co. and Edw. Jameson each forwarded some fifty boxes of fish, about twenty-five tons in all; and a large quantity was also sent off by Daniel Clark, of Commercial wharf. The following were some of the arrivals on Saturday: Schooner Abby Snow, Gill, with 10,000 lbs. of fish; Waverly, Norton, 13,000; Clyde, Robinson, 7000; Cora Greenwood, Miles, 4000; schooner commanded by Thomas Jameson, 4000. Daniel Clark received a large quantity of "crawm," among the lot being some small halibut taken on the trawls; these are considered a delicacy, and sold at fifteen cents a pound. The schooner Farragut, Jacobs master, brought in on Saturday night 13,000 lbs. of fish to E. Newton & Co. There were large arrivals on Sunday, prices paid averaging $2.50 per hundred pounds.

Joseph Lawrence, a mechanic employed by the Portsmouth Machine Co., and a popular young man about town, has been notified that by the death of a relative in Portland, Me., he has been left a large sum of money. He says he will have a good time for one or two days, anyway.

About seven weeks ago Charles H. Crediford, son of Capt. Israel Crediford of Kennebunkport, a young man about twenty years old, sprang from the wharf in Portland to the deck of a vessel in which he was going a voyage, as she left the wharf, and caught in the rigging. At the moment he felt something give way in his chest, and violent hemorrhage followed. His decline from that time forward was rapid, and he died Dec. 21st.

The cluster of buildings on Three Tree island, alias Four Tree Island, alias Oyster island, alias Charley Gray's island, have been painted in esthetic colors, and look first-rate.

Mr. Joseph Hoyt of Newington on Saturday brought in on his milk team a small quantity of Great bay smelts of fine quality, to Geo. W. Randall & Son.

At Bath, Me., the New England Shipbuilding company will soon lay the keel for a four-masted schooner of 1500 tons for Boston parties. She will carry 2600 tons coal, and will be the largest schooner ever constructed.

To be a healthy and happy people, we have got to take care of our diet. What he eats and what he drinks should be the most important subject of a man's consideration; for, if his digestion is in good condition, his morals are the same. In America, people are in such a hurry to get their work done and their money made that they neglect their food, and when they have accumulated their fortunes they haven't the health to enjoy them. They have kept up their working powers on stimulants, tea or coffee, that ruin the digestion and play the mischief with the liver, instead of drinking Baker's soothing and wholesome Breakfast Cocoa, which digests itself, while it nourishes the body.

A boat's crew of the whaling schooner Mary E. Simmons, commanded by John P. Pereird, third mate, was taken down by a whale near the Cape Verde islands, Nov. 29th, and no trace of the boat or men could be found. Arthur Ward of New Haven was one of the crew, and all of the others belonged to Cape Verde and the Western Islands.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

NEW YEAR PARTY.

Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars held a New Year party at their hall on Pleasant street, Friday evening, at which the members of the lodge, with invited friends, were present. An oyster supper was served, after which the company were entertained by a dialogue, rendered to good acceptance by Bros. Russell and Mathes, and Sisters Peterson and Dearing; also, humorous readings were given. The festivities were continued untill a late hour, and were highly enjoyed by the participants.

A VISIT WHICH DID NOT COME OFF.

"I notice by the evening paper," remarked the husband carelessly on Saturday, "that there are some excellent free lunches to be served this evening, and I think I will step in and test the quality of their luxuries." "What time shall you drop in, my dear?" enquired the wife. "Well," returned the head of the establishment, "I presume about nine o'clock would be the correct time." "All right," rejoined the spouse, "that would suit me. I'll go with you. There is nothing I would like better than to discover how much better spreads these attractive places can set out, than we can at home." The discovery was not made by either party.

NEWCASTLE K. OF P.

Wentworth Lodge, No. 22, Knights of Pythias, of Newcastle, on Friday evening, Jan. 1st, installed their newly-elected officers, as follows:

P. C., Forrest Becker;
C. C., John W. Amazeen;
V. C., Moses R. Curtis;
Prelate, Selden F. Wells;
K. of R. and S., Silas F. Harding;
M. of E., Thaddeus Tarlton;
M. of F., William T. Meloon;
Master-at-Arms, Henry Becker;
I. G., George H. Amazeen;
O. G., Rufus A. Preble, Jr.;
Trustees, Sullivan H. White, Jesse O. White, Conrad Push.

After the business of the meeting was over, and hearty congratulations to the newly-installed officers, by invitation of the latter the company repaired to the banquet room and paid proper respect to a fine oyster supper.

Persons who passed the saloon of John Roach, (not the great ship-builder of that name,) in the brick building on Islington street, just above Creek street, on Saturday morning of last week, noticed the front windows smashed, the sign battered and hanging loose at one end, and the lantern over the door wrecked. That a raid had been made on the place the night previous was evident, but who it was done by or what the object we have been unable to learn. One statement is to the effect that the saloon keeper missed some cigars, two or three bottles of liquor, and what small change was in the till, Saturday morning; and another, that this was the third attack made on the building.

Mr. John F. Shea, who went from this city to Florida a few weeks ago, is now running on one of the steamers plying on the St. John's river, as mate. His father, Mr. Dennis Shea, received as a New Year's present from him on Saturday a box of Florida lemons and oranges.

There was a grand ball held at Franklin upper hall on New Year's night by the Austin-Lincoln association of the colored population of this city, in commemoration of emancipation. The hall was festooned with evergreen and decorated with flags of the Union, and the tables were well laid by the colored ladies. Mr. James Adams, formerly a caterer at Washington, and Mr. Peter Williams, lately of North Carolina, assisted in ing the arrangements. The c c brethren did well, and were we ported by their white friends of this city and the neighboring country, by whom the hall was crowded. The original fund for the celebration of emancipation was left by bequest of a late retired Unitarian clergyman, whose name is connected in connection with the association. Financially the ball was a success, and everything passed off pleasantly, the ball breaking up early in the morning. The music was by Medcalf's band.

The workmen of the Portsmouth Shoe company have by subscription raised a considerable fund for the purchase of a suitable uniform for one of their fellows, who is a prominent member of the salvation army, and who it is reported will be assigned to important duty elsewhere.

The barber business in this city must be flourishing. A new barber shop has been opened in the store formerly occupied by the late S. W. Webber on Vaughan street, and one on the corner of Vaughan and Deer streets; and it is reported that Ex-Policeman Quinn will shortly open a consorial studio in the store lately vacated by T. C. Meagher, also on Vaughan street. This makes a total of about fifteen barber shops in our city.

Naval Constructor George F. Mallett, U. S. N., died in Norfolk, Va,. Jan. 1st. Mr. Mallet was born in Maine; was appointed an assistant constructor in the navy on the 22d of January, 1872, and promoted to be constructor on the 13th of January, last year. He was stationed at the Portsmouth navy yard several years ago, and was highly esteemed, socially and professionally. When a resident of this city he was an active and valued attendant at the Methodist church, and his fine voice was regularly heard in the choir. His remains will be interred at Laconia.

Mr. T. C. Meagher, framer, gilder and picture renovater, has taken rooms at No. 9 Congress street, up stairs.

The Nonpareil Association will give an entertainment, coffee party and dance in Franklin hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 13th.

It is reported that the Boston & Maine railroad management have ordered the lights in the several passenger cars of the Eastern division to be lighted when passing through the Salem tunnel, on account of complaints made to the effect that several ladies have been insulted under cover of the darkness in the cars.

G. C. Farnham, station agent at Kennebunk, received the first prize, $50, for the finest garden and grounds about the station last summer on the line of the Boston & Maine railroad and its divisions.

The great temperance drama, "The Drunkard," will be presented at Music hall on Saturday evening, Jan. 9th, by Mr. Percy Hunting, supported by an efficient company.

The name of the South Berwick junction of the Boston & Maine and Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroads has been changed to the musical and appropriate appellation, "Agamenticus station."

Editor Allis of the Ludlow Tribune sues Principal John Pickard of the Portsmouth (N. H.) schools for $40. This is one of the issues in the local row of last summer over the Black River academy semi-centennial celebration. Pickard was then principal of the academy, and handed Allis some items concerning the approaching event. The committee on the celebration, with astonishing "cheek," asked Allis to print these advertising items free, as news; and then had all the paying advertisements printed by a rival firm. Editor Allis naturally thought he was being ridden too hardly for a free horse, and sues to recover payment for the items printed.—Springfield Republican.

—The "great departed"—a capital D cut in two.

—Bogus dogs are frequently sold in New York. A women there bought an alleged ecru poodle, which was afterward found to be nothing but a common cur ingeniously covered with a poodle skin.

—A Harvard student has been arrested for stealing books from the college library. The college authorities are making as much fuss about it as though he had stolen a base ball bat from the gymnasium.

—"Was your room on the port or the starboard side of the vessel?" asked an old traveller of a new one who had just returned from his first trip to Europe. "Oh, I had the same room both ways," was the answer. "It was on the port side going over, and so it was on the starboard side coming back!"

—While the soldiers were at Seattle, says the Sacramento Record-Union, a number of them who were impecunious struck a brilliant plan for making a "raise." They started out and made a census of all the Chinese in the town, and each one of them a fee for taking the same. The whole of Chinatown was canvassed over, and $150 were realized.

A small boy who was "running" backer-reelers" on the south pond, Saturday afternoon, and waxing bolder as bolder with each run, under the stimulus of another small boy's repeated taunt "You dassent run there," finally performed the vanishing act in good style. He was but a few moments under water, and managed to crawl ashore unaided. As he neared the edge of the pond the youthful Iago on shore, who had been rolling on the ground in a paroxysm of mirth, suddenly arose, and with great speed removed himself and his dry clothes from the vicinity of the wrathful wet urchin.

The men employed in the Portsmouth Machine shop were paid off on New Year's day, receiving over three thousand dollars. This result seems to restore to Portsmouth the advantages formerly enjoyed when the Kearsarge mill was in operation. The disbursement every fortnight of over twenty-four hundred dollars for skilled labor is an important element in the prosperity of our city. The employment is steady, and worth many times more to our mechanics than intermittent chances of navy yard employment. The Machine Co. are now engaged in putting steam heating apparatus in the Great Falls hotel and in the Dover high school building.

There have been in the year just passed 986 arrests by our police force, and 988 lodgers accommodated at the police station.

The Sons of Veterans will have in February a grand military ball, arrangements for which are now being made.

[Concluded from 1st page.]

"Mamma," she said quietly, "this is Mr. Grant. He has come to see you."

And, greatly to the young man's disappointment, after placing a chair for him beside the sofa, she glided out, slight and graceful as a spirit.

He remained almost an hour conversing with the invalid. He heard the painful story—too sadly frequent for man to mind in much to-day, in their busy selfish lives; the struggle to buy a little home for wife and child by the stalwart young farmer, who had only his strong hands and strong heart to rely on; then the long lingering illness of the woman, during which the first mortgage had fallen on the farm; then the sudden death, by sunstroke, of the man, and the helpless widow's efforts to educate her only child, before allowing her to take up the weary burden that now she had borne for four years with gentlest patience.

"It breaks my heart to see her work at her sewing from morning till night, and often half the night," Mrs. Vennevale said, in conclusion, her eyes dim with tears. "And sometimes she has to take such insolence, too. That is very hard to bear. To-day Miss Gussie Elliston came for a dress she had left for Louise to make, and she found so much fault, and said such cruelly unkind things, that my heart ached for my daughter. Did you notice Louise had been weeping when you came in?"

"I noticed that she looked very pale and weary," he answered, wondering if he had mistaken the character of Miss Gussie so completely, when he thought she would be so sweet a minister's wife, so truly a helpmeet to one who had chosen that most arduous of all positions—to be the spiritual adviser of a village full of people.

It was with a pang at his heart that he began to think the blue eyes and fair face of the girl who had smiled so shyly at his coming night but be a mask for a selfish heart.

"There is a picnic in the birch-grove on Monday," Mrs. Vennevale went on, "and it was for that Miss Gussie wanted this particular dress. My poor child cannot go, or, rather, she will not, for she never leaves me, urge her as I may. Sue was just saying how hard it is to be a woman and poor, when you came, Mr. Grant."

Yes, he had heard her say the words, but did not say so. Instead, he stood up and took the weak hand of the woman.

"I do not think I will join the merry-makers on Monday, either," he said pleasantly. "My dear madame, you and I have been strangers too long. Let me come here on Monday and become better acquainted with you."

So when Gussie Elliston, arrayed in the pretty dainty muslin, which was really very well made and well-fitting, and set off her blue eyes and fair complexion to advantage—was watching for one face vainly in the grove of birch, that masculine face was turned towards a window in the little cottage of the Vennevales, at which a girl sat sewing with bent brown head and eyes alight.

Gussie met him next after the morning service on the following Sunday.

She chided him playfully for his absence from the picnic, but he only smiled, and, after a few words, passed on and joined Louise Vennevale, leaving her at the cottage gate.

It was only three months later that a pretty Gothic dwelling shot up rapidly beside the church.

And when it was completed, Jerome Grant took his bride and her mother to it one golden day in late autumn, and Louise Vennevale, the slighted dressmaker, was the bride.

Strange to say, Gussie was one of the first to call on her, as she whispered to her intimates, "out of pure curiosity."

Of course, as the minister's wife, Louise had to be civil to her, laying aside the past.

How He Saved Her.

One day last winter, '83-'84, when the mercury was down somewhere in the forties below, an open sleigh-stage was making its way along a mountain road between two Montana towns. The only passengers were a woman and her young child. They were scantily clad for the rigorous weather, and the woman removed one of her wraps to protect the child. The driver discerned that she was growing drowsy, and warned her of the deadly peril of falling asleep. It was of no use, nor did the vigorous shaking he gave her serve to keep her awake. Finally the driver seized her, threw her out into the road, and drove off with the child at a rapid pace. This last expedient was successful. Awakened by the shock of the fall, the woman saw the stage disappearing with her child. Her maternal instincts were aroused. She ran after the stage as fast as she could; the driver slackened up a little, but did not stop until he saw that the poor mother was thoroughly wearied by the exercise. Her life was saved. An hour later the stage reached a station, where buffalo robes were obtained to protect her against the deadly cold for the remainder of the journey.—The Youth's Companion.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis strikes the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel instalment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an instalment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly instalments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition, to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect-in-detail Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $50,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Life-size subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

A REMARKABLE ROBBER.

Another name has been added to the long catalogue of distinguished highwaymen which includes Claude Duval, Dick Turpin, and Jack Sheppard. In many respects he was the most remarkable robber the world has ever produced. His name was Henry Garrett. He was a native of England, but, like several other citizens of that country, he was granted leave to reside in Australia for the term of ten years. This was in 1842. The cause of his going abroad to reside was the loss of a watch and well-filled pocket-book by a gentleman who was traveling in a private conveyance. So far as can be ascertained,—for comparatively little is known of his early life,—he was not incited to engage in adventure and crime by reading "dime novels." Indeed, this class of books, which are presumed to be so pernicious in their influence, had not been placed on the market when Mr. Garrett was a small boy, which was nearly eighty years ago. He was a great student and a most diligent reader, though he had no inclination to peruse trashy books. He was an excellent linguist, a good naturalist, an expert engineer, and a very fair lawyer. He was fond of science, especially of comparative anatomy. His favorite authors were Humboldt, Darwin, Tyndall, Huxley, Spencer, and Mill. His knowledge of history was remarkable, and while in prison, as he was several times, he spent most of his time in writing biographies, which sold for more money than the author could make by engaging in any kind of labor. He was a great favorite with the warden, surgeon, and chaplain of every prison in which he was confined. His knowledge of men was excellent, and he was often consulted about the management of convicts. He was a most entertaining companion, and on that account his society was sought by prison officials.

Mr. Garrett operated on a small scale in Australia as soon as his term of penal servitude had expired. He was very desirous of returning to England, and sought to obtain means to do so. He had some trouble in doing this. He had but small capital, and did not wish to organize a "gang," as is often done in this country, and was even averse to having a partner. Learning that there was a bank in a small country town, he concluded that he would draw a sum from it sufficient to carry him to his native land and to support him there for some time. Approaching the building, he posted a notice on the door that the bank was closed. He entered, closed the door, and, pointing a pistol at the head of the cashier, demanded that he hand over the contents of the safe. Receiving about $30,000, mostly in bank notes, he locked the door and departed. With this sum he left for London. He was followed by a detective, who resorted to a trick for the purpose of catching him. He shadowed a person some days whom he thought was the robber he was looking for, but of whose identity he was not certain. Early one evening, while walking in the street where there were many persons, he gave a loud "coo-ee," a cry made by Australians when they are in distress. The unsuspecting Australian, thinking one of his fellow-colonists was in trouble, rushed to his assistance, and fell into the hands of the detective. He was taken back to Australia, tried, convicted, and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. At the expiration of this time he concluded that he would go to New Zealand, where fortunes then were rapidly made.

Mr. Garrett's first great enterprise in New Zealand was that of "sticking up" some seventeen miners, who, singly or in pairs, were going to a town to put their gold in a safe place. Stepping out from behind a tree, he bade them throw up their hands and preserve silence. Tying them to trees with cords he carried with him, he relieved them of their valuables, and then passed on to meet others of the party, whom he used in the same way. Thinking they might remain in that condition some time before anyone came along to release them, he treated to drink, filled their pipes, lighted them, and went on his way. For this act he was again imprisoned, and did not regain his liberty till three years ago. A few weeks after his release he was arrested in a wholesale store, where he was found with about fifty skeleton keys in his possession. He was again tried, convicted, and sent to prison. In this place of confinement he died.

Local papers give some strange accounts of his life and character. They declare that he always kept his word, that he never had a confederate, that he never shed a drop of human blood, was never guilty of cruelty, and he never robbed or injured a woman. He was so kind, polite, and obliging, and withal so highly intelligent, that persons meeting him in prison forgot that he was a criminal. His appearance was so good, his manners so refined, and his conversation so engaging, that no one ever suspected that he was leading a life of crime. While traveling, he passed for a gentleman and scholar, and gained the confidence of the best people he met. The warden of the last prison he was in allowed him to walk outside the wall on his promise to return at a stated time. Take him all in all, he was a robber the world never saw the like of before and never may again.—Chicago Times.

What may be called "cigar and servant" stories are rife in Paris at present. The very latest of them runs thus: "Now, then, Jean, you can't deny it this time! Where did you take that cigar from?" "From the large box, sir." In a truly paternal tone Monsieur replies, "You ought to know better. You've been here long enough to know that the large box is only for visitors."—London Globe.

The National Complaint.

Dyspepsia is the national complaint. Almost every other man or woman you meet has it, and the result is that the number of pseudo-remedies for it is as numerous as Pharaoh's host. They are for the most part worthless. There is, however, a searching eradicant of this distressing and obdurate malady, one whose merits long since raised it to a foremost place among the staple medicines of America. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters extirpates dyspepsia with greater certainty and promptitude than any known remedy, and is a most genial invigorant, appetizer and aid to secretion. These are not empty assertions, as thousands of our countrymen and women who have experienced its effects are aware, but are backed up by irrefragable proofs repeatedly laid before the public. The Bitters also promote a regular habit of body and give a healthful stimulus to the urinary organs.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribible. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the causes of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Indignant Young Gentlemen.

A despatch from the naval school at Annapolis says:—It has leaked out that four or five days ago Naval Cadets Welch, J. J. Waters, Gillespie and Steber went into the room of Cadet Lewis Driggs, for hazing whom Cadet Wiley was recently dismissed, and gave him a good thrashing. Driggs made a statement of the affair to Captain Ramsay, and the belligerant cadets will have to face a court martial. In the meantime a second-class man is detailed daily to protect Cadet Briggs, and the members of the second class are highly indignant because one of them is kept on guard at the door of a fourth-class man, and they intend to send a protest to the secretary of navy.

Cruise of the Dolphin.

The despatch boat Dolphin arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 2d inst. from a twelve days cruise. Her captain was in Washington on the 3d, but as he had not yet made his official report to the secretary of the navy he declined to be interviewed with regard to the performance of his ship. The Dolphin sailed from New York for the Capes, and thence turned toward the Bermudas in search of a gale. She encountered a twenty-four-hour gale, during which the wind reached a speed of seven[illegible] miles an hour. The vessel was in several trying positions with regard to the sea, and the shaking up which the officers and crew received made them all seasick. The ship made twelve knots an hour throughout the gale, and from this it is inferred that her performances were very good. It is not learned that she suffered any damage.

The Raymond & Whitcomb Excursions to Mexico.

Two grand tours through Mexico are announced by Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, the well-known excursion managers. The dates of departure from Boston are Thursday, February 11th, and Thursday, March 11th, the time selected being the healthiest and pleasantest of the whole year for a visit to Mexico. Each tour will occupy forty-four days, and a special train with Pullman hotel-cars of a new and elegant pattern will be used; while almost the entire round of travel through Mexico will be made by day. The programme includes not only a liberal sojourn in the city of Mexico, with numerous carriage-rides and side excursions, but special visits will be paid to a dozen or more interesting points seldom visited by tourists. The trip has been planned upon the most liberal scale, with a view to render the tour a thorough round of travel, and at the same time to provide every possible comfort and luxury to the passenger. It would be impossible to make so comprehensive a tour in any other way. The Raymond & Whitcomb tours should not be confounded with the cheap excursions which provide a railway ticket and nothing else. All traveling expenses, including a double-berth in a Pullman sleeping-car, hotel bills, carriage-rides, transfers, etc., etc., are covered by a Raymond ticket, and the passenger is relieved of all care, as well as the incidental expense and trouble of being left to shift for himself. The tours through Mexico will be more than ordinarily attractive and interesting; and, as the number of excursionists will be limited, the two parties will unquestionably be filled at an early date. A full descriptive circular can be had by addressing W. Raymond, 296 Washington street (opposite School street,) Boston, Mass.

The name of Lieut. Edward W. Remey has been dropped from the navy register for 1886. While serving as the executive officer of the training-ship Portsmouth he disappeared Feb. 17th, 1885. All efforts to discover his whereabouts have failed, and it is supposed by the navy department and by his friends that he was drowned.

King Leopold of Belgium on the 1st inst. gave audience to Lieut. Emory S. Taunt, U. S. N., who has been exploring the Congo region. Lieut. Taunt describes the region of the lower Congo as arid, unhealthy and unproductive, but above Stanley Pool he says the climate is fine and the resources immense. He will so report to the government at Washington, adding that the country is now unworkable, that the whites cannot colonize, that the natives will not work, and that coolie labor is necessary. He found that the relations between the whites and the natives were excellent.

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON.

Albert Leavitt, ten years old, was drowned in the river at Saco on Saturday by breaking through the ice.

Edward Hanlan, the champion oarsman of the world, writes that he has used St. Jacobs Oil with the most beneficial results, and has found it a reliable remedy for muscular pains in the arms and limbs.

A German and his wife, and their three children, living in Pike township, Pa., ate nearly raw sausages for supper one night last week, and are now dying of trichinosis. Many others ate sausages made from the same hog, but probably cooked them more thoroughly.

Mr. J. A. Price, Deputy Inspector State Tobacco Warehouse No. 5, Baltimore, Md., says:—One of my children had been suffering with neuralgia for some time. A friend recommended Salvation Oil, I procured a bottle, and a few applications, to my surprise, effected a complete cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to all persons similarly affected.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

HIGH FENCES.

"A Western Layman," in an article in the Christian Register uses the following to illustrate his ideas upon the question he discusses:

I remember, when in Portsmouth some years ago, having a few hours to spare, I wandered around that quaint old city, and in my rambles came across some hideous old fences, made tight, six feet high, whose boards some one or two hundred years ago had been painted red. To my eyes, they spoiled everything near them; but I suppose, to the owners, they were something to be cherished. They connected them with some renowned ancestor, and gave them that family flavor so much to be cherished. If I had had the audacity to call on one of them and denounce the ugly things, telling them that, for the sake of new ideas, the new methods of building, they ought to pull them down, and that quickly, they would have shown me to the door, and called me a lunatic.

Perhaps the Layman had the idea of the number of poor dogs which roam without license over our lawns, and discourage the style of open space he so missed in old Portsmouth.

A FRIEND'S TRIBUTE.

The following brief but appreciative memorial of one whose unobtrusive nature and many excellent traits of character especially endeared him to those who knew him best,—the late Joseph E. Adams of Minneapolis, Minn., formerly of this city,—is from the pen of one of his schoolmates and a life-long close acquaintance:

A loving son and devoted husband and father has gone to his rest. Home was the happiest of places with him at the fireside. Gentle of disposition, kind to a fault, his rare excellence of character shone brightly throughout a useful life. The shadow of later years which saddened the hearts of those he loved, endeared him yet more to the anxious friends, who could but honor the brave spirit which in advance had conquered all fear of death. Silent in suffering and with unmurmuring patience he partially hid the danger of his condition, and met cheerfully encouraged his associates and friends to make his waning days pleasant to their memory. The loving family group whose delight was to minister to his ailings and shield him in every way from the distress of many years' illness found in him a son, husband and father who was always a comrade, tender and brave, and true as steel. No life passes out without its lesson, and few leave such fragrance of well-spent efforts, modest in their performance, but more enduring to loving memory than monuments of marble. He lived a life that those who looked back upon by friends as perfect in its gentleness, and never with regret for misdeeds or the omission of good ones.

There was an animated dog-fight on the sidewalk opposite the Hotel Flanders on Vaughan street, Sunday afternoon; it was brought to a close by a man giving one of the dogs a savage cut with an axe. The agent for the anti-cruelty society attempted to interview the fellow on Monday forenoon, but he had left town. It is said that he started the dogs to fighting and used the axe when he found his own dog getting the worst of the conflict.

Mr. Howard Staples of South Eliot, Me., who died on Sunday last in the 40th year of his age, was a member of New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., of their city, and also of Strawberry Bank Encampment, No. 5.

The "Phantom party," postponed from last month on account of Mr. Harlow's sudden illness, will come off this evening in Franklin hall. Holders of the original invitations can procure tickets, no fresh invitations having been issued. Only those in some kind of white disguise will be permitted to dance until after unmasking.

Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., on Monday evening installed officers as follows: N. G., Benjamin F. Canney; V. G., John Parkins; R. S., William W. Cotton; P. S., Oliver H. Locke; treasurer, William G. Billings; chaplain, Josiah F. Adams; trustees, Edward P. Kimball, Charles H. Mendum, Josiah F. Adams.

Great quantities of fish were brought in on Monday, the arrivals being numerous, and nearly all having large fares; prices were very low, only about a dollar a hundred lbs., the unseasonably warm weather, jointly with the heavy catch, causing this.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregational ministers will hold a meeting with Rev. I. C. White of Newmarket on Tuesday, Jan. 19th.

One of the workmen employed on the new sewer was badly burned on Monday afternoon by an explosion of escaped gas from a pipe that had probably been started leaking by the blasting operations. Smelling the gas in the trench he lighted a match, and the explosion at once occurred.

Three fishermen walked overboard into the dock at Commercial wharf on Monday evening, singly and at different times, while trying to board their vessels. They all paddled ashore unaided, but all very wet.

The wharf facilities of the Concord railroad have long been insufficient for the immense and increasing business done there, and it is reported that the wharf is to be extended 200 feet, the work to be done by Mr. Daniel Littlefield. Such an extension would add about four berths to the available wharf-space.

At a soiree musicale recently given in the parlors of the Woman's Educational and Industrial Union, No. 74 Boylston street, Boston, by pupils of Mr. John Orth and others, Miss Florence P. Whidden of this city, a pupil of Mr. Orth and a pianist of much promise, was honored by having assigned to her the first and last numbers on the programme. The pieces performed by her were—Scherzo in C sharp minor, by Chopin; Valse Caprice, by Rubinstein; Tarantelle Brillante, by S. B. Whitney. The musicale was a positive success, Miss Whidden's part in it being received with especial marks of favor. She is shortly to assist at a concert to be given in the Perkins Institute for the Blind in South Boston.

Mr. Charles W. Woods, a young man living on Christain Shore, was taken ill on Wednesday evening of last week, while on his way with his wife to the Christmas festival of the Episcopal Sunday school in the Casino, and returned home. Medical aid was called, but he rapidly grew worse, and on Sunday morning he died. He was a very popular young man of about twenty-nine years, a joiner by trade, and was united in marriage on the 7th of October last with Miss Florence Mitchell. He was a member of Osgood Lodge of Odd Fellows, and of the Odd Fellows' relief association.

The Times understands that the Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co. will be able to turn into the company's treasury about $50 as the proceeds of their ball on New Year's eve.

Regular meeting of Henry L. Richards Camp, No. 12, Sons of Veterans, will be held this (Tuesday) evening at Grand Army hall on Daniel street. A full attendance is desired, as arrangements are to be completed for the grand ball which is to be given next month, probably on the eve of Washington's birthday.

Mr. Stark H. Spinney has arrived home in this city after an absence of about eight years. He sailed from this port in 1877 on board the U. S. S. Ticonderoga, as coxswain of the captain's boat. Since then he has been an officer in the Zulu army, and a prospector for diamonds in South Africa, and has had adventures enough to fill a book. He looks to be in vigorous health, his face being colored an esthetic bronze by exposure.

The fire on the lime laden schooner Silver Spray, before reported in distress at Biddeford Pool, has been gotten under control, and the safety of the vessel is assured. She has been closely sealed up, and will not be opened for several days.

Captain "Rashe" Trefethen, of the steamer Mystic, was presented by his crew on New Year's morning with an elegant and costly meerschaum pipe of beautiful design. It is seldom that the hardy sailor is caught with his lee rail under water, or at a loss for ideas and words on important occasions, but for once the old salt was "hove to," and surrendered unconditionally. When "Rashe" recovers his vigorous English, he will make the donors a red hot speech, but no reporter under Heaven will be able to take him down, and his words will be lost to posterity. May he live long to enjoy the comforts of his new pipe.—Penny Post.

The Newmarket national bank paid a semi-annual dividend of three per cent Jan. 4th.

The January thaw has come early this year; there was not much snow for it to work on, so it had to draw out the frost from the top of the ground, and the farmers who drove into the city on Monday from the towns on either side of the river reported the roads to be in about as bad a condition with mud as is usual in the spring.

Mr. Charles Blake brought in from Great bay on Monday to G. & J. W. Stott some very fine smelts, the largest of them averaging six to the pound.

Strange Chinese Custom.

A correspondent of the North China Herald calls attention to a strange instance of Chinese belief and practice with regard to the human soul, which lately came under his notice. Lying awake at 3 o'clock a. m., he heard in the street close to his house two strange answering voices. Evidently two persons were engaged in this weird dramatic performance, one representing a departing soul, the other acting as the friends and relatives deprecating any departure. The first actor gave a low prolonged cry, which was answered by a loud and earnest "Come, come." After a pause the cry and the answering call were repeated; this went on for about ten minutes, when suddenly the inarticulate cry ceased. The second actor, in an agony of distress at the departure into the unseen of the soul he had been entreating to stay, shouted loudly in a voice which he had no doubt hoped would reach to the confines of the spirit world. "Return, return—come," at the same time calling by name. Then there was another pause; presently the low cry was heard as at a distance. "Come, come," eagerly responded the actor; and now the cry and answer followed one another more rapidly till the cry seemed close to the called, and in a smothered chorus as of welcome the performance, which was probably directed by a Taoist necromancer, ceased. It is described as being strangely impressive in the stillness of the night, notwithstanding the grotesqueness of the superstition, but of course it was not known whether there was an actual death in this case, within twelve hours of which the Chinese call for the soul to return, or whether it was only a case of serious illness, fainting or collapse. This peculiar custom, it appears, varies in different parts of China. Up the Yangtsze, it is usual for two women to perform the office. When a man dies suddenly the women walk through the streets, one calling out the name of the deceased and the other responding, "I am coming," the idea being to prevail on the wandering spirit of the deceased to return to its material abode, which, it is presumed, it has temporarily abandoned.—Nature.

The Downfall of Trespass Johnson.

"I can't see dat Prof. Trespass Johnson am in de hall to-night," said Brother Gardner as he looked up and down. "De fack am, I didn't 'zactly 'spect he would be. Sartin events hev occurred to render his absence a necessity. De secretary will turn to his name on de roll an' scratch it off, and write across it in red ink de word 'expelled.'

When the secretary had carried out the request the president continued.

"Up to a y'ar ago Prof. Johnson was an active, respected member of dis club. He was not only a worker in our cause, but he was industrious as a man. If he couldn't get work at $1.50 a day he got it for $1. If he couldn't hev roast duck for Sunday he put up wid a beef-bone soup. His family had plenty to eat an' to w'ar, an' when rent day cum around he had de cash ready for his landlord.

"Just about twelve months back some white man told de professor dat he had just as good a right to a pianer, gold watch, an' span of horses as a rich man. He was told dat de aristocracy war coinin' down out of his habor. He was made to believe dat de pussun who wouldn't pay $2 to hev a kitchen ceilin' whitewashed was an oppressor. It was pounded into him dat, if he sot on de fence all summer an' talked again de blue blood of dis kentry somebody would furnish him roast turkey all winter.

"Many of you saw how he was affected. He began to hate honest work. His mouf began to grow bigger. While his cloze growed seedy his importance increased daily. When his wood-pile grew low he cussed Vanderbilt. When his flour-bar'l was empty he reviled Jay Gould. When his children becum ragged he ripped at capital. When his wife becum barfut he swore at de aristocracy. When his landlord bounced him for non-payment of rent he howled an' raved about oppressors an' tyrants.

"De climax cum las' nite. I heard dat he had bin boastin' dat de rich must divide wid him, an' I concluded to watch my hen coop. About 'leben o'clock de professor showed up. I had twenty-two choice hens. He had none. He was gwine to divide wid me an' take 'leben. My fr'en's, I can't 'zactly describe what happened. I got my paws on him, but I know he went away empty-handed, limpin', sore, an' in de han's of an officer. He am no longer a member of dis club. If dar am any odder man wid socialistic ideas now would be a good time fur him to make a grab fur his hat an' back down sta'rs."

A deep silence followed. Not a man moved.—Detroit Free Press.

Speaking of Sherman's position as vice president it is a curious coincidence that at the last inauguration he was the second to take President Cleveland's hand. President Arthur shook it first, just as he turned about and after finishing his inaugural and the next man to step up was Sherman, of Ohio. Had there been a vice president he would naturally have come behind Arthur. But there was none, so Senator Sherman happened to be the man to take his place.—Cleveland Leader.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $30 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates cr forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—The N. Y. Financier.

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, WITH PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $60,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

What an Enterprising Drummer Did.

"I had a little experience the other night," said a drummer, "that took all of my nerve and gall to bear up under. Ever since I've been on the road I've made it a principle to meet all engagements. More than once have I skipped three or four towns in which I was sure of selling big bills of goods in order to keep my engagement to call on some girl or other. When I agree to be at a certain place at a given minute you can bet your last dollar I'll be there. Well, the other day I landed in St. Louis, and suddenly discovered that in a moment of forgetfulness I had promised to take two girls to the theatre that night. The girls were not accounted, either. I hate a liar and a sneak, and the girls' brothers were customers of mine, and so, after thinking the whole thing over, I made up my mind I'd live up to my contract. So I bought my seats at two theatres, engaged my carriage, and prepared for the campaign. I sent word to the first one that I'd call for her rather early, and to the other that I might be a few minutes late. I whirled No. 1 off, seated her, excused myself for a minute before the rising of the curtain, slipped out, and in two seconds the horses were on a run for No. 2. I got her in her seat five minutes after the curtain rose. Stayed the act out, excused myself, went back to the other, apologized, and everything was all right. I spent the evening flitting from one to the other, and got my money's worth out of the hackman, as I made him hump. I made inquiries as to the hour the plays would be over, and found I had twenty-five minutes' leeway. Then I made such good use of those twenty-five minutes that I got No. 1 home and was back after No. 1 just as the curtain went down. To do this cost me $12, and the next day I had to skip out of town because the hackman was after me with a bill for one of his horses, which had died from overdriving, but not till after I had sold big bills of goods to the girls' brothers. Besides, I had the satisfaction of keeping my engagements and of performing an unparalleled feat in the theatre-going business. That's the kind of a hustler I am."—Chicago Herald.

Female and Fat.

A short, fat female, with gray hair, who had a very intelligent face, and who could not have been less than 70 years of age, was a passenger in a Main street car of the Middlesex street railroad, Wednesday afternoon. She had several packages with her, and for a time sat quietly. Suddenly she shouted: "Hurrah! hurrah!" The passengers looked at her in surprise, and several laughed. "I'm celebrating," she cried, and then began to sing: "Will you love me when I'm old?"

The passengers laughed loudly when the old lady threw kisses carelessly about. "I always have my good time Thanksgiving," she said, without directing her conversation to anyone.

"Isn't it a shame to see one so old intoxicated?" said a lady to her companion. The aged female heard what had been said and cried, "You don't know what fun it is."

Just at this time a gentleman arose and said to the conductor: "Have we got to Oak street yet?"

"Sit down and don't make a fool of yourself," said the aged dame. "People'll think you're from the country if you ask questions. Wait till you get to the street and then get out. Sit down."

The passengers were in a roar by this time, and the man meekly took a seat near the door, the conductor informing him that he would tell him when Oak street was reached.

"Where do you want to get out?" inquired the conductor of the intoxicated woman.

"None of your business," was the reply. "I paid my fare to ride and not answer questions," and this time the laugh was on the knight of the punch. The old woman continued to cause merriment until the stables were reached, when she alighted gayly.—Boston Herald.

A Queer Lake.

"Sugar Lake, in this county," says the Crawford County (Pennsylvania) Journal, "is a beautiful little body of water, and is undergoing a continual chemical change that should attract the scientist. Eighty years ago the average depth of water in the lake was about thirty feet, but it is now only fifteen feet deep. The surface of the water stands at high water mark, but the bottom is filling up or rising. It is a most singular phenomenon that every year in the month of August the water of the lake becomes a milky substance, and, after a little change in the temperature, small white particles like cheese curd are formed and precipitated to the bottom, and are slowly but surely filling up the lake. After these particles are formed and settle the water becomes clear and pure. At the rate this chemical change is now going on, fifty years more and the water of Sugar Lake will have become solidified into a solid loaf of sugar, or, what is more probable, formed into a great bed of limburger cheese. During the season of the year when the chemical process is in operation there is pungent evidence to sustain the latter theory."

Dr. Shaw, writing to the Medical Times from Water Gap, where poisonous snakes abound, says that during the past six years, in which he has followed out a method of cure for snake bite, he has not lost a case. He gives sixty minims of aromatic spirits of ammonia hypodermically, and an ounce of whisky every two hours. A large poultice of bruised raw onions is applied to the wound and renewed every hour. The whisky and onions are continued until cure is effected, which is usually on the third day.

The National Complaint. Dyspepsia is the national complaint. Almost every other man or woman you meet has it, and the result is that the number of pseudo-remedies for it is as numerous as Pharaoh's host. They are for the most part worthless. There is, however, a searching eradicant of this distressing and obdurate malady, one whose merits long since raised it to a foremost place among the staple medicines of America. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters extirpates dyspepsia with greater certainty and promptitude than any known remedy, and is a most genial invigorant, appetizer and aid to secretion. These are not empty assertions, as thousands of our countrymen and women who have experienced its effects are aware, but are backed up by irrefragable proofs repeatedly laid before the public. The Bitters also promote a regular habit of body and give a healthful stimulus to the urinary organs.

Passed Assistant Surgeon Frank Anderson is detached from the naval hospital, New York, and ordered to the naval laboratory.

What Was It, John, That made your face so free and clear from pimples? said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

Portsmouth MARBLE WORKS! JOHN S. TREAT THE OLDEST IN NEW ENGLAND. COR. DEER AND VAUGHAN STS NEAR B. & R. R. DEPOT.

Having on hand the largest and best selected stock of MONUMENTS, HEAD STONES, TABLETS, &C., this side of Boston, I would respectfully call your attention to the same, believing that in most cases it is better for persons about purchasing to see what they are buying than to buy of irresponsible agents with nice looking Photographs of Monumental work. Having a thorough knowledge of the business in all the principal cities of the Union and still giving my personal attention, all will be satisfied who will give me a call, as to quality of work and prices.

Particular attention given to fencing cemetery lots with marble or granite posts or curbs.

"I would not live alway," said the Psamist in a moment of poetic rapture. "I would not either," says Josh Billings irreverently. So we say—but then while we do live, let us hold on to our health and spirits. The surest way to do this, is to lay in a supply of Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup! Try it.

Lieutenant Seaton Schroeder is detached from the Albatross, and ordered to duty in the bureau of navigation.

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, but receiving no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla He immediately began to improve; in two months his rheumatism was all gone, and he sailed in command of his vessel a well man. Hood's Sarsaparilla will help you. Sold by all druggists.

Passed Assistant Paymaster G. A. Deering is detached from duty in the bureau of provisions and clothing, and placed on waiting orders.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before 30 years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

Assistant Paymaster M. R. Calvert is detached from duty at Port Royal, S. C., and ordered to settle accounts.

Well Bought

Half sold, is an old adage from a wise man. Good whiskey ready at hand often breaks up a cold and wards off disease. G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon or G. O. Taylor Pure Rye can always be depended upon for purity. In bottles bearing firm name of Chester H. Graves & Sons over cork and on label ensures genuineness. Druggists and grocers sell it.

The End of the World.

The following alarming item of "news" is now going the rounds of the press:

Some two or three years ago the English astronomer, Mr. Proctor, scared his countrymen by the prediction of the havoc which a certain comet was to play with our globe in the year 1897. But the danger may come much sooner than that yet distant period of time. It is the year upon which we have entered, 1886, during which, according to Nostradamus, there will be that fatal meteorological religious conjunction which is to bring about the end of the world—

> Quand Georges Dieu crucifiera,
> Que Marc le ressuscitera,
> Que Salut Jean le trouvera,
> La fin du monde arrivera.

To translate into simple English, when Good Friday falls on St. George's day, and Easter on St. Mark's day, and Corpus Christi on St. John's day, the catastrophe foretold will come to pass. Now if our readers will consult an ecclesiastical almanac, they will find that in this very year this rare and almost unprecedented conjunction will take place. Easter day falling on the 25th of April, St. Mark's day; while Good Friday and Corpus Christi also come on the days foreboded by Nostradamus. So there is a chance for Mr. Proctor's comet to visit us this year in honor of the old astrologer.

Mr. Proctor, the English astronomer, has repeatedly declined the honor of having made any idiotic prediction regarding the world's destruction, as he is aware that any comet that ever lived would be knocked out in one round by the earth's atmosphere, without the dwellers on terra firma knowing anything about it. As to the predictions of Mr Nostradamus, we have only to say that if they turn out to be the genuine article this paper will not get left on the account of the result, as our reporter will take full notes of the proceedings from a boat anchored in a position of perfect safety about two miles outside of Whalesback. Now is the time to subscribe.

Paymaster Smith's Case.

The supreme court of the United States on the 4th inst. rendered a decision upon the petition of Paymaster Joseph A. Smith, late paymaster-general of the navy department, that a writ of prohibition be issued restraining the secretary of the navy from further proceedings against him by court-martial for offences alleged to have been committed in connection with the administration of his functions as chief of a bureau of the navy department. The petition had been denied by the supreme court of the District of Columbia, and this judgment is affirmed by the supreme court of the United States.

The decision excites lively interest in navy circles, where it is regarded as establishing the practical autocracy of the secretary of the navy in matters of discipline within his department.

Smith is a Maine man and a friend of Senators Frye and Hale, who are credited with the intention of making his case the subject of congressional action before long. Enemies of Secretary Whitney are accusing him of persecuting the late paymaster-general for the purpose of making capital against the Chandler administration, and Whitney's action in regard to John Roach lends a strong color of probability to the truth of the charge.

New Year Festival at the Asylum.

The annual New Year supper and ball at the New Hampshire Asylum for the Insane at Concord was held on the evening of January 1st. Supper was served at six o'clock, and about three hundred persons partook of the feast which was so bountifully prepared. The grand march, consisting of fifty couples, occured at 7:30 o'clock, being led by Dr. C. P. Bancroft and Miss Riggs, supervisor A. F. Tandy acting as floor manager. Sanborn's orchestra furnished music for the occasion. Everything was conducted in excellent style, reflecting much credit on those who had the management of the affair. It was an occasion long to be remembered by all who participated.

The Kentucky Plan.

The Courier Journal, of Louisville, Ky., is credited with the following: "When a great ruler dies in Europe, some one calls in his ear three times. Once is enough in Kentucky. A friend steps reverently to the couch of the deceased, and whispers—not necessarily loud—"Let's take a drink." If he makes no reply, then he is dead beyond peradventure, and the funeral is proceeded with."

The week of the World's Concert of Prayer is well observed in the Congregational church.

Mrs. Joseph Palmer, one of our most respected and estimable Christian ladies, is apparently nearing the end of life's journey. She will be ninety years of age in a few weeks.

Mrs. Curtis DeLancey has been quite ill and is confined to bed, but Dr. Merrill thinks he has conquered the fever, as he was called in time to break it up.

Dr. Merrill gave an interesting and most excellent lecture last Friday evening, and Rev R. A. DeLancey, D. D., will give the third in the free course of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union on Wednesday evening, Jan. 13th, on "Law the Conservator of Liberty." **

Queen Mary, one of the two choice Ayrshire cows owned by C. H. Hayes & Son, gave during the month of December 1495 pounds of milk, equal to 671 1-2 quarts. The last ten days of the month her record was 549 1-2 lbs., very nearly fifty-five lbs. per day.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

THE PATENT VALVE SUIT.

Mayor Eldredge and City Solicitor Emery of Portsmouth, Mayor Stearns and City Solicitor Prescott of Manchester, Mayor Tolles and City Solicitor Hoitt of Nashua, City Solicitor Stevens of Concord, City Solicitor Pray of Dover and Judge Foster of Concord, met at Concord, Saturday to decide upon some action in regard to the motion of Marcus P. Norton to have the patent valve suits re-opened. The meeting organized with Mayor Eldredge of this city, chairman, and City Solicitor Pray of Dover, secretary. The hearing will be had in the U. S. Circuit court in this city on the 19th inst.

A special meeting of the city government was held at the city rooms Monday evening, to take some action with reference to the trial of the Knibbs patent valve suit. With the exception of Messrs. Coffin, Magraw and Hatch, the full board was present. After some little discussion, a resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to employ Wm. L. Foster of Concord, to represent the city in the trial of the case against Norton.

Adjourned.

RESIGNATION.

At the regular meeting of Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Company, the resignation of Mr. J. Frank Shannon as foreman was accepted. It was tendered in writing, and he said that while he was very sorry to leave the company, his business was such that he was obliged to do so. He thanked the company for the assistance they had rendered him, and the gentlemanly manner in which they had always treated him. In accepting the resignation, the company passed a unanimous vote of thanks, which was to be tendered him in writing. The company also voted to make Mr. Frank P. Banks foreman, 1st assistant A. Goldthwait, 2d assistant Joseph A. Lawrence, pipeman Fred J. Haddock.—Times.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

TUESDAY, Jan. 5th.

Henry Jones, a Stratham youth who has been rendered incorrigible by brutal treatment, was brought before the court on a charge of knocking over the bee hives of Horace N. Norton of Greenland, and stealing honey therefrom, as an accomplice of other theivish boys. He confessed, and gave the names of the other offenders. The court sentenced him to six months in jail, but at the request of Col. Marvin, who explained the friendless and unfortunate condition of the lad, he was given three years in the State Industrial School. A few years of wholesome discipline will improve the untutored boy.

Michall Sullivan, for drunkenness, was ordered to Brentwood for thirty days, and to pay $6.90 costs.

Installation of officers at St. John's Lodge, No. 1, to-night.

A record of 144 consecutive nights at the Boston Museum is a good endorsement with Portsmouth theatre goers, and "The Drunkard," as played at Music hall Saturday evening next by Percy Hunting, should not want for patronage. The drama presents the evils of intemperance very vividly, besides possessing much interest aside from the lessons it teaches.

Mr. Horace W. Hill, who was reported to have set two dogs fighting on Sunday, and then chopped one with an axe because he was winning the fight, says the statement is grossly unfair; that he had nothing to do with starting the dogs fighting, his own being a small, timid animal, and the other a large bull dog; and that it was only when other attempts to drive off the large animal had failed, that he took a hatchet and struck him, intending to kill and not maim the dog. He further says he did not leave the city on Monday to avoid arrest.

Miss Helene Adell and a company from the Park theatre, New York, will play in Music hall every evening next week except Saturday, presenting A Night in Rome, Moths, Colleen Bawn, Our Boys, and Camille; prices of admission, ten and twenty cents; reserved seats thirty cents.

Mr. John P. Cooper of Newcastle, who for many years has been connected with the Congregational Sunday school and society in that town, has resigned the position of superintendent of the school, the infirmities of age causing him so to do. He has always been an ardent worker in the society, and there is general regret at his retiring.

Chicago papers of December 24th said: "Prof. James Haley of Buffalo, N. Y., and James M. Long of New York, fought at a late hour last night in an east-side saloon for $100 a side and the gate money. About 200 persons, many from New York and Chicago, were present. Haley had the best of it all the way through. In the second round Long's second picked him up, as he was unable to rise after being knocked down. The referee declared Haley winner on a foul. An admission fee of $10 was charged." The "Professor" Haley referred to was formerly a resident of Newmarket, being a son of P. Haley of the Newmarket hotel.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hill, of Kittery Point, has a sheep five years old which has had eleven lambs, four of which (two pairs of twins) were produced within the past ten months.

Mr. Frank F. Staples of Eliot, formerly chief clerk in the department of construction at the navy yard, as agent for a firm of clothing manufacturers gives out to the women and girls of Eliot large numbers of trowsers to be made, the average price paid for making being twenty-two cents a pair. Oliver Athorne of Eliot give out great quantities of stockings to be seamed, and it is said there are more women and girls engaged in seaming in Eliot than in any other town in this vicinity, although a large number are employed at it in York.

The numerous pedestrians along Market street who have occasion to cross Deer street, complain loudly of the mass of mud on the crosswalk there; this mud is thrown out from the sewer, and a few minutes work would remedy the trouble and make the crosswalk decently passable.

At the monthly meeting of the directors of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held Monday evening, the state agent reported that nine old and suffering horses had been humanly killed during the previous month, and several herds of cattle had been found in a starving condition and relieved.

The Czarina and the Empress.

A friend who has just returned from Vienna tells me, writes a Paris correspondent, that the czarina and the empress of Austria did not get on well together. One of the august ladies is passionately fond of dancing. She can tire out no end of the aids-de-camp at the "hops" which she gets up so often both at Gatchina and St. Petersburg. The other hates the hot, dusty atmosphere of a ball-room, and is happiest when also is afield soon after daybreak, or engaged in training horses in a menage. It was difficult for them to find points of contact. The Empress Elizabeth, notwithstanding her wish to be seductive, yawned a great deal behind her fan. At last the two fair sovereigns hit upon a topic of mutual interest. It was the good old times when they were both young girls, leading a country life, under, so far as money went, very cramped circumstances. The empress gravitated toward the stables, but she was obliged to take her turn in dairy-work and housekeeping with her other sisters. The czarina boasted of her skill as a pastry-cook, and her achievements in pickling and preserving. She was brought up in a country-house in Schleswig, but her summers were spent with the rest of her family in Germany. The whole tribe of landgravine Hesses of which the duchess of Cambridge and the present queen of Denmark are members were in the habit of meeting at a big schloss near Frankfort. The czarina is naturally light-hearted and has a birdy sort of disposition, which leads her to prefer a nest that she arranges herself to the wearisome grandeur of the winter palace. It amuses her to go about shopping. Her deportment is indyliic and surtout gentil. But it did not satisfy the Viennese ladies who were in attendance upon the empress of Austria at Kremsier. They associate the regal condition with a stately step and proud air. The sovereign is, in their apprehension, the chief figure in a perpetual pageant—and little else.

India's Inconoclast.

A curious destroyer of human works in India, according to Dr. R. E. Hutchinson, is the peepal tree. This is a kind of fig, which multiplies beyond the power of man to destroy, its little seeds being sown broadcast over the land in the droppings of the birds and bats which feast on its fruit. The peepal rises everywhere, and its effort is the disintegration of rocks and buildings, the danger being so great that the keepers of large structures are constantly on watch during fig time for bird-droppings. As an illustration of what the tree may do and of its wonderful vitality, it is stated that on the summit of the northern minaret of the great mosque of Bareilly, 150 feet high, a peepal flourishes grandly beyond reach, and its ever-active roots are gradually breaking up the cupola of the minaret.

Japan Ladies.

The ladies of Japan show not less readiness to adopt Western ideas and usages than the Japanese of the other sex. The belles of Zedo order dresses from Paris; and the progress of imitation has gone so far as to make a knowledge of the fashionable dresses of Europe an indispensable feature in the education of every Japanese lady who respects herself. A riding school is about to be opened in Yokohama exclusively for the use of native ladies, and it promises to be largely patronized. The Japanese Government is about to take a step which will have the effect of bringing the more solid branches of Western education within reach of the female subjects of the Mikado. A number of young women are about to be sent to Europe to receive a thorough training in the essential branches of female education as it is understood there, with a view to their subsequent employment as teachers in their own country when qualified.

The amount of power wasted by shafting being out of line, of insufficient size, and imperfectly coupled, says the Industrial American, can hardly be estimated. Great as is this loss, that from badly laced, crooked, stiff, and generally outrageous belting, is but little less. In some establishments a belt lacing of sufficient size for the main belt of the establishment is considered plenty good enough to lace a three-inch belt with, and is used accordingly. A punch large enough to make holes for the biggest lacing is, of course, necessary, and it has the advantage of answering for all sizes of belt. The apparent advantage of having but one size in a large establishment is capitating; the result in belt efficiency, however, is something which would astonish the counting house, if it could understand the figures.

It is calculated that there are in Canada from 10,000 to 15,000 lacrosse players, 5,000 curlers, 4,000 snow shoers, 3,000 or 4,000 cricketers, 2,000 football players, 1,000 rowing men, 1,000 base ballists, and 1,000 bicyclists.

Nervous Debilitated Men.

You are allowed a free trial of thirty days of the use of Dr. Dye's Celebrated Voltaic Belt with Electric Suspensory Appliances, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Debility, loss of Vitality and Manhood, and all kindred troubles. FITS.—All Fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvellous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cents, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the purchaser has paid enough $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect fac-simile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with rich cut glass, at Ten Dollars each delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $40,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

The Dead Crœsus.

The Boston Transcript discusses the nature of Mr. Vanderbilt's wealth in an interesting way, making these observations:

Mr. Vanderbilt is reputed to have been at his death the richest man in the world, worth at least $200,000,000. Whether he can be considered the richest man in the world depends upon how we understand the term. His property was almost altogether in securities—stocks, bonds, etc.—which vary in market value from day to day, and which if offered for sale in a body must fall even below their actual value. Of this immense wealth more than one-third was in Government bonds of the United States—these of course the least variable in value of all his possessions. He was no believer in real estate, although he owned the palace in which he died. His last years were passed in holding up his property to a value which he placed on it, and it was subject to fierce and constant attacks, to defeat or ward off which called for constant expenditure of his reserved wealth. Whether he did not draw from a bond to pay the dividends from which the estimate of his income was partly computed is a question which has been the theme of discussion in the stock market for years. Many shrewd observers made or lost fortunes in backing their opinions that he carried a portion of his properties instead of his properties carrying him. The Duke of Westminster is believed to own property, almost entirely real estate, valued at $200,000,000. This nets him an income of about $4,000,000, or 2 per cent. But here is the difference: The Duke can probably turn his property for all it is worth, for it is situated in London, where real estate is constantly appreciating. If Vanderbilt at any time had suddenly made up his mind to go out of the active world into retirement, he would have found that as soon as he undertook to turn his vast holdings of stocks and bonds they would depreciate rapidly. The more he put out the more the price would sink, the wider would be the difference between the value of his property on paper and in cash, between the estimated and the actual. Of course the Vanderbilt properties having actual merit and high-earning capacity would not sink as fast nor as far as those which depended for their price not on a combination of circumstances but a combination of brokers: If Mr. Vanderbilt took dividends out of one pocket and put them into another he had not added to his income; he had simply changed the location of the same money. To press all his property to immediate sale would run it down far below the estimate which the world so glibly puts on it.

The Duke of Westminster's vast property is the product of the growth of London, as the wealth of the Astors represents the increase of New York.

The Vanderbilts have not been believers in real estate. Mr. William H. Vanderbilt shrewdly said that the municipality owned the real estate, the holder being a sort of a tenant. He was afraid to trust his property where it could be stolen by "the boys" who run city governments.

There is many a heavy holder of real estate who will appreciate this, especially in cities where the taxation and assessments crawl up toward the amount of the income. Three per cent taxes, on valuations that are excessive, approach confiscation.

About Sleeping Rooms.

Housekeepers will appreciate these remarks on the care of sleeping rooms, culled from Good Housekeeping:

It is to be regretted that paperings or carpetings should ever be used in the sleeping-room. Alas! what evil is lurking in the nooks of the four square walls which encompass us! What enemy is that, although trodden upon, yet is not subdued? Let the walls of our sleeping-rooms be calsomined and the carpets removed from the floors. Let the crevices be carefully filled with putty (any one can do this), and the floor neatly painted or stained. A rug at the bedside, with small ones at the bureau and commode (Kensington rugs), will relieve the nakedness of the floor. These should be carried out weekly, thoroughly shaken and exposed for an hour to sun and wind. Towels and wash cloths used during the day should never remain in the room during the night. I have seen wash cloths, used day after day in a sleeping-room, become sour and musty, emitting a strong odor both disagreeable and unhealthy. The water can and the entire toilet set must be kept perfectly sweet and pure. I do not mean merely clean to the eye, but clean enough for a chemist's use. Attention must also be called to the tooth-brush, which should always be thoroughly cleansed after using, and placed, handle down, in an upright holder. I have found odor enough about one tooth-brush to infect the atmosphere of a common sleeping room. In regard to ventilation, open as many doors and windows as permissible, avoiding a draft; but moving air is absolutely indispensible to the health of the sleeper. Let the bed stand as near the center of the room as possible, but on no account close to the wall. No one housekeeper may be able to carry out all of these suggestions, but it is the ideal of housekeeping, as it ought to be, which should be held up to the eye of the reader, that each one may choose what she can best carry out in her daily practice.

The grocery business is just booming in our quiet little borough. One itinerant dealer recently purchased a barrel of flour in Portsmouth for a lady customer. He paid $5.40 for it in Portsmouth, paid his tolls across the bridge, and charged the lady $5.50. The flour did not suit her, and he carried it back to the city and exchanged it for another brand of the same price, paying his tolls as before; but this barrel, too, did not just suit, though he finally closed the bargain with his customer by allowing a discount of fifty cents. Where does he make his profit? Perhaps the patronage is worth something! SUB ROSA.

Happy new year to all!

News items "Scace," and so is poultry.

This is the week of prayer of the united churches. It is now splendid travelling to pray—but we think it could be done cheaper at home. You may think that is mixed,—but not so much mixed as the dirt and water that constitutes the travelling.

Miss M. Esther Mitchell leaves York to-day for a protracted visit among friends at Limerick, this county.

Mr. C. F. Hanson and wife of Springvale, who have been visiting friends in York, leave for home this morning.

Capt. F. P. Emerson is making preparations for filling his large ice-houses. The water forming his ice is drawn through two miles of pipe, from Fall Mill pond.

Report in the Times says Elder Payne is favoring the establishment of a post-office at the village. The elder is not sure of his appointment to succeed Collector of Customs Bragdon, and perhaps a little caution would be prudent, for "let him that thinketh he standeth," etc.

The bankrupt stock of goods in the store of Daniel C. Goodwin at Cape Neddick is to be sold at auction by the assignee, Josiah Chase of Portland.

Schooner Rockaway, Capt. Baker, arrived from Boston last Saturday, and is loading bricks at J. P. Norton's yard.

The entertainment given by Eastman's orchestra, of Manchester, N. H., under the auspices of Agamenticus Commandery, No. 19, U. O. G. C., at the S. S. S. hall on Wednesday evening, Dec. 30th, was a grand success. A good crowd were in attendance, the orchestra furnished an abundance of good music, and every one went away satisfied that they had enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Benjamin F. Rogers was on Saturday drawn as traverse juror from this town to serve at the supreme judicial court to be held at Saco to-morrow. Alexander Thompson is grand juror for the court year, viz., Sept. term, 1885, and January and May terms, 1886. Justice Enoch Foster of Bethel presides at this term.

The Fishing Fleets.

A despatch of Jan. 5th from Gloucester, Mass., says that most of the fleet at the Georges and Lahave banks during the late gale have arrived or been reported. Only one Lahave banker, schooner Hyperion, and five haddockers—Eben Parsons, Conductor, Mabel Dilloway, Edward Trevoy and F. R. Walker—remain to be heard from, and some anxiety is felt for their safety, though all may yet come in. The Grand bank fleet report the storm less severe there than at Georges and Lahave, though there was a high sea and rough weather. Some of the fishermen were out in their dories fishing the day of the gale. Schooner Monitor, from Grand bank, reports passed a large iron can buoy, supposed to have drifted from the eastern part of Cashes.

Slightly "Sarkastical."

The New York Tribune remarks that "For a vessel which was so awfully bad that the administration really could not think of accepting her for a long time, the Dolphin is doing fairly well. She has been in a twenty-four hours' gale and made twelve knots an hour throughout it, although the wind blew at the rate of seventy miles part of the time. This is not fifteen knots to be sure; but it is better than eight knots, which is about as fast as any other United States vessel can go. No damage was sustained by the vessel, but her crew and officers were sea-sick. This looks as if they were the only structurally weak part of the ship."

Among the petit jurors in attendance on the session of the supreme judicial court of Maine for York county, at Saco, are Perry C. Moore and Andrew J. Stimson of Kittery, Flavius J. Paul of Eliot, Benjamin F. Rogers of York, Horace J. Goodwin of South Berwick, Samuel W. Wentworth of Berwick, and George H. Anderson of North Berwick.

The dispatch boat Dolphin made the run from Newport to Cape Henry in twenty-five hours.

Mrs. Mary Lyman, mother of Hon. John D. Lyman, died in Milton, Dec. 31st, in the 91st year of her age. She was the oldest woman in the town.

Mr. J. Thomas, (of Thomas & Co., Real Estate Brokers,) 57 Saratoga Street, Baltimore, Md., says: Hearing that Salvation Oil was good for neuralgia, I procured a bottle and sent it to a lady friend in the country who was suffering severely with this painful affection. She takes pleasure in stating that it afforded her complete relief.

There have been 9,000 changes since last July among the 49,000 fourth-class postmasters.

If he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before is a benefactor, equally so is he who relieves one of our physical ills. But St. Jacobs Oil does more; rheumatism, headache, neuralgia, sprains, burns and bruises, all yield to its treatment, which is at once simple and efficacious.

Great damage was done in Pennsylvania by floods on the 4th and 5th insts. At Duncannon a railroad train went through a bridge, and the fireman and conductor were drowned.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 6th.

Charles H. Whitney, a transient vagrant from Beverly, Mass., was sent to Brentwood for six months, and ordered to pay costs, for drunkenness.

H. W. Hill was charged with cruelty to a dog, (the case has already been alluded to in this paper,) the complaint being made by the anti-cruelty society. Judge Batchelder being an officer of the society, left the bench, and Judge Bufford heard the case; George E. Hodgdon, Esq., appearing for the defendant. A number of witnesses were examined, the decision being that more violence was used than was absolutely necessary to separate the fighting dogs, and the defendant was fined $5 and costs, which was paid.

"THE DRUNKARD."

The famous temperance drama of "The Drunkard" will be presented at Music hall on Saturday evening next by Mr. Percy Hunting, supported by his own company, now making a successful tour of New England. The play depicts more vividly than narrative the evils of intemperance, and abounds in strong dramatic situations. An exchange says: "Mr. Hunting is far superior to any of the melodramatic actors who have appeared in our city. He was greeted by a large audience who were more than pleased with his impersonation of Edward Middleton, the drunkard. There is nothing forced in his acting, everything he does being perfectly natural. His supporting company is excellent, especially Kate Ethel, Mrs. Ayling, Lena Orthank, Mr. D. Gilfeather, J. A. Woodcock and Robt. Finley." Popular prices will prevail for this evening, the best seats being placed at fifty cents, and the admission at twenty-five cents.

HIGHLAND SCHOOL OF MENTAL PHILOSOPHY.

All persons who wish to join a class in Metaphysics, or Mind Cure, or to consult in reference to the study or treatment, should meet at 41 State street this, (Thursday) afternoon, 7th inst., at 2:30 o'clock.

Prof. B. J. & Mrs. S. B. BUTTS, Teachers.

Eastern railroad was active on the 6th inst. in the Boston market, nearly 2000 shares being sold at the brokers' board, the price advancing from 72 1-2 to 77 3-4. Portland, Saco & Portsmouth sold at 122; Maine Central at 120; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway at 59.

Plowing was being done on the Elwyn place, Lafayette road, Wednesday morning.

The Sons of Veterans have engaged Congress hall for their assembly on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12th.

The city government, or some one who has or ought to have to do with the streets, could have found an opportunity to show efficiency in cleaning the crosswalks of liquid mud on Wednesday morning, the 6th. But we must remember that as far as streets are concerned, contrasted with their predecessors the present municipal authorities are a dead failure.

Prof. B. J. Butts gave a lecture on the Mind-Cure, Monday evening, the 4th inst., in the parlors at No. 41 State street; notwithstanding the bad weather there was a good attendance, and the lecture gave great pleasure to the highly-cultivated audience.

The funeral of the late Charles W. Woods was largely attended on the 6th inst., at the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Thomas J. Altchell, on Bridge street, and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. The hook and ladder company, of which Mr. Woods was a member, attended the obsequies, and had placed upon the casket a wreath of appropriate design.

Noble B. Hill, senior proprietor of the Boston theatre, died Jan 5th. He carried over $75,000 insurance on his life. Mr. Hill for several years past has spent his summer at the Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle.

Edward C. Stickney, the champion dumb-bell lifter, is in town looking for a chance to appear at one of the theatres in "ancient and modern statuary."—Boston Post.

The striking gear of the north clock started off on its own hook shortly before half-past twelve on the 6th inst., and struck over a hundred blows before it stopped.

The docket for the January trial term of the supreme court contains 148 civil actions and forty-eight equity cases. Judge Lewis W. Clark is to hold the term, which begins at Exeter on the 19th inst.

Delegations from New Hampshire Lodge and Strawberry Bank Encampment of this city went to Eliot on the 5th inst., to attend the funeral of the late Howard F. Staples.

A tramp who was let out of the police station on the morning of the 5th inst. called at the residence of George Ayers, corner of Hanover and Fleet streets, in the afternoon, for something to eat. After he had gone the family missed an overcoat, the police were notified, and word was sent to Newburyport asking the officers there to arrest the man, from a description given. The tramp called at the station in that city about eleven o'clock that night for lodgings, and was detained. City Marshal Norton went to Newburyport on the 6th, and brought the fellow to this city in the afternoon.

A financial writer in one of the Boston dailies remarks gravely that the rapid advance in the price of Eastern railroad was owing to large orders to buy the stock. These large orders to purchase are very naturally apt to cause a rise in the market price of any stock. It is said that a plan of consolidation with the Boston & Maine is the cause of the present rapid advance in the market price of Eastern.

Mr. T. Dame of Eliot, who as civil engineer has recently surveyed, laid out and planned the "Cottage lot" at the Norwood farm, York beach, is now as architect engaged in drawing plans and specifications for cottages to be erected the coming spring for Joseph May of Philadelphia and Joseph C. Ropes of Boston. They are to be very handsome structures.

The schooner Cocheco, built at this port in 1878, now owned in New York, arrived at Norfolk, Va., Jan. 5th, from New York, leaking badly.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, hauled up for the winter at Union wharf, is being recaulked, and is to have her foremast taken out, and replaced by a new one if necessary.

The schooner A. C. Newhall brought in on the 6th inst. 13,000 lbs. of haddock, bought by E. Newton & Co., and 400 lbs. of chicken halibut, bought by G. W. Randall & Son. The George W. Hagan brought in 11,000 lbs. of cod, to Newton & Co. Fish were reported scarce and the weather was cooler, which caused a moderate rise in prices. Some of the vessels complain of trawl stealing in the bay.

Senator Blair on the 4th inst. introduced a bill providing for the erection in Washington of monuments to Lincoln and Grant, similar to the Washington monument and to cost $1,000,000 each. None but American citizens are to be employed upon this work.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Jan. 4th.

One of the most pleasant affairs that has happened in this town in a long time took place at the "Elm farm" on the Exeter road, Tuesday evening, the 29th ult. A large party was present, and several young ladies and gentlemen from Exeter and Hampton entertained the company with a number of first-class dialogues and recitations, after which all were invited to the dining room, where the tables were spread with tempting viands making a most inviting display. After a season spent in discussing the good things, and social chit-chat, all left for their homes well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Miss Belle Gladding, formerly of this town, is quite ill at her home in Newburyport, Mass., with heart disease.

Origin of Yankee Doodle.

"Yankee Doodle" was the theme of an interesting paper read by Mr. George H. Moore, LL. D., before the New York Historical Society recently. "The subject," said Mr. Moore, "naturally divides itself into two parts; first, as to the origin of Yankee, and, second, concerning the time with which the word is indissolubly linked. Gordon, writing in 1775, says Yankee was the favorite word of one Jonathan Hastings, living in Cambridge in 1713, and used as a term of excellence. The students at Harvard thus became acquainted with it, and linking it with Hastings, from whom they hired horses, it became a byword and was scattered over the country. There is little or no authority to rest this statement of the origin upon. The first registered Yankee was one William Marr, a slave in the Carolinas, who in an advertisement in a small English paper in 1725 is thus called." Mr. Moore then passed over in rapid succession the various supposed Indian derivatives of the word, including that in Irving's "History of New York," and the hitherto accepted authority of the Moravian missionary in Pennsylvania, that it was a corruption of Yengeese, the Indian phonetic spelling of English, and continued:

"The word is not Indian or Greek, but is pure Dutch, expressive of contempt, and probably the most so in the vocabulary of the early New York Dutch; 'Yankin' meant in that dialect to grumble, snarl or yelp, and its derivative noun Yanker meant a howling cur. It was not in use save among the lower classes, for reasons which now make that slang from use by educated people, but it was a well-known word. In the collisions between the New Englanders and the New York Dutch bad blood was aroused, and the New Englanders despised the Dutch, while the latter abominated the former, and both very fervidly. Hence the use of the word to indicate the contempt which existed. Every circumstance points to its birth in the collisions between the Dutch and the colonists. In this day the Yankees are looked upon with distrust by the remnants of the real Dutchmen now outside New England.

"The word was well known before the tune," continued Mr. Moore, "but the latter unquestionably came from England, despite the assertions that it is a well known Netherland peasant song, or that Kossuth, when here, recognized it as a Hungarian dance, or that it is known as the ancient sword dance of the Biscayans. The words and tune were undoubtedly first wedded together by Dr. Richard Shuckberg, who was connected with the British army when the colonial troops from New England marched into a camp at Albany to join the British regulars on the way to fight the French. The doctor knew of the tune as 'Fisher's Jig,' of which a verse ran:

Lucy Locket lost her pocket,
Lydia Fisher found it, etc.

The appearance of the troops called down the derision of the British officers, and soon the hit of the doctor became known throughout the army as a method of showing the contempt for the colonials, and this continued until after Lexington, the British troops leaving in 1775, when they tarred and feathered one Thomas Ditson in Boston, marching to the tune, as the best known way of heaping contempt on the Yankees. This was changed at Lexington, when the British commander was asked how he liked the tune and answered: 'How they did make us dance to it!' Doodle," Mr. Moore said, "always meant a trifler, and is thus referred to in the Lancashire hornpipe, written in 1862."

He closed his paper by relating the incident at the surrender of Cornwallis when the British, not wishing to surrender to the despised colonists, turned to the French contingent and prepared to ground their arms. Seeing this Lafayette ordered the French bands to play "Yankee Doodle," and to this tune the arms were laid down and the revolution ended.

A new method of preserving fruit is practiced in England. Pears, apples, and other fruits are reduced to a paste, which is then pressed into cakes and gently dried. When required for use it is only necessary to pour four times their weight of boiling water over them, and allow them to soak for twenty minutes, and then add sugar to suit the taste. The fine flavor of the fruit is said to be retained to perfection. The cost of the prepared product is said to be but little greater than that of the original fruit.

An old Scotchman, when taking his bairns to be baptized, usually spoke of them as laddies and lassies, as the case might be. At last his wife said he must not say it was a laddie or lassie, but an infant. So the next time that Sandy had occasion to go to the clergyman the latter said: "Well, Sandy, is it a laddie?" "It's nae a laddie," was the answer. "Then it's a lassie." "It's nae a lassie," said Sandy. "Well, man, what is it, then?" said the astonished preacher. "I dinna remember vera weel," said the parent, "but I think the wife said it was an illefant." The clergyman finally found out that it was not an elephant, but an infant, he was expected to baptize.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unimjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Very Palatable and Efficacious in Wasting Diseases.

Dr. C. T. BROMSER, Rochester, N. Y., says: "After having used Scott's Emulsion with decided benefit upon myself, I have taken great pleasure in recommending it in since the various conditions of wasting in which it is indicated."

The Knights of Labor at Brocton, Mass., have inaugurated a "boycott" against a Chinese laundryman, Quong Wah, and all who may patronize him. The boycott is a powerful weapon, judiciously used, but in the hands of reckless and unreasoning persons will be found to have two edges, and cut both ways.

of ATHLOPHOROS cured my wife of acute neuralgia. Instead of being laid up for two or three days as usual, it was all over in three hours and she has not had an attack since."—JOHN AUGER, 125 Howe Street, New Haven, Conn.

Some ATHLOPHOROS will not act as quickly as at other times; if so in this case, but it is sure and the more severe the pain the more quickly it will act. There is no disease more common and none more intensely painful than neuralgia. Ladies particularly are subject to headaches of neuralgic origin. Neuralgia in any form can be surely cured. Athlophoros is absolutely safe and absolutely sure. Thousands who have suffered intensely with neuralgia and been cured by the use of Athlophoros prove the truth of this statement. Is it not worth a trial for the price?

Ask your druggist for Athlophoros. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

The National Complaint.

Dyspepsia is the national complaint. Almost every other man or woman you meet has it, and the result is that the number of pseudo-remedies for it is as numerous as Pharaoh's host. They are for the most part worthless. There is, however, a searching eradicant of this distressing and obdurate malady, one whose merits long since raised it to a foremost place among the staple medicines of America. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters extirpates dyspepsia with greater certainty and promptitude than any known remedy, and is a most genial invigorant, appetizer and aid to secretion. These are not empty assertions, as thousands of our countrymen and women who have experienced its effects are aware, but are backed up by irrefragable proofs repeatedly laid before the public. The Bitters also promote a regular habit of body and give a healthful stimulus to the urinary organs.

The doors of Fifth avenue, New York city, were mostly shut against New Year's callers.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before 30 years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Double-Barrelled Speech Wanted.

Charles Levi Woodbury is mentioned among the worthy democrats of Boston who would not accept the office of assistant treasurer, now held by Martin Parry Kennard. The "Judge" is just about this time considering how he could formulate a speech or resolution for a democratic convention, which would have the appearance of endorsing the Bayard acts of the administration, and at the same time answer for bait for the votes of the hardy fishermen of Cape Ann!

"Entirely Satisfied."

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post—good democratic authority—says:

It is understood that Secretary Whitney is entirely satisfied with the seaworthiness of the Dolphin as shown in her recent trial trip, and will formally accept the vessel as soon as certain preliminaries can be arranged. It is not thought necessary to have another sea trial.

Mr. Whitney having succeeded in destroying the business of the leading ironship builder in the United States—the man who has done more than any other ten to advance this industry in this country,—and made all the capital possible against the late management of the navy department, is now "entirely satisfied." We should think he would be.

Wonderful Escape.

The boat's crew from the American whaling schooner Mary E. Simmons, consisting of the third mate, boatsteerer and four seamen, before reported lost off Pernambuco, having been carried down, as was supposed, by a whale, arrived in New York on the 6th inst. in a steamer from Pernambuco. They were carried about ten miles from their vessel by the whale, which then came up under the boat, and stove it. This was late in the day, Nov. 29th. The oars were lashed to the wreck of the boat, to increase its flotative power, and the six men hung to it without food or water until about noon Dec. 1st, when they were picked up by the British ship County of Clare, and taken into Pernambuco. One man became crazy the day before they were rescued, and his mates had to lash him to the boat; but he recovered all right after being taken on board the ship.

A Fast Steamship Line.

In the national house of representatives Representative Belmont, of New York, has presented the petition of Austin Corbin, setting forth that "with his associates he has formed an incorporated company under the laws of the state of New York, to be called and known as the American Express Steamship company, with a capital of at least $10,000,000, for the purpose of constructing, purchasing, and owning a fleet of first class passenger steamships to be navigated between the city of New York and some port on Long Island, and a suitable port or ports in Great Britain, and he respectfully prays the passage of an act authorizing the registry of all the vessels owned by the said company as vessels of the United States, whether built in the United States or elsewhere, providing that no vessel of foreign construction built or purchased by the said company shall be entitled to registry, unless the same shall be capable of a speed of at least eighteen knots per hour, as shown by its trial trip or otherwise, nor having less than 7,000 nominal horse power, nor until it shall have been inspected by a proper officer of the United States navy, to be detailed by the secretary of the navy for that purpose, and certified by such officer to possess the aforesaid qualifications for registry, and to be a first-class steamship, in all things suitable for the safe, convenient and speedy transportation of passengers between the ports of the United States and Great Britain."

The Saco river was on the 6th inst., higher than ever before known in January. Early in the morning the ice above the falls at Biddeford broke up, causing two booms to give away, and 50,000 feet of logs went over the dam and were lost. Considerable damage was done by the flood above Saco.

The great flood in the Saco river on the 6th broke Charles McKenney's boom at Bar Mills in Hollis, and 100,000 feet of logs went down the river. Lord's boom at Buxton Centre was in great danger, but has not been reported as giving way.

The market for cattle is somewhat easier, there being more large, heavy oxen upon the market. For such the highest rate noticed was 7¾c dressed weight against six last week. Several car load lots were sold to Boston butchers, and none taken from country to fill orders for the export trade.

Milch Cows—The demand rather moderate and prices remarkably steady.

The Sheep Call—Northern receipts were quite liberal and the market has declined, being at the range of two weeks ago. There were some very fine flocks, and the trade for them was active. The advance of last week was not expected to be held even by drovers themselves.

Fat Hogs—The lights for the export trade.

Milch Cows—The demand rather moderate and prices remarkably steady.

Veal Calves—A good demand at full prices.

Live Poultry—Supply about 1500 lbs, at 8c ⅌ ℔.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are Sedley Smith's great temperance drama, "The Drunkard," will be presented by a company competent to bring out its strong points, the part of Edward Middleton being taken by Mr. Percy Hunting. Next week all lovers of good acting should visit Music hall, for the superior cast of the New York Park Theatre company will occupy the stage, producing a reportoire of favorite plays, with the popular American actress Miss Helene Adell as the star. Miss Adell is a daughter of Judge Adell of Frankfort, Ky., and has captivated Chicago, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and New York by her excellent impersonations. Her manager, Mr. A. S. Anthony, has on his list to-day no actress who can give her audience better satisfaction than Miss Adell, as has been attested everywhere she has appeared. See advertisement for the sale of seats and plays to be presented.

E. S. Corsor, Esq., of Minneapolis, Minn., was in this city on the 6th inst. as the guest of Mr Samuel Adams.

Mr. Editor: I live where I can see across Market square, and am often harassed by the sight of horses and oxen standing exposed in the market place to all the severity of the winter weather, when they have fully earned a right to food and shelter. Thursday forenoon an Eliot man drove a load of hay in to sell, and left his lank and lean horses shivering in the wind for two hours, with no blanket or other protection from the cold. At last I saw the president of the anti-cruelty society go to their relief; had he gone sooner it would have saved me and others some unpleasant sensations. C.

There will be a public installation of officers of New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows on Wednesday evening, Jan. 13th.

The British schooner Alaska, of Moncton, New Brunswick, which brought several cargoes of railroad ties to this port from the provinces last year, had a hard experience in the gales which prevailed from Christmas to New Year. While anchored near Grindstone island, New Brunswick, Christmas day, she lost both anchors and 100 fathoms of chain, and was driven to sea. On Tuesday, Dec. 29th, she was picked up about two hundred miles east-northeast of Cape Ann by the fishing schooner Clytie, of Gloucester, and towed into that port on the evening of Dec. 31st. When found by the Clytie the Alaska was without water, provisions or kerosene; her deckload of hay, and most of her sails, were gone; and her crew were badly frost bitten, almost exhausted by constant labor, exposure and lack of food, and could have lasted but a little while longer.

The British steamer Oranmore, at Baltimore from Liverpool, while at anchor in Chesapeake bay during a thick fog on the 3d inst. was run into by the schooner Gov. Hall, from this port for Baltimore, and had her starboard quarter boat, davits and quarter rail carried away. The schooner lost her jibboom and head gear, and left her port anchor sticking through the steamer's upper deck.

Two spans of the Maine Central railroad bridge over the Kennebec river at Augusta, Me., were carried away by the freshet on the morning of the 6th inst. The spans were each 172 feet long Five loaded coal cars had been placed on the bridge to weight it down, but when it became evident the bridge must go two of them were hauled off with a rope, the other three going down with the bridge. Through traffic is not interrupted, it going by what is called the "back route."

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON.

A PORTSMOUTH BOY'S RECORD.

The Brooklyn Times publishes a sketch of the leading staff writers of the New York Sun. Among others is the following concerning one of our former fellow-townsmen:

"Henry W. Odion, the assistant city editor, manifested a disposition early to know what might be going on in the world, striking out for Chicago when seventeen years of age, after graduating from the high school of Portsmouth, N. H. The grain business was the attraction, and he was in it until a "corner" squeezed out the firm he was with. While at home on a visit immediately afterward he drifted, as many others have done, into journalism, so-called, by writing a series of articles for the local papers to give impetus to a fund for a public library. The article "took," and then the local editor of the Times took him in for local work. That experience lasted just thirty days, and then he came to New York, and through an introduction by an eastern friend, presented himself and his clippings to the late Dr. John B. Wood. The doctor gave him employment and good advice. Two years of reporting and ten years of sub-editorial work make up his time in the Sun office. A year ago he went into the produce exchange, intending to return to the grain business, but the fever abated quickly, and the newspaper business claimed him again. He is thirty-three years of age, married, and a resident of Brooklyn. He is spoken of in the highest terms by his associates."

Two sons of Benjamin Wood, of Bolton, Mass., broke through the ice while skating, and were drowned.

The steamer Norwegian, at Glasgow from Philadelphia, lost 160 head of cattle in a series of gales on the voyage.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters, that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once, and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it, Godspeed.

How the Sultan Pleased a Favorite.

The 30th of October the population of the left bank of the Golden Horn were almost dying of thirst. The city aqueduct was dry. The water-sellers were reaping a harvest; they received three piasters for a pitcher of water which at other times sold for only ten paras. But luckily for the poor, who were unable to purchase the cooling draught, a brisk north breeze set in during the evening and brought with it a plentiful downpour of rain. The cisterns were filled and believers and unbelievers could drink as before. But the aqueduct still continued dry. It is an open secret that his Majesty the Sultan was responsible for the consumption of this immense body of water. For weeks before it was whispered throughout the cafes and bazaars of the city that something unusual was going on in the park of the Yildiz Kiosk. Hundreds of soldiers were working day and night behind the great stone walls, but nobody knew at what. All that could be gleaned from those who knew most was that they were digging an enormous shapeless pit. When, after the lapse of several weeks, this was finished, endless trains of mules were seen every night carrying large, white stones up the mountain, for the pit had to be walled and stone-lined. Finally, one evening an English steamer came anchor right in front of the Tschiragan Palace, where no pilot dare enter without running the risk of being shot by the guards before he could explain his coming. Great cases and packages were taken from the steamer and carried to the Yildiz, and immediately the water disappeared from the aqueduct. The following is the explanation of the mystery: Several weeks ago the thought came to the mind of his Sublime Majesty to construct a great pond, or lake, in the park of the palace grounds, in order to be able to take his favorite Sultanas out for an airing, and a pleasant sail at the same time, in a little steam skiff of fairy-like beauty that he had had made in England expressly for that purpose. And to add to the capriciousness of the idea, his Majesty had this artificial lake entirely roofed with blue glass, while the banks are covered with blooming plants and the rarest exotic flowers. Artificial grottos and flowery boudoirs are scattered round about, in all of which musical clocks and instruments have been placed, which are moved by a common leverage, and play buzz, and whirr in the most bizarre confusion. This freak of his Majesty of course cost enormous sums, but he deems it cheap if it can add to the pleasure of his favorite odaliques. His Majesty is in constant dread of assassination and palace revolutions. The artists who carried out his Sublime Majesty's idea were summoned to the palace and rewarded in a princely manner. The French chansonnet singers, the Greek buffoons, the English jugglers, the Hungarian giantesses wearing the 500-weight stones about their necks—all are invited to the Yildiz and received presents of from $600 to $800 each. Of course the "artists" on leaving the palace had to give the usual quantity of this honororium in "backsheesh" to the officials of the palace. The Sultan is a great lover of music and he manifests his tastes in that direction by purchasing immense quantities musical clocks, harpsichords, hurdygurdies, and machine orchestras. These automatic "artists," his Majesty declares, have a double value—they need not be paid and they can't steal.

A certain young couple of our town were looking cautiously over the pages of a hymn-book the other evening, when the young man paused for a moment and pointed at a hymn entitled "When shall we embrace?" Presently the young lady, in answer to this question, turned to the old familiar hymn, "In the Sweet By-and-by." We suppose there will be a match soon.—Fort Gains(va.) Advertiser.

Attorney—"So, madam, you want me to commence a breach-of-promise suit against Mr. Silder. Well, give me some of the particulars. What county do you wish the action brought in?" Ancient maiden—"Well, you see, that's the trouble. The darn fool proposed to me on a railroad-train, just as we were sliding over the county line; so I don't know what county it was."—Chicago Rambler.

A French gamekeeper lately stopped a sportsman in the environs of Nantes. The latter was about to enter a small wood when the keeper came up and said: "Monsieur, you cannot shoot there; this wood is reserved." "O, it is all right," returned the sportsman. "I have the proprietor's verbal permission to shoot here." "On which the local constabulary replied: "Then I must trouble you to show it, please."

The intelligent compositor came across the words "Cricket on the Hearth." With his usual perception, he saw that "cricket on the hearth" was nonsense. "Of course," he thought, "it is impossible to play cricket on a hearth; evidently it should be 'heath;' cricket on the heath' means something." He made the emendation, and another gray hair was added to the editor's whitening head—Boston Transcript.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

The Indian Problem.

How General Sheridan Proposes to Settle the Question.—Reservations to be Sold.—Proceeds of the Sales to be Held in Trust by the Government.

Washington, Jan. 3, 1886.—In response to a request for additional information explanatory of the recommendations of his last annual report in regard to the Indian question, Lieutenant General Sheridan has written the following statement:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE U. S.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2, 1886.

In my annual report for 1885 I recommended that each Indian family be given (and located upon) the 320 acres now provided for them by law in case of actual settlement; that the government then condemn the remainder of each reservation and buy it in at $1.25 per acre, and with the proceeds purchase government bonds, to be held in trust by the Interior Department, giving to the Indians each year the interest on the bonds for their support. I cited in illustration of what would be the practical workings of this suggestion the case of the Crows, the Cheyennes and Arapahoes and the Utes, but the limit of my report did not permit a full elucidation of the advantages that would accrue to the Indian nor even an allusion to the large amount of land now lying idle that would thereby be opened to settlement and increase by so much the material prosperity of the nation.

OUTLINE OF THE SCHEME.

When it is attempted to deal with this subject more in detail a difficulty is at once encountered in that neither the actual area of the various reservations has been accurately determined nor the population of the Indians occupying them known within more than approximate limits. It will therefore not be possible to show the exact workings of the method proposed, but only a general summary covering the cases of the larger reservations in each Territory and the most populous of the different tribes. Similar statistics for the smaller reservations are, however, included in the accompanying tables.

Since the appropriations for the support of the Indians are not in every case made specifically for those upon any particular reservation, but rather collectively for those inhabiting some State or Territory, in making comparisons with the sum now required for the subsistence of the Indians and the annuities allowed them by treaty, the aggregate for a Territory, or for several Territories, has necessarily been considered rather than for each tribe or reservation.

THE DAKOTA RESERVATIONS.

In Dakota the principal reservations are the Fort Berthold and those inhabited by the various bands of Sioux. The Fort Berthold reservation, with an area of over 2,900,000 acres, has a population of 1,300 people; the others (the Crow Creek, old Winnebago and Sioux) an area of nearly 22,250,000 acres and a population of about 25,800. Carrying out the proposals of my report would, in the former case, afford an annual income of over $140,000, and in the latter case a surplus unoccupied by the Indians of over 20,500,000 acres (over 32,000 square miles) or an extent of territory equal to the combined area of the States of New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut, the proceeds of which at four per cent. per annum would yield an interest of over $1,000,000. With two of the smaller reservations—the Devil's Lake and South Mountain, area 276,480 acres, population over 1,800—nearly half the land would be required by the Indians. In this case, then, the income from the surplus would be small, being a little less than $8,000 per annum.

In Montana, the Blackfeet reservation contains over 21,500,000 acres and a population of less than 7,000 Indians. The surplus land, equal to the area of the State of Maine, would then return an income of $1,050,000. The Crow reservation, mentioned in my report, could, in a similar manner, be made to produce an annual sum of $223,000.

AN ENORMOUS AREA.

Considering all the Indians and reservations in the Territories of Dakota and Montana, we have an aggregate area of over 54,500,000 acres and a population of less than 45,000. The surplus area of nearly 81,000 square miles (almost equal to the entire State of Kansas) would produce an annual interest of over $2,500,000. The appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886, for fulfilling treaties with these tribes and for their subsistence and civilization and the pay of the employes incident to such undertakings, amount to about $100,000 less than this sum.

In Wyoming the Shoshones are located upon the Wind River reservation. One hundred and seventeen thousand dollars per year could be derived from their surplus land.

In Idaho the Fort Hall reservation, occupied by the Bannocks and Shoshones, would, in the same way, produce each year $55,000; the Coeur d'Alene reservation, $28,000. In these two Territories of Wyoming and Idaho the total area of the reservations is nearly 5,600,000 acres, the total population dearly 6,000. An area of nearly 7,200 square miles, almost equal to the State of New Jersey, would not be required for the Indians, and an income would be yielded of about $235,000, a sum more than $100,000 in excess of the appropriation for the current year.

In Oregon the most populous reservation is the Klamath, with over 1,000,000 acres, but less than 1,000 inhabitants. It would yield nearly $50,000 a year.

In Washington Territory the Yakamas, about 3,200 in number, occupy the reservation of 800,000 acres of the same name. Here the surplus land would bear but $30,000 a year. In this State and Territory the reservations, with a total population of about 16,000, embrace 3,400,000 acres, or about seven and one-third million acres more than would be required by them under the plan proposed, which would produce per annum $370,000; or about $300,000 more than is appropriated for these Indians.

The different bands of Utes in Utah and Colorado number about 3,650, and their reservations include over 5,000,000 acres, of which the surplus portion would produce a yearly income of about $240,000, or about $175,000 more than is being disbursed this year for their benefit. In New Mexico the Navajos on the reservation of the same name have now over 3,000,000 acres for a population of 23,000 people. Here the surplus land would yield over $330,000 a year. For the surplus lands of the Mescalero Apache reservation the income would be nearly $20,000.

IN ARIZONA.

In Arizona the principal reservation is the White Mountain, with the agency at San Carlos. It embraces more than 2,500,000 acres. Considerable uncertainty exists as to its population, but it is probably about 3,000 in the vicinity of the agency and 2,000 more (making 5,000 in all) who have removed into the northern part and are now engaged in farming and in efforts to make themselves self-supporting. The latter would, however, be entitled to all the benefits obtained by the agency Indians in any scheme looking to the promotion of their general prosperity. Carrying out the proposals of my report would leave a balance of considerably over 2,000,000 acres, with, according to the plan advocated, about $110,000 per year.

Considering collectively the Indians of New Mexico and Arizona, we have reservations embracing 16,500,000 acres, inhabited by nearly 53,000 people. The surplus land would include about 13,750,000 of acres (about equal to half the State of Kentucky) which would yield, according to the plan proposed, nearly $640,000, a sum greater by $350,000 than that appropriated for the current year for the support of these Indians.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

In the Indian Territory the Cheyenne and Arapahoe, the Kiowa and Comanche and the Wichita reservations embrace over 8,000,000 acres; the population is about 7,750, and the income from the surplus land ($375,000) would come within $75,000 of equaling the amount appropriated. Considering all the Indians in this Territory, we have a total of nearly 80,000 acres in extent and a population of 31,500,000 acres (excluding the Oklahoma country), which would produce an annual income of about $1,333,000.

SUMMARY.

The Indian reservations of the United States contain about 200,000 square miles; their population is about 260,000. Twenty-six thousand square miles would locate each family upon a half section of land, leaving a surplus of about 170,000 square miles, which, according to the plan I have proposed, would produce annually $4,480,000. This amount exceeds by about $650,000 the entire sum appropriated for the payment of their annuities and for their subsistence and civilization.

The policy advocated in my report would be most advantageously applied gradually, the general government of the Indians being continued according to the methods now in vogue, or such improvement of them as time and experience may suggest. The ultimate development of the suggested policy would, as the Indians advance in civilization and intelligence, result in the return to them of the principal derived from the sale of their lands, which, until such measures were authorized by act of Congress, would be held as a trust for their benefit and the income applied to their support."

A Great Conqueror.

Everybody hates egotism, yet history is full of it. Sesostris, one of Egypt's early kings, was so full of egotism that the fame of his deeds might long survive him, that he erected columns in the countries through which he passed, on which was inscribed: "Sesostris, king of kings and lord of lords, subdued this country by the power of his arms." That monarch showed, no doubt, a great deal of egotism by his actions; but would it be egotistical to say that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has done more than subdued a country, because it has conquered millions of obstinate colds and coughs, that held their victims in racks and fetters, worse than the Inquisition? We think not! Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup needs no column to perpetuate its fame and worth; its benefaction will be a household tradition among those it has emancipated.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30th.—The bureau of navigation is in receipt of information that about four weeks ago a schooner went ashore on what is called the "Hill," on the southwest side of the channel near Great Shoals lighthouse, near the mouth of Wicomico river, Maryland, and that within the last few days the vessel has been stripped and has probably been abandoned, in which case she is liable to become a dangerous wreck. Her position is said to have been such on the 15th that she could have been easily removed.

"THE DRUNKARD."

The sterling drama of "The Drunkard," which presents the evils of intemperance better than a volume of narrative, will be performed this evening in Music hall by Mr. Percy Hunting, supported by an efficient company. Best reserved seats are placed at fifty cents.

A PLEASING REMINDER.

The late Col. Charles Goddard Pickering, who died in Cleveland, Ohio, some time ago, in all his travels and up to the day of his death was loyal in his regard for our quiet old city by the sea, and under all circumstances was proud to claim it as his birth place and the home of his youth and manhood. The Portsmouth man, though personally a stranger, who met him in another city, was not merely sure of being treated with gentlemany courtesy—all persons, high and low, rich and poor, were alike sure of that treatment by Col. Pickering—but could count with certainty on his being more than ready to show his kindly feeling in any way in his power. A fresh token of his loving regard for the old town was given on Tuesday of this week, when his executor, Capt. Thomas A. Harris, handed to President E. P. Kimball of the Howard Benevolent society a check for $2,000, left by Col. Pickering in his will as a legacy to that worthy and discriminating dispenser of charity.

THE LOAFER NUISANCE IN THE POST-OFFICE VESTIBULE.

The janitors of the post-office seem to be greatly annoyed by idle persons, young and old, who find the warmth from the steam radiators more congenial to their backs than the friged temperature on the street corners. From merely standing around and filling up space needed for the patrons of the office, some of these loafers have of late been in the habit of lighting offensively-odorous pipes that have not been purified for many a day, while others have seemed to enjoy the intense competition of expectoration upon the marble floor. While the vestibule of the post-office is a public resort for persons who come to deposit and receive mail matter, it is by no manner of means intended to be a rendezvous for idlers. It is the endeavor of the janitors to keep it free from obnoxious persons of all ages, but many such visitors seem to think that the government has provided it as a smoking room for evening loungers. We hope the police officers of the city will be directed to co-operate with the special officer of the building in abating this annoyance, which has of late increased in the evening hours between six and eight. The sooner that some of the habitual wall-flowers of the vestibule are gathered to the police station and punished for their improper conduct, the better can be enjoyed the rights of the public in the premises.

A NEEDED OUTLAY.

Congressman Boutelle of Maine, who is the New England representative on the naval committee, is reported as saying in a recent speech that the republicans will not follow the example of their democratic predecessors and make factious opposition to the allowance of needed appropriations for naval expenditures.

We will here remind the gallant captain that the floating dry-dock at the navy yard in his state is sadly in need of a most generous appropriation for extensive and long-deferred repairs. The navy department should put in the budget a goodly sum for this needed outlay. It will require to be looked after closely. The dock is valuable, as in case repairs are needed on any vessel coming to the yard, it is indispensable that the dock and its appurtenances should be in perfect order. It is many years since much repairing has been made upon the dock. The time has arrived when economy demands that the outlay should be made; we trust therefore that our friend from Maine, who is never backward in coming forward, will appreciate the wants of the naval station in his state, and see that the figures for this appropriation are properly inserted in the next bill which passes the house.

THE STEAM GONG.

The automatic sounding apparatus of the steam gong of the fire alarm was tested on Friday afternoon, several boxes being "pulled in." The gong hooted in good time with the North bell, and sounded quite loud.

Mr. Editor: The new steam whistle (?) for the alarm of the fire department, stationed at the Portsmouth Brewing Co.'s works, was being experimented with on Friday. The sound was very pleasant to the ear; instead of arousing any one, it would seem it would compose him to sleep; indeed, if ever heard at all by a fireman, it would have the effect of "Mother Goose's melody," "Lullaby baby, sing me to sleep."

The mercury was almost down to zero in several localities in this city on Friday morning, but did not quite reach it. The average was from two to four degrees above.

It is reported as quite likely that "Judge" Marcus P. Norton may not put in an appearance in this city on the day appointed for the hearing on his motions recently filed in the circuit court of the United States. The hearing,—if it comes to that,—will probably take place at Providence, R. I., on account of Judge Colt being unable to come so far east as this city at present.

It is stated that on the trial of the dog case before the police court recently, the defendant admitted that he threw the hatchet at the dog after he had rescued his own pet from the larger animal, and hence was adjudged guilty as charged. The decision not being appealed from, shows that the "learned counsel for the defence" acquiesces in this view of the situation.

The fishing schooner E. A. Williams, Martin master, sprung a leak about two o'clock last Thursday afternoon, when five miles off Boar's Head, Hampton. The Abby A. Snow was signalled, and laid by the distressed vessel until she arrived at this port, when she was run on the flats at Four Tree island, where she remained on Friday. The Abby A. Snow brought in 10,000 lbs. of steak cod on Friday, and sold the fare at $2 per hundred lbs.

A large number of fishermen came in on Friday, all having an Arctic look, being heavily iced up around the bows—so much so in some cases as to very perceptibly alter the trim and the working of the vessels.

Rev. A. C. Manson of Suncook, one of the most prominent men in the Methodist conference, is dead. The reverend gentleman was for several years a resident of this city, and was greatly respected.

The wheeling on the suburban roads was reported on Friday to be atrocious, the mud having frozen in wheelruts from one side to the other of the highways.

A class in "mental healing" has been organized at No. 35 Middle street, and persons wishing to join should apply between now and Tuesday next.

"Dolly," the roller-skating horse, had a large audience at the Casino on Thursday evening last.

Read what the people say concerning the ability of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to cure asthma, catarrh, croup, colds, etc. Mrs. Dora Koch of Buffalo, says: "For croup it is decidedly efficacious." [Mrs. Jacob Mellnor of Marion, Ohio, says the same thing.] S. S. Graves, Akron, N. Y., writes: "Had asthma of the worst kind, took one dose of Thomas' Eclectric Oil and was relieved in a few minutes. Would walk five miles for this medicine and pay $1 a bottle for it." Druggist C. R. Hall, Cheyenne, Ills., says: "Cured an ulcerated throat for me in twenty-four hours." "Sat up in bed and coughed till the clothing was wet with perspiration. My wife insisted that I use Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful RELIEVED me." E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N. Y., Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tried Tonic external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug trade, he will speak highly of it.

Foreign Life at Washington.

It is a curious thing that the capital of the United States should be more like a foreign city than any other town in this country. It is a great place for people who have lived in Europe for a great many years to set up their households. It is a kind of brake which gently lets them down from the intoxication of European life to the dead level of an American commercial city. This class of returned tourists make up much of the winter population of Washington—and being as a rule both rich and idle, they add much to its charm. Nowhere on this continent is there so much leisure as in Washington. Everything like work begins at 9 o'clock and ends at 4. Then, unlike other great cities, the workers do not have to traverse the whole length and breadth of the town to get to their homes. The public workshops are all central—it is not far from man's work to his home. The shorter hours of work which prevail in foreign cities are a continual marvel to the American. The idea of a man of business making his first appearance at his office at 10 o'clock in the morning, then taking a big slice off at noon—just the most valuable part of the working day—and then quitting about the time the American gets fairly warmed up to his work, is certainly very surprising. But it becomes still more so when he goes to Washington and finds that after 4 o'clock all the town is at leisure. It is true that the higher officials have longer working hours and the cabinet officers are driven to death if they mind their business, but the average worker does his eight hours' work, and then leaves off, with two hours of daylight before him even in winter.

Then for that fraction of the world known as "society," the hours are fixed and invariable, and this, too, conduces to the economy of time. One is in no danger of having a whole day, from noon to twilight, monopolized by a string of inconsequential visitors. Nobody visits before 2, and nobody versed in Washington society before 3, and at 5:30 it is all over. All official houses and nearly all private ones have a day for receiving, so that each individual has six days in which to labor and do all that he or she has to do. It is a wonderful little city, well-ordered life charms people to Washington, and, getting them there, keeps them.

Barroom Furniture.

A Mail and Express reporter dropped into a big warehouse on Canal street the other day, where bar fixtures are the principal articles of merchandise for sale. Costly mirrors and elegantly carved woodwork ornamented the side walls, while bars made of solid mahogany were ranged along the aisles.

"Business is good" said the proprietor. "Every liquor-dealer who can afford it is getting rid of the old and snabby styles of bar fixtures and adopting the new and showy furniture which we make in a dozen different designs. There has been a radical change in the last five years. Why? Well, people who drink have become fastidious. The barroom with plate-glass mirrors and frescoed ceiling coins money, while the old-fashioned store with the sawdust floor and plain bar fails to attract trade. Years ago a pine board, a cracked glass, and a black bottle were good enough. Now drinkers demand and insist on the best of treatment. Everything about a modern saloon is supposed to be scrupulously clean. The glass service must be delicate as air and shining from renewed polish. The barkeeper's linen must be immaculate, and he must be thoroughly posted in his business. The old-time business of slamming a greasy glass on the bar and placing a tumbler of muddy water beside it as an accompaniment is a thing of the past. The public won't have it."

"What does the new style of bar cost?"

"From $700 up to $10,000. This includes simply the bar and fixtures.

Then costly pictures and bric-a-brac may cost $5,000 more. The average cost is $2,500. Each dealer tries to eclipse his neighbor, and the man who has the finest place attracts the greatest custom."

"Are the fixtures paid for when put in?"

"O, no. We take a mortgage and we are satisfied to get 25 per cent down and 5 per cent a month afterward until the debt is paid. Other cities are about the same as New York. It is a craze, and while it lasts will put money in the pockets of the cabinetmakers."—New York Mail and Express.

Pagan Myo, on the bank of the Irrawaddy, just above Minla, and now in possession of the British troops, is the ancient capital of Burmah and its temple. It extends for two miles along the river and is choked with jungle. Its pagodas are almost countless, and one of them ranks next to the famous Taj Manal. The neighboring hills are dotted with ruined pagodas razed by the hill tribes (who are not Buddhists) for the sake of the gold and silver images of Gautama buried beneath each when it was founded.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codisaw

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjudged?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attract the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed or sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates or vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

THE THEATRE.

Those of our theatre-goers who have viewed with distrust the announcement of the cheap prices of admission offered by the Park Theatre company, need have no fears as to the abilities of the ladies and gentlemen comprising the company to perform the work they have assumed, in a satisfactory manner. Last evening the romantic drama from Wilkie Collins' "New Magdalen" was given at Music hall, to an audience much larger than at any of their previous performances. The Mary Merrick of Miss Helene Adell was of surpassing excellence as a piece of finished dramatic work, and as a creation ranked beyond the efforts of Ada Cavendish in the same role.

As to Miss Lascelles' rendition of Lady Janet Roy, the real abilities displayed by this lady were of such surprising superiority, even over her previous clever efforts here, that an abundance of praise is what she was entitled to and what she received. Last evening she demonstrated that she possesses great genius as well as abilities of no small dimensions. Misses Eld and Gilbert were not undeserving of the commendation they received, and the rest of the characters were ably cared for.

The Park Theatre company is well worth the patronage of the most precise and exacting habitues of the drama. The efforts of the company are meritorious, and their costumes elegant. Crowded houses should reward them during the remainder of their engagement here.—Pawtucket (R. I.) Times, Jan. 7th.

The company so highly spoken of above is the one that will appear in Music hall this evening; see advertisement.

MARITIME NOTES.

Two men from the fishing schooner Arizona, of Gloucester, while out in a dory on Friday night last lost the vessel, and after a somewhat unpleasant cruise landed on Rye beach. What they were doing away from their vessel at night is not stated.

It is reported that the steamer Katahdin, when making for this port Saturday afternoon, sighted off the Shoals a three-masted schooner very low in the water, and flying a signal of distress; but being herself in a sinking condition she was unable to render any assistance.

About 85,000 lbs. of fish arrived at Commercial wharf on Saturday, for which $2.50 per hundred was paid. On Sunday Elvin Newton & Co. forwarded forty-five boxes of fish, and Jameson twenty-five boxes. It is expected that fish will now be scarce for some time, many of the nets having been much torn and trawls carried away by the late storm.

The tug Knickerbocker arrived at Rockport, Mass., from Bath, Me., last week, with two automatic scows. They left the mouth of the Kennebec on Sunday morning, the 3d inst., but were obliged to put in at Portland and this port on account of head wind. These scows will greatly facilitate the work on the breakwater for the Rockport harbor of refuge.

The schooner B. Frank Nealley, Oliver master, belonging to the Dover Navigation Co.'s fleet, and which arrived at Demerara, South America, Dec. 15th, made the trip out from New York in twenty-one days, although the weather was very rough. From Demerara she will proceed to Tampico to take in a return cargo.

Serious Charges.

The World, stalwart democratic organ of New York, last week made some very serious charges against the democratic board of aldermen of New York city. It claims that in ten years the city has been robbed of over $33,000,000 due it from the horse railroads in refusing to sanction the Broadway road. It says:

"There is practically no doubt that the board of aldermen gave away the Broadway railway franchise for a bribe of about $500,000. By that monumental act of corruption, the city has lost a steady increase of $2,000,000 a year. Doubtless bribery has procured the franchise of other horse railroads of the city, and the tax payers have lost an income of over $8,000,000 a year in the past. Counting five persons to a household, and 300,000 households in the city, each household pays an average of $109 a year of the $32,855,528.84 of taxes. If the municipal treasury received $8,000,000 a year due to it in equity from the horse railroads, it would on an average relieve each household of over $16 a year."

Some of the public schools omitted their session on Saturday; all of them should have done so.

A company had been advertised to play "The Drunkard" in Music hall on Saturday evening, but failed to appear; possibly they were snowed-in somewhere, or else thought the weather unfit for playing the drunkard.

There was a considerable discharge of men from the Jones brewery on Saturday evening.

The Dover Democrat of Jan. 8th had the following: "Charles L. Spinney, of Chicago, formerly of Portsmouth, who has hosts of friends in this city, came here from Chicago yesterday, and met by appointment Miss Lizzie V. Edson of Sanford, Me., and they were married by Rev. Mr. Vail, the pastor of the Pierce Memorial church. They left for their future home on the shores of Lake Michigan, per 4:25 train. Mr. Spinney and his young bride have the best wishes of an extensive circle of acquaintances in this city."

The grand jury of York county found no indictment against Undertaker O'Connor, of Biddeford, who was charged with frauds in connection with a burial.

At Newburyport, early Friday morning, two boats with clammers started down to the flats near the mouth of the river, and the boats soon became frozen in by the ice, which was making rapidly. As fast as a space was cleared more ice would make about them. After hours of hard work they managed to reach an island near by, and began to work around toward home. Meanwhile a rescuing party was made up, and with difficulty reached them and brought the clammers to the wharf just before dark. The rescued men had been out fourteen hours, fighting for life in the ice, several times, narrowly escaping being carried out to sea.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 123 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Landon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

A blizzard raged on the 7th and 8th inst., throughout Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Dakota and Minnesota, and is declared to have been of wider extent and more fierce in character than has been known before in years. Railroad travel was almost wholly suspended.

"That was a swell affair of Smith's," said one man to another on the street cars. "What was it?" was the answer. "A ball," said the joker. The swelling could soon have been reduced by St. Jacobs Oil.

The storm of Friday and Saturday extended over a large part of the United States; there was freezing weather at New Orleans and all along the Gulf coast.

The Hilton-Sanborn case is being made prominent again by the presentation of their respective wills for probate. The strange double lives which these two beings lived as philanthropists in Kingston, N. H., and traffickers in humanity in Boston, surround this case with a chain of odd circumstances which attach to it a peculiar interest. Their combined property amounted to over two hundred thousand dollars. The will of Julia A. Hilton, who was a native of Wells, and died several years ago, was presented for probate Jan. 6th in Saco, and with the exception of a few thousand dollars to her immediate family, her property was turned over to Sanborn. His will, which has also been presented for probate, in Exeter, N. H., donates both her property and his own to that object of unique philanthropy, the Sanborn seminary in Kingston. His will is being contested by Dartmouth college, to which Sanborn's original will made a large bequest. Whether Julia Hilton's will is to be contested does not yet appear, but the prospect now is that not only will the bulk of this great property go to the lawyers, but the wicked means by which it was accumulated will be pretty thoroughly exposed. —Biddeford Journal.

A Great Victory

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

SATURDAY'S STORM.

The most severe snow storm of the season, up to the present time, prevailed on Friday night and Saturday, coming somewhat unexpectedly in this region, as nearly up to midnight on Friday the stars were shining brightly, while at daylight on Saturday morning a considerable body of snow was on the ground, or being whirled through the air and piled in fantastic drifts by a howling gale. The thermometer at five o'clock was down to zero, and the barometer fell rapidly, at about nine o'clock being down to 29.07 inches, a fall of nearly an inch in about seven hours.

The adjourned meetings of the holders of stock and bonds of the Eastern railroad were held in Boston on Saturday, and a special "stockholders' train" left this city at 7:30 A. M. Ordinarily this train is packed with lady "stockholders" —stockholders for that day only—but on this occasion it contained twenty-three women and two men! The storm no doubt saved at least two hundred Portsmouth ladies from buying, because it was "cheap," a lot of stuff they had no possible use for.

The trains from the eastward arrived in this city nearly on time, but those from Boston were delayed; the mail train due here at 9:45 did not arrive until nearly one o'clock, and the train that followed it was also much behind time. The "stockholders'" train from this city arrived in Boston shortly after ten o'clock in the forenoon, and the afternoon trains from all quarters were very nearly on time.

No serious damage is reported as having been caused among the many vessels in the lower harbor. A small fishing schooner was on the beach at Newcastle, Friday night, but came off without damage.

This storm, in its unexpected suddenness, its violence and the low temperature prevailing, recalls to memory the famous "smelt storm" of Thursday, Jan. 17th, 1867, though that was far the more severe of the two, and the fall of snow much greater. On that occasion a concert advertised to take place at the Temple was postponed, and "a private party which was to dedicate the elegant new dining hall at the Rockingham house was deferred on account of the non-arrival of the music (Gilmore's band) from Boston." The railroad trains between this city and Boston were much delayed; the train which left Boston at 7:30 A. M. on the 18th, with four engines, was seven hours in reaching this city. Mayor Dearborn ordered out all the supernumerary night watch, as well as all the regulars, on the night of the 17th, and sixteen persons were rescued from perilous situations during the night.

HO! YE THAT THIRSTETH.

"What time are you going to open your bar?" inquired a thirsty seeker for a cocktail on Sunday, just as the morning church bells were about ringing.

"Open!" replied the keeper; "I've been open all the morning, and I am going home and get a little breakfast; will be back shortly."

The seeker after his Sunday nip patiently waited until the return of the dispenser of fluids, who, in spite of the ordinance in such case provided continued to furnish the required entertainment.

A ROUGH EXPERIENCE.

The steamer Katahdin, Holman master, of the Boston & Bangor steamboat line, arrived at Sise's wharf at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning in a disabled condition and with 3 1-2 feet of water in her hold, having been at anchor in the lower harbor the previous night.

The Katahdin left Rockland, Me., at half-past five o'clock Friday evening with thirty-five passengers for Boston, and arrived off Boon island about half-past one o'clock Saturday morning. By that time the wind was blowing a furious gale from the northeast, and the sea was running so high that it was impossible for her to keep on without foundering, so she was headed east by south half south, and kept on that course until ten o'clock in the forenoon, when she bore up for this port, arriving at anchorage in the lower harbor a few minutes past six o'clock in the evening, to the great joy and somewhat to the surprise of all on board, who had for a time supposed themselves to be making their last trip.

As the steamer lay at the wharf on Sunday she was visited by hundreds of people, and gave them a good idea of what the sea can do when it gets in its work on a vessel. Her bulwarks on the starboard side, forward of the paddle-box, are almost wholly gone, having been carried out by a sea which went in through and over the port bulwarks; her port paddle-box is shattered and the sponsons started, and the light work generally damaged. Her deck load of apples, potatoes, lobsters, etc., was thrown overboard during the gale; and her coal having become exhausted, or so covered with water that it could not be reached, steam was afterward kept up by burning spool-wood, tallow and other freight, and the woodwork of the steamer.

The Katahdin was built twenty-three years ago, but was recently put in good repair, this being her first trip since. Among other things done to her, two new "hog frames" were put in, without which she no doubt would have foundered. As it was, the escape was quite as narrow as those on board cared for.

Mr. Littlefield, agent of the steamer, left the boat in Rockland this trip, and passed through this city about eight o'clock Saturday evening on the Flying Yankee train, arriving at his home in Dorchester, Mass., between ten and eleven o'clock. Five minutes after retiring he was aroused by a telephone message that the boat was in Portsmouth lower harbor, in distress; making the best of his way into Boston he procured permission to come down on the Globe train Sunday morning, and when the steamer arrived at the wharf the agent was waiting there to receive her.

The passengers and luggage—that is, what of the latter was not lost—were forwarded to Boston by the Sunday afternoon train. The steamer took in twenty-five tons of coal during the day, and her own engine was kept at work pumping out the water, assisted during the afternoon by a steam fire engine; the water was rapidly gained on, and it was not thought the hull was much damaged below the water line.

Annual Meeting.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Granite State Fire Insurance Company will be held at its office in Portsmouth, on Wednesday, January 27th, 1886, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the choice of Directors; to see what action the Stockholders will take in regard to amending the By-Laws; and to transact any other business that may legally come before them.

PORTSMOUTH, January 9th, 1886.

A. F. HOWARD, Secretary.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD MEETINGS.

The adjourned meetings of the certificate-holders of the Eastern railroad was held in Boston on the 9th inst. The trustees were absent. A committee reported that at the meeting in December the whole number of votes cast was 14,600, of which 685 were cast by the trustees of the Eastern railroad on certificates belonging to the sinking fund, and 483 were cast by Wm. P. Blake on a proxy for Harvard college, which was signed by President Eliot for the president and fellows. These 1168 votes should be rejected as having been illegally cast, for the reason that the trustees had no authority to vote on said votes, and Mr. Blake had no authority to vote on the proxy of Harvard college, which was not signed by the treasurer. This would leave the whole number of votes 13,432, which were cast as follows: Richard Olney, 13,432; Samuel C. Lawrence, 7194; N. J. Bradlee, 7194; George C. Lord, 7184; Frank Jones, 7057; Arthur Sewall, 6924; Jacob C. Rogers, 6238; Charles J. Morrill, 6518; E. W. Hooper, 6228; George E. B. Jackson, 6389; John Cummings, 6238. The report was accepted and adopted, and the first six names declared elected. A vote censuring Willard B. Phillips for his rulings as chairman of the December meeting, and calling upon him to resign his trusteeship, was passed.

The stockholders' meeting, adjourned from Dec. 9th, was again adjourned to March 31st.

This is "remnant week" at L. E. Staples' store; the attention of the ladies is invited to his advertisement.

An alarming report prevailed in this city on Saturday, that a great fire was raging in Boston, and aid had been urgently called for from other cities. The fire which caused the rumor was a $1200 blaze in a machine shop on Charlestown street.

This is the kind of weather when the ladies find the value of the Common-Sense jacket for out-of-doors wear. Ayers & Locke, L. E. Staples and Geo. B. French have this garment on sale, in all sizes.

I butcher a man or two every day.
Save when I'm ill and my mood is mild,
When I play a woman, or else a child;
My claws are like those of the beasts I own,
And Burmah's my jungle, I range alone;
I'm a solitary cobra on a rocking throne,
I'm a tawny brute with a taste for blood
And a great contempt for the threatening Lud
Let him come who an troops; I will eat them
Raw!
I'm hungry and dry, I'm Old Theebaw,
Of Burmah;
With delirium tremens I'm sufferin'!

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranches and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and by all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with FLESH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $40,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

Cure of Pleurisy.

No. 90 Main Street, Gloucester, Mass., April 16, 1885.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have been used in our family for the last three or four years with very beneficial results. Previous to that time I had been subject to attacks of a severe pain in my left side. Hot cloths and liniments afforded temporary relief, but after a while the pain always returned. In the fall of 1880, after a very severe attack, I was advised by a friend to try an Allcock's Porous Plaster on my side, which greatly benefitted me. After that I tried several kinds of plasters to see which was best, and finally decided that Allcock's suited my case the best. I have worn them constantly on my side ever since, and have never been troubled with the pain, except when I left them off for a few days. We always keep a supply in the house, and whenever a pain seizes any of us, in any part of the body, we just apply an Allcock's Plaster, and can most heartily recommend them.

Of the fifty-two chairmanships of the House committees, the states which were in rebellion get twenty-four; Kentucky, Missouri and West Virginia, nine; Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, twelve; and the remaining eighteen states, seven! As Henry O. Kent remarked in his Jackson speech at the Parker house, "No South shall be remembered now,—no East, no West, but all one country." But Kent was not then speaking of making up committees; he was extolling democracy in the abstract.

The Parent of Insomnia.

The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathise. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve entrepot, the brain. Invigorate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great centre. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The Bitters, on the contrary, restore activity to the operation of that all important organ, and their beneficent influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use.

FAIR HANDS AT THE EASEL.

Amateur Painting in Oil the Present Craze Among Young Ladies—How to Paint Flowers.

The craze just now among young ladies is for painting," said a society man to a reporter for the New York Mail and Express. "All the art schools are full to overflowing with pupils, and young ladies who are unable to attend them are either taking private lessons or endeavoring to become accomplished in this line of work through the medium of books of instruction and patient, industrious practice at home. The art department of the Cooper Institute never was so crowded as now, and a vacancy there does not look probable for from two to three years to come. In a large number of the schools, so great has become the interest in the art, professional artists are taking part as instructors. The regular technical schools connected with the Metropolitan Museum and the Academy of Design have both become of increased importance, and attract large attendance," said the representative of a large Fulton street firm dealing in art materials to the reporter.

"The craze is particularly noticeable for painting in oil on brass, silk, velvet, plush, china, tapestry, etc. A set of artist's materials in oil costs from $6 to $10, and, while the work is so decidedly the fashion, a great many young ladies earn considerable pinmoney by what they paint, selling their work to dealers in fancy articles. Lustra-painting is just now quite the thing. Lately we have sold one thousand sets of lustra paints, and the demand for them is increasing every day. The designs chiefly painted are flowers, fruit, and birds, and they are especially satisfactory on velvet or plush. The lustra colors are not regular paints, but are metallic colors, and on velvet or satin they give a very brilliant effect—more so than tube paints. A set costs $3.50. It is quite the fashion to point with them on portieres. Only yesterday a lady was in here with a pair of portieres which she had painted that were worth fully $75. The rage is especially for decorating room ornaments, such as plaques, vases, and Limoges ware, the latter of which, when painted in oil, has the full effect of the imported ware, and at one-third the cost. A new thing in this line are reliefs of models. They are made in France, of white card-board, and include heads, figures, flowers, and in fact every design for the student in modeling. Their advantage lies in the small expense, saving the buying of casts, and that they do not break.

"Would you give me some points on amateur painting in oil?"

"Certainly. All that the beginner needs are a few colors of tube paint, several brushes, a palette, palette-knife, an easel, a little linseed oil and turpentine, a rest stick, and some canvas, and a few pieces of silk and satin. For painting flowers you want about a dozen colors. These ought to be silver white, ivory black, rose madder or madder lake, vermilion, Naples yellow, yellow ochre, cinnabar, green in both light and medium, cobalt burnt sienna, italian pink, and bitumen. The best authorities advise beginners to paint flowers, from nature if possible, at first a simple flower or spray. A mode of getting the ground-work often used is to stamp the flowers or figures in outline on the material from paper prepared especially for the purpose. Henri Clarise, who has written a good deal on the subject of learning to paint without a teacher, says on this subject: "Study your shadows carefully, shutting one eye and squinting at your subject, as it were. Some artists always paint in the principal shadows first with a neutral gray made very thin with oil. Gray is made by mixing red, blue, and yellow, or ivory black and white, with a little blue. One will have to experiment considerably at first in making grays, both for shadows and backgrounds. Perhaps for a beginner it would be better to buy the neutral grays all ready prepared, though they are apt to be cold, that is, to have rather too much blue in them. When the shadows have been painted in take a flat sable brush and take the general tones of the flowers, and paint from the center of the flower to the edge of the petal, generally putting on the strokes firmly and not working over. Some of the paints will not need oil, others you will find quite sticky, and you will have to thin them from time to time by dipping your brush in the oil-cup. If you wish to mix colors, do so on your palette with your palette-knife. The high lights are generally put on last, and be very sparing of them; they are to be mixed with white and put on much thicker. If you have a flower picture to copy, be sure it is a good one. Sketch it in lightly; it is easier to begin in the centre of the picture, also in the centre of the flower, and in drawing a leaf of the centre line or middle rib is drawn first the rest will come easier.'"

The magnitude of the Escurial, the great Spanish palace, may be inferred from the computation of Francisco de los Santos that it would take four days to go through all the rooms and apartments, the length of the way being reckoned at thirty-three Spanish leagues, which is about 120 English miles. There are 14,000 doors and 11,000 windows in the edifice.

Free Trade and Sailors' Rights.

The boys of five and forty years ago, who went the rounds of the north end wharves, used to admire the sign at Marm Chase's sailor boarding house at the corner of Deer and Market streets, which swung with a full-rigged ship under easy sail, with the motto "Free Trade and Sailors' Rights" painted above its waving pennant. Just what the motto meant, the boys of that happy period of nautical existence in our goodly town did not know, or for all we wot, care, but there was the sign, and the "free" of it was perhaps thought to indicate the liberty to splice the main brace inside the ancient hostelry, if there remained a shot in the locker. The men who on town meeting days advocated free trade were known as the democrats; and their opponents, the whigs, who favored a protective tariff, contended that they knew best what the country needed and for whom the majority of the people had great respect, but in New Hampshire were not inclined to cast their votes.

But times have changed. How we used to hear the high tariff whigs denounced by democratic orators who told us how the poor man was taxed that towns like Dover, Salmon Falls, Great Falls and South Berwick could send their cotton to our wharves and give a long-shoreman a job in the middle of winter.

Just now we note that two very able free trade lawyers in Massachusetts seem to have got on to the other tack. How things have veered round. The Jackson anniversary in Boston is celebrated by sorehead republicans who, place their democracy on file and swear to abide by it as long as the present administration lasts, while the independent element which guides and governs the democracy of Boston, listens to eulogies upon Jackson and the democracy, and sips its corn juice as if it had always been the genuine democracy. Judge Woodbury tells the collector of the port what civil service means, and that is, a division of the offices and that pretty blank quick; while Deering of Portland, a new recruit, defends Brown of Maine, who only assessed the office-holders for his legitimate travelling fees and board at the federal capital.

But the doctrine of free trade is having a bad set back from Richard Spofford and Chas. Levi Woodbury, who have been retained by the fishermen to make Secretary Bayard take back water on his views as to the admission of British caught fish to our markets free of duty.

The Delaware statesman perhaps believed (if not, he was convinced by the British minister) that what was sauce for the goose was sauce for fish. If Congress had an opinion in another direction, what of that?

Free trade in fish was just as democratic as free trade in figs. Shall the necessities of life be taxed if a democratic secretary can prevent? Not if he knows himself, and so it has come to pass that the secretary of state is found to have acted in such way as to virtually continue the operation of the fishery clauses of the treaty of Washington after Congress had abrogated them. Mr. Woodbury did not say anything about this in his speech. Oh, no; not he. But he felt, just the same, as if he would like to shake Mr. Bayard out of his seat in the cabinet, and with 30,000 fishermen behind him the Judge feels as if the Secretary was making a big blunder when he could have brought to the democratic net a monstrous haul of votes.

Here is an investment of $20,000,000 sought—say, we think that is too severe, so we will say thoughtlessly permitted—to be sacrificed for the democratic idea of free trade.

Mr. Bayard says, "In what school of democracy have men like Randall and Woodbury and Spofford been educated, who will make exceptions of the industries and interests entrusted to their care when the great principle of free trade is sought to be maintained?"

In this state of things up comes our neighbor from the banks of the Merrimack, and fires a gun at the state department. Mr. Spofford shows that Secretary Bayard has committed a colossal blunder, and there is no political writer on the staff of the administration organs who is capable of explaining the inconsistency of the secretary upon this point. In fact Richard does not hesitate to demonstrate that Bayard's secret arrangement was made at the direct instance of the British minister and the Canadian and Newfoundland authorities, due care being taken to keep our fishermen profoundly ignorant of the transaction until it was consummated.

"Here's a pretty how do you do." A democrat of such undoubted orthodoxy as is Spofford showing up the premier of the Cleveland administration, contending that he has allowed his clients on the Cape to shift for themselves, that the administration has exceeded its constitutional rights in nullifying the action of Congress, giving away our maritime rights, guaranteeing immunity for their violation by foreigners; and while Congress has abrogated the clauses, Mr. Bayard had continued them in force without warrant of law. Richard's indictment is broad as well as precise. Mr. Bayard's plea can only be the democratic idea of free trade, while the fishermen of Massachusetts will continue to go out to sea with a diminished respect for the wisdom of the present administration.

The Great Storm.

Not for many years has a storm been so generally disastrous to shipping all along the coast as was that of Friday and Saturday.

The schooner Juliet went to pieces at the entrance of Boston harbor; three men were lost and three saved. The Millie Trim was wrecked at Hull; captain saved, four seamen drowned.

Schooner Mary G. Farr was wrecked on the Jersey coast; all hands lost.

Eight vessels were driven ashore at Truro and Provincetown, and some of them destroyed, including schooner Lookout, 508 tons.

Many other disasters are reported, and a large number of vessels are missing.

By a collision of engines in a railroad yard in Philadelphia during the blinding snow of Saturday, three men were killed and five others severely injured.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or

is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only

Price $1; Six bottles, $5.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

The "pool," as the patch of deep water on the southern side of the second Newcastle bridge is called, is completely frozen over. There is no open water now between the Newcastle bridge and little harbor.

January is named after Janus, the double faced. In the matter of weather it is proving very true to its name.

Mr. Fred Newton, at his store on Liberty bridge, is trying out daily, during the abundance of fish, 200 gallons of cod liver oil. The livers which he uses are taken from the fish as soon as they are landed, and the manufacture of the oil is open to public inspection.

Ben Butler has done a great good in the Tewksbury Almshouse, but his work will not be complete till he orders a good supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the people's remedy.

Dennis McGowan, the proprietor of a restaurant in Philadelphia, and his three brothers, George, John and Charles, all residents of Philadelphia, have received news from Australia that by the death of their brother Patrick in New South Wales they have become heirs to a fortune running up into the millions.

A Boston paper says that it knows of a man who has the rheumatism, which has treated him in the most cruel manner; and yet there is no end of the things that man has tried for that rheumatism. If he would be selfish for once and give it a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, he would never be troubled with rheumatism again.

Considerable alarm is felt in London as to the safety of General Pendergast and his forces in Burmah. It is feared that he and his troops may be surrounded and captured by the rebels.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879, I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the numerous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

THE THEATRE.

"A Night in Rome" was played to a large and appreciative audience on Monday evening by the Park Theatre Company. The low price of seats no doubt partly accounted for the large attendance at this, the company's first performance here, but the general excellence of the company,—the merits of the acting, the fine stage setting and the elegant costuming of the opening night's play will insure full audiences during the rest of their engagement, irrespective of the inducement of low prices. The character of Eugenia de Mornay is one requiring a high order of histrionic ability, and Miss Helene Adell was equal to its requirements; and Miss Sara Lascelles as Dora Vernon, and Mr. O. W. Eagle as Sir Basil Wynne, very satisfactory. The other characters were also well taken.

This evening this really fine company will produce a dramatization of Ouida's celebrated novel, "Moths," and persons who wish to see a real "75-cent play for 10 cents,"—for 30 cents with reserved seat, may attend to-night with perfect confidence. It is the best ten-cent show yet visiting here, to judge from the initial performance.

THAT DOG CASE.

Mr. Editor: The Times, of Saturday evening, in continuing the Hill dog controversy, says that its critisism of the case has called the whole newspaper force of the city and the agent of the S. P. C. A. to the defense of the action of the court. Well, that places the Times in a decided minority, and ought to teach him the folly of inconsiderate attacks upon abler and wiser men. He was too flush of ill-digested opionions, and too precipitate in uttering them. If like the boy in the story, he had kept still and had "nothing to say," he would have made his wisdom more conspicuous.

Mr. Hill was not adjudged guilty of throwing the hatchet at the dog, but was found guilty of beating the dog in an unnecessarily cruel manner with a hatchet. Throwing the hatchet after the maimed and bleeding creature after the dogs were separated was a cruel and malicious aggravation of the indictable offence, that afforded additional justification of the sentance imposed by the court, especially as one of the witnesses testified that the hatchet did hit and give additional injury to the fleeing dog. M.

THE NEW ROCKINGHAM.

Mr. George F. Thompson having by reason of ill health resigned the general management of the hotels Rockingham and Wentworth, Mr. Jones has tendered the position to Mr. William K. Hill, who has accepted the same. Those who are acquainted with the ability of Mr. Hill as a caterer will be abundantly satisfied that Mr. Jones, with his customary sagacity in such matters, has made a good selection for manager. Mr. Hill on Monday resigned his position under Mr. George W. Armstrong, who while regretting to lose such a valuable aid as Mr. Hill has proved in the restaurants in this city and at Wolfeboro' Junction, yet is pleased to see this evidence of the appreciation of his friend as shown by his present promotion.

Mr. Hill assumes duty as manager of the Rockingham at once, and will bend his energies toward the opening of the house on the first of February. Every one in Portsmouth has a pride in the success of the Rockingham, nor is this commendable feeling by any means limited to our city, or even our state. From what we know of Mr. Hill's character, ability, good tact and adaptibility to the requirements of this position, we have every reason to believe that under his efficient management these widely celebrated establishments will maintain the deservedly high repute they have enjoyed in years past.

THE "NO SCHOOL" SIGNAL.

The superintendent of the fire alarm has received notice from the school committee to give the signal "no school" upon the bell and whistle on such stormy days as they may deem it inexpedient to hold sessions. The signal will be two blasts, followed by a pause of fifteen seconds, and three repeats—eight blows in all, thus: 11——11——11——11. This signal, when given at eight o'clock A. M., will mean "no forenoon session;" at 11:30 o'clock, "no afternoon session." The signals will be sounded exactly on the hours specified, and at no other times.

NOTICE--I. O. O. F.

The annual meeting of the Rockingham Odd Fellows' Mutual Relief Association will be held at Odd Fellows' Hall this (Tuesday) evening at half-past seven o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

PER ORDER.

RYE BEACH, Jan. 11th.

The terrific storm that swept over the country on Friday night and Saturday morning was felt here with great severity. It came suddenly and with little warning, for there were no indications at sunset Friday evening of such a tremendous gale. A "snow-bank" along the western horizon, of not more than usual density, was about all there was to indicate a change of weather. At eight o'clock the moon was scarcely obscured; at ten snow began to fall, and four hours later a "blizzard" of unexampled fury was howling with almost the force and velocity of a hurricane. On the coast the roar of the wind and sea was frightful, while the whole atmosphere was a seething mass of whirling snow and particles of ice. Probably out few who, in their comforiable homes, listened to the appalling roar of the tempest, realized that within rifle-shot of the shore lay the possibilities of a disaster similar to that of the "City of Columbus." When the storm broke sufficiently to look seaward a large steamer was seen anchored off the Farragut house, in comparatively shoal water, about a mile from shore, and considerably less than that distance from the dangerous sunken rocks bordering on and outside of Rye ledge. She was rolling and pitching violently over the tremendous "rollers" that swept shoreward, and must have had a very rough time of it. At this date (Monday morning), it is not known here what vessel it was that so narrowly escaped destruction, but it is thought to have been one of the Portland or St. John steamers. She probably met the storm somewhere between cape Ann and the Isles of Shoals, if she left Boston on time the previous afternoon. If so, she would most likely try to make Portsmouth harbor as the gale increased, but the blinding snow would shut out all the lights along the coast, and she undoubtedly lost her bearings, and like most coasting captains failed to make due allowance for the strong tide that sets into the bay in a heavy "northeaster." The "soundings" that a careful captain would make on such a night would disclose the perilous position of his ship, and with such a gale driving him rapidly upon an unknown lee shore, his only alternative was to anchor and try to ride out the storm. This would seem a reasonable theory, and will answer until a better one is advanced. As soon as the weather was clear enough to get the bearings, the steamer weighed anchor and steamed slowly to the eastward.

The Katahdin was lying at Sise's wharf on Monday, free of water, and with her hull apparently in good condition. Temporary repairs were being made to her upper works, the wreck of her cargo and bulkheads was being cleared away, and it was announced that she would start for Boston, wind and weather being favorable, this morning.

Mr. Charles W. McKenney, of Bar Mills, Me., was in this city on Monday taking orders for fish box shooks, and received orders for six carloads of them, to be delivered to Daniel Clark, Edward Jameson and Elvin Newton & Co. at Commercial wharf. Mr. McKenney has been in this business here for six years past, and has averaged to one firm 2,500 boxes per annum, each box containing when filled at least 500 lbs. of fish.

HOME-MADE FURNITURE.

For years there had stood in a kitchen I wot of, a couple of old wooden chairs. The legs had been sawed off at some remote period. They were such comfortable chairs, too, broad, well-sloped backs and wide rounded seats, slightly hollowed out. Between them stood an ancient wash-stand about twenty-two inches square, with a drawer six inches deep. There had once been a sort of a railing on two sides and an upright board at the back. But the railing had long since disappeared, so also had the board which, in its palmy days, was a shelf on which the pitcher reposed when the bowl was being used for the toilet. The owner of these articles was a woman who believed the best housekeeper was the one possessing the most utility. The neighbors were refurnishing their parlors. The state of her finances would not allow her to do so, yet new furniture she was determined to have if it was made from old. Those two chairs were covered with strong unbleached muslin and stuffed with good curled hair. Casters were put into the legs which also received two or three coats of asphaltum varnish. The best quality of nonpareil velveteen was purchased at a dollar and a quarter per yard. It was brocaded, not stamped, and it was used to cover the back on both sides. A roll at the top confined apparently by handsome tassels; the seat, and a scant plaiting below the seat, finished with very pretty, ball-fringe with some silk in it, which cost only twenty-five cents per yard. The handsome tassels were made from dress-fringe with a little chenille, to heighten the effect; half a yard of velveteen made the pillow roll. One chair was of myrtle green—the other a deep cardinal.

An old cane-seated low rocker was rearvarnished, and a little walnut stain put into the varnish concealed all scratches and saved the hard work of scraping the old varnish off. From the skirt of an old broadcloth Prince Albert coat, a good material was found to make the top of a cushion for the seat, and the covering for a slumber-roll. At a furnishing store there was found some lengthwise scraps of cardinal mommie cloth. A strip two inches wide was laid diagonally over the pieces of cloth designed for the cushion and roll, and button-holed securely down with shaded green single zephyr, and at intervals of two inches daisies were worked in point russe stitch in a light shade of zephyr. A dozen or so morning-glory shaped leaves were cut from some green velveteen and gracefully disposed on either side of the cardinal strip. Two or three flowers were cut from the cardinal cloth and grouped with the leaves. The leaves were button-holed down with the shaded green; the flowers, with shaded cardinal, with stamens of bright yellow split zephyr. Stems were put in where needed with lighter green. A puff of mommie cloth three inches deep finished the cushion, and the slumber-roll had the ends drawn together and finished with handsome tassels. Thus, at an expense not exceeding ten dollars, three pretty and useful chairs were added to the parlor. The wash-stand before mentioned, was furnished with a shelf and all traces of railing and back were obliterated. It then received a couple of coats of asphaltum varnish, and some drop-handles were put into the drawer. The top and shelf were covered with green felt, and around three sides of the drawer fringe was nailed with brass-headed nails. The shelf held a small jar, which was once used for pickles. It was of common crockery ware, varnished with asphaltum, and before the second coat was dry, a package of diamond dye—gold dust—was sprinkled over and slightly pressed in with the fingers, producing an effect resembling gold lacquer. A band of red velvet paper pasted diagonally upon the jar and held there by varnish. When the varnish was quite dry a border of gold paint, sixteenth of an inch wide was put above the red paper, and a row of large field daisies painted just above it, conventional daisies—without foliage. A brilliant-hued butterfly was poised above them. In the lower corner, right-hand side, there were three blue flags, with their sharp, stiff leaves. Another pretty stand of oval shape had a cover stretched over it tightly. A handsome design of leaves and flowers was appliqued on one side, and some deep ball-fringe tacked around. The expense for the two stands with decorated jar was only about two dollars. So for the sum of twelve dollars—the price of an ordinary wicker chair, the parlor was prettily furnished.—Good Housekeeping.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjudged?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect fac-simile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, WITH PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $40,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

Cure of Pleurisy.

No. 90 Main Street, Gloucester, Mass., April 16, 1885.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have been used in our family for the last three or four years with very beneficial results. Previous to that time I had been subject to attacks of a severe pain in my left side. Hot cloths and liniments afforded temporary relief, but after a while the pain always returned. In the fall of 1880, after a very severe attack, I was advised by a friend to try an Allcock's Porous Plaster on my side, which greatly benefitted me. After that I tried several kinds of plasters to see which was best, and finally decided that Allcock's suited my case the best. I have worn them constantly on my side ever since, and have never been troubled with the pain, except when I left them off for a few days. We always keep a supply in the house, and whenever a pain seizes any of us, in any part of the body, we just apply an Allcock's Plaster, and can most heartily recommend them.

Cure of Pleurisy.

No. 90 Main Street, Gloucester, Mass., April 16, 1885.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have been used in our family for the last three or four years with very beneficial results. Previous to that time I had been subject to attacks of a severe pain in my left side. Hot cloths and liniments afforded temporary relief, but after a while the pain always returned. In the fall of 1880, after a very severe attack, I was advised by a friend to try an Allcock's Porous Plaster on my side, which greatly benefitted me. After that I tried several kinds of plasters to see which was best, and finally decided that Allcock's suited my case the best. I have worn them constantly on my side ever since, and have never been troubled with the pain, except when I left them off for a few days. We always keep a supply in the house, and whenever a pain seizes any of us, in any part of the body, we just apply an Allcock's Plaster, and can most heartily recommend them.

THE ILLS OF FARM LIFE.

How They Could Be Relieved by Timely Recreation.

In an article on "Rural Recreations," in the magazine Outing, Mr. J. R. Dodge makes some telling points against the neglect of farmers to allow themselves and families suitable recreation to compensate the common wear and tear of rural life. The writer says:

There is hardship as well as privilege, drudgery as well as elevating labor. There is exposure to Summer's storm and Winter's cold; tramping in the mud of seed-time; toiling early and late to secure the harvest. The haymaking day has as many hours as that of the street-car driver. In northern districts the best part of the Summer is spent in making hay, and the Winter in feeding it, with little results in milk and meat. When ten pounds of milk make one of cheese, that sells for 7 cents, the exercise of lifting a mortgage is not a reassuring recreation. When a purchaser of Dakota railroad lands is offered but 60 cents per bushel for wheat at the station elevator, he sees no elevating prospects of meeting his deferred payments. Nor does the Eastern farmer find either poetry or profit in "picking rocks," or making stone wall. There is many an investment in rural improvement that promises but insignificant dividends in cash.

It is not strange, then, that we see farmers worn with weary labors, bent with rheumatism, wearing in their faces deep lines of care, and showing the need of recuperative influences. It has been said, upon an assumed foundation of statistics, that the proportion of the insane from the country is greater than from the city. If true, as it should not be, what can be the cause? The farm-worker who performs most of his labor by the muscles, with minimums use of the brain, unrelieved by sociality or sentiment, uses only one set of faculties, while the better side of his nature rusts with disuse. The isolation of the country thus becomes a greater solitude; with cares, apprehensions, and sometimes forebodings of pecuniary dependence, solitude deepens into melancholy, and insanity sometimes follows.

The mistress of the farm-house is often a greater drudge than the farmer. The routine of daily duty is more uniform and exacting; the confinement is more circumscribed, and naturally becomes more irksome. She is too often housekeeper, nurse, cook, governess, chambermaid, seamstress, dairy-woman, as well as the farmer's wife. Such a substitute for maid-of-all-work should be made of iron. The farmer is accustomed to hard work himself, though it is relieved by the ameliorations of pure air and free locomotion, and he fails to see the slavery to which his wife is doomed because his mother was just such a slave. His ideas come by inheritance, and are fortified by personal experience. He might relieve her by relegating the dairy to the factory, by labor-saving appliances, by hiring more help, sometimes by doing a little of this domestic drudgery himself; but he doesn't think of it, and, perhaps, don't like to have one jog his memory. Under these evils and hardships, saying nothing of trials of disposition and tribulations, is it a wonder that the farmer's wife is sometimes compelled to exchange her home of hardship for a hospital of mind diseases? These may be extreme cases, but they occur, and, were it not for wholesome influences of the country, would come to light with greater frequency.

The ills of isolation and the heavy weight of care are not the only causes of physical and mental strain and collapse in the experience of country life. There are avoidable unsanitary surroundings utterly out of keeping with the purity and healthfulness of natural rural conditions. The barn-yard may be too near the well; cesspools and surface drainage may aid the pollution by percolation; decaying vegetation in the cellar may fill the house with poisonous gases. The resisting power of high health may long withstand influences so injurious, until, some Summer, dysentery or typhoid fever may select for a victim the flower of the family, or carry off the hard-working mother, the guardian angel of the household.

In view of such facts, which have excited much attention without exerting a sufficient influence, the need of respite from strain of monotonous toil upon the farm must be apparent. Some form of vacation, short though it must be in Summer, is evidently necessary. Some temporary change, frequent yet radical, of the tone and tenor of ordinary routine, is essential to the highest results of the work and the highest health and happiness of the worker.

Kaffir Corn.

About eight years ago the Georgia State Agricultural Department received from Egypt a collection of African seeds, which were distributed among Georgia farmers. Included in the lot were seeds of the Kaffir corn, so called because it is the principal food of the Kaffirs of South Africa. A little of this has been cultivated every year by Dr. J. H. Walkins, of Campbell County, who found it to be excellent for forage. This year he planted an acre of it on the poorest land he had, which would not have yielded three bushels of wheat. Without any fertilizer, however, the Kaffir corn yielded thirteen bushels. He had some of it ground into flour and made into bread. The flour was fine and had a rich, creamy color. It was made into biscuit, egg-bread, and cakes, and in each form it proved delicious. Except in color, it was impossible to distinguish it from the finest Ohio Valley flour. Specimens of the bread and cake distributed at the Department of Agriculture excited surprise by their excellence. The cultivation of Kaffir corn is likely to become large in Georgia.

Mark Twain has a funny story about the different pieces of advice given him as to how to cure a cold. The best thing to recommend is, no doubt, Red Star Cough Cure—the remedy which since its recent discovery has cured so many thousands.

The market for cattle is somewhat easier, there being more large, heavy oxen upon the market. For such the highest rate noticed was 7¾c dressed weight against so last week. Several car load lots were sold to Boston butchers, and none taken from country dealers for the export trade.

Milch Cows—The demand rather moderate and prices remarkably steady.

The Sheep Call—Northern receipts were quite liberal and the market has declined, being at the range of two weeks ago. There were some very fine flocks, and the trade for them was active. The advance of last week was not expected to be held even by drovers themselves.

Fat Hogs—The lightest run noticed, at least for the past six months. Prices a shade easier than last quoted on best lots.

Live Poultry—Supply about 1500 lbs, at 8c ℔ lb.

this side of Boston, I would respectfully call your attention to the same, believing that in most cases it is better for persons about purchasing to see what they are buying then to buy of irresponsible agents with nice looking Photographs of Monumental work. Having a thorough knowledge of the business gained in the principal cities of the Union and still giving my personal attention, all will be satisfied who will give me a call, as to quality of work and prices.

"Sleep breathes at last from out thee, my little patient boy." Oh! yes, certainly. But that child would have cried all night with his foot, if it had not been for a timely bottle of Salvation Oil. Only twenty-five cents expended brought him rest.

The British steamer Hylton Castle, Colven master, from New York for Rouen, France, foundered fifteen miles off Fire island on the 11th inst. One boat, containing the mate and nine seamen, landed on Fire island; a second boat, with the captain and ten men, is missing.

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, but receiving no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. He immediately began to improve; in two months his rheumatism was all gone, and he sailed in command of his vessel a well man. Hood's Sarsaparilla will help you. Sold by all druggists.

Dorman B. Eaton was confirmed as civil service commissioner by the senate on the 11th inst., a number of republicans, including senators Sherman and Logan, voting against him.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

Representative Collins of Massachusetts has introduced in the house a bill appropriating $35,000 for a lighthouse and fog-signal on Deer island, Boston harbor.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed or sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates or vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

Samuel Levy has been nominated for Postmaster of Newburyport.

Gov. Hill's Set-back.

It is said that the democratic slate has upon it three candidates for the presidency in '88,—President Cleveland, who is to be presented as a reformer; Gov. Hill of New York, who is to be offered as an out-and-out democrat; and Secretary Whitney, who is to be proposed and backed up by the contracts, as the Captain of the Pinafore! Gov. Hill essayed a boom on the anniversary of the worship of Jackson last week, in New York city, but singular to relate, all the celebrities who had been invited to give eclat to the send-off, from Samuel J. Tilden down to Gen. Hancock, began to make excuses for their inability to be present. Hill's prospects suffered a partial political paralysis, the effect of which is to show that no one in the Empire state besides Hill is at all anxious just now to see the governor promoted.

Pardoned — For What?

Neil Williamson, a United States prisoner from Texas, who was sent to be penitentiary at Chester, Ill., under a life sentence, in December, 1881, as one of the celebrated Moody gang of stage robbers, has been released from the penitentiary on a pardon from the president, and went out Jan. 8th. His release was brought about by affidavit of Tom Wood and Al. Smith, who swore they committed the crime for which he was convicted.

We always wonder, when we read of some unjustly-convicted man being "pardoned," just how the document announcing the pardon is worded. The word pardon presupposes an offence, and to use it in the case of an innocent man on releasing him from undeserved imprisonment, is adding gross insult to the deepest injury. The law and the custom should be changed, so that a convict whose innocence was established would be declared innocent, instead of being sent out into the world with the stigma of a "pardon" fastened to his name.

The Wreck Record.

Schooner Crissie West was lost off Beaufort, N. C., one man only being saved out of a crew of eight.

Schooner Congress was wrecked off Osterville, Mass.; crew of six men rescued by dories, after many futile attempts.

A large three-master was sunk off Bass rocks, near Milk island.

Schooner White Foam went to pieces on Dogfish bar; crew of five men saved by volunteers from wrecking lighter Oak and tug Storm King.

Schooner Lavinia Thomas was wrecked at Cape Lookout, with the loss of part of her crew.

Schooner I. H. Higgins of Gloucester was wrecked at Lockport, N. S.

Schooner Allen Greene was wrecked near Point Judith; crew of seven saved by life-saving crew.

Four schooners were driven ashore at West Quoddy; one man lost.

Fishing schooner Alice M. Gould was wrecked at Jordan's point, Me.

Schooner Clio Chilcott, of Ellsworth, Me., went ashore near Watch Hill, R. I.; one man was drowned, the rest being saved by the life-saving crew, with the breeches buoy.

Schooner Sea Bird, of Ellsworth, Me., was wrecked on a shoal off Fresh Ponds, R. I.; crew of five men saved by D. H. Corwin, a farmer.

The severity of the weather this week has prevented the arrival of large fares of fish, the fishermen being glad to remain in port as far as possible. What fish have been brought in have sold at high prices.

Mr. E. Scott Owen, a well-known Portsmouth young man, for some years past travelling salesman for a Boston publishing house, leaves this city on the 20th inst. for Kansas City, Mo., to accept a lucrative position in the office of the Kansas City Investment Co., of which Willis G. Myers, Esq., of this city, is vice president. Mr. Myers will shortly go to Kansas City and other points in the western country, being away from Portsmouth about two months.—Penny Post.

CAPE NEDDICK, ME., Jan. 10th.

I see in the last Gazette that a correspondent writing from Ogunquit claims that the schooner Lillie, of Ogunquit, run by Capt. C. L. Perkins, beats the record of the Emily A. Staples every way, I claim that she does no such thing. According to the way the Lillie was sold when Capt. Perkins commenced to run her, she is valued the highest; and another thing, the Lillie went two or three trips before the Emily A. Staples started, and one after she hauled up. And one important omission the Ogunquit correspondent makes is, he fails to say what percentage the Lillie has paid. I claim that for the time she was running the Emily A. Staples has the best record.

JAMES S. BREWSTER.

Col. Wm. M. McArthur, of Limington, drew $50,000 in the Louisiana lottery on the 15th of December. He was a gallant soldier during the war, entering the service as a captain in the 8th Maine volunteers in 1861, and rising through the various grades to be colonel. He was twice brevetted brigadier-general "for gallant and meritorious services," and draws a pension of $30 a month for wounds in the left side and ankle received in battle. He is a graduate of Bowdoin college and a member of the York county bar, but has never practiced law to any extent, and is now a farmer.

—A Springfield, Mass., drummer sustains the "nervy" reputation of the fraternity. He was at Westfield one Sunday night without an overcoat, and, finding it pretty cold, borrowed an overcoat from a casual acquaintance. When he got to Springfield, he sent the coat back by express, charges to be paid by the party receiving it!

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Lashar, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Griggs, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

MARITIME NOTES.

Schooners Karen Happuch, Baker master, and Gulnare, Goodwin master, from York arrived at Boston on the 11th inst.

The steamer Katahdin remained at Sise's wharf throughout the day and night of Tuesday. Her temporary repairs were completed on Monday, and she was all ready for starting on the trip to Boston Tuesday morning, but the weather was not such as to suit the captain's fancy, he very properly considering that the boat had been batted around and iced up enough on the run from Rockland to this port, to last for one trip.

At a meeting of the directors of the Portsmouth Brewing Co., held on Tuesday, the head brewer, Mr. Mark A. Scott, was re-engaged in that capacity for a term of years, and the services of Mr. James P. Mahoney, of Manchester, were secured as assistant brewer for the same period of time.

The first social assembly of the Sons of Veterans, for this season, was held in Congress hall on Tuesday evening, and despite the intensely cold weather and the counter attraction at Music hall, was well attended; that it was well conducted and enjoyable need not be said.

The coffee to be served at the coffee party and dance of the Nonpareil Associates in Franklin hall this evening, will be made by Mr. Fred C. Forsaith, manager of the Webster house. The ball is intended to be the grand event of the season, the managers having spared neither pains nor expense in provide for the pleasure of the company, which from indications will be very large. The music will be fine, and the refreshments served in the best style.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

THE THEATRE.

The high expectations raised by the first performance of the Park Theatre Co., were more than fulfilled on Tuesday evening, when "Moths," a dramatization of Ouida's celebrated novel, was presented. The house was again filled, and the excellent acting was acknowledged by generous applause. We repeat what we before suggested, that the company is a superior one,—better than many of the high-priced troupes that have appeared here.

This evening "Our Boys" is the attraction, and there will be few vacant seats in the house.

Thursday evening the great society play, "Camille," will be produced; and on Friday evening the engagement will close with the beautiful drama "Colleen Bawn."

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

TUESDAY, Jan. 12th.

Two tramps who were going out of the city on Monday forenoon begged at the residence of County Commissioner Newton Johnston, and finding no men at home intimated that they intended to have what they wanted to eat whether it was given voluntarily or not. Afterwards the same fellows on Lafayette road stopped a gentleman named Rand, who lives in Rye, and while one held his horse by the head they demanded money and made some threats. Proceeding along the road they begged at houses, insulted women and bullied everybody. Their doings were reported at the police station, and Assistant Marshals Hurley and Peverly got a horse and sleigh and after quite a long search captured and handcuffed them near the Rye line, and brought them back to this city for examination.

The two aggressive bummers, who gave their names as John Garrison and John Henderan, were arraigned under the tramp law on Tuesday. Sheriff Kent says Henderson's real name is Flynn; that he belongs in Lawrence, Mass., and was in jail here in 1881 under the alias of John Keefe. He pleaded guilty to the charge of being a tramp; Garrison pleaded not guilty; both were bound over to appear at the April term of the supreme court, in the sum of $100 each, and went to jail in default of sureties. They stand an excellent chance to see the inside of the state-prison.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B.B.B.

Mrs. John Sherman.

The elevation of Mr. Sherman as presiding officer of the senate gives added dignity to the social position of his wife, writes the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Mrs. Sherman's modest, retiring nature is all that has prevented her from being a leading as well as guiding star in Washington society. She has been a resident of this city for thirty years, and as her husband has been a prominent politician for that period she has had a more enlarged and continuous experience than any other lady now occupying a similar social position. Mrs. Sherman is tall and well-formed. While not noted for great beauty, she has a face which never fades, never grows old. She has a gentle disposition and kindly nature, takes much interest in the welfare of others, has no enemies, no animosities. She has such refined impulses and delicacy of feeling that she really suffers when in debates in the senate her husband is severe upon his political opponents. She appreciates good qualities in democrats as fully as she does the same when found in republicans, and in her friendships draws no party lines. Recently, in a conversation, mention was made of a Marshall from Kentucky, and she at once asked if the lady was related to Humphrey Marshall. She then said she would like to call and see any member of his family who visited Washington, because she had such pleasant memories connected with him. She said that when she first came to Washington she and her husband boarded in the same house with Mr. Marshall, and that he frequently passed evenings with them and played chess, a game of which he was very fond. Then she added some comments upon the fact that many men who said severe things to each other in debate were warm personal friends outside of the legislative halls. She said that in the winter of 1860, when her husband was a candidate for speaker of the house, and was defeated by Pennington, of New Jersey, that Mr. Sherman made a very denunciatory speech against President Buchanan and his administration. Shortly afterward they were invited to dine at the White House. She said that she felt great reluctance to accept the invitation after the speech her husband had made, but he told her they could not refuse, and an acceptance was sent. She then related how Mr. Buchanan relieved her of all embarrassment by receiving both Mr. Sherman and herself with the courtliness and cordiality for which he was noted. After dinner, when adieus were being made, the president said to her, "Mrs. Sherman, I hope you have enjoyed the evening, and that I shall have the pleasure of seeing you often at the White House." He added: "Your husband and I are politically opposed to each other, but that should make no difference. I never let it interfere with friendships, and in proof of this I once loaned my only white vest to Henry Clay and went myself to Baron Bodisco's wedding in a black one, rather than have my great political opponent appear on that occasion in other than suitable attire."

Forgot Himself.

A well-known, in fact a prominent, citizen of Portland, now deceased, was twice married, and had a large family of children by each wife. A short time ago two of the children by the first wife went to the cemetery to visit their parents' graves. The first wife's children were named Oliver, John, Abbie and Anna, and John and Abbie were the two survivors who were making the visit. "There," said Abbie, pointing to the mounds, "are father's and mother's graves; Oliver's is on father's right, and Anna's on mother's left." The brother, pulling his mustache and trying to take it in, replied: "Father's, mother's, Oliver's and Anna's; yes, I see, but I thought there was a John." When he came to a sense of the situation he begged his sister not to give him away. How it was found out we have no idea.—Portland (Ore.) Press.

A Ghost Story About "H. H."

Spiritualists are interested in a curious little story, whose truth is vouched for by "leading women" of San Francisco, which is told of Helen Hunt Jackson. It seems that before her death a friend told her of a poor woman whose husband had left her with an infant child to care for, and Mrs. Jackson directed that some articles of her own wardrobe should be given to the object of their sympathy. The woman in her gratitude gave her little daughter Mrs. Jackson's name. After her death, the poor woman took up her child one day, and, calling it by name, said: "Oh, my little girl, the lady who was so good to you never saw your sweet face, and she never knew how I loved her." At that moment, the woman related, a hand was laid on her shoulder, motherly face bent over her and said: "I am not dead, I am here." The woman had never seen Mrs. Jackson, but she described her perfectly in feature, voice, and manner.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, that income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

The Parent of Insomnia.

The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathise. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve entrepot, the brain. Invigorate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great centre. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The Bitters, on the contrary, restore activity to the operation of that all important organ, and their beneficent influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use.

A report has been current in London that a German war vessel had seized the Samoan (Navigator's) islands. The German government denies any knowledge of such proceedings.

"100 Doses One Dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

That made your face so free and clear from pimples? said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One pill a dose. 25 cents.

At Dover, on the night of the 12th inst., Willie, the five-year-old son of Frank Follett, was picked up on the street and taken to the police station, where he said he had been kicked out of doors to shift for himself that forenoon by his stepmother. The boy was hungry and chilled, and said he had been shockingly treated.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only; very small; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging.

Three of the Japanese legation have visited the patent office to inspect its workings. One of them occupies a position in Japan similar to that of commissioner of patents here.

If you are tired taking the large, old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose.

Had pains in back, limbs and around the heart, she took two bottles of Athlophoros and was very much better right away."—W. E. MOULDEY, Lynn, N. H.

Neuralgia, though one of the most common and most painful of diseases, has baffled all medical skill, and until recently was considered incurable. The discovery of ATHLOPHOROS was one of the oldest since, if not quite incurable. Athlophoros STANDS and QUICKLY cures it. This statement, though strong, is warranted by the facts. Thousands have tested its value and recommend it as the ONLY remedy that brings relief. For ladies subject to neuralgia or nervous headaches it is indispensable. Athlophoros contains no opium, morphine, or other dangerous ingredient. It is absolutely harmless and universally successful in the prompt cure of this painful disease.

Any druggist will order Athlophoros. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

SNOBS, CADS, AND COCKNEYS.

The Wide Distinctions That Separate These Sorts of Persons.

"Snobs, cads, and cockneys," said an authority upon the subject, "are terms that, in this country especially, are often a good deal mixed and interchanged. The fact is they express three wholly distinct ideas. It may sound strange to you, but either a snob or a cockney may be a gentleman. A cad, of course, can never be a gentleman, inasmuch as in England, where the term had its origin, its meaning is something the very reverse of all we understand by the word 'gentleman.' I will begin with the snob.

"The story has been often told of three men who were traveling in a compartment of an English railroad carriage. The two more simply-dressed men were dukes, and were acquainted with each other. The most showily-dressed person was a commercial traveler, who soon got into conversation with the other two. At last the train stopped, and one of the nobleman got out. The manner in which he was received by the porters and others on the platform startled the commercial traveler, and, turning to his remaining companion, he hastily asked: 'Who is that gentleman?'

"'That,' was the reply, 'was the duke of——.'

"'Good Lord!' cried the astounded drummer, 'what extraordinary condescension on the part of his grace to be chatting away to a couple of little snobs like you and me!'

"Now, that man was not a snob at all, though he thought he was. He was only a cad. Had he been a snob, he would have seen no especial condescension in any duke chatting with him, and even had he felt a little proud of the exalted company he was in he would never have mentioned the fact to anybody else.

"A snob invariably has a very good opinion of himself, but he has this advantage, he does not take the trouble to point out in one way or another his merits to every one with whom he comes in contact, for he entertains no shadow of a doubt that they are as apparent to all comers as to himself. He dresses with a taste that may often be questioned, but he usually follows his own judgment, however faulty that may be, and when he goes the style adopted by some other person it is the garb he imitates, not the man who is in it. He is above the latter weakness, for he is not usually a flunkey. A story is told of a man who went to take a plunge in a large inclosed bath, but did not go in because he detected a dry salter in the water. He paid for his bath, and went out without saying a word about his reason for changing his mind. He did not wish to offend or annoy the dry salter; but neither did he want to bathe with him. He was not a cad, for a cad, had he decided upon the same course, would have taken care, quite regardless of the feelings of the dry salter, to boast of his reasons for not bathing, and have made them as public as possible. Snobs are often favorite members of the highest and most refined classes of society, for there is, as a rule, nothing cringing, or mean, or repulsive about them. They draw very rigid rules separating social ranks, and place themselves, honestly believing they are right, well up in the scale.

"The term 'cad' is not very well known in America. The person it is applied to, however, is a familiar object enough. He may be a very clever man, and a very just and honest man, for the blackguard is widely distinguished from the cad. But he is an utterly insupportable fellow. He never wearies of telling his companions what good company he keeps; now the nobility yearn for his society, and often yearn in vain. He knows well enough that he is a low-mannered and unattractive sort of fellow. When he actually drifts into the society where he professes to move he sinks at once into his proper position, and makes no attempt to stand on equality with those around him, though all that is forgotten when he speaks of the event to his friends on the following day. A corner loafer! Oh, no. The corner loafer is a blackguard, pure and simple, and much more dangerous than the cad, who, though a horrible bore, is comparatively harmless.

"Of course the cad must occasionally acknowledge that he has been beyond his depth, and this generally occurs when he is surprised—as in the case of the commercial traveler on the railroad train, who fancied that he was a snob, while he was something much worse.

"As for the cockney, he is very easily defined. Long ago the term was used to signify a person very delicately nurtured, but that meaning has passed away. 'The best sailors I have had,' said a sea captain to me one day, 'are cockneys, when they are once broken in to the work, but not one in a million wants to go to sea at all.'

"Cockney, like cad, is an almost exclusively London term. The cockney may belong to any grade of society, high, low, or middle, and in any part of the world a man of the loftiest standing, when questioned as to his nationality, will often say with pride: 'I am a cockney,' meaning that he is a Londoner, born and bred in the city, and thoroughly devoted to it. This being the meaning of the term, it may be and sometimes is applied to people of other cities. A gentleman in Paris once said to me: 'I am going back to New York next week; it is the only city in the world worth living in.' Certainly he was a New York cockney.—New York Sun.

Especially to Women.

"Sweet is revenge, especially to women," said the gifted but naughty, Lord Byron. Surely he was in bad humor when he wrote such words. But there are complaints that only women suffer, that are carrying numbers of them down to early graves. There is hope for those who suffer, no matter how sorely, or severely, in Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Safe in its action it is a blessing, especially to women, and to men, too, for when women suffer, the household is askew.

The market for cattle is somewhat easier, there being more large, heavy oxen upon the market. For such the highest rate noticed was 7½c dressed weight against so last week. Several car load lots were sold to Boston butchers, and none taken from country dealers for the export trade.

Milch Cows—The demand rather moderate and prices remarkably steady.

The Sheep Call—Northern receipts were quite liberal and the market has declined, being at the range of two weeks ago. There were some very fine flocks, and the trade for them was active. The advance of last week was not expected to be held even by drovers themselves.

Fat Hogs—The lightest run noticed, at least for the past six months. Prices a shade easier than last quoted on best lots.

Live Poultry—Supply about 1500 lbs, at 8c ℔ lb.

Every day adds to the great amount of evidence as to the curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Letters are continually being received from all sections of the country, telling of benefits derived from this great medicine. It is unequalled for general debility, and as a blood purifier, expelling every trace of scrofula or other impurity. Now is the time to take it. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

Wendell Foss, who murdered Wentworth at Brownfield, Me., was on the 11th inst. committed to Ossipee jail to await the necessary papers to take him to Maine.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is one by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

An oysterman named Thomas Jefferson was frozen to death while attempting to cross the bay at Galveston, Texas, during the great cold snap.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed or sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates or vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

Democratic Fraud Rendered of No Avail.

The committee on elections of the Ohio house of representatives on the 12th inst. reported a resolution to unseat the nine democratic members from Hamilton county, who were defeated by the voters at the polls, but elected by fraud and a shamelessly partisan supreme court. The resolutions was adopted under the previous question, and the seats were then declared vacant, amid the greatest confusion. The nine republican members came forward and were sworn in. They were cheered by the republicans, and jeered at by the democrats. The speaker ordered the unseated democratic members to turn over the keys of their desks.

On the 13th John Sherman was re-elected United States senator from Ohio, in joint convention.

A Reception to Chinese.

On the evening of the 11th inst., at the Mt. Vernon church, Boston, a reception was given to pupils of the Chinese Sunday school by their teachers. Miss Carter, the superintendent, received the guests. Good music was enjoyed. Short speeches were made by Rev. Messrs. Alden, Merrick, Porter and Waldron. A supper was provided. Three hundred persons were present.

The Channel Squadron Roughly Handled.

This seems to be a gale-hunting time in the British navy as well as the United States. The Channel squadron had a little experience of the sort last month in the Bay of Biscay. It only lasted one night, but that seems to have been fully enough for the great ironclads. All of them suffered seriously; bulwarks were smashed, cabins and mess-rooms were flooded; most of the vessels lost bridges, bulwarks, davits and boats; some of them received still more serious damage, through the straining of the ironwork; and the fleet put into the nearest port sadly demoralized. The experience has its value, in view of the cry repeatedly raised concerning the need of such vessels in our own navy. These iron fortresses have been built upon a theory that has never been adequately tested, and the facts being gradually developed regarding them are not of the sort to inspire this nation with undue haste to invest millions in like enterprises.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Jan. 11th.

Mr. Charles W. Cottle is having the old house formerly occupied by Mark Spinney, Esq., remodelled into a modern cottage house, which will make a difference in its appearence.

Mr. John Neal has removed several of the large trees in the lot to the west of Mr. Chandler Brooks' house; the reason is that they have been considered unsafe in high winds, being liable to fall and do much damage.

The week of prayer was duly observed by union services of the 2d Methodist and 2d Christian societies last week, in the latter named church. This week the meetings will be continued by the Christian society. Rev. A. G. Hammond of Marion, N. Y., an evangelist, will be present.

Through the efforts of some of our citizens the trustees of the Rice public library have caused the reading room connected with that institution to be opened, lighted and warmed every evening in the week except Sunday, for the accomodation of all who desire the privilege.

We are informed that William Benson, at one time foreman pattern-maker in the department of steam engineering at the navy yard, and later a fancy goods dealer in Biddeford, died at his home in that city on Wednesday morning, the 6th inst., aged sixty-one years and six months.

The annual meeting of the 2d Christian society was held in the vestry of that church at the Foreside, Thursday evening, the 7th inst. William Morse, John B. Wilson and Mark C. Fernald were elected prudential committee and collectors; William M. C. Philbrick, clerk; and Samuel J. Keen, treasurer. It was a unanimous vote of the meeting to retain the present pastor, Rev. E. E. Colburn, another year, with the privilege of a vacation in the summer.

Mrs. Chandler, wife of Rev. Perry Chandler, has been unexpectedly called to her former home in eastern Maine by the sudden illness of her parents.

SUB ROSA.

A Prolific People.

Dranesville, Ga., is a little town in Marion county, of about 200 inhabitants. Notwithstanding the sparseness of its population, it has had lively times since New Year's day, from which date up to the 11th inst., five births have taken place, in every one of which the result was twins or triplets. The wife of Edward Stokes had triplets, and the wives of Boz Lansford, James Bacon, W. L. Kenard and F. W. Griffin, twins each.

Congressman Boutelle, of Maine, evidently thinks "The grey's on deck again" to some purpose in at least one navy yard. On the 11th inst. he introduced in the house a resolution calling on the secretary of the navy for information concerning the truth or falsity of certain statements, namely, that the officer who is commandant of the navy yard at Norfolk, Va., has caused to be removed from the dry-dock a tablet placed there at the time it was reconstructed and bearing the inscription: "Destroyed by the rebels in 1862; rebuilt by the United States government in 1863;" that because of his protest against removing this inscription the superintendent in charge of the work of rebuilding has been removed from his position, and a person who engaged in military service against the government appointed in his place; and that in disregard of a grateful recognition of the services of persons honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States, a number of them have been dismissed from employment in the Norfolk navy yard, and their places filled by men who fought against the government during the rebellion. If these allegations are found to be true, the secretary of the navy is directed to inform the house upon whose order, and whose authority, and in pursuance of what public policy, if any, such inscriptions were obliterated, and such persons dismissed from the service.

A collection was unexpectedly taken up on the 10th inst. in the West Presbyterian church in Forty-second street, New York, to found a new mission, and over $21,000 was collected in ten minutes. That amount couldn't be collected in any church in this city in a month.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 152 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Lambor, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner John Lenthall, of Exeter, was in port at Fall River, Mass., during the great gale of the 9th inst., and parted her fasts, doing some damage to the wharf, but sustaining none of any account herself.

The schooner Mattie D., lost off Point Judith in the great gale, was from Turk's island, West Indies, with a cargo of salt for E. F. Sise & Co., of this city. She sailed from Turk's island Dec. 24th, and was a total loss, her crew saving only what they stood in, and thinking themselves lucky at that. Another schooner, the Moselle, is somewhere on the way from Turk's island to this port with salt to the same firm.

A heavy vapor arose from the Piscataqua on the morning of the 13th inst., so thick that it was impossible to see across the river, an indication that the atmosphere was much colder than the water. The harbor is—and through all the intensely cold weather has been—entirely free of ice.

The steamer Katandin sailed for Boston on Wednesday, Jan. 13th, in the afternoon.

Rear Admiral Earl English, late in command of the South Atlantic squadron, has arrived in Washington. He will be retired next month.

Ex-Minister Lowell will soon appear before the patent committees of congress, with other gentlemen interested in the movement to establish an international copyright system, and discuss the subject.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before I took I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PRONTPROOF, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 13th.

Eddie York, an eight-years-old boy, was before the court on a charge of being a disobedient and stubborn child, the complaint having been sworn out by his mother. The judge withheld sentence, on condition that if the boy did not hereafter obey his mother he would be sent to the reform school without trial.

THE THEATRE.

The Park Theatre Co. had another big house on Wednesday evening, when "Our Boys" was presented, with the same excellent acting and similar rich and elegant costumes as marked the performances on the previous two evenings; and as before, their efforts were liberally recognized by the audience.

As a result of a general desire of the public to see Miss Helene Adell in a strictly emotional role, and one that she has made famous throughout this country, she will appear this evening as Mercy Merrick in the "New Magdalen," instead of Camille. She has played this role over 1900 times, and is said to give a wonderfully fine performance of the part.

To-morrow evening the company will close their very successful engagement here with the charming drama "Colleen Bawn," and there is no doubt will receive a hearty farewell in the shape of a crowded house.

A PIONEER FIRM AT THE PACIFIC SLOPE.

The San Francisco Journal of Commerce says, in an article in regard to the progress of the city of San Francisco since 1849, that Messrs. Charles Main and Ezra H. Winchester came to that city in 1849, and at once joined their fortunes and opened a store on what is now Sansome street. The firm of Main & Winchester, by close application to business, soon succeded in amassing not a little money. Their wealth is largely owing to wise investments in real estate. The Journal of Commerce says of their business at the start:

To the ordinary run of workmen who learned their trade in the east the California goods were novelties, and for the proper finishing of these a great deal had to be learned. Besides other difficulties, their men, who were unused to the making of California and Mexican saddles, had to be instructed. From the beginning, in 1849, the prosperity of the house dates. From the very start business kept increasing, until to-day it is indisputably the largest harness and saddlery manufacturing concern west of the Rocky mountains. In this connection it is to be noted as a remarkable fact that the old firm name remains unchanged, the partners are still at the head of the house, as in the start, and still manage its affairs. No other house started in '49 remains unchanged. Death has generally been at work, and, if not, other causes have united to effect a change.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

JAN. 13th; Hackett Com.

Fred H. Jones was brought before the commissioner on Wednesday, charged with receiving postage stamps and coins stolen from the post-office in Exeter by the boy, Geo. A. Nealey, who was tried on Tuesday. Jones waived an examination, and was held in $1000 for his appearance at the May term of the Circuit court of the United States.

In case United States vs. Clark, for unlawfully distilling cider brandy at Winchester, a hearing will be had at Manchester before Commissioner Hackett on Saturday.

PORTLAND & OGDENSBURG.

Holders of bonds and coupons secured by mortgage from the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad company, of Nov. 1st, 1871, are requested to communicate immediately to the trustees, Messrs. Nathan Webb, H. N. Jose and Weston F. Milliken the amounts and serial numbers of bonds held by them, in order that they may be advised of proceedings which may be taken to organize a corporation, under the legislation in Maine and concurrent legislation in New Hampshire. Communications should be addressed to Hon. William L. Putnam, of Portland, according to the advertisement in another column.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

Mrs. Mary E. Green was taken into custody to-day on a warrant by two inspectors, charging her with the embezzlement of $5000 from her mother, Mary Cunningham. In is alleged that Mrs. Cunningham had $3900 in a bank in Portsmouth, N. H., and some time in November, 1884, Mrs. Green called on her mother and induced her to allow the money to be drawn from the bank in Portsmouth and deposit it in one of the banks in this city. The mother finally consented to this proposition and gave the daughter the bank-book, and Mrs. Green went to Portsmouth and drew the money.

She then brought it to Boston and made a deposit of $10 in the Provident Institution for savings, and procured a book, which she gave to her mother. The book contained an entry of $4000, supposed to have been written in by Mrs. Green.

On several occasions Mrs. Cunningham gave Mrs. Green money to deposit, and in each instance the bank-book was returned with an entry of its amount deposited. In October, 1885, Mrs. Green called at the bank and told the officials that the book had been lost and that she would like to draw the $10. The money was paid after Mrs. Green had given a bond to secure the bank from loss.

The bond bore the signature of George Hosmer Green, who is reputed to be the husband of Mrs. Green. At the time when the embezzlement is alleged to have taken place, Mrs. Green lived at Hotel Holyoke and Mrs. Cunningham at No. 346 Shawmut avenue. All the parties concerned are very well connected.—Boston Traveller, 13th.

Speaking of wooden legs, there is an old soldier employed in the Government office in this city who has had some experience with an artificial limb, his meat one having been taken off at the knee. Among the most amusing was one with a sleeping-car porter. This pampered railway tyrant rarely earns his quarters all round by his pretense of blacking shoes and flipping dust from his victim's back, but it is the habit of this wooden-legged man to utilize the darky in taking off that leg and making him earn his hire. On one train he struck an uppish sort of a porter—a brother to the insufferable swell who sings out, "last call for dinnah in the dining cah!" That darky stood around with a languid dignity that would make a street-car dude sick at heart.

The man with the wooden leg made up his mind he would "wake that nigger up" before he chipped in his quarters.

He told a couple of men in the car his purpose, and they joined in with him. He wears his shoe firmly fastened to the wooden leg, having no need to remove it, and leaving fallen once from a loose shoe. After his berth had been made up he went to the dressing-room and unstrapped his leg, keeping hold of the strap, and then got to his berth. Then he called the porter. "I've got rheumatism and can't bend over," he said, "and I wish you'd pull off that she." The porter untied the shoe and tried to pull it off, but it wouldn't come. Pull hard," said the passenger. The darky gave it another pull. "Oh, brace against the berth and pull," said the passenger. The porter had blood in his eye. He put his foot against the berth and pulled like a dentist. The passenger let go the strap, and the darky fell back with the shoe and the leg. "My God! you've pulled off my leg!" shrieked the passenger. The porter dropped it, and with his eyes bulging and his teeth chattering, he broke from the car. He concealed himself in a corner of the baggage-car, and pretty soon the two other conspirators came in, pretended they didn't know where he was, sat down on a trunk and talked over the awful condition of the man whose leg had been pulled off, and about the penalty the darky would have to suffer if he should be caught. The porter was of no service to anybody that night, even after they explained the joke to him.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Late Mr. Sharon.

The silver millionaire, this old man who had run such an astonishing career, died here where a large part of his millions were invested, and yet his death had no influence on every-day life and caused no general regret. A broker and man-about-town, who runs against all kinds of people, said the other day, in talking of Sharon's death and funeral: "You would be surprised to know how few real friends Sharon had. He was kindness itself to his immediate relatives and to those attendants and employes who were faithful to him, but outside of these and the half dozen business associates with whom he put up mining deals and carried on other transactions for getting the better of his fellow-man, he had absolutely no strong friends. The long divorce trial hampered him with an army of leeches, whose fidelity was a matter of coin-payment, and who looked upon him as simply a fine subject for blood sucking. Although Sharon lay dying two weeks, suffering terribly except when under the influence of opiates, I never heard a word of sympathy expressed for him. Around the stock market he was one of the most cordially hated men that you could find. The simple truth was that for the last ten years he has been wrecking mining companies and ruining the holders of the stock. This he carried on so systematically that thousands of people traced their heavy losses to him. He broke down the price of stock remorselessly, and froze out the small holders who may have been clinging to their stock for several years in the hope that something would be done to develop the mine. Sharon never developed anything unless he could read his title clear to nine-tenths of the profits. Hence, many of the people who were frozen out by heavy assessments, often as much as the stock was selling for in the market, had the mortification of seeing the shares boomed a few weeks after and carried up to a respectable figure. Could a man escape being hated who was in this business?"—San Francisco Letter.

There is an old sign-board hanging under the trees on the chief street in Bethlehem, Pa., weather-beaten and blistered, whereon is seen a square-shouldered house, presenting to the spectator its gable end, before which mine host, attired in brown knickerbockers, is conversing with an old Indian in a red blanket, and another in a yellow blanket, while a traveler in a bag wig, galloping upon an excited steed, hails him with uplifted arm. Furthermore we are informed in good English print that this is the Moravian Sun Inn, Bethlehem, Pa., established in 1758.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height—the Statue bronzed: Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, WITH PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $60,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

Cure of Pleurisy.

No. 90 Main Street, Gloucester, Mass., April 16, 1885.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have been used in our family for the last three or four years with very beneficial results. Previous to that time I had been subject to attacks of a severe pain in my left side. Hot cloths and liniments afforded temporary relief, but after a while the pain always returned. In the fall of 1880, after a very severe attack, I was advised by a friend to try an Allcock's Porous Plaster on my side, which greatly benefitted me. After that I tried several kinds of plasters to see which was best, and finally decided that Allcock's suited my case the best. I have worn them constantly on my side ever since, and have never been troubled with the pain, except when I left them off for a few days. We always keep a supply in the house, and whenever a pain seizes any of us, in any part of the body, we just apply an Allcock's Plaster, and can most heartily recommend them. JAMES PETTIGREW.

The ice accumulated so much that it took a good portion of the time to clear her. Put into Vineyard Haven on the 11th, where she was considerably relieved of ice. Capt. Everything Goes Wrong in the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of the body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weaknesses and overtension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

A Few Big Things.

The greatest wall in the world is the Chinese wall, built by the first emperor of the Tsin dynasty, about 220 B. C., as a protection against the Tartars. It traverses the northern boundary of China and is carried over the highest hills, through the deepest valleys, across rivers with one hundred natural objects. Its length is 1,250 miles.

Among the most remarkable natural echoes is that on Eagle's Nest on the banks of Killarney, in Ireland, which repeats a bugle call until it seems to be sounded from a hundred instruments, and that of the Naha, between Bingen and Coblentz, which repeats a sound seventeen times.

The most remarkable artificial echo known is that of the castle of Simonetta, about two miles from Milan. It is occasioned by the existence of two parallel walls of considerable length. It repeats the report of a pistol sixty times.

The most remarkable whirlpool is the maelstrom of the northwest coast of Norway and southwest of Moskoenssol, the most southerly of the Lofoden isles. It was once supposed to be unfathomable, but the depth has been shown not to exceed twenty fathoms.

The greatest cataract in the world is that of Niagara. The Horseshoe fall, on the Canadian side, has a perpendicular descent of 158 feet. The height of the American fall is 167 feet. The Horseshoe fall, which carries a larger volume of water than the American fall, is about 600 yards wide and extends from the Canadian shore to Goat island.

The biggest diamond in the world, if indeed it be a diamond, is the Breganza, which forms part of the Portuguese crown jewels. It weighs 1,860 carats. However, not a little doubt exists of its being a diamond, as the government has never allowed it to be tested. It was found in Brazil in 1741.

The largest tested but uncut diamond is the Mattam, belonging to the rajah of Mattam, in Borneo. It is of pure water, weighs 367 carats, and is of pear shape, indented at the thick end. It was found about 1760 at Landard, in Borneo. It has been the cause of a sanguinary war. Before it was cut the Koh-i-noor, which is one of the English crown jewels, was the largest tested diamond. It then weighed 793 carats. When in possession of the Emperor Aurengzebe it was reduced by unskillful cutting to 186 carats. During the Sikh mutiny it was captured by British troops and presented to Queen Victoria. It was recut, and now weighs 106 1-6 carats.—Philadelphia News.

Romance of a Little Flower.

Prof. Gray, the veteran botanist of Harvard college, recently received from friends, writes a correspondent, a beautiful vase, in commemoration of his seventy-fifth birthday. This morning each of the persons who gave toward the vase received a charming note of recognition from Prof. Gray, who alludes in the letter to the flowers associated with his name or with his special studies, which were embossed on the vase. Connected with one of these, the Shortia galacifolia, there is a romance from a botanist's point of view.

A good many years ago the doctor was studying in Paris, and in a herbarium there came across a small, broken, and imperfect specimen, marked simply "From America," which interested him much. From the fragments before him he reconstructed the whole plant. His work was approved by the botanists about him, and he named the little plant Shortia Galacifolia, in honor of Dr. Charles W. Short, the distinguished botanist. But no live specimen of the plant could be found. Years passed on and it never had been seen. At last a botanist at work in Japan found and named a plant which seemed to be of a genius closely allied to the Shortia. Dr. Gray corresponded with the botanist, and it was concluded that the doctor had been in error, and had mistaken a specimen of the Japanese genus. So the Shortia was generally left out of lists of plants by systematic botanists.

But twenty years after this as Dr. Goodale and Prof. Watson were one day in the library at the university, they heard a shout of triumph from the herbarium, and rushed in to find Dr. Gray waving a small plant about in the wildest enthusiasm.

"Look at it! What is it?" he cried.

The two botanists examined it as directed, and recognized the characteristics of the much discussed plant.

"It is the Shortia," they exclaimed.

The specimen had been sent by a house in the south which made a business of putting up medicinal herbs. It had been brought in from some hitherto unexplored nook in the mountains by one of their collectors and sent to the professor for identification. It proved indeed to be the Shortia; which was therefore once more reinstated in the floral family, greatly to Dr. Gray's delight.

A Dark Mystery.

Some of the colored citizens of Dallas, Tex., are very much disturbed about the possible approach of small-pox. The following conversation between two of them was overheard on Elm street:

"I has about made up my mind to hab myself vaccinated agin. Has you eber had yourself vaccinated a second time before?"

"Yes, sah; I'se been vaccinated de second time fro or four times before, and hit tuck cbery time 'ceptin' de fust time."

As the object of colored conversationalists is not to obtain information, but to merely hear themselves talk, they parted perfectly satisfied with the interview. But what the party of the second part actually intended to say is a dark and cloudy mystery.

An Important Arrest.

The arrest of a suspicious character upon his general appearance, movements or companionship, without waiting until he has robbed a traveler, fired a house, or murdered a fellow-man, is an important function of a shrewd detective. Even more important is the arrest of a disease which, if not checked, will blight and destroy a human life. The frequent cough, loss of appetite, general languor or debility, pallid skin, and bodily aches and pains, announce the approach of pulmonary consumption, which is promptly arrested and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Sold by druggists.

Milch Cows—The demand rather moderate and prices generally unchanged.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

The losses by fire in 1885 in the United States and Canada are estimated at $94,000,000, or fifteen millions less than for 1884.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed or sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates or vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

An Excellent Chance for Trouble.

Some days ago it was reported that the Navigator's (or Samoan) islands had been formally taken possession of by a German gunboat, the Albatross, whose forces drove off the king and hauled down the Samoan flag and hoisted the German flag in its place, the English and American consuls protesting. This story was at first denied by the German authorities, but a despatch of the 13th from Berlin said:

"It is stated on the highest authority that Prince Bismarck has received dispatches fully confirming the seizure of Samoa by representatives of Germany. Commander Weber, it is said, had telegraphed that the old feeling of animosity against Germany, resulting from the support given by Germany to Tamasese against Malietoa, culminated in an open rupture, necessitating the landing of a force from the German gunboat Albatross to protect the settlers until the restoration of order. The commander is further reported as saying that the Samoan flag was not lowered until Malietoa fled. Count Von Hatzbeldt, the German ambassador at London, has telegraphed to Prince Bismarck the following despatch handed him by Lord Salisbury, which was received from Mr. Powell, the British consul in Samoa: 'Commander Weber has driven the king from the seat of government. Weber hauled down the king's flag, a force from the Albatross assisting. The king was insulted. The British and American consuls entered a solemn protest. Their presence alone prevented a massacre of the Germans. War is imminent.' A report is current that Germany will annex Samoa."

The department of state at Washington has received official information from the United States consul at Apia, Samoa, of the seizure of the Samoan islands by the German government, as previously reported in the news despatches.

Germany seems to be spoiling for a maritime war; and as it is not at all probable that England will allow her to gobble up all the islands of the sea not already gobbled up by John Bull, it is quite possible that she may get all the sea fighting she wants. As the United states possesses neither ships nor guns, thanks to democratic economy, this country is not likely to do anything more serious than to remonstrate.

A Dangerous Precedent.

The Providence Journal says: "The bill now before congress to pay the officers and crew of the Monitor the value of the Merrimac is one that appeals very clearly to the gratitude of patriotic citizens, and yet one that they may hesitate to approve. The great peril from which these men saved the country can hardly be overestimated, nor the valor with which they entered upon an awesome contest in an unknown craft. They have received no reward but thanks, while others grew fat chasing unarmed blockade runners; and the heart of the country must speak movingly in their behalf. But outside the question of gratitude and desert lies the very grave consideration whether the nation can properly afford to establish the precedent of awarding prize money where the opposing vessel was not even constructively destroyed. At least, the bill is not one to be pushed into a law without careful and all-sided consideration."

Business Changes in the Catholic Church.

According to the new plenary decrees of the Roman Catholic church in the United States there will be several radical changes in the management in future. The principal changes are three in number:

1st. The better regulation of property.

2d. The substitution of the title "rector" for that of "priest."

3d. The appointment of trustees from the body of the laity.

Every bishop will be required to make an inventory of his property as bishop, trustee and individual. He must distinguish in his will his own from the church's property, and bequeath the latter to his successors in office. Another decree forbids private banking by the bishops, priests, and heads of conventual and monastic establishments.

Hereafter all clergymen in charge of parishes will be called rectors. Their salaries will be regulated by the diocesan synods, and everything given to them in a general way must go to the church. The Christmas and Easter collections, except when the parish is too poor to pay the salary, are to be abolished. They cannot handle money for any purpose without the bishop's consent, and all their funds must be banked in the bishop's name.

The third change is quite as radical: It provides for the appointment of a committee of trustees among the laity of each parish, whom the rector is to name, and whom the bishop will approve of. To this board the rector must make an annual report of the financial condition of the church, which shall be subject to their examination and approval. He must account for his parochial expenditures, both to the bishop and to the people.

The annual meeting of the Manufacturers & Merchants' Mutual Insurance company of New Hampshire, was held in Concord on the 15th inst., and a full board of officers elected. The corporation began business Jan. 4th, and has already written policies for $300,000.

The Ohio house of representatives has appointed a committee of five members to investigate the charges made against four members of the present house; that they accepted bribes to vote for Henry B. Payne for United States senator while members of the last general assembly. Senator Payne represents the Standard Oil Co., and incidentally the democracy.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and; in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Loudon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

Lewis Smith in "BABYHOOD" for January, in which the writer graphically describes certain evil effects of artifical feeding, and gives important directions for weaning and nursing. Among other articles are: "The Baby's Mother," by Helen P. Grafton; "Our Baby and How We Undid Her," (the first of a humorous series), by Martha O. Inglis; "Cat-Naps and their Causes," "Baby's Curls," etc. $1.50 a year; fifteen cents a number. Published at No. 18 Spruce street, New York city.

Recent experiments show that if bags containing oil are thrown from a ship in a storm, the force of the waves is lessened. In the same way St. Jacobs Oil checks the wave of rheumatism and brings peace where all was turmoil.

"Vick's Floral Guide" for 1886, the pioneer seed annual of America, comes to us this year a real gem—not a dry list of hard botanical names, but over thirty pages of very interesting reading, followed by about 150 pages containing illustrations, descriptions and prices of seemingly everything the heart could desire in the line of seeds, plants, bulbs, potatoes, &c. Any one desiring goods in this line cannot do better than send ten cents for the "Floral Guide," to James Vick, Seedsman, Rochester, N. Y. Deduct the ten cents from first order sent for seeds.

MONDAY, JANUARY 11th.

REMNANT WEEK.

☞ This is the season we are glad to take what we can get for Remnants and odd lots of goods, (previous to stock taking in February,) and this week we offer all the Remnants of all classes of goods at a big reduction in price, to close them out at once.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BARTON, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. FOUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Fair, warmer weather, nearly stationary barometer.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 1 degrees below zero.

Clear.

MINIATURE ALMANAC--JAN. 15.

SUN RISES	7:11	MOON SETS	1:53 A. M.
SUN SETS	4:37	FULL SEA	6:15 A. M. 6:45 P. M.

THE WEATHR.

We thought the thirty degrees below zero recorded at the Eldredge brewery on the morning of Wednesday, the 13th inst., not only beat all previous records for this city, but was not likely to be equalled in a hurry; but we are informed that it was beaten that same morning at the residence of Gunner Thomas R. Wilson, U. S. N., on the Creek road, where the thermometer indicated thirty-two below. On Thursday morning the weather was quite balmy and salubrious, the temperature at the Eldredge brewery being only eighteen below. The barometer on Thursday was higher than at any time before for many months, 30.90 inches,—a rise of nearly three inches since nine o'clock A. M. on the 9th, when during the height of the howling northeaster the mercury was down to 28.07 inches—the lowest for years.

THE NONPAREIL ASSOCIATES' ENTERTAINMENT.

The coffee party and ball of the Nonpareil Associates in Franklin hall on Wednesday evening was highly successful, there being over a hundred couples on the floor at one time, and everything passing off finely. The coffee, supplied by the Webster house, was excellent, and and the eatables were all that could be asked. Before the dancing commenced a variety entertainment was given by members of the club as follows: Selections by Nonpareil glee club; jig and reel dancing, D. Norton; ballad, "Chamouni," John Moran; character songs, John McGrath; ballad, "O'Mesra," T. E. O'Kelley; "The Two Aldermen," a sketch, Hennessey and Hurley. There were fourteen dances on the list, and the dance did not end until after two o'clock. To Mr. Michael J. Leary, who had general charge of the arrangements, much of the success of the affair was due. Mr. Daniel Casey had charge of the music and tables, and there was an efficient corps of assistants.

To-night is the last chance to see the Park Theatre Co., whose excellent playing has so delighted many hund-eds this week. The play announced is "Colleen Bawn."

New Hampshire Lodge, I. O. O. F., publicly installed officers on the evening of the 13th inst., in presence of a large assemblage. After the installation ceremonies were over an abundant supper was served, and the evening was passed very pleasantly by the 350 guests present.

It is said Mrs. M. E. Green, nee Cunningham, who was arrested in Boston on the 13th inst. for embezzling $5000 from her mother, had kept her marriage a secret from Mrs. Cunningham until about a week ago, although she was united by Parson Downs in 1883 to George Hosmer Green, who is now a clerk in the Sears building. Miss Cunningham graduated from the Portsmouth high school.

Mr. Wm. Conn and wife started on Thursday morning for Hillsborough upper village, Mr. Conn proposing to take a two weeks vacation,

One of the horses of the Putnam Brothers' team, carrying the mails between York and Portsmouth, dropped dead in North Kittery while on the return trip from this city on the 13th inst.

An entertainment will be given in Rechabite hall Jan. 22d, for the benefit of the Methodist church, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, dialogues, tableaux, etc. They have engaged the services of Mrs. Frank Williams as vocalist.

A thousand gallons of cod-liver oil, finest quality, prepared expressly for medicinal purposes, were sold by E. Newton & Co. on the 14th inst. to G. W. Butler of Gloucester, Mass. The same firm sold 500 gallons of currier's oil to Mr. Fornald of Gloucester the same day.

MARITIME NOTES.

The fishing schooner Alabama came in on the 14th inst., loaded with wrecked nets of the fishermen, very much torn and twisted up by the great storm.

The schooner Charles S. Bayliss is reported as having sailed from New York for this port on the 1st inst. with 711 tons of coal to C. E. Walker & Co., and as nothing has been heard from her since by the consignees, it is feared she has gone down with all on board. She was built in South Rondout, N. Y., in 1866, and registered about 475 tons.

The fishing schooner Rising Star got aground on Wednesday, the 14th inst., on the wreck of a lime schooner which was bilged and burned on the ledge between Clark's and Seavey's islands ten or fifteen years ago. She was reported on Thursday to be in a bad position.

Of the Gloucester fishing fleet exposed to the terrible Christmas gales, there are four that have not been heard from—the Mabel Dilloway, Hyperion, Conductor and Schuyler Colfax. If they are not heard from before another week passes, there will be no hope for them. Tidings of the fleet which was exposed to the still more terrible gale of Jan. 8th and 9th are looked forward to with much anxiety.

Quite Amusing.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post sends the following to that paper:

A good deal of amusement has been excited among the senators by an accident which happened in the treasury department. Mr. Manning, having been called upon to furnish the reasons for the removal of an internal revenue collector in New York, prepared the papers, but by a mischance, allowed some which were not intended to be sent out, to slip in with the rest. They consisted of appeals on the part of the removed collector to be permitted to retain his office on the ground that he had worked in private for the democratic party during the presidential campaign. This, of course, settled his case with the republican senators, who had got ready to make a fight. It is said that the victim of this error was no less a personage than the famous Armstrong of Utica, one of the members of the Spartan band who worked so hard in the New York legislature to send Mr. Conkling back to the senate.

The most amusing thing about this affair is the statement that Mr. Dan Manning, who has been a political wire puller all his life, having determined to suppress a part of the public documents called for accidentally allowed them to be sent to the senate with the rest! And these especial documents, too, the very ones most damaging to the ex-office-holder's cause.

Mr. Moses Yeaton and wife, of No. 14 Austin street, on the evening of the 13th inst. celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

Making Bronze Statues.

Since the Washington monument was unveiled, the question "How do they make bronze statues?" has been frequently asked. Many intelligent people believe that the bronze is hammered into shape on an anvil and that a sculptor's studio is similar in appearance to a blacksmith's shop. R. H. Park, the designer and creator of the Washington monument, explained the real process to a reporter for the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin. "The first thing to do after the plans are made," he said, "is to make the study, which is a miniature statue similar in every respect except size and material to the bronze statue. The material generally used is cement. The armature, or frame-work of the statue, is then built, after which the plaster cast of the figure is made. The latter work is the most important part of the operation, and its creation occupies as long a time as all the other stages of the statue's genesis. When the sculptor has completed his model in plaster it is taken to the foundry. There is then taken from it a piece-mold, that is, a mold that can be taken in pieces. In this mold wax is cast, of the thickness which it is proposed to have the bronze. Then the mold is filled up with sand packed in solid. The sand is called the core. Then the piece-mold is taken off and the wax again is molded or finished up. Again the wax is covered with a preparation of plaster and cement, after which the work is placed in a heated oven and stood on end. The heat melts the wax, which runs out at the bottom of the cast, leaving vacant the space it occupied. When the wax has entirely left the form or mold, the molten bronze is run in through a hole in the top and takes the place of the wax. When the metal cools, the outside plaster is broken off, the core taken from the inside and the statue completed."

On Lake Titicaca.

The shallow banks of the lake are covered with a thick growth of tall rushes, out of the material of which the Indians construct their bolsas. These rush thickets are very lively with thousands of waterfowl. On a very sandy beach in a small inner bay I saw a good many scarlet-plumed flamingoes and rose-colored spoonbill cranes, all of them keeping entirely aloof from the crowd of other birds. Strange to find these creatures, which generally live in warm climates, here in this cold altitude. At no other place on the lake wherever I passed did I encounter them again.

Toward nightfall we got under way, and steamed slowly out into the vast sheet of water which glittered like silver in the moonlight. It was bordered on our right (the opposite banks are not visible) by sterile rocks and hills of reddish porphyry, trachytes, and clayish slates, rising nearly all abruptly out of the lake to a height of from one thousand to twelve hundred feet.

At about 10 o'clock A. M., the fine panorama of the inner snow-capped range of the eastern cordillera gradually began to rise on the horizon, from the gigantic Illampo Sorata, 21,200 feet high (set down in a good many older works as the highest mountain of the American continent), and the sharp-cut pyramid of Huanis Potozi, 20,200 feet high, to the magnificent three-peaked illimani.—Overland Monthly.

Mrs. Langtry's Programmes.

The theater-goer who holds the libretto of the opera in his hands, and has no time to look at the play because he must see whether all the actors and actresses say their lines correctly, is evidently a man after Mrs. Langtry's own heart. She has given him something more to attend to. Her programmes, after remarking that her dresses are "extraordinary," proceed to prove it by describing them. They are all made by "M. Worth of Paris." The paragraphs may be intensely interesting to the theater-goers of the fair sex; but what agony they will cause the gentleman already referred to! It was an easy matter for him to take his Sheridan with him to the theater and watch where Lady Teazle missed out a word; but how is he to know whether the programme speaks true when it says that Mrs. Langtry's first dress in "Lady" is a "brown plush tea-gown with front and sleeves of cream lace," and the second a "gray Ottoman silk"? He has no idea what a mousseline de soie is; and will he ever be sure that the "skirt is cut in panels"? He has always had a way of talking over his discoveries and perplexities to his neighbors in the stalls; but now he will be worse than ever. If he does not always take a lady with him the audience will be undone.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unimjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which approaches the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent on the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect-in-detail Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, on rich ebony plush stand, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first issue of last year. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $50,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have been used in our family for the last three or four years with very beneficial results. Previous to that time I had been subject to attacks of a severe pain in my left side. Hot cloths and liniments afforded temporary relief, but after a while the pain always returned. In the fall of 1880, after a very severe attack, I was advised by a friend to try an Allcock's Porous Plaster on my side, which greatly benefitted me. After that I tried several kinds of plasters to see which was best, and finally decided that Allcock's suited my case the best. I have worn them constantly on my side ever since, and have never been troubled with the pain, except when I left them off for a few days. We always keep a supply in the house, and whenever a pain seizes any of us, in any part of the body, we just apply an Allcock's Plaster, and can most heartily recommend them.

THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

Its Center Is Gradually Shifting from England to the United States.

Her von Neumann-Spallart undertook recently, in the Deutsche Rundschau of Berlin to prove that the center of gravity of the world's commerce is gradually shifting from England through Germany to the United States. The statistics quoted by him in proof of his theory would seem to bear out the conclusions he has reached. He shows that while in 1868 the share of Great Britain in the world's commerce was 24 per cent., it had fallen in 1882 to 19.5 per cent, "and that of the total foreign commerce of Great Britain and the continent in 1868, Great Britain is credited with 34.5 per cent, and in 1882 only 29. In 1868 Great Britain produced 53.6 per cent of the coal mined in the world; in 1883 only 40.7 per cent. In 1868 British productions of pig iron amounted to 44.1 per cent of the total, while it was but 39.1 per cent. in 1883. Taking next the article of cotton, we find that from 1856 to 1860 England consumed 60.3 per cent of all raw cotton manufactured abroad, and the continent of Europe 39.7 per cent, but in 1883 the cotton trade of Great Britain fell off to 52.3 per cent, while that of the continent had risen to 47.7 per cent. The total decline in British manufactures he estimates at the rate of 1 per cent per annum for the past seven years."

He holds that the statistics cited by him indicate that the center of gravity of the world's commerce is slowly drifting from Great Britain toward Germany, and that it will ultimately rest in the United States. On the other hand, Mr. Goschen, the English authority, contends that there has been no decline in the quantity of goods manufactured in Great Britain, but that, in point of fact, there has been a visible increase; that the apparent decline has been in the total values because of the lower prices manufacturers have been getting for their commodities and they have sought to compensate for small profits by increased production. But Herr Neumann is probably right when he says the center of gravity of the world's commerce will ultimately be fixed in the United States, at least so far as the two greatest of all industries, those of cotton and iron, are concerned. The intimate connection between the industries of Great Britain and those of the United States was never better stated than by the late Earl Beaconsfield, who, in speaking just before his fall from office of the stagnation of trade at that time in England, said that business would not revive until there was a revival of industries in the United States. It is difficult for some persons to appreciate the extent to which England is dependent on the United States. England is one vast workshop. She does not raise enough of breadstuffs and provisions to feed her swarming population. Even when her harvest is good she needs 30,000,000 bushels of wheat to make up the deficiency in the home product. She needs also from foreign sources an enormous supply of other provisions. If an embargo were placed on the export of breadstuffs and provisions from the United States, in such years of scarcity as England experienced from 1877 to 1882, the price of these commodities would rise very considerably in that country. Stop the export of raw cotton to England from the United States and the output of yarn and piece goods, of the annual value of $900,000,000, would be nearly brought to a standstill, as it was during our civil war, until new cotton fields were opened in Egypt and India. At that time all Lancashire was clamoring for bread.

Lord Beaconsfield was, therefore, right in saying that the prosperity of England was largely dependent on the prosperity—and, we may add, the friendship—of the United States. But England can not hope to control indefinitely the products of iron and cotton. With respect to this she is destined, sooner or later, to find a formidable rival in the United States, and principally in the Southern sections of them, where furnaces and rolling-mills are even now being established in the midst of all the raw materials that enter into the production of iron and steel, and where cotton-mills are being planted in the raidst of the cotton fields. It will take a long period to transfer from one nation to another industries long established among a people who have obtained command of the world's markets, but that time must inevitably arrive. As in England, our staple industries are inevitably destined to be those of iron and cotton. As in England, our prosperity is built upon these two bases—the iron that enters into all industries, and the cotton that clothes the world. But with us there are other factors that are to be taken into account. England has to spend large sums annually in buying breadstuffs and provisions to meet the needs of her industrial population. We can not only feed all our people from the products of our soil, but we can also supply from our surplus a heavy British or continental demand. This, conjoined to the fact that with the raw materials of iron and cotton goods in abundance close to the place of manufacture, gives us a double advantage, and justifies the prediction of Herr Neumann that, in the shifting of the center of gravity of the world's commerce, which he alleges is now slowly going on, the United States will attract a large if not a controlling share of the great staple industries upon which the wealth and prosperity of a people are founded.—Baltimore Daily Sun.

But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

By a cave-in at a mine in Rittenhouse Gap, Pa., Jan. 13th, a number of men were buried, said to be a dozen or more. Three bodies have been recovered.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

The prefect of the department of Eure, in France, was assassinated in a railway carriage, and his body thrown from the train while it was in motion. It is supposed that the motive for murder was robbery.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed or sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates or vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

War on the Rinks.

The clergy and many other citizens of Portland, Me., having petitioned the city government to revoke the licenses of the skating rinks, on the ground that they are promotive of immorality, a special meeting of the mayor and aldermen was held on the 13th inst. to consider the matter and hear evidence. Over 400 names were signed to a petition asking the summary closing of the Congress rink; and the city marshal said he was satisfied that the influence of the rinks has been and is bad. The Bijou rink was said to be well conducted. The hearing was adjourned to Jan. 22d, when final action will be taken.

A Baby Who Ruled His Father.

BOSTON, January 15.—Besides an exhaustive article for the ladies on window gardening and how to care for house plants, the next Boston Sunday Globe will have a humorous article on the experience of a father who tried to take care of the baby while his wife was out of town for a day or two. Both of these articles will be in addition to the popular features which have placed the Sunday Globe at the head of the list, because it now has a larger circulation than any other Boston Sunday newspaper. Order it today.

Commodore Walker's nomination as chief of the bureau of navigation seems to have been promptly confirmed by the senate. It was stated that the late secretary of the navy had put his mind on having Commodore Walker's nomination rejected, and even went so far as to employ his pen (which does not seem to be as mighty as the sword of the chief) in opposition to Walker. That was all that was needed to ensure the commodore's prompt confirmation by the senate.

Capt. J. P. Cilley, of Co. F, 2d Reg't N. H. N. G., died at his residence in Farmington on the 12th inst., aged twenty-nine years. He was commissioned in September, 1884, and was one of the most efficient officers in the militia.

In Rochester, on the the night of Jan. 13th, shortly before midnight, three men robbed Arthur Jenkins, clerk in a drug store, of about $90, and took cigars and other articles from the store. They gained entrance just as the clerk was retiring, by pretending they had a prescription to be filled. On going away they left Mr. Jenkins bound.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Lennon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

The case inhabitants of Kittery against the proprietors of Portsmouth bridge, recently decided by the supreme court of Maine, law term, in favor of the plffs., is a suit to recover taxes on that part of the bridge situated in Maine. The Kittery people say they have to pay toll over the bridge, and the town is assessed by the state on the property; so they can see no reason why they should not tax the bridge, so far as it is in their waters.

Andrew R. Wentworth of Kittery was on the 13th inst. confirmed by the United States senate as an assistant surgeon in the navy, with the relative rank of ensign.

It is said that a suit is to be entered in York county by Benjamin Moulton of York, against the Boston & Maine railroad company, lessees of the Portsmouth bridge, for damages alleged to have been caused by a defective condition of the bridge in November last.

Miss Sarah Orne Jewett of South Berwick has written a story called "Stolen Pleasures." It is said the scene of the plot is laid in her native village, South Berwick.

Elder George M. Payne and wife, of York, celebrated their golden wedding on the 13th inst.

Henry T. Boothby, a lumber dealer, fell into the river at Saco on the 14th inst., and was carried over the falls, but was rescued a long way down the river.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

PETER MARCY.

Hon. Peter Marcy, of New Orleans, died in that city Jan. 13th, at the age of about eighty years. He was born in this city, but made New Orleans his home in early life, and has ever since resided there. He soon became one of the best known and wealthiest citizens of the place, and one of its largest shipowners; and he served in the Louisiana legislature twenty-four years. He was twice married, the second time to Miss Frances M. Shackford of this city, who died several years ago. He was a brother of Hon. Daniel Marcy.

MARITIME NOTES.

The steamer Katahdin, Homer master, which left this port on Wednesday afternoon, 13th inst., for Boston, arrived at her destination that evening.

The ship Charger arrived at Portland, Me., Jan. 14th, from Japan, having had heavy weather on the coast. On the 13th, off Cape Ann, she saw an abandoned three-masted schooner, thickly sheeted with ice, and with a boat alongside. It was thought likely in Portland that the wreck was the Nettie Sawyer, which was out in the great gale, and has not been heard from. Possibly it is the vessel sighted in distress by the steamer Katahdin off the Shoals on the 9th inst., when the latter was endeavoring to make a harbor at this port.

Commercial wharf was covered on Friday with torn and twisted-up cod-nets, which the storms had cut to pieces and wound up into balls, and which the fishermen were trying to disentangle and make fit for service again.

The owners of the fishing schooner Mabel Dilloway, of Gloucester, have given her up as lost, with the crew of sixteen men. She was a nearly new vessel, having been built in 1882, and sailed on a haddocking trip Dec. 20th; she was spoken on Christmas day, since which time she has not been seen nor heard from.

Tickets for Barlow, Wilson & Rankin's minstrel show in Music hall next Tuesday evening, can now be procured at Goodrich's.

The upper portion of the dock on Vaughan street, at Mason's mill, is being filled in with debris from the excavation for the new sewer on Deer street.

The steam bugle of the fire alarm now gives a toot at 12:30 o'clock each day, when the superintendent of the alarm strikes the north church bell on Cambridge time.

The Boston Sunday Globe of the 17th inst. announces a story about "A baby who ruled his father." A much more sensational—not to say incredible—story would be about "A baby who didn't rule his father."

The Times says: "We understand that the steam heating apparatus put into the high school building last summer is working well, and is found sufficient to heat the entire building. The janitor had no trouble in keeping the building perfectly comfortable during the cold snap just passed. The state of affairs now existing at the school is a great improvement over that of a year ago, in many particulars." The steam heating apparatus referred to was put in by the Portsmouth Machine Co., which is doing probably a larger business in that line, in this state and Maine, than any other establishment in either state.

A drunken vagabond was roaming about in the vicinity of Gardiner street, Friday, entering houses and frightening women where there were no men at home. A vigorous application of sole leather would be a good prescription in his case.

J. K. Kimball, Jr., of this city, clerk of the senate committee on education, died in Washington on Friday. He leaves a widow.

It is estimated by good judges that since the sale of shop-worn boots and shoes at Doctor Fay's commenced, yesterday morning, over 700 pairs of shoes have been sold at $1.00 per pair,—former prices $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00. It is not to be wondered at, in these times, that people improve an opportunity like this.

The Hotel Flanders, corner of Vaughan and Elm streets, near the railroad station, after having passed through a number of vicissitudes since it was opened, was finally closed on Thursday, 14th inst., by the sheriff, who put in a keeper, but shortly took him out again, there being nothing in the house for him to keep, except to keep warm, and even that he could only do by "thrashing his arms," as there wasn't any fire.

The sleighing about town was excellent on Friday. In the suburbs it was passable. Fisher Eldredge's fine turnout attracted much attention. Indeed, the comfortable appearance of the sleighs of the present date are in striking contrast with the too open and airy cutters of earlier days.

"The Service of Christ: a sermon preached at at the South Parish Church, Portsmouth, N. H., December 6th, 1885, by the pastor, Rev. Alfred Gooding," has been published in a well-printed pamphlet bearing the imprint of Richard I. Walden, and is for sale at the bookstore of Mercer Goodrich. From the text, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me," Matt. 25: 40, the eloquent preacher demonstrates that merciful, helpful service to even the humble beasts of the field is service acceptable to the Master and ennobling to the doer. "In such effort lies the way which Christ taught, to the complete happiness of man." The sermon is replete with thought and earnest Christian sentiment.

The Pretty Teacher.

A blushing and pretty young teacher called at Superintendent Jasper's office, Wednesday and, after being reassured by the Superintendent's pleasant greeting, inquired: "Will the Board of Education give the primary teachers who have taught seven years and over the extra allowance this year?"

"It will," replied Mr. Jasper; "those who have taught seven years will get $66 as a Christmas gift about Dec. 20."

"I am a primary teacher," said the young woman, hesitating and coloring more deeply. "I have taught seven years, but——"

"Then you will be entitled to the allowance."

"But," she continued, "George wanted me to——Suppose I should resign this month."

"I fear that you would lose your Christmas-gift then."

"How if I should stay until Dec. 20. There is so much to be done, and George don't want to wait until Christmas-day."

"The resolution of the board gives the money to those who have served seven years up to Dec. 31. I am afraid that George will have to wait," said Mr. Jasper, smiling.

"I suppose he will, then," she continued. "I told him that I thought he would."

As she left the building a young man who was waiting impatiently outside joined her. "It's just as I told you, George. You will have to wait," she said to him as they walked away.—New York Tribune.

Great Men's Widows.

The survival of Mrs. Hendricks suggests the fact that nearly all the prominent actors in the late war, whether soldiers or statesmen, have died before their wives. Mr. Hendricks was one of the members of the Senate from 1863 to 1869. His two great Democratic compeers during the latter part of his term, Messrs. Thurman and Bayard, are both living, and so are their wives. Mr. Lincoln's wife lived twelve or fifteen years after his dramatic death in April, 1865, and died at her old home in Springfield, Ill.—the more unfortunate, perhaps, for being so long a widow. The wife of Mr. Lincoln's great Democratic opponent in Illinois, and competitor for the Presidency in 1860, Stephen A. Douglas, is living with her second husband. Mr. Douglas died at the opening of the war. The wife of John C. Breckinridge, another candidate for the Presidency in 1860, and still later a leading General in the Confederate army, is still living at the old family home in Lexington, Ky. General Breckinridge himself died twelve years ago. Generals McClellan and Grant, the first and last commanders of the Army of the Potomac, have but recently died, both leaving widows. General Lee's wife, though a confirmed invalid during the entire war, survived her husband a short time. Mrs. Stonewall Jackson is still living. So are Mrs. General Thomas and Mrs. General Custer. Mrs. Andrew Johnson was confined to her bed during most of the time her husband was President, and was for several years after; but she was the last to die. The tragic story of Garfield, who was a leader in the House of Representatives during the war, is still fresh in the mind of everybody. His widow is a comparatively young woman and lives in Ohio. Generals Sherman and Hancock married before the war, and their wives are still with them. General Sheridan was the last of the war heroes to marry. He looks to be 60 and is not far from that, but his wife is both a young and beautiful woman. Jefferson Davis is still living, but his wife is far more robust than he. Of all the great men of the war that I now call to mind, General Beauregard is the only one who has survived his wife. He has been a widower for several years, but yet wears mourning out of respect to her memory.—New York World.

"Well, sis, what does your mother want to borrow now?" asked a good-natured housewife of a neighbor's child who stood at the door with an empty cup. "Please, ma'am, ma would like to borrow a cup of meal an' she wants your receipt for Thanksgiving puddin's an' she says if your Billy comes into our yard again she'll just shake his boots off. That cup went back empty.—Hartford Post.

"Have you any occupation? Do you do any work?" the magistrate asked the prisoner, who was charged with vagrancy. "Yes, your honor, I am an actor." "Ah, well, then you don't work—you play." "Ah, yes, your honor, you only see me on the stage. You should see me when I'm trying to collect my salary." The magistrate entered "day labor" against the prisoner, and gave him an honorable discharge.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Bishop Warren, of Colorado, may be considered a very effective preacher. One of his recent sermons moved Jacob Haish to subscribe $50,000 to the Denver University, the Methodist college of Colorado.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. cod1m.85

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bonds commence to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-plated,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, WITH PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first cast. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $50,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

Address, with remittance,

American Committee of the Statue of Liberty,

I was a non-believer in Patent medicines, but having experienced marked relief from Nasal Catarrh and hoarseness by the use of Ely's Cream Balm, I can recommend it to those suffering from loathsome complaint and to those afflicted with hoarseness or stoppage of the throat so annoying to singers and clergymen.—Louis E. NO. 3 BOW ST.

E. ERS C. E. SIMPSON

"Work, Work, Work!"

How many women there are working to-day in various branches of industry—to say nothing of the thousands of patient housewives whose lives are an unceasing round of toil—who are martyrs to those complaints to which the weaker sex is liable. Their tasks are rendered doubly hard and irksome and their lives shortened, yet hard necessity compels them to keep on. To such Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" offers a sure means of relief. For all female weaknesses it is a certain cure. All druggists.

The cranky king of Bavaria has forbidden his cabinet to interfere with his exchequer. The members of the cabinet will therefore all resign. The debts of the king amount to 15,000,000 marks.

Mothers.

If you are failing; broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

The Paris Siecle says that Henry M. Stanley is going to the Congo state to direct the preliminary arrangements for building a railroad.

The Hope of the Nation.

Children, slow in development, puny, scrawny and delicate, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

Clark Stephens Dean, of St. Louis, Mo., the nearest living relative of Ethan Allen, died Jan. 13th at Columbus, Neb., while on a visit to his daughter. He was eighty-four years old.

Catarrh of the Bladder.

Stinging, irritation, inflammation, all kidney and urinary complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

A vessel's after house, and two skeletons tied to each other by a rope, were thrown ashore on the north side of Martha's Vineyard by the recent storm. They are supposed to be relics of the City of Columbus wreck of two years ago, a lot of shoes, similar to those taken from the wreck at the time, having also been thrown up by the sea.

"Water Bugs, Roaches."

"Rough on Rats" clears them out, also beetles, ants, insects, rats and mice, 15 and 25c. boxes.

The Chicago socialists, who are nearly all Germans, propose to inaugurate the "social revolution" about May 1st, by breaking up the militia and destroying the public buildings with dynamite bombs.

Cure of Pleurisy.

No. 90 Main Street, Gloucester, Mass., April 16, 1885.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have been used in our family for the last three or four years with very beneficial results. Previous to that time I had been subject to attacks of a severe pain in my left side. Hot cloths and liniments afforded temporary relief, but after a while the pain always returned. In the fall of 1880, after a very severe attack, I was advised by a friend to try an Allcock's Porous Plaster on my side, which greatly benefitted me. After that I tried several kinds of plasters to see which was best, and finally decided that Allcock's suited my case the best. I have worn them constantly on my side ever since, and have never been troubled with the pain, except when I left them off for a few days. We always keep a supply in the house, and whenever a pain seizes any of us, in any part of the body, we just apply an Allcock's Plaster, and can most heartily recommend them.

medicine I ever found that helped me at all is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and I have not had the Rheumatism since I took it."—EDWIN SEARS, Providence, Mass.

A professor in a medical college once said to his class: "put your hand in a vise, turn the screw until the pain is all you can bear, and that's rheumatism; turn the screw once more, and that's neuralgia—and gentlemen, the medical profession knows no cure for either." That was before the discov. of ATHLOPHOROS which does and will cure rheumatism and neuralgia, and many physicians use it regularly—frankly admitting that they can prescribe nothing else so effective.

Many persons have tried so many so-called remedies, without benefit, that they have no faith to try more, but it is worth your while to try Athlophoros, if you have any doubts as to its value write for names of parties in your own State who have been cured by its use.

Ask your druggist for Athlophoros. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price, $1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

An Idyl of the King.

And when the fullness of the time was come,
And emptiness for hunger, came the knights,
And with them Launcelot and the blameless King.
And also Guinevere, with lily hands
Cleansed in fair water of the kitchen smirch,
And sat to supper; and the pudding came,
Whereat the joyous knights gave forth a shout
Had split the Elldon Hill into three parts
But that the crick had already been done,
And all fell to; the blameless King and Queen,
They ate thereof and nobleman beside.
And Vivian designed to taste, but scoffing said,
"The full-fed liars fed on stolen meat."
And gentle Arthur bade the wine-cup flow,
Not now with Gild Helm's mixture, but a draught
(Imported by a knight of Burgundy)
So rich, so radiant, and so ravishing
That four-score silver pieces scarcely bought
As many flagons as the year had months,
And the good Rabelais had said, if there,
"O sweet and heavenly sound to hear them laugh!"
Then with regained fine temper, said the Queen,
Taking her husband's hand into her own
(It may be, glad that Launcelot was rolled),
"Dear Lord, and is thy wife so ill a cook?"
Then Arthur, pulling at her golden hair,
As one instructs a kind but wayward child:
"Thou!" said the King, "well, I may call that cheek.
Yet will not, looking on the cheeks of thine,
Thou best done well, my Queen, and very well,
And I, the King, for self and company,
Remain thy much obliged and humble servant,
And drink thy health!" Then the old rafters rang,
"Our Queen and pudding!" And the blameless King, Rising again (to Launcelot's discontent,
Who held all speeches a tremendous bore),
Said, "If one duty to be done remains
And 'tis neglected, all the rest is naught
But Dead Sea apples and the acts of apes!"
Smiled Guinevere and begged him not to preach
She knew that duty, and it should be done.
So what of pudding on that festal night
Was not consumed by Arthur and his guests,
The Queen upon the following morning fried.

A LUCKY GIEL.

"I never saw such a lucky girl in my life as you, Kitty Price," said Mrs. Hughes Mortimer. "Only to think, you have been in New York only a month, and Mr. Carisford has asked you to marry him?"

Mrs. Hughes Mortimer lived in a stately brown-stone house on a fashionable square. Kitty Price, her sister's child from the country, sat in the deep bay-window, half-hidden by maroon velvet curtains and draperies of embroidered lace.

Kitty was very pretty. Her complexion had not yet been injured by late hours, midnight suppers, and "the german." There were many in society more brilliant and beautiful than was she, but, in spite of all this, Mr. Carisford, the rich banker, had fallen in love with Kitty Price.

Mrs. Hughes Mortimer was delighted with this social success.

"Kitty, you're a darling," said she. "I haven't been so delighted since Mr. Hughes Mortimer gave me my solitaire diamonds. How angry Angeline Elford will be!—and those Brookes girls who have been angling for Carisford so transparently all the season! I shouldn't wonder, dear, if you had a quantity of wedding presents. There are some very fine heirloom jewels in the Carisford family, I'm told, and——"

"Stop, stop, Aunt Olivia!" Kitty colored deeply, and twisted the stem of mignonnette that she held mechanically about her fingers. "I told you that Mr. Carisford had asked me to marry him——"

"Well!" The matron lifted her handsome, light-blue eyes inquiringly to Kitty's tell-tale face.

"But I didn't tell you that I refused him," added the culprit.

"Refused him! Katharine Price! Are you joking?"

"Never was more serious in my life, Aunt Olivia," protested Kitty, standing bravely to her colors.

"Refused Mr. Carisford! Refused the best match in town!" cried out Mrs. Hughes Mortimer.

"You wouldn't have me accept him if I didn't love him?"

"Love!" scornfully repeated Mrs. Hughes Mortimer. "My dear, your mamma has brought you up with most visionary views of life. 'Love' is an extremely improper expression. And, believe me, you will soon learn to esteem any worthy gentleman who——"

"That's past hoping for, aunty," saucily interrupted Kitty. "If you'd only consent to hear my story out you'd save yourself a deal of trouble. The reason I refused Mr. Carisford is that I accepted his nephew, Frank Ely!"

"Kitty!"

"Is there anything so remarkable in my preferring one of my own age to a man old enough to be my father?"

"Mr. Carisford is 40."

"And that's twenty years too much to suit me. Aunt Olivia, I know this will be a sad blow to your system of social philosophy, but I can't help it. I love Frank, and I would not marry Mr. Carisford if there wasn't another man in all the world. So there!"

"In that case," said Mrs. Hughes Mortimer, grimly, "I shall send you back to your mother to-morrow. I cannot for an instant countenance any of this sort of thing. The idea of your marrying a slip of a bank clerk, without a penny, when you have the alternative of becoming Cleveland Carisford's wife!"

"Don't be vexed, aunty," pleaded Kitty, putting up her red mouth for a kiss. "I can't be false to my own ideal of womanhood. I can't give my hand to Mr. Carisford when my heart is Frank Ely's already."

Great was the astonishment of Kitty's parents on learning that their daughter had refused a match so desirable in every respect.

"The girl must be crazy," said Papa Price, who had seven younger daughters to dispose of.

"Mad! Infatuated!" echoed Mamma Price. "But we must write to her. She shall not come here to put the same sort of nonsense in her sisters' heads".

So while Aunt Olivia was writing to her sister that Kitty must go home at once, Mrs. Price was writing counter or-

The house committee on rivers and harbors, on the 15th inst., resolved to limit the total amount of the appropriations for improving the harbors and rivers to $11,000,000. The committee considered the subject of improving the harbors at Rockland and Saco, Me., Portsmouth, N. H., and Burlington, Vt. The sums recommended for appropriation will in no case be made public in advance of the report of the bill.

After Diphtheria.

No Chance for Trouble.

Germany officially disclaims any intention of seizing the Samoan islands, or doing anything which will in any wise affect the existing treaties between the Samoan government and Germany, England and America. The captain of the German gunboat Albatross was merely disciplining the king of the cannibal islands, that was all.

Another Ocean Tragedy.

A quantity of wreckage has drifted ashore on Monomy beach, near Chatham, Mass., consisting of parts of boats, a molasses keg and other packages, marked Julia A. Brown; a quarter-board having a part broken off, but with "Ha A. Brown" remaining; part of a wreck with ten chain plates on it; part of the side of a vessel, metalled; a vessel's house, on the inside of which is carved "Julia A. Brown," and other wreckage. The above are supposed to have come from the barkentine Julia A. Brown, which probably struck on some shoal in Vineyard sound during the great gale, and went to pieces, with the loss of all on board. The Julia A. Brown was a vessel of about 550 tons register, hailing from Boston.

A Wretch.

On Tuesday night of last week Willie Follet, the five-year-old son of Frank Follett, of Dover, was found famishing in the street in that city, and said his stepmother had kicked him out of doors to shift for himself. Next morning, finding she was about to be arrested, the woman promised to do better in future.

On Friday night the child was found in the street again with his face and head covered with cuts and bruises, which he said his stepmother had inflicted with a club. He was taken to the station, where he was taken care of, and City Marshal Fogerty issued warrants for the arrest of the parents. The child shows conclusive proof of most shocking treatment.

The January number of "Lippincott's Monthly Magazine" appears in an entirely new dress. A handsome cover has been designed for it by Mr. George Fletcher Babb, whose white parchment-like surface, printed in red and black, presents a very attractive appearance. The typography is also entirely remodelled, the double columns have been done away with, and large, clear, bold-faced type is used. One of the most noticeable articles is contributed by Gail Hamilton, who criticises Civil Service Reform with her usual wit, vigor, and pungency. It is announced that an answer from the pen of Dorman B. Eaton will appear in February. Another feature of this number is a collection of criticisms, by George Eliot, upon Dickens, Carlisle, Kingsley, Browning, and others of her great contemporaries, newly resuscitated from the pages of the Westminster Review. These criticisms have never before been identified as hers. Two very clever serials are begun, "A Bachelor's Blunder," by W. E. Norris, and "Taken by Siege," an anonymous novel by a writer whose every touch reveals an intimate acquaintance with New York dramatic and journalistic life. Grant Allen, the well-known evolutionist, discusses, in a humorous and chatty style, the question of the origin of "Gray Wethers." Brander Matthews gossips about the Future Literary Capital of the United States, and there are poems by Philip Bourke Marston, Louise Chandler Moulton, etc. Only $2 per year.

Messrs. Jones and Eldredge of this city, Sulloway and Railroad Commissioner Sanborn of Franklin, Fellows of Manchester and other prominent democrats, have been in Washington the past week. If the object of their visit is accomplished it will be duly announced, at the proper time; otherwise the pilgrimage has no important political significance!

In the United States Circuit court on Saturday Judge Colt fixed upon Saturday, Feb. 6th, as the time for hearing Marcus P. Norton's motion for new trials in the cases against Dover, etc., in the Knibb's patent claim.

Before United States Commissioner Hackett on Saturday, in the case against Lyman Clark of Winchester for attempting to defraud the revenue of the United States by concealing distilled cider brandy which had not been gauged, the respondent waived an examination and was held in $1000 bonds to appear at the Circuit court to be held in this city May 8th.

It is said that the Granite State Fire Insurance company have received about thirty thousand dollars in premiums. The annual meeting occurs on the 27th inst. There is considerable demand for the stock from persons outside the state, as it is regarded by shrewd business men as likely to be a profitable investment.

Mr. Editor: A writer in the Penny Post has ridiculed the officers attached to the navy yard tug Leyden, because that vessel has been in the dry dock for three months or so, and did not go to sea for the rescue of imperilled mariners when the great blow occurred. The fact is that the Leyden would only have proved a coffin for her officers and ship's company, had she put to sea in that storm; she is "a brute to handle," even under favorable circumstances, and workmen who have been employed on her declare that they could punch a hole thrpugh her anywhere. She could have done no good at sea, and was safe from doing any harm while in the dry dock; that is the best place for her. CALKING IRON.

In the supreme judicial court at Saco, last week, Asa H. Cheney and Sylvester Cheney of South Berwick were arraigned on a joint indictment for keeping a liquor nuisance in South Berwick. They pleaded guilty, and each was fined $100 and half costs, amounting to $140.17 each, which they paid.

AYER'S SUGAR CATHARTIC COATED PILLS

Headache, Nausea, Dizziness, and Drowsiness. They stimulate the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, to healthy action, assist digestion, and restore the appetite. They combine cathartic, diuretic, and tonic properties of the greatest value, are a purely vegetable compound, and may be taken with perfect safety, either by children or adults. E. L. Thomas, Framingham, Mass., writes: "For a number of years I was subject to violent Headaches, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. About a year ago I commenced the use of Ayer's Pills, and have not had a headache since." W. P. Hanisch, Gormley P. O., York Co., Ont., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for the last thirty years, and can safely say that I have never found their equal as a cathartic medicine. I am never without them in my house." C. D. Moore, Elgin, Ill., writes: "Indigestion, Headache, and Loss of Appetite, had so weakened and debilitated my system, that I was obliged to give up work. After being under the doctor's care for two weeks, without getting any relief, I began taking Ayer's Pills. My appetite and strength returned, and I was soon enabled to resume my work, in perfect health."

The senators have invited President Cleveland to come out from behind the civil service reform screen, and state that the great bulk of his appointments have been made under the Jacksonian doctrine that to the victors belong the spoils. After his nonsensical professions as to civil service reform it is rather a dose for Mr. Cleveland, but he will swallow it, and change his attitude from that of a reformer to the old fashioned democrat from whom his party have such great expectations.

Miss Kate Bayard, daughter of the secretary of state, died suddenly on Saturday afternoon while making her toilet to assist Miss Cleveland at a reception at the White House. She was about twenty-three years old, and assisted at her father's reception the previous night, in apparently good health.

The San Francisco Chronicle published the names of ladies in that city who would receive calls on New Year's day. It took several columns to get them on the list, but it showed the value of judicious advertising.

100 Doses

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUNNARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PERLE, Salem, Mass.

I wished Death would end my agony, my suffering from neuralgia was so great. I had terrible spells every two or three weeks before taking ATHLOPHOROS, which was a year ago last April, and have only had two since. Words can never express my relief."—So writes Mrs. C. N. Paige, Bellonville, Vt.

MAKING PICKLES.

"Well, Love, my poor child," said a dignified old gentleman, "I have looked your matters all over, and I must say I see nothing but starvation for you and your family."

"Well, father," replied a bright little woman of twenty-five years, "I've not the least idea of starving, nor of letting my family starve—not if God spares my health."

"You were always a brave child, Love, but this is a terrible crisis. It would be cruel in any one to taunt you now, but remember that I told you and George it was very imprudent for a man to marry till he had got something ahead in case of an emergency."

"I remember, father, that you thought I should be wiser to marry a man with a house and store, for whom I did not care, than to marry George, with four hundred pounds a year. But if I had the choice to make over again to-day, I should do just as I did then. I wouldn't change places with any woman on earth—even now."

"You are a faithful wife and a brave little woman, Love, but——"

"But what, father?"

"You can't live on in this way, child."

"But I will live, father, and live well, too, and take care of George and the babies."

"How."

Ah; that was the word that had been ringing in the heart of this brave little woman ever since her husband failed at his desk, and was brought home apparently dying. She knew she could rear the pillars of her domestic structure herself, but how?

"Well, Love, I will do what I can for you," said the old gentleman, "and—and—if it were only for you and the babies I should stay at office, come home and live as we do come there as you were four years ago; but, you know, the house is so small we have not room for four in it."

Love smiled a sad smile, and then said, perhaps a little provokingly—

"Four of us would occupy no more chambers than three; the babies are too little to sleep away from us at night. But if your house were twice as large, father, I could not take my husband's own little home away from him now that he is sick. I shall have to decide soon, and will let you know my plans."

The venerable old gentleman rose up, and with a high kerchief polished his already shining beaver, kissed Love patted the heads of the babies, and turned to go, saying—

"Keep up your good heart, child, and remember that the ravens fed Elijah."

"Well, I don't want them to feed me; I prefer to feed myself," replied the spunky little woman, who felt that it was rather hard in her father to discourage her, and then exhort her to keep up a good heart.

She loved the old man, although he was stiff and narrow in his views, and never forgot a slight offered his judgment. She followed him to the door, and said—

"Good-bye, father; give my love to mother," although her real mother, who would have found room enough in her heart and home for them all, had been for years in the grave.

It was twilight, and as the old gentleman was going down the steps, a young man came up.

"Ah, good-evening, good-evening," said the stout, good-natured hotel-keeper to both, and then added to Love, "here I am on the old borrowing business. My wife says she can't please the lawyers in court time since you and she changed pickles and honey. Old Squire Watts called out the minute he sat down to supper, 'Come, Bruce, borrow some of that 'ere neighbor's pickles for us!' Them pickles is a standing joke among them. Why can't nobody in town make pickles, and cats-up, and chow-chow like yours? My wife's a cook that can't be beat on bread, and meats, and pastry and cakes; but she ought to prentice herself to you on some things, I tell her."

Love, who had known Bruce all her life, smiled and said—

"I'll give you a jar with all my heart, Mr. Bruce, and that won't pay your wife for the nice things she has sent in to poor George. I have my cucumbers all ready now to make my next year's pickles, and I have yet two or three jars left."

"Suppose we make a bargain, Mrs. Burt. I'll buy two barrels of the best, London price, if you'll make 'em for me; and chow-chow and cats-up besides."

Love laughed, and the hotel keeper went with her to get the jar.

The old gentleman went down the street, whispering with a sigh—

"The Lord knows who is going to feed that family; I can't do it, for wife says I can't; and she knows everything, most. And poor Love is terribly obstinate."

Well, the hotel keeper ran back the next moment with his pickle jar, as happy as some men would have been to find a nugget of gold that size; for he had a rival who kept the old tavern, and he wanted to keep all the lawyers who came there to hold court as his customers.

Love had a long talk with her husband that night. The next day an old school friend, who had always been like a sister, came to stop with the sick man and look after the babies, and Love went to the city, ten miles away, in an early train, with a neat little basket in her hand.

If anyone had been near enough, when she put her little basket upon the platform of the station with such spirit, he might have heard her whisper—

"See if my family starves while I am alive and in my health!"

The day was lovely, and everybody on the cars and on the street looked cheerful and happy. Of course, there were

Everything Goes Wrong

In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of the body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weaknesses and overtension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

Easter this year falls on April 25th, the latest day on which it can possibly occur. The last council of Nice decreed that Easter shall be observed on the Sunday after the first full moon following March 21st; its earliest possible date, therefore, is March 22d, and since 1734 it has never been as late as it is this year. It will not fall again on April 25th until 1934. Ash Wednesday comes this year on March 10th.

My Family Doctor

For the last two years has been Sulphur Bitters, and until I began using them in may family, we had more or less sickness, and our doctor's bill has been very large. Since we began their use, we have had no doctor to pay, and three dollars invested in Sulphur Bitters has kept health in our family.—E. Knott, Postmaster, Waverly, Iowa.

The Presidential Succession.

The country is to be congratulated upon the fact that Congress has passed the presidential succession bill of Senator Hoar. The delay of the national legislature in this behalf has been inexcusable, and a feeling of relief will now be felt throughout the country. The act, which will without doubt receive the signature of the president, provides that in case of the removal, death, resignation or inability of both the president and vice president, the succession shall vest in the members of the cabinet in the following order: Secretary of state, secretary of the treasury, secretary of war, attorney general, postmaster general, secretary of the navy, secretary of the interior. The section of the present law providing for a special election is repealed. Should the duties of the presidential office devolve upon any member of the cabinet, he is to "act as president until the disability of the president or vice president is removed or a president shall be elected." The dangers and the disquietude which have been experienced under the law of 1792 have now been relieved. The succession follows so far as to make it in the nature of things an impossibility that there should be any question as to who is entitled to the office, or any doubt that there should be in existence a legal successor. The question also as to the term of office is apparently fully decided by the terms of the act. For this legislation Congress is entitled to the thanks of the nation.

Beer Statistics.

The internal revenue statistics for the year ending May 1st, 1885, show an increase in the sales of beer of 359,804 barrels over the previous year, or 1.3 per cent. The following table gives the production of beer in New England for the last two years, none being made in Maine or Vermont;

Mrs. Emma F. Spinney, widow of George Spinney of Eliot, died on the 16th inst. in Dover, N. H., where she was employed in the mills. She was thirty-two years old, and leaves a daughter of ten years. The Grand Army fair at Newmarket last week closed on the 15th inst., with a ball in the evening. About 2000 tickets were sold to the fair, and about $1000 was realized above all expenses. Several attractive prizes were disposed of by ticket, including a team valued at $300, which was won by Wilber Frost, $100 in cash, won by J. B. Griffin, and an easy chair, won by Mrs. T. Maguire.

Headache, Nausea, Dizziness, and Drowsiness. They stimulate the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, to healthy action, assist digestion, and increase the appetite. They combine cathartic, diuretic, and tonic properties of the greatest value, are a purely vegetable compound, and may be taken with perfect safety, either by children or adults. E. L. Thomas, Framingham, Mass., writes: "For a number of years I was subject to violent Headaches, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. About a year ago I commenced the use of Ayer's Pills, and have not had a headache since." W. P. Hannah, Gormley P. O., York Co., Ont., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for the last thirty years, and can safely say that I have never found their equal as a cathartic medicine. I am never without them in my house." C. D. Moore, Elgin, Ill., writes: "Indigestion, Headache, and Loss of Appetite, had so weakened and debilitated my system, that I was obliged to give up work. After being under the doctor's care for two weeks, without getting any relief, I began taking Ayer's Pills. My appetite and strength returned, and I was soon enabled to resume my work, in perfect health."

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.
"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.
"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.
"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEELE, Salem, Mass.

FRANCIS E. PARKER.

Francis E. Parker, Esq., one of the best-known lawyers in Boston, died Jan. 18th from heart disease induced by overwork, at the age of sixty-four years. He was a graduate of the Boston Latin school and of Harvard college, and for years had been executor of many large estates; on Friday last he finished settling the accounts of the estate of Harvey D. Parker He was a son of the late Rev. Nathan Parker, D. D., long pastor of the Unitarian church of this city, and was a liberal giver to that denomination and to charity all his life. He was unmarried.

A REGIMENTAL MEMENTO.

Messrs. Joshua B. Marston Charles W. Shannon and William Andrews, of this city, veterans of the 35th Reg't. Massachusetts Vol. Inf., the 20th reunion of which took place at Andover, Mass., on Sept. 17th of last year, have received pictures which were taken that day of the surviving members of the regiment who were present at the reunion. The photograph was taken with the veterans arranged in front of Andover city hall, and contains the likenesses of 250 men; it is a fine picture, and will be highly prized by the recipients as amemento of the largest gathering of the regiment since the war, and probably the largest one that ever will be held, as the number of survivors of the great contest is constantly decreasing, and more rapidly year by year as time advances. This is the only picture ever taken of any of the reunion of survivors of this regiment.

HARMONY GROVE--NEGLECTED GRAVES.

The Harmony Grove cemetery is a credit to Portsmouth. It has become indeed a city of the dead. In the year 1832 there were only three graves there. The place is so attractive on the whole, that a neglected burial lot is the more offensive to the sight. There are families buried there who evidently have no one left to care for the resting place of the dead. What shall be done in such cases?

There is the grave of John T. Tasker, formerly the teacher of the high school in this city, with his family beside him; the lot all overgrown with weeds and brambles, the grass not cut for years, and the stones leaning in all directions. Evidently there is no one left who has any care for the place. There are several other burial lots in the same unsightly condition, but the number is not so large as to make it difficult to have them made decent. Should not those who have the care of the grounds see that these blemishes are removed?

An old hat is specially bad in the window of a palace, and so these grounds, so finely laid out and so attractive, are specially disfigured by these repulsive, neglected places. When the spring opens let us see these places changed.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Charles S. Bayliss arrived on Monday afternoon at about four o'clock from New York via Gloucester, having been towed from the latter port by the tug Knickerbocker, of Bath, and took a berth at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf. She had a slight list on arriving, and shows rough usage, but is an able-looking boat. She has a new crew, her used-up former company having been sent to the marine hospital at Chelsea.

The schooner Moselle, from Turk's island, West Indies, with salt to E. F. Sise & Co., arrived at this port on Saturday, the 16th inst. Her predecessor on the same trip was not so lucky, going to pieces at Newport, R. I., in the great gale.

The schooner Henry Sutton, Rogers master, arrived at the Concord railroad wharf on Sunday, the 17th inst., from Newport News, Va., with 572 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker. She was just four weeks on the passage from Newport News to the lower harbor, having sailed Dec. 20th. She dodged along the coast from harbor to harbor all the way, and was safe in port during all the rough weather.

While one of the crew of the schooner Storm King was hauling his trawls in Ipswich bay, Monday afternoon, his dory was knocked over by a sea, and he forced to cling to her bottom. His vessel was a long way off, but fortunately the crew of the Cora Greenwood, Thos. Jameson master, were within sight, and cutting adrift from their trawls soon reached him and rescued him from his perilous situation, bringing him in here. Both the vessels named are winter fishing from this port.

The schooner E. A. Williams, for some time past lying aground on Four Tree island, came off in the evening on Monday to go on the ways at Kittery, having been temporarily planked up so as to float across the river.

The Dover Navigation Co. have contracted with the leading ship-building company of Bath, Me., for a schooner now on the stocks there and so near completion that she can be finished in March. The vessel is 133 1-2 feet keel, 33 1-2 feet beam, and ten feet depth of hold, and is calculated to carry between 700 and 750 tons of coal on a draught of twelve feet of water. The purchase price is $19,000, which is regarded as very low, the builders needing her berth to lay down a steamer. Capt. Benjamin E. Reynolds of Dover is to command her.

Mr. Editor: If the U. S. S. Leyden is such a poor boat as the ones who are placed in charge of her represent her to be, why do the yard officers who have control of her, allow such a craft to be kept in commission? What is she intended for? For pleasure parties of the officers and their friends, in summer, and her crew to do work for the yard officers in winter? INQUISITORE.

*We don't know that persons in charge of the Leyden say anything about her condition; the communication on the subject in the Chronicle of Monday was from a gentleman not connected with the ship, nor with the navy yard, nor with the government in any capacity save that of a citizen of the United States. All the same, we believe the Leyden is a poor thing, (this is merely our personal opinion,) and that had she been afloat instead of snug in the dry dock on the 9th inst., to have sent her to sea in the teeth of the tremendous gale and irregular, broken sea which prevailed that day would have been simply to send her crew to their graves.—Ed. Chronicle.

Mr. George W. Weeks of Greenland last week purchased of Mr. Freeman Sanborn of South Newmarket a pair of four-years-old steers which weighed thirty-seven hundred pounds.

The Times says: "Many quaint and original costumes are in course of preparation for the carnival at the Casino, Wednesday, the 20th."

ITCHING

Skin Diseases Instantly Relieved by Cuticura.

TREATMENT.—A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single application of CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure. Twice repeated daily, with two or three doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, to keep the blood cool, the perspiration pure and unirritating, the bowels open, the liver and kidneys active, will speedily cure Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Lichen, Pruritus, Scald-Head, Dandruff and every species of Itching, Scaly and Pimply Humors of the Scalp and Skin, when the best physicians and remedies fail.

ECZEMA ON A CHILD.

Your most valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES have done my child so much good that I feel like saying this for the benefit of those who are troubled with skin disease. My little girl was troubled with Eczema, and I tried several doctors and medicines, but did not do her any good until I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which speedily cured her, for which I owe you many thanks and many nights of rest. ANTON BOSMIER, EDINBURGH, IND.

TETTER OF THE SCALP.

I was almost perfectly bald, caused by Tetter of the top of the scalp. I used your CUTICURA REMEDIES about six weeks, and they cured my scalp perfectly, and now my hair is coming back as thick as it ever was. J. P. CHOICE, WHITEBORO', TEXAS.

COVERED WITH BLOTCHES.

I want to tell you that your CUTICURA RESOLVENT is magnificent. About three months ago my face was covered with blotches, and after using three bottles of RESOLVENT I was perfectly cured. FREDERICK MAITRE, 23 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

KNOW ITS VALUE.

All of your CUTICURA REMEDIES give very good satisfaction. The CUTICURA I especially recommend for the diseases for which it is used. I know from experience its value. DR. H. J. PRATT, MONTELLO, WIS.

BEST FOR ITCHING DISEASES.

One of our customers says your CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best he can find for itching of the skin. He tried all others and found no relief until he used yours. F. J. ALDRICH, Druggist, RISING SUN, O.

sick and lame and blind and deaf people, but heaven was keeping them out of her sight that day, and bringing before her happy grown folks and merry little ones.

The streets looked so clean, and the air seemed so pure, that she charged herself with having borne false witness against the beautiful, as she walked with a light heart through the principal streets, visiting first a store and then a hotel.

In each place she asked for the proprietor or the steward, opened her basket, and drew out three little glass jars of what the hotel keeper at home had called "sour thing." In one moment she told her business, and the necessity that brought her to it. Her cheerful face, her prompt manner and well-chosen words, gained the victory for her. She went back at night pledged to supply home-made pickles, catsup, and chowchow, for three hotels and five large grocories, and she whispered as she mounted the steps of her little home—

"I will show father whether or not we are going to starve!"

Her cheerful story of success did more for her poor, disheartened young husband than a peck of old-school pills or tiny new-school ones could have done. The very story of an old woman's poke bonnet, which was worn one-sided in the corner behind one eye, and of the silly airs of a bride, and of a boy with two guinea pigs buttoned into his jacket for safe transportation, really brightened the hope of life in his heart; and, after partaking of a nice supper prepared by their pretty friend, he said in a cheerful tone—

"Now, girls, I feel as if I was going to get about again, and this is the first time I have had any hope."

Love kept away from her father till she had visited two market gardens in the outskirts of the town, and engaged a great supply of cucumbers, onions, peppers and tomatoes, and had brought back the strong girl she had at first felt obliged to dismiss, to help her in her new work.

"But if you could only have seen the size of the old gentleman's eyes, and the style of money he got up, and heard his exclamations.

"Why, Love, you are crazy! What will your mother say? You surely forget that her first husband was president of the Lexington bank, and that I am cashier of it! Who ever heard of a bank officer's daughter making pickles for taverns and groceries?"

"Who ever heard of a bank officer's daughter sitting down and starving when trouble comes?" replied the lady.

"Why don't you teach music?"

"Because I don't know enough."

"You might keep a few very genteel—well, not just boarders, but friends who don't care to keep house, and who would pay largely."

"Where are they, and where's the house and furniture for them?"

"Oh, that's true, but you might—eh? or you might—eh?" and there his wits failed him! there are so few grand things that people can do, in the hope of cheating others into the belief that they are working for fun rather than from necessity. But soon the old gentleman added—"It was the truest words he ever uttered—I declare, I am afraid to go home, lest it has reached your mother's ears!"

The proud woman soon heard of it, and she talked angrily about what Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Colonel West and purse-proud Miss Allen would say; and she was almost inclined to think it would be better to give Love a hundred pounds than to be disgraced in society.

"Love wouldn't take any money," replied the old gentleman, whose attitude during the conversation was that of one caught in a cutting hailstorm without any umbrella.

"Dreadful independent for anybody that's penniless," cried the old lady.

Love and her stout helper went to work at once, and very soon the china closet and the neat little dressing-room were filled with glass jars, through which tiny green cucumbers and onions, and everything nice in that line, was peeping, or, as Love said, "Smiling on the family."

The business went on bravely, and in one year Love's husband, who was partially restored to health, forsook the bed and took charge of it, and she went back to the nursery—very good mother's place when duty or Providence does not call her out of it.

This is no pretty fiction to teach young folks that "where there's a will there's a way." It is the true story of a brave little woman, and we can tell you the street and number of a large store in a certain city, not far away, where her enterprising husband has built up a large business and made not a little money. He says if Love had never learned to make pickles, or had been too proud to make them for others, he should have been in the grave five years ago.

Who thinks loss of her for doing it?

Medical establishments for the cure of excessive corpulency have become quite common in Germany. Bismarck recently underwent a course of treatment at one of them.

Advice to Mothers.

If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. SCHLOTTERBECK'S

CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjustured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being paid to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $3.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to share in these profits should send for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

AFTER THE OPERA.

Frau Bucher climbed the last step of the attic-stairs, and found her young lodger still sewing by the light of a feeble lamp.

"Thekla child," she cried, "ain't you ready yet a while?" "Come in and sit down," the girl answered in pure sweetly-spoken German. "I'm almost through." "But you ain't had your supper yet," said Frau Bucher.

"I'm only going to have a bit of toast and some tea. You'll have a cup with me, won't you? Oh yes, but you must! Think how many cups of coffee I've been taking with you! Besides, it's so much more cosy and sociable than being alone."

"Ah, well," said Frau Bucher, laughing softly, "we don't go to the opera every night! This is what you call a spree—eh, Thekla?"

The girl smiled back at her, but her lips drooped slightly. She was thinking, poor child, of the time, when the opera was a part of her daily life. Ah, how they used to applaud, those Germans, when her father led the orchestra.

He had been dead three years, and that was eight years ago. But she could see it all now—the lights, the perfume, and the flowers, the ladies in costly attire nodding gaily to her, the maestro's daughter, and Felix.

"And what are these things for, anyhow?" asked Frau Bucher, picking up a little plush bag from a bright-colored pile that lay on the table.

"For opera-glasses," Thekla said, rising suddenly and beginning to bustle over her little supper. "I make them for a store down town. You've no idea how well they sell."

"Sol" said Frau Bucher pleasantly. "That is good. But why do you sit here sewing yet a while, when there are lots of good men, Thekla?"

"I hate men!" the girl answered fiercely. "I shall never marry anyone, Mrs. Bucher."

"That's all foolishness, child. You're young yet a while; but every girl has a lover some time."

"I've had mine—with other evils—long ago."

"And he didn't turn out right?" cried Frau Bucher.

Thekla shook her head.

"Well, well!"

"It was long ago—in Berlin," she said; "long before my father fell ill, and the man to whom he trusted the publication of his operas robbed him of the copyright. It was long before we thought of emigrating to America. My father was famous then, and making money fast."

"And this young fellow," Frau Bucher pursued. "He didn't steal, did he?"

"Oh, no!" the girl answered bitterly. "He did nothing worse than play me false. He deserted me, without a word, in the hour of my greatest need; left my father, whom he called his best friend, to die in want in a foreign country; and he was rich, too. I did not want his charity, but——"

She burst into tears, and Frau Bucher leaned over to pat her on the shoulder.

"There, there," she said soothingly, "don't cry, child! Don't think about those things. What's the use? Think about the opera. Won't we two be grand sitting there like fine ladies tonight—eh, Thekla?"

"It is my father's opera," the girl said, drying her tears, and lifting her head proudly. "He wrote it, Mrs. Bucher—every note; and oh, there are such lovely choruses! First, there's a lot of soldiers, you know——"

In a few moments she was deep in the plot of the opera, giving the airs as she went along, till Frau Bucher cried:

"Why, you know it already!"

"I know every note of it," Thekla said, pushing her toast aside barely tasted, "and I love it all. To-night I shall hear it again for the first time in six years."

"But aren't you going to eat anything?"

"No; I am not hungry. Come, we must be going. The people are crowding in, and there are no reserved seats in the gallery," she said with a faint smile.

She was wondering what that gay audience would do if they were suddenly informed that the daughter of the man who wrote their favorite opera was sitting in the gallery.

The house was crowded, and as Thekla took her seat her heart bounded, for she saw that a score of the opera, as it stood on the leader's stand in the orchestra, was resting on a pillow of flowers, that bore the words:

"In Memoriam, Berlin, May 9, 18—"

Someone else remembered, then! Someone remembered that happy night of her father's triumph! There was someone here who had been there!

"Oh-h-h!" exclaimed Frau Bucher, in indescribable tones, as the curtain rose to the notes of a stirring military chorus.

Thekla leaned over eagerly. For a brief spell she was happy.

Entranced by the sound of her father's music, she sat through the first act like one in a dream. When the curtain fell, she turned with a sympathetic smile to a seedy-looking musician, who had been devouring the score through a lorgnette.

"Will you lend me your glass for a moment, sir?" she said politely.

And when the request was granted, she looked for the first time at the house.

The orchestra occupied her some time, and then there was a fair girl sitting in the lower-box, richly attired, and at the back of her chair stood a gentleman in a faultless full-dress costume. It was Count Edelstadt.

A low smothered cry escaped Thekla's lips, and she grew deadly white.

A London paper, the St. James Gazette, says: "The queen's speech, to be delivered to parliament on Thursday, will denounce the national league as an unlawful organization, and ask parliament to support a bill either for regulating the league or suppressing it."

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, but receiving no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. He immediately began to improve; in two months his rheumatism was all gone, and he sailed in command of his vessel a well man. Hood's Sarsaparilla will help you. Sold by all druggists.

The Telephone Question.

Perhaps some of the gentlemen who supported the democratic ticket in the last presidential campaign because they believed Mr. Blaine was not all that could be desired in a public functionary, are better pleased at the attitude of the democratic administration in the telephone contest. The anti-Bell party projected the capturing of a sufficient number of prominent democratic politicians who should carry the stocks of the opposition and secure the interest of democratic officials in the controversy. What would have appeared decidedly wicked, to a Boston holder of Bell telephone stock, in Mr. Blaine a few months ago, we infer is all correct now that the reformers are straightening out the patents alleged to have been fraudulently issued. If there is any especial evidence that Mr. Cleveland's cabinet officers have conducted themselves in regard to the investigation of this patent business, any better than Mr. Blaine's advisers would have done, we fail to see it. The scheme to bring the aid of the government in the attack on the Bell patent, and help out the investors in the opposition companies, seems to have been adroitly concocted. The innocent Bell stockholders in some instances in Massachusetts walked up and voted the ticket to the success of which they had pledged their best efforts, and even subscribed to the campaign fund of the party whose manipulators had all along desired this scheme to be consummated when they had obtained possession of the administration of the affairs of the country.

No Scramble Just Here.

The president seems to find great difficulty in securing the right men to fill the offices of assistant United States treasurers at Boston and New York. To a man who would make a good official in these positions the filling a bond of $400,000 is not more agreeable than is the feeling of responsibility for the vast sums for which he is the custodian. The former treasurer in New York ceased to act because his term of office had expired. Mr. Kennard at Boston would have a successor if a man of the right stamp would accept his place, but men who want that kind of an office and are likely to be appointed are not plenty in either party.

Rear Admiral Jouett, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, reports to the navy department from Savanilla bay, December 22d, that he arrived there that day in the Tennessee, having left Curacao under sail on December 20th. The Galena was at Savanilla bay with the United States Minister to Bogoto on board. The health of both vessels was good.

Rear Admiral Davis, commanding the Asiatic station, reports to the navy department under date of Woosung, China, December 9th, that the repairs of the Palos were nearly completed, and that before sailing for Chemulpo to relieve the Marion, she would have a trial trip and be inspected. The Alert would sail about January 1st, for the ports to the southward, reaching Yokoasma April 1st. The flagship Trenton would sail soon for Yokohama, and the Marion on a cruise to the southern ports among the islands. The Ossipee was to be sent from Yokohama to the Caroline islands. Communication had recently been opened between Seoul, Corea, and the frontier of China on the north, completing the connection to Tientsin.

The department of state has transmitted to the secretary of the navy a report from the consular agent at Wellington, which is approved by the United States consul at Auckland, N. Z., describing the visit of the U. S. S. Enterprise at Wellington last October, and expressing the opinion that the occasional presence of a war ship carrying the American flag tends to develop a closer social and commercial intercourse between America and that colony.

Senator Hale of Maine has introduced a bill to reimburse the officers and crew of the Tallapoosa for losses incurred by them through the sinking of the steamer in Vineyard sound on the way from this navy yard to Washington.

The carpets for the Rockingham house arrived on Monday from Boston, and workmen from that city commenced putting them down on Tuesday.

Mr. Daniel Mason bought last week 14,000 feet of pine timber in the vicinity of Sturgeon creek, Eliot, which will be brought down river in the spring. He has recently purchased a quantity of standing timber, and the land it stands on, at Greenland; and on Thursday last bargained for a large stock of oak timber at Newington. He has 200,000 feet of logs outlying in the adjacent country, which he has been precluded from bringing in to his mill by the lack of snow for sledding.

The Times says that "Capt. Charles W. Frisbee, of the schooner Adeliza, is trying to get a schooner for the coasting trade taken up in this vicinity, to be built by Mr. Wm. F. Fernald."

Sailors Who Don't Go to Sea.

A naval officer, in speaking of an associate, said the other day to your correspondent: "He is a good fellow, but he is a Coburger." When asked to explain the term, he replied: "There is a certain class of men in the navy who have always held soft berths, and whom it seems impossible to dislodge. They are official favorites, and we call them 'Coburgers.' There are scores of them in the navy department here. I know of one who has attained the rank of full commander, and whose boast is that he 'never stood a watch.' He was graduated from the naval academy near the close of the war, and promotion was actually so rapid that his boast is the truth. He has been floating around Washington ever since I can remember, and will be here when I am gone. There is a choice assortment of soft things in connection with the judge advocate general's bureau. Judge Advocate General Remey himself has a pretty easy time of it. He is a captain in the marine corps, but his total sea duty is very small. He has been so long in Washington that people have almost forgotten his real rank. I know of another case which is even worse. A certain officer, now stationed at the League island navy yard, hasn't been more than twenty-four hours' ride from Washington for the last sixteen years. The navy department here is full of just such people. How do they manage it? Petticoat influence. I can mention five women in this town who can keep me here until I'm a rear admiral if they only say the word. If Secretary Whitney wants to reform with a great big 'R,' let him look over the sea service of the men about him, and he don't want to overlook Commodore Walker's record either.—Washington Cor. Boston Traveller.

Headache, Nausea, Dizziness, and Drowsiness. They stimulate the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, to healthy action, assist digestion, and increase the appetite. They combine cathartic, diuretic, and tonic properties of the greatest value, are a purely vegetable compound, and may be taken with perfect safety, either by children or adults. E. L. Thomas, Framingham, Mass., writes: "For a number of years I was subject to violent Headaches, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. About a year ago I commenced the use of Ayer's Pills, and have not had a headache since." W. P. Hannah, Gormley P. O., York Co., Ont., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for the last thirty years, and can safely say that I have never found their equal as a cathartic medicine. I am never without them in my house." C. D. Moore, Elgin, Ill., writes: "Indigestion, Headache, and Loss of Appetite, Indeed weakened and debilitated my system. Yet I was obliged to give up work. After being under the doctor's care for two weeks, without getting any relief, I began taking Ayer's Pills. My appetite and strength returned, and I was soon enabled to resume my work, in perfect health."

SUPREME COURT - - CLARK J.

The January term of this court began at Exeter on Tuesday. The attendance of members of the bar was unusually small, and there appeared to be but little business to be done by the court. A recess was had from twelve o'clock to half-past two, and a few divorce cases seemed to be all that was in order for hearing. The indications are that the session will be brief.

The following officers of Rising Star Commandry, No. 184, United Order of the Golden Cross, of Kittery Point, have been installed, by Horace Mitchell, Jr., P. G. C.: Robert Billings, P. N. G.; Fred D. Grace, N. C.; Mrs. A. T. Blake, V. N. C.; Mrs. Hattie J. Phillips, K. of R.; J. F. Patch, W. T.; Mrs. Sarah D. Marden, W. H.; Mrs. M. T. Billings, W. I. G.; George F. Tobey, W. O. G.; F. A. Billings, Reuben Mitchell and R. B. Billings, trustees.

The salvation army made a raid from this city to Eliot, Friday evening, and had a meeting, or a war, or a drill, or whatever they term it, in the Advent chapel at Eliot neck. The result was apparently satisfactory, as the army went over again on Monday evening.

A course of dances, with instruction for learners, recently closed at Brooks' hall, South Eliot, having been very well attended. Messrs. Shapleigh and Leibmann were the managers, and music was furnished by Turner's quadrille band, of this city.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter, disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming 'smaller by degrees, and beautifully less.' I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

VITAL STATISTICS OF NEWMARKET.

There were fifty-nine deaths in Newmarket last year, against thirty-nine in 1884. Six persons died at eighty years or more, as follows: Elizabeth W. Drew, 87 years, 7 months and 29 days; Sarah F. Norton, 86 years, nine months and 18 days; Valentine Smith, 84 years and 10 months; Ann Willey, 82 years; Reuben French, 93 years and 5 months; Mary Lewis, 84 years. There were seven deaths of persons aged between seventy and eighty years, but only one died between the ages of sixty and seventy. Of the total number of deaths, twenty-four were of children under ten years of age, seventeen of them being of French Canadian parentage. The number of births in Newmarket in 1885 was fifty-three.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Jan. 19th.

Deacon Joseph Dow has been confined to his room for some weeks, having taken a] severe cold while visiting the family of the late Rev. Sereno Abbott at Andover, Mass.

Mr. Soule was found on the floor of his residence on Saturday morning, having died some hours before, it is supposed from an overdose of opium. His mother and family were absent from home.

Rev. Dr. DeLancey delivered the third lecture in the free course under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union last Wednesday evening before a very large audience. Subject, "Law as the conservator of the moral and social interests of the people, as well as of civil liberty itself."

The Methodist and Baptist churches are holding a series of united services, with promise of lasting good. A spirit of earnest, heartfelt piety,—a deep and tender unction, as the French would call it, pervades the meetings. Rev. Messrs. Copp and Merrill, the pastors, are happily adapted to such a work, and labor in helpful harmony.

Mr. Walter Drake filled his ice house from Bride's hill millpond last week, the ice being thirteen inches thick.

Mrs. Joseph Palmer has passed gently to her final rest. She was a highly respected Christian lady, and aged ninety years. **

A GOOD TIME IN ELIOT.

One of the merriest dancing parties which ever assembled in South Eliot, Me., met in Brooks' hall on Monday evening last, the occasion being a "fancy dress masquerade party." About seventy-five invitations were extended, to which a very general response was made, and the grand march, led by W. H. Staples, was participated in by about thirty-five couples. The variety and elegance of the costumes mingling in the varied changes of the march produced a pleasing and gorgeous effect.

It is impossible to do justice to all the costumes and characters in our limited time and space. Among those most deserving of mention was a Highland costume worn by Mrs. Herbert Spinney; one worn by Miss Mary Lizzie Spinney, representing a military officer's daughter; Mrs. J. C. Lydston and Mrs. Addie Plaisted appeared as "Night," Mrs. W. H. Staples as "Winter," Mrs. Linville Remick as "Union," Mrs. Howard Spinney as "Queen of Hearts," Miss Mamie Remick as a "Tambourine Girl," Miss May K. Paul as "Topsy;" Miss Alice Adams wore a very effective "Gilt-edged" suit, with cap and slippers to match; Mrs. Chas. Foye wore a Spanish costume, and Mrs. George Shapleigh a "Domino." Misses Abbie and Gracie Remick looked unusually lovely in their attractive summer attire, but it was several times remarked within hearing of the writer that the handsome, delicate dress worn by Miss Fannie Adams in imitation of a French damsel was "entitled to the biscuit."

Comparatively few of the gentlemen present appeared in fancy-dress suits. Among those who did was Dr. Willis, who looked grand in his full regimentals. S. Adlington personated "Oscar Wilde." W. H. Staples and Chas. Foye appeared as clowns, and made lots of sport. Mr. J. C. Lydston wore a zouave suit, and the Bartlett boys appeared in dominoes.

Chauncy and Mortimer Hoyt furnished the music. The morning hours began to dawn before the party separated, and when it did it was with feelings of sorrow that an occasion which had been so much enjoyed was so soon over. X.

MARITIME NOTES.

A despatch of the 18th inst., from Rockland, Me., says: "The schooner St. Elmo, Capt. Frank Sprague, sailed into this port this morning. The St. Elmo is one of the Rockland fleet that had not been reported since the gale of the 9th inst., and was given up as lost. The schooner had been lying in Portsmouth lower harbor, and was unharmed."

The schooner Grace K. Green, of this port, rode out the great gale of the 8th and 9th insts. off Plymouth, Mass., having arrived there when the gale was at its height, with her jibs blown away. Had not her anchors held and her chains been in good condition, she would have gone ashore. As it was, her crew took all their effects on deck, in order to be ready in case of an emergency.

The fishing schooner Mabel Kenniston, of Gloucester, one of the haddockers which were reported missing after the Christmas gale, has arrived home safely.

The Excelsior Shooting club, of Newington, recently had a shooting match, five marksmen on a side, one side being captained by Frank P. Coleman and the other by Levi J. Cole. Capt. Cole's side won, with 296 points, Capt. Coleman's side scoring only 224 points. The list of game killed is not published, lest peradventure it might turn out that some of the mighty hunters had inadvertently blown a hole in the game laws of New Hampshire; but it is alleged (by envious persons not belonging to the club) that some of the shots missed, on both sides, were wonderful to behold. The losing side gave the winners a supper on Friday evening, to which about twenty sat down, incuding invited guests; the supper itself was all that could be asked, and the occasion was further enlivened by music, and by speeches from the captains of the two contesting fives of the club, and from Capt. Garland and Mr. James Drew. It was a very pleasant affair.

Hon. Frank Jones arrived home from Washington on Tuesday morning.

She knew him instantly—handsome and courtly as ever. And that girl over whom he was bending so devotedly—ah, something in the girl's heart seemed to snap!

"Thekla child, what's the matter?" cried Frau Bucher, shaking her slightly.

But the lights were dancing away, and the opening strains of the second act were swallowed up in the empty silence of unconsciousness.

"I told you you was a workin' too hard yet," said Frau Bucher some time afterwards, when she sat on the edge of Thekla's bed, chiding her gently for taxing her strength too far.

The girl only shook her head. She lay quite still, but her heart was in a tumult.

The opera was over, and the people were coming out. They knew and thought nothing of Thekla, save to wonder who that woman was who fainted in the beginning of the second act, and caused such a distracting noise in the gallery.

"It was very unfortunate!" Count Edelstadt observed to his companion. "That vesper-song was spoiled entirely. Ah, Miss Irwin, see what I have done; pushed the bottom out of your new opera-bag!"

"You naughty man! Those glasses won't go in that bag; they're too large. They're mamma's, you see. But never mind; I guess I can mend it."

"No," he said, putting the bag in his pocket; "I'll get you a new one. I'm sorry, but—— Ah, here is your carriage."

He went home that night in a dreamy mood, for the familiar airs of that dear old opera were haunting him.

"Eight years ago?" he mused, as he took Miss Irwin's opera-bag from his pocket and looked at it idly. "operabags were not in fashion then. Pretty little thing, but not very strong. Stiffened with writing-paper," he added, examining the bag. "Eh, what's this? Whoever made this has been using up some old letters."

A man's curiosity is fully equal to a woman's, and Count Edelstadt was not above ripping the bag open to find out what was written on this scrap of paper.

It proved to be a letter-head, reading:

Lorgnette and Gay, Opticians,
No. 65 Oliver street.

Then below, in a clerk's hand, was following part of a letter:

"Miss Thekla M——, 120 Brown St., City.
"DEAR MISS—There is no extra order for opera-bags to go out in——"

The rest was cut off, but that did not concern Count Edelstadt.

He leaped to his feet. Could it be possible that he had found her, after all these years? His first love, Thekla—his promised wife! Would the morning never dawn, that he might go and seek her?

Thekla was sitting, the next day, very listlessly by her fireside, when there came a bounding step on the stairs and an eager knock.

"Pardon me!" said the glad voice of one who paused on the threshold. "Frau Bucher told me to come right up. Thekla darling! don't you know me? I am——"

"Felix!"

"Yes, yes!" he cried clasping her in his arms. "Where have you been hiding? I have sought you so long!"

"But you never came to see us after——"

"Steinmetz told me you had gone away, and he could not give me your address. I waited to hear from you, and when you never wrote, I thought——"

"That was false! Steinmetz knew very well where we were, but he had stolen my father's operas, and he tried to keep anyone from finding it out."

"I heard that afterwards, and I found out that you had come to America. But I have tried so often to find you; and oh, Thekla, I have been so unhappy!"

"Then you did not forget!" she faltered.

"Forget!" he echoed; but his only answer was to toss his arms about her and lay his cheek tenderly against hers. "Dearest—always!" he murmured. "My poor little girl! what you must have suffered. "Oh, if that villain Steinmetz——"

"He is dead," Thekla said gently, "and it cannot matter now. I can bear anything, Felix, with you!"

A few days later, Miss Irwin received a very handsome new opera-bag and a superb pair of gold-mounted opera-glasses, "With the compliments of the Count and Countess of Edelstadt."

English journals record the late voyage of a large steamer, owned in London, which has been used to turn petroleum. Good time was made, and general satisfaction is expressed with the experiment. The consumption of oil on the voyage was a little over eight gallons per hour, costing about £1 per day, while the cost of coal for that period is calculated to be £7. Besides the saving in coal, a great saving will be effected in labor.

SCHLOTTERBECK'S

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectus and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier." medicine I ever found that helped me at all is ATHLOPHOROS, and I have not had the Rheumatism since I took it."—EDWIN SEARS, Provincetown, Mass.

The Only

A professor in a medical college once said to his class "put your hand in a vice, turn the screw until the pain is all you can bear, and that's rheumatism; turn the screw more, and that's neuralgia—and gentlemen, the medical profession knows no cure for either." That was before the discovery of ATHLOPHOROS quickly cure both rheumatism and neuralgia, and many physicians use it regularly—frankly admitting that they can prescribe nothing else so effective.

Many persons have tried so many so-called remedies, without benefit, that they have lost faith to try more, but it is worth your while to try Athlophoros, if you have any doubts as to its value write for names of parties in your own State who have been cured by its use.

Ask your druggist for Athlophoros. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it by no means let him persuade you to take something else, but order at once from us as directed.

MIDGET LOCOMOTIVES.

Little Jolting Steam-Tugs that Do Mules' Work on Plantations.

"It does jolt a bit," said a man who was riding in a cross-town bobtail car Saturday, when the car bumped and swayed over the tracks of an avenue road; "but if you want to have some fun in this line that exceeds the sport of riding on a log-wagon over a corduroy road you should get a job as engineer on a plantation locomotive."

"Where had I better apply?" we asked.

"Down on some of the southern plantations for the genuine article, but you can find counterparts in Pennsylvania and Michigan and northwestern Ohio. You don't need any skill beyond that required to hang on when she wobbles. I suppose that very few people have any idea of the number of small locomotives in use in this country. They are driving the mule out of business entirely. The regular plantation locomotive is a midget beside an elevated railway motor. The elevated motors weigh from 18 to 22 tons, while the midget weighs 3, and it is used on rails that weigh 12 pounds to the yard. The cylinders are only 10 inches long, and the diameter is a trifle greater than the breadth of my hand. Very frequently these locomotives are run over wooden rails. There is a 4-mile road at Summerville, S. C., that uses timbers 4 inches square instead of iron. People generally suppose that the old-fashion iron strap laid on a stringer went out of fashion years ago, but a lumber road near Savannah, 8½ miles long, has that same old strap, and it is a mighty bad road, too.

"In laying a wood railroad the ties are notched so that the rail sets down about two inches into the tie. The inner side of the notch is perpendicular, and the outer edge slants away so that the notch is wider at the bottom than at the top. Then when the rail is laid wedges are driven in beside it and under the edge of the notch, thus keeping the rails from turning over or spreading. Sugar maple with the heart up makes the best rails. Sometimes two-inch strips of maple are laid on soft-wood stringers. These roads are used for getting out lumber and logs chiefly. Very little grading is done. Cribs of logs are laid up instead of trestles, and the ordinary irregularities of common level land are overcome by blocking up the ends of ties with all sorts of logs and stumps. I know of one road that runs across a low bit of ground on the stumps of trees that were sawed off at the right height. The ground under these roads becomes soft mud when it rains, and the way these little locomotives snake a train of logs through the clearing with the mud slushing over everything within ten rods of the track is a caution. On the foot-board of such a machine is where you can see jolting.

"As fast as the available timber is cut on one tract of land the road is shifted to a new one. The engine on the road at Summerville runs from ten to twenty times over its four-mile road every day, burns 1½ cords of wood in doing it, and hauls out 14,000 feet of logs of from fifty-five to sixty tons. It took the place of twenty mules, and is said to pay for itself every year. Some of the little engines burn less fuel than that. There is a road 3½ miles long at Pensacola, Fla., on which the engine burns only one-third of a cord of wood in its daily service of thirty miles. There are no curves on this road.

"These little engines are not confined to wood for fuel. As lumbermen, they burn wood because the wood costs little or nothing. As genuine plantation engines, used for transporting cotton or sugar or supplies across the country, they frequently burn refuse dry-pressed sugar-cane. In a different form, but with the same diminutive cylinders, they are used in coal-mines for hauling cars, and burn either soft or hard coal on coke. In coal-mines the smallest sizes they are only ten feet long over all. For use in mines they are sometimes only 4½ feet high and 5 feet wide.

A few bushels of coal and a few pails of water keep them running all day. One of these moles in a coal mine at Brookfield, O., pulls twenty cars, weighing nearly three-quarters of a ton each, up a grade 1,360 yards long, that rises at the rate of 105 feet to the mile. And yet any good athletic schoolboy could jump over the engine without drawing a second breath. Curiously enough, these little locomotives, that completely fill the tunnels through which they run, serve as ventilators, forcing the air ahead of them and drawing it in after them, the same as a pump-plunger draws water into a pump and forces it out again.

"In the mines, of course, iron or steel rails are used. Iron is really cheaper than wood in any locality. The wood rail needs constant care. When it is wet the locomotive can not draw half a load, and in the north it is hard to keep clear of ice."

"What does it cost to buy and run one of these midget locomotives?"

"The first cost of the outfit depends altogether on the kind of a road and the kind of service required. There is one road down south where the engine cost $3,000. The wooden road cost $450 a mile for the timber delivered along the line. To lay and grade it cost nearly as much more. The oil and repairs to the engine have cost $30 a year. The cost of cutting the wood for fuel was $60 a year. The engineer got $450 a year for running the machine, and the boy who worked the switches, coupled the cars, and made himself generally useful got $180. Allowing 8 per cent. interest on the investment the cost of that engine was less than $1,000 a year. The lumberman found that it cost him 30 cents per one thousand feet to deliver his

Everything Goes Wrong

In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of the body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weaknesses and overtension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

John Teemer, the oarsman, has forwarded $500 to the Cincinnati Enquirer as a forfeit for a single-scull race with any oarsman in the world, Hanlan or Gaudaur preferred, for from $1000 to $5000. He offers Beach of Australia $1000 as expenses to come to America and row.

My Family Doctor

For the last two years has been Sulphur Bitters, and until I began using them in my family, we had more or less sickness, and our doctor's bill has been very large. Since we began their use, we have had no doctor to pay, and three dollars invested in Sulphur Bitters has kept health in our family.—E. Knott, Postmaster, Waverly, Iowa.

The New State.

Judge Moody, sent from Dakota to represent that "state" in the United States senate, has been admitted to the floor of the senate. Judges Edgerton and Moody, with the rest of the Dakota delegation, had an interview with President Cleveland by appointment on the 19th, and formally presented the claims of that territory for admission into the Union of the states, with a view of securing his aid and co-operation in attaining that end. The president showed a decided interest in the subject, many features of which, as stated by the spokesman of the delegation, he said were new to him, and in the course of an informal conversation remarked that the question should be impartially considered from a judicial standpoint of right and justice, without regard solely to its partisan aspects. He impressed the delegation with the belief that he proposed to treat it on that basis. He assured them that he would give the matter careful consideration, and would do what he thought right in the premises. The delegation thanked him for the interest he had shown in their cause, and departed well pleased with the interview. There are 263,000 American citizens in that portion of Dakota territory which seeks admission as a state.

The Presidential Succession Bill a Law.

President Cleveland on the 19th inst. approved the act providing for the performance of the duties of the presidential office in case of the removal, death or disability of both the president and vice president.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Jan. 19th.

Putnam Brothers, expressmen and also mail carriers between Portsmouth and York, lost a valuable horse from one of their teams, Wednesday, the 13th inst. While en route from Portsmouth the horse fell in the road near Wherren's corner, North Kittery, and in a short time died. He was apparently in good health when he left the stable in the morning.

Rev. Eugene E. Colburn, pastor of the 2d Christian church at the village preached an able sermon in the 1st Methodist church at North Kittery on Sunday forenoon last, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Perry Chandler, who had been called to Augusta upon the death of Mrs. Chandler's father.

Repairs are being made to the railing of the mill bridge over Spruce creek in North Kittery.

The condition of the roads during the past week have been anything but good, about as many going on wheels as on runners, with no choice. Pedestrians found the travelling very hard and rough, except on Sunday, which was decidedly the reverse.

Morrill Lodge of Good Templars celebrated its third anniversary on the 13th inst., by a social party, consisting of its members and invited guests; confectionary, cake and coffee were served as refreshments, good vocal and instrumental music was furnished by the members and friends of the order, and all had a first-class social time.

There seems to be a little controversy among the Kittery scribes of the Biddeford Journal about the names of Spruce Creek and North Kittery; and one writer, signing himself or herself "Spruce Creek," asks why the name should be changed. We were not aware of any change in the name of the creek. "S. C." states that over 200 years ago our ancestors found game for many a dinner in the thick woods by which this region was then covered; also that after the institution of a church there, the old warrants for town meetings used to designate it as the middle or Spruce Creek parish; and in 1647 and '48 the settlements were incorporated and called Kittery. Spruce creek is the name of a narrow, crooked and very muddy stream of water which runs up through a portion of Kittery from the ocean, and is a great resort for amateur fishermen to angle for smelts without any danger of catching anything but a cold, and we do not know of any one who wants to change the name. North Kittery is the name of a beautiful little village situated among the hills in the northern part of our town (Pullet hill is one of the hills;) it is essential to the residents there that it be called North Kittery to designate it from other parts of the town, and it is proper that it should be. We have Kittery Depot, Kittery Foreside, Kittery Point, and why not North Kittery? Each have a post-office of their own,—and we expect to have one soon, which will establish the name beyond a doubt. "S. C." should remember that these are not antiquarian times, if perhaps they are Jeffersonian, and that the present generation are entirely out of the woods, and were, long before the fusion campaign; and they get their game in an easier way than following in the ruts of their ancestors.

Mr. Fabyan P. Drake died at his home in North Kittery on Monday morning, the 18th inst., aged forty-two years and ten months, after a long and painful illness. Mr. Drake was for several years an engineer on the Boston & Albany railroad, and resided in South Boston; and it is less than a year ago that he gave up work, and moved his family to Kittery, thinking the change would be a benefit to him. For a time it seemed as though he was gaining a little, but the disease had too strong a hold upon him to yield, and for the past few weeks, in spite of tender, watchful care, he has failed rapidly, until death relieved his suffering. Mr. Drake was a native of North Hampton, N. H., and son of Mr. Samuel Drake, now of Exeter. He was an exemplary man, a kind and loving husband and father, and will be greatly missed among his friends and associates. He leaves a widow, a sister of Mrs. Albert S. Wilson of this town, and daughter of the late Dea. David Elkins of Hampton, N. H., who with two children and many friends deeply mourn their loss.

SUB ROSA.

At the drawing of prizes at the Grand Army fair in Haverhill, Mass., on the 19th inst., the principal prize, $1,000 cash, was taken by ticket 909, held by G. W. Grant of Kennebunk.

The Typothetæ of New York celebrated the 108th anniversary of the birth of Ben. Franklin by a dinner at Delmonico's on Monday evening, the 18th inst. Mr. E. C. Stedman made a graceful speech in replying for "the authors," and Hon. H. O. Houghton, the widely-known publisher, of Boston, responded for that sometimes criticised, but after all generally liberal set, "the publishers."

AYER'S SUGAR CATHARTIC COATED PILLS

Headache, Nausea, Dizziness, and Drowsiness. They stimulate the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, to healthy action, assist digestion, and increase the appetite. They combine cathartic, diuretic, and tonic properties of the greatest value, are a purely vegetable compound, and may be taken with perfect safety, either by children or adults. E. L. Thomas, Framingham, Mass., writes: "For a number of years I was subject to violent Headaches, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. About a year ago I commenced the use of Ayer's Pills, and have not had a headache since." W. P. Hamsh, Gormley P. O., York Co., Ont., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for the last thirty years, and can safely say that I have never found their equal as a cathartic medicine. I am never without them in my house." C. D. Moore, Elgin, Ill., writes: "Indigestion, Headache, and Loss of Appetite, had so weakened and debilitated my system, that I was obliged to give up work. After being under the doctor's care for two weeks, without getting any relief, I began taking Ayer's Pills. My appetite and strength returned, and I was soon enabled to resume my work, in perfect health."

A SURPRISE.

In Exeter, about noon on the 19th inst., twelve deputy sheriffs armed with search warrants raided every liquor shop in the town, and were successful in each place. In the afternoon twelve liquor sellers were before the police court; seven of them pleaded guilty, and paid fines amounting with the costs to from $56 to $72 each, over $400 being paid in. The others waived examination, and were held for the supreme court in April. The complaints were made by Miss Abby E. McIntire, of the Woman's Temperance League.

THE DEVIL'S AUCTION.

Of the spectacular extravaganza which is to be performed in Music hall on Saturday evening the New Orleans Times-Democrat says:

"The Devil's Auction" is one of those spectacles of the "Black Crook" class, in which a bit of love story serves as the vehicle for the display of gorgeous scenery, handsome ballets and gorgeous transformations. In artistic beauty it far excels anything of the same character we have had here, and all the scenery is not only appropriate but rarely painted and gotten up with elegant taste. The costumes are unique and rich, and all the paraphernalia showy and artistic.

The scedes include a haunted dell, a vale in Normandy, a Chinese festival scene, subterranean cavern, etc., and there is a grand ballet dance in each act. Reserved seat tickets now on sale at Goodrich's.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 20th.

John Fox, charged with breaking and entering a freight car with intent to steal therefrom, was discharged. He swore he only intended to steal a ride, and there was no evidence to the contrary.

THE NAVY YARDS.

Commodore T. D. Wilson, chief of the bureau of construction and repair of the navy department, in his late annual report to the secretary of the navy reiterates his earnest recommendations that the several navy yards be at once put in condition for the building of iron or steel ships. From his report we clip the following:

The bureau has again asked for an appropriation of $150,000 to enable it to purchase some of the most necessary tools to equip the league island, Boston, Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Mare island navy yards for the purpose of building and repairing iron and steel ships. With the exception of the need of a few of the improved modern tools for these purposes, and the erection of plate and angle-iron furnaces, there is no private establishment in this country which has better facilities, in all respects, for steel-ship building than the yards mentioned, and few which have as good.

The Brooklyn navy yard is now in condition to commence and carry on, with some rapidity, the building of steel ships. The greatest efforts should be made to put all the other yards in the same condition with as much dispatch as possible.

The government has means and appliances for carrying on all kinds of work connected with building, repairing, fitting, and equipping vessels of war which no private establishment could afford to have, and the character of the work done in its yards has never been questioned.

In the same document Commodore Wilson thus refers to the docking facilities now existing or easily secured at this navy yard:

While the Portsmouth yard has a balance dock and marine railway, which will permit of taking a vessel out of the water and hauling her ashore, leaving the dock free to put another vessel on, there could, and should, be extensive alterations made to better its facilities. The dock basin should be enlarged so that at the head of it there would be three lines of ship ways for building vessels on. When completed the vessels would be pushed down on the dock by the immense hydraulic ram now used there, and the dock floated, and, when out of the basin, the newly-constructed vessel put afloat without danger of straining, as is often the case when vessels are launched. Buildings could then be placed over these slips, and all the necessary tools for ship work placed in them, with machinery and the necessary line shafting.

Independent of this a modern wooden dock, at least 500 feet long, should be built between the navy-yard island and Seavey's island, which could be readily done at comparatively small cost. The water at its entrance would be ample for all docking purposes, and the natural excavation which now exists between the islands, with its solid rock bottom, would very much reduce the expected outlay for this work.

Mr. Amos R. Locke, residing on South street, while trying to make a short cut from the south millbridge to Edward street on the ice, on the 20th inst., made a shorter cut through the ice, and after floundering around in the water for awhile managed to crawl out, very wet and disconsolate, where the ice was sound. "The longest way round is the shortest way home," sometimes.

Mr. D. S. Broderick, of New York, was in this city on the 20th inst. on a flying visit. Mr. Broderick has recently become sole agent for the celebrated "crown" brand of Virginia sumac, which is claimed to be fully equal to the imported article, while it is sold twenty-five per cent cheaper.

The Eldredge Brewing Co. on the 20th inst. finished their first cutting of ice, having housed about 1200 tons, fourteen inches thick and of excellent quality, perfectly clear and as hard as flint glass.

The Ladies' Relief Corps have a social assembly in G. A. R. hall next Tuesday evening, to which members of Storer Post, G. A. R., and Henry L. Richards Camp, S. O. V., with ladies, are invited.

Miss Emma L. Berry is to have charge of the post-office at Greenland Depot, vice George E. Morrill, resigned.

It is reported that steps are being taken for the establishing of an assembly of the Knights of Labor in this city.

Mayor Eldredge has received from John Pearson & Son, the famous wholesale manufacturers of fancy and staple biscuits at Newburyport, Mass., five barrels of their biscuit to be distributed among the deserving poor of the city.

The schooner Flora Temple, while fishing in Ipswich bay on Tuesday of this week, had her bowsprit sprung through the parting of the bobstay, and will have to put in a new one.

New Hampshire Insurance.

The Peoples' Fire Insurance company, of Manchester, which commenced business there the 1st of December, held its first annual meeting Jan. 19th. The report of Secretary S. B. Stearns showed 1056 policies issued up to December 31st, covering property valued at $1,174,702; assets, $110,938.85. J. C. Moore was reelected president; E. W. Weeks, vice-president; Joseph B. Clark, clerk; Walter M. Parker, N. S. Clark, J. B. Clark, executive committee; and a board of thirty directors.

The New Hampshire Manufacturers Mutual Fire Insurance company completed its organization in Concord on the 18th inst. by the choice of Hon. Oliver Pillsbury of Concord, president; Ex-Governor P. C. Cheney of Manchester, vice president; the president, vice president, Hon. B. A. Kimball, Hon. E. H. Rollins, Hon. C. H. Amsden, all of Concord, executive committee; F. W. Rollins of Concord, treasurer. It is expected that the company will be ready in February to begin business. The company will conduct business on a basis essentially different from that of any other company in the state. It proposes to afford insurance especially upon property of more than ordinary hazard, which cannot be [illegible] by the [illegible] and [illegible] taken by the factory mutuals, [illegible] to do it at its actual cost. There was a large attendance of the directors, who are the leading manufacturers of the state. The company has already received assurances of a general support. The surplus, above actual cost, will be put into a guaranty fund, which will be owned by the policy-holders, and be deemed in cash when it becomes large enough to warrant it.

Comfortable Vehicle.

One of the novel turnouts to be seen daily on our streets during the past week, is that belonging to Mr. G. H. Jenness of Rye beach, who drives a distance of nearly nine miles every morning before attending to his clerical duties at the navy yard. The vehicle alluded to is a small closed carriage on runners, which can be quickly transferred to wheels whenever desired. It is somewhat like a herdic, only the doors are on the side. There are windows in front, sides, and rear, and the occupant sits securely sheltered from the weather—the driving reins passing through narrow apertures beneath the front windows. The carriage sits comparatively low, and the runners are well spread and braced to prevent upsetting easily. It is very thoroughly and substantially built, every part of it being put together with screws. It was designed and built by Mr. Jenness' son, Master Edwin J. Jenness, a young mechanic yet in his teens. It is certainly a vehicle designed for comfort, and it matters little to the person driving whether the thermometer indicates 20 degrees above or 20 degrees below zero.—Times

G. H. Jenness, Esq., of Rye, is to deliver his lecture "Life in Washington" at Kensington town hall, Tuesday evening, Jan. 26th, and the following evening will speak in Hampton town hall under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union; subject, "What shall we read."

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters, that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once, and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it, Godspeed.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression in new seeking Bond, what business has least been affected and unjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in a monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—The N. Y. Financier." lumber alongside the dock ready to ship. The ten mules and their drivers that did the work before the locomotive was purchased cost over $3,000 a year."

"One would think that with such rough usage as a twelve-shilling engineer and a wooden railroad would give a locomotive, a new one would be necessary every six months."

"The fact is, such locomotives are built proportionately strong, and are well balanced. A man of good common sense can be had in some parts of the country for $1.50 a day, and that is all that is required of an engineer. The work is easy after one gets used to the motion. The locomotives do not wear out under twenty or twenty-five years. Their economy is not found alone in operating expenses, however, for when markets are dull, or trade slow, they cost nothing but a little tallow to prevent rust, while mules eat their heads off, wet or dry, good times or bad."

The Staff of Life.

No date can be assigned to the first bread, specimens having been found among the remains of the mysterious people who lived on the Swiss lakes before the dawn of history. The bread of the lake-dwellers was made from wheat, barley and even poppy-seeds, and was baked between red-hot stones. By Chinese writers Ching-Noung is reputed to have been the first who taught men—about 2,000 B. C.—the art of husbandry, and the method of making bread from wheat, and wine from rice. The baking of bread was known in patriarchal ages—see Exodus xii: 15—and became a profession at Rome in 170 B. C. Barley-bread was used in England in the time of James I, potato-bread is now eaten in Ireland, and powdered codfish is made into bread in Iceland.

The Shamrock.

It is related that when St. Patrick landed in Ireland in the fifth century, having overcome the hostility of the savage islanders, he proceeded to instruct them in the doctrines of Christianity. But in vain did he endeavor to explain to them the doctrine of the trinity in unity. His untutored hearers failed to comprehend his reasoning till, plucking a trefoil to serve as an illustration, he inquired of them: "Is it not as possible for the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost as for these three leaves to grow upon a single stalk?" This argument, according to the legend, immediately convinced the Irish, who yielded to St. Patrick's efforts for their conversion. The shamrock was thenceforth dedicated to the saint and became the national cognizance. It is somewhat unfortunate that this pretty story is not to be found in the lives of the great saints of Ireland, but it is still more unfortunate that it is again impossible to determine which is the true shamrock. According to the best authorities, however, the honor is due to the Black Nesuch or Medicago or to the Dutch clover. But these plants are worn St. Patrick's-Day and are help to the true shamrock.—Chambers' Journal.

Touching the Texan.

He was fresh from the wilds of the Southern country, where every man has a record of dead. I know him when he was a May-boy now he is a miner, with his bullets in his tangled hair and extinct craters all over him. A place in his left ear would be useful to hold a pen if his hand had not accustomed itself to a revolver. The pen may be mightier than the sword, but it isn't a patch on the revolver. He was, I am afraid, not at his best when I saw him. His syntax was wild and his prosody all a-rye.

"Yes," he said, "it is a nice life; a real nice, pleasant, agreeable life. They are all Texans there, and if there is any place where there are indisputable gentlemen it is in the mountains. Texans carry their lives in their hands most of the time. They carry other people's lives in their belts or their boots, or down the back of their neck. I would like you to come down there."

"Thank you very much."

"Yes; I'd like to introduce to you an old gentleman there, as genial an old man as you ever met."

"Is he a Texan?"

"Yes, but he's so kindly-natured a fellow, I am sure you'd like him. I made his first acquaintance under very peculiar circumstances. He had just arrived. He came up to me and said: 'Your name's——, I hear.'"

"Yes, sir, that's my name."

"They tell me you're awful good."

"You don't tell me!" said I.

"Yes; they tell me you're awful good. I think I'll just take a shot at you myself."

And the old gentleman in a genial way, stepped back a little and fired. I wasn't scared. I walked up to him and I handed him my Gatling.

"Here," said I, "you try this. That gun of yours can't hit anything."

It broke him all up, and he's been one of my best friends ever since. Come down and meet him.—San Francisco Call.

Whiskey Without Fusel Oil.

(From the Philadelphia News.)

It is a fact not generally known that there is not a medicine to-day that enters so largely into the practice of the medical profession for the treatment of the sick and debilitated as alcohol in the form of whiskey. There is not an intelligent physician in the country that has not had occasion to prescribe it daily, nor a hospital, infirmary or curative institution that does not keep it constantly on hand as a need. In its pure state it is acknowledged to be the best stimulant, the best curative, and the only cure for consumption, hemorrhages, malaria and dyspepsia. It will no doubt astonish our readers when informed and sustained by statistics, that nearly one-sixth of all the whiskey sold in this country, at this time, is dispensed by druggists and grocers. So important is alcohol in the treatment of disease that Professor Austin Flint, of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York (Professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine), says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century." Two ounces of alcohol contain more nutriment than ten ounces of lean meat. It is the only chemical that, even in the blood direct, without digestive effort of the stomach, and it is, therefore, peculiarly fitted for the weak and debilitated. Whiskey has always been recognized by the medical profession as the best form in which to take alcohol, only one objection being urged against it, i. e., the presence of fusel oil. The elimination of this deadly poison has for centuries been the cause of more investigation and experiment among scientists and chemists, owing to the important part whiskey plays in the treatment of disease, than any one medicine known to the pharmacopœia. It was not until within the last decade that the secret of elimination was accidentally discovered in Canada, by old Mr. Duffy, who bequeathed it to his son, who organized the Duffy Malt Whiskey Co. of Baltimore, Md., which company now possess the secret, and it is to-day the discoverer and sole manufacturer in the world of an absolutely pure whiskey. Already famous, it is familiarly known as Duffy's pure malt whiskey, which, aside from being pure, combines a food and stimulant quality.

A Wonderful STRENGTHENER

TAGLIONI'S ADVENTURE.

Among the numerous bands of highway robbers which were the nightmare of all travelers, during the first third of the present century, says a translation from the Paris Figaro in the New Orleans Times-Democrat, there was one which had acquired special renown in Russia. It was commanded by a chief named Trichka, who had resigned his position as overseer in the employ of Prince Paskiewicz for the more lucrative trade of stage-robber. He was an intelligent fellow, quite polite in his manners, who spoke both French and German tolerably well, and added to these acquirements the special accomplishment of being an excellent dancer.

Far from bothering poor folks, he aided them of his own accord—as for the rich, he knew how to act the prince with them, and although he went so far as to politely ask permission to share with them the contents of their pocket-books, he never presumed further.

He died a natural death, without having ever been caught by the police, and with a tolerably quiet conscience, for he had not only never killed anyone, but he had never even so much as maltreated any of those whom his profession obliged him to hold prisoners until ransomed.

He obtained such notoriety that his exploits formed a subject of conversation, not merely in the salons of St. Petersburg, but also in the police offices, where he was known as "the gentleman robber."

One of his contemporaries, Gen. Krenke, recently told the following story about Trichka:

The theatrical season of 1824-25 had been an unusually brilliant one at the Italian opera in St. Petersburg. The celebrated dancer Taglioni, had displayed all her talent there before an enthusiastic multitude, and the imperial family had been present at every one of the performances of this wonderful artist—then in all the splendor of her beauty.

People came from every direction to see her, and quite a number of the rich inhabitants of Moscow had not hesitated to undertake a journey of 160 leagues in sledges, in order to applaud the charming stranger.

Needless to state that besides the bravos which she received each evening, Taglioni had rather a perfect harvest of rich gifts. The emperor himself had ordered to be sent to her, as a mark of his admiration, a superb necklace of the finest pearls.

Accordingly it came to pass that when, at the end of March, the opera house closed its gates for the Lenten season, the young dancer found herself in possession of a veritable fortune in presents, as well as in money.

She left St. Petersburg during the early part of April, and was escorted for a distance of about twenty miles from the city by a great number of her admirers.

She had hired two great traveling-coaches for the voyage—each drawn by six horses. One of these she occupied herself, together with four of her comrades,—two women and two men (the men being musicians),—and the other was occupied solely by the baggage.

At the first relay station, after leaving the city of Pskoff, the postmaster warned Taglioni that Trichka's band had been seen on the Dunaburg road, and he advised her, in case she should meet the famous brigand, to keep as cool as possible, by doing which she might get off very lightly.

Next night, in the middle of a forest, while a company of his men barred the way, Trichka suddenly opened the door of the coach and, addressing the travelers, asked:

"Whom have I the honor of meeting to-night?"

"I am the dancer Taglioni," replied the young artist, "and these persons here are my traveling companions."

"Ah! delightful!" cried Trichka, "chance sometimes reverses the most agreeable surprise for us. It was impossible for me to go to see you dance at the opera, and here I find you, just at the proper time, incomparable artist,—here, where I can have the honor of appreciating your talent with my own eyes, and of according you my own poor share of applause.

"For," he continued taking off his hat as he spoke, "I trust you will honor us—my brave companions and myself—by now dancing for us a few of your most celebrated dances?"

"What! you want me to dance for you out there—on that road!"

"Alas, mademoiselle, it must be so, since I have no sumptuous drawing-room to place at your disposal. Still, if you find it impossible to thus oblige me, I shall be under the painful necessity of confiscating your carriages and all your baggage, and leaving you all to find your own way on foot, as best you can, to the next station."

"But, monsieur," exclaimed Taglioni, in a tone of supplication, "be at least just!—how can you possibly expect me to dance in the middle of that mud?"

"O, mademoiselle, do not let that be an obstacle. You must certainly have some carpets among your effects, and my brave companions will be only too happy to have the pleasure of spreading them upon the road for you."

Finding that she would only waste her eloquence in any attempt to induce Trichka to abandon his purpose, Taglioni leaped lightly to the ground, preferring to perform what was asked of her than to lose all her baggage and the financial results of her opera season as well.

While Trichka's men spread out a great carpet over the highway, and two musicians who accompanied the dancer began to tune up their instruments—a harp and a violin.

Then, when all was ready, Taglioni bounded forward, and for more than a quarter of an hour, by the pale light of

A Gentle Stimulus

Is imparted to the kidneys and bladder by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is most useful in overcoming torpidity of these organs. Besides infusing more activity into them, this excellent tonic endows them with additional vigor, and enables them the better to undergo the wear and tear of the discharging function imposed upon them by nature. Moreover, as they are the channel for the escape of certain impurities from the blood, increases their usefulness by strengthening and healthfully stimulating them. In certain morbid conditions of these important organs, they fall into a sluggish state, which is the usual precursor of disease. What then can be of greater service than a medicine which impels them to greater activity when slothful? No maladies are more perilous than those which affect the kidneys, and a medicine which averts the peril should be highly esteemed.

Catarrh

is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. No "Home Rule" for Victoria.

Parliament was opened by Queen Victoria in person on the 21st inst. In her address to the house of commons she said:

I have seen with deep sorrow the renewal, since I last addressed you, of the attempt to excite the people of Ireland to hostility against the legislative union between that country and Great Britain. I am resolutely opposed to any disturbance of that fundamental law, and in resisting it I am convinced that I shall be heartily supported by my parliament and my people.

An Effective Conscience.

The secretary of the treasury received on the 20th inst. a letter postmarked New York, containing $2500 in United States notes of large denominations, all of which were cut in two, with small pieces removed from the inside edges. The word "cancelled" was written in ink across the face of the notes. The envelope also contained a note, signed "Conscience," which read as follows:

Here are $2500 in United States bills, mutilated so as to insure the government's getting the money. Whatsoever a man sows, so shall he reap. I have sowed to the wind and am reaping the whirlwind. This is next to the final payment due. God grant me speedy release.

Naval Intelligence.

Rear Admiral Franklin, commanding the European station, reports to the navy department that the Pensacola, the Quinnebaug and the Kearsarge are under orders to proceed to Naples. He says that a large number of resident and travelling Americans have visited the ships at Villefranche, and seemed to be very much gratified at seeing the American flag in foreign waters, which, he admits, is a rather unusual sight in the present low state of the American merchant marine.

The U. S. S. Adams arrived at Acapulco, Mex., December 26th, from Manzanillo. She expected to sail after a short stay, for San Jose de Guatemala and other points. The health of her crew was excellent.

The death of Commander Hayward will cause the following promotions in the navy: Lieut. Commander Charles J. Train to be commander; Lieut. F. W. Crocker to be lieutenant-commander; Lieut. R. F. Nicholson (junior grade) to be lieutenant, and Ensign J. C. Gillmore to be lieutenant (junior grade.)

Ensign J. S. Brown has been detached from the Lancaster, and ordered to take passage home in the Nipsic.

The dispatch boat Dolphin has gone to the Norfolk navy yard.

The Lancaster has sailed from Montevideo for the Cape of Good Hope.

Reminiscences.

A petition was on the 20th inst. presented to the general assembly of Connecticut by the citizens of Canterbury, praying that reparation be granted to Mrs. Prudence Phillies (formerly Miss Prudence Crandall) for injuries inflicted upon her in 1833, by citizens of Canterbury, because of her persistence in teaching a free school for negro girls. This revives a memory of the early days of the anti-slavery movement, when Miss Crandall was insulted and finally arrested and put in jail by prominent citizens of Canterbury. Her story became a celebrated one, and is told at length in Henry Wilson's "Rise and Fall of the Slave Power." She is now living in advanced age and poverty.

Minda Campbell, who died at Savannah, Ga., Jan. 20th, at the age of ninety-four years, was the mother of Thomas Simms, the fugitive slave whose trial in Boston in 1850 created great excitement, and resulted in the decision sustaining the validity of the fugitive slave law.

A Promising Artist.

A well known and eminent art critic of Boston thus writes of the work of a rising young artist, son of Stephen R. Niles, Esq., of Boston:

Mr. Edward Glover Niles, who has been studying abroad for some years, has returned home and has taken a fine studio in Phillips building, Hamilton place, where are to be seen some of his works, the result of his studies under Lefebre, Boulanger and other eminent French artists.

One of these is a large canvas, a full-length figure of a woman. The pose is very spirited, the figure standing well on its feet, the head thrown slightly back in the effort of buttoning with the right hand the glove upon her left. The drawing is true, clean cut and admirable throughout, the right hand in particular showing fine skill in foreshortening. The head is well and solidly modelled, and is set firmly on the neck, and the face is drawn with equal truth and vigor. The coloring throughout is rich, but simple and harmonious. The flesh painting is pure and the shades and shadows as well as the light are managed with great skill. The painting of the right hand, already alluded to, is masterly. The effect of the picture, as a whole, is animated, strong and artistic. The tones are well balanced, the textures are excellent, and the touch throughout is crisp and decisive. It is a painting that reflects the highest credit upon the manner in which the artist has pursued his studies.

Another work of high merit but in a more tender vein is the head of a young girl, in profile, of which the drawing is charming in grace, purity of line and truth. While lacking in the stronger contrasts of the larger work, it is none the less excellent a painting. The flesh tints are exceedingly delicate and are beautifully managed. The head extends out well from the canvas against a gray-blue background. In this, as in the other picture, the brush play is free, sharp and spirited. Both works have been painted with careful finish of style, but without any loss of breadth or largeness of effect.

There are other examples of the artist's skill to be seen here which show the same fine gifts for drawing and color to be seen in the canvasses we have already noticed. Mr. Niles is to be both complimented and congratulated upon the success of his studies abroad as manifested in his work, and that deserved prosperity awaits him in his native city, to which he has returned to practice his art, scarcely admits of doubt.

Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler of Dover died on the 21st inst., after a long illness. He was long prominent in law and politics, having served several terms in the legislature, and for three terms been speaker of the house. He was a Freemason of high rank, and a Unitarian in religion.

Dickinson & Seaver's tub and bucket manufactory in Winchester was burned Jan. 20th; loss about $20,000; partially insured. The cause of the fire was an overturned lantern.

The Lady of the Lake, the Winnipesaukee steamboat, is to be changed to a coal burner, which will take away a market for 600 to 800 cords of wood annually from the farmers around the lake.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."

Bright's Disease

THE DEVIL'S AUCTION.

There was a crowded house last night to see Gilmore's "Devil's Auction," a spectacular extravaganza that was seen here last season. It is greatly improved since then; the company has been made larger and better, the scenery is new and fine, and the business is generally improved. The ballet in the first and third acts is unusually fine. A comic ballet is not often a success, but in this case the "Paducah Dragoons" storm and capture the audience.—Courier Journal.

At Music hall to-morrow evening. Tickets at Goodrich's.

"PRIVATE WAY--DANGEROUS."

We take the following from the Dover Democrat of the 20th inst.:

Capt. Freeman and James Coleman, both of Eliot, were crossing the ice on foot near Dover point to-day, pushing a boat ahead of them for security. The ice gave way and they were precipitated into the water, but saved themselves by getting into the boat. They were badly chilled before getting aboard the boat.

Enoch True Hanson of Back river was hauling wood across the river yesterday with a pair of horses and sled, when the ice gave way; he and the horses were only saved with much difficulty. This forenoon a similar accident occurred near the same place; on both occasions it was a narrow escape.

Will those up-river fellows never learn that a sled and pair of horses make a very poor craft to navigate the river with? Nobody can beat them at getting around with a wherry when the river is clear; but as soon as it is skimmed over with ice they seem possessed to get on it with a yoke of oxen or a pair of horses and sled.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Firemen's Relief Association was held on the evening of the 20th inst., and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, George A. Jackson; vice president, Horace Mudge; Treasurer, Willard J. Sampson; Secretary, W. S. Hazel; Directors, Geo. W. Green, Willard M. Gray, Morris Tobin, Oliver W. Ham, Herbert A. Marden.

The fund now in the hands of the treasurer amounts to $2,050.70, which is constantly increasing, and the association is in a most prosperous condition, not having been called upon to pay any benefits during the year just passed. The association was founded years ago by such firemen as Gen. Hadley and others of his day, its object being to aid disabled firemen. The nucleus of the fund was the proceeds of a fair held by the firemen, to which subscriptions by prominent men and accruing interest have been added from year to year. The by-laws provide for a benefit of $5 per week to be paid to any member of the association, injured while in the performance of his duty as a fireman. The association is, we believe, a worthy one, and should be encouraged by our citizens that it may prove as valuable a benefit institution as may be desired.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

Read what the people say concerning the ability of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to cure asthma, catarrh, croup, colds, etc. Mrs. Dora Koch of Buffalo, says: "For croup it is decidedly efficacious." [Mrs. Jacob Mellinor of Marion, Ohio, says the same thing.] S. S. Graves, Akron, N. Y., writes: "Had asthma of the worst kind, took one dose of Thomas' Eclectric Oil and was relieved in a few minutes. Would walk five miles for this medicine sooner at $2 a bottle for it." Druggist C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill., says: "Cured an uncerated throat for me in twenty-four hours." "Sat up in bed and coughed till the clothing was wet with perspiration. My wife insisted that I use Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful relieved me." E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N. Y., Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tip-Top external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug trade, he sure he will speak highly of it.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has been least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $30 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier." the moon, she performed several of her favorite dances with as much grace and spirit as if she was dancing before the imperial logge.

Trickks was utterly astonished, and as he assisted the artist back to her coach he thanked her with sincere effusion and respectfully kissed her hand, declaring over and over again—at least twenty times—that she had just made him pass the most delightful moment of his whole life.

A moment later the celebrated bandit retired into the forest, still under the impression of the spectacle he had enjoyed free of charge, and Taglioni continued her journey toward the frontier.

Sold his Fur-Farm.

"There is some mighty green men in this world," said the passenger from the West, "and I struck one of 'em a week or two ago. If I hadn't I wouldn't be here now. Last spring I went out into Western Nebraska and homesteaded a quarter section. I had'nt seen the land, but took it suppoin' it was all right. But when I got there I found it already inhabited. About 150 acres of the 160 were covered with a prairie-dog town. Well, I concluded to settle down and see what I could do, and I'm mighty glad now that I did. About two weeks ago I was up to the railroad station trying to get trusted for some bacon and flour and terbacker, an' feelin' right smart discouraged. I was out of money and grub, and the winter was comin' on fast, an' I couldn't see any way out of it, but to eat prairie dogs, an' there mighty hard to catch. But that was the turning point in my luck. While I was at the station an Englishman got off the cars, an' said as how he was out West lookin' fer a place to make an investment. Said he'd heard o' the fur business, an' wanted to know if he was out in the fur country yet.

"Furs,' says I, there hain't no f—an' just then an idea struck me, an' I changed my tune. 'Furs,' says I there hain't no better fur country than this on 'arth. Just come out to my place till I show you my fur farm.'

"And he went out with me, an' I showed him the prairie-dog town, an', as luck would have it, it was a bright sunny day, an' the dogs was out scootin' around by the hundreds.

"Talkin' about furs,' says I, 'what d'ye think of that? I've been six years growin' those mink, an' hain't sold a hide. It's all natural increase. Guess they's about seven thousand of 'em now, an' they double every year. How many will there be in ten years?'

"You oughter seen that Englishman's eyes open as he took out his pencil an' figured it up. He made it 7,168,000 mink.

"'Well,' says I, 'call'it 5,000,000, to be on the safe side. It won't cost $1 to keep 'em, either, an' if they're worth a cent they're worth $1 a piece. There's millions in it.'

"Then we got right down to business, an' in less than an hour I had sold out for $7,000 cash an' the next day I paid $320 for the homestead at the Land office, got my patent, transferred it to him and took the first train for the East. Step into the buffer with 'me, partner, an' take a drink."—Chicago Herald Train Talk.

The German Railroad.

They are making a great fuss about an engineer on a railroad in Germany who has run on the road forty-nine years and never had an accident. We don't see anything wonderful about it, says R. J. Burdette in the Brooklyn Eagle. The engineer on a German railroad, we believe, always rides ahead of his train and shoos everthing off the track while his wife shoves the train along after him. Still, we can see how an accident might happen. The engineer might grow weary and climb on the train and go to sleep, and so get into the station ahead of time, and run the risk of catching a severe cold while waiting for the Estemmangerwagonhausbundeirassmeister (German for station agent) to open the Sweitrackagesteamwagonausgroundhausmitswansigdoors (round house). Indeed, when you come to think over it seriously, the life of a German railroad engineer, after he has been in continuous service ninety years, and has lost his hair, teeth, sight, and hearing, and his sense of taste begins to fail, is environed with peril.

Dr. Morrell-Mackenzie, the famous throat specialist, according to the London World, lives in the midst of almost Oriental magnificence, and quite after the fashion of "The Arabian Nights." Everything in the way of instruments or suggestions of disease is carefully hidden away behind exquisite carvings or hangings- doors open and shut noiselessly, patients are summoned and dismissed by mysterious electric bells. In one of the doctors rooms he has something clever enough in device to be adopted by many a weary physican in our own country. Behind the chair where he examines patient's is a heavy partiere, "through which he vanishes when a patient shows a disposition to dwell unduly on his ailments."

Whiskey a Medicine.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)

It is now a fact, established and unquestioned, that pure, unadulterated whiskey is a MEDICINE. PROF. WM. B. CARPENTER, M. D., F. R. S., F. S. G., Examiner in Physiology, University of London, Prof. Med. Juris, University College, says: "To put alcohol aside would be equivalent to denying our right to employ any substance whatever as a medicine—a doctrine that would deprive us of all the medicines in the pharmacopœia." PROF. H. C. WOOD, Prof. of Therapeutics, University of Penna., says: "In phthisis (consumption) and its congeners, scrofulosis, there can be no doubt as to the great value of alcohol." PROF. AUSTIN FLINT, Prof of Principles and Practice of Medicine, Bellevue Hospital College, N. Y., says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century." PROF. JOHN PARRISH, author of "Alcoholic Inebriety from a Medical Standpoint," Burlington, N. J., says: "We know that alcohol will steady the heart, slow the pulse, warm the skin, calm excitement, and we ought to use it." PROF. M. G. GREENFIELD, M. D., author of "Alcohol: Its Use and Abuse," "Appleton's Health Primers," says: "It is idle to ignore the results of experience with alcohol in disease. An intelligent comprehension of its action will have greater influence in promoting temperance than adhesion to a dogma. PROF. JOHN GARDNER, an eminent London physician, says: "The advocates of total abstinence, sincerely fail to produce evidence in support of their opinion that all stimulants are inimical to health and longevity. Science, common sense, Holy Scriptures and all experience testify to the benefits to be derived." PROF. WILLIAM H. MORSE, Westfield, N. J., in his "Notes on Amylum, as a Factor in Diseases of the Cerebral Convolutions," says: "Putting preference upon malt, I submit that whiskey from malt is the whiskey to be preferred." PROF. ALBERT E. MENKE, D. Sc., F. C. S., F. I. C., Prof. of Organic Chemistry, Kentucky State College, late Chemist, Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., says of Duffy's pure malt whiskey: "It is peculiarly fitted for medicinal or any other purposes where a carefully prepared and uncontaminated whiskey is required." "THE WESTERN MEDICAL REPORTER," a monthly diploma of Medical Progress, Dr. J. H. Harper, A. M., M. D., publisher, Chicago, Ill., says: "Duffy's pure malt whiskey is meeting with special favor by many physicians. When an alcoholic stimulant is needed for the sick or convalescent, this famous malt whiskey should be given."

I have spent for medicine to cure my Rheumatism without finding any relief until I tried ATHLOPHOROS. I have taken six bottles of ATHLOPHOROS and I am now a well man." So writes Mr. E. PARKHURST, Woonsocket, R. I.

No other remedy has been discovered that is a real cure for either of these terrible diseases. ATHLOPHOROS is the only remedy that has been tried and its value proved by thousands of people all over the United States. No remedy has ever been put on the market that has brought such universal relief to sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia. Athlophoros is absolutely safe to use and will not injure the most delicate stomach. Send for names of persons in your own State who have been cured by its use.

CRAZES.

Crazes are epidemic, like influenza, measles, the mumps, cholera and other human scourges that come, nobody knows where from, run their course and go, nobody knows whither. The very latest craze (if there is a later one we have not heard of it) is the "toboggan craze," which began to be epidemic at the time of the Montreal carnival, when all the gay world within the reach of that city or Saratoga was suddenly infected, and men and women and children donned red caps, red hunting skirts or tunics, red leggins with trimmings of Indian toggery, and took to sliding down hill with all their might on flat boards, ignoring sleighs, sleds and skip-jacks, all of which became antiquated in a moment. The toboggan craze will be limited by climate, cold and the formation of slide-track slides, unless, as we confidently expect, some genius should invent a mode of sliding down hill on rollers, when the roller toboggan will share in popularity with the skating rink. Rollers, or parlor skates, have been used in France from time immemorial. How they became popularized and converted into a popular mania in this country in a few months is one of the marvels of epidemic crazes. The word "rink" is modern, having found its way into Webster's supplement half a dozen years ago, as a covered hall into which water was let and frozen for skating purposes, and also as a floored arena for roller-skating. From being a pastime for little girls on sidewalks, it has suddenly flamed into a universal pastime. Whole communities are infected and rinks, rival churches in numbers and attendance. Divines, and even legislators stand aghast at the suddenness, violence and universality of this new epidemic. It is only another evidence of the predisposition of humanity to crazes.

In the way of amusement, for a time everything ran to croquet, now lawn tennis is in the ascendant. The bicycle had its turn, and it is yet a problem whether it will subside into one of the world's recognized modes of locomotion or whether it will die out and be succeeded by some other temporary celebrity. No man is perfectly sane. If one is not naturally cranky in streaks, he is at least liable to fits of crankiness. The wisest of men do some things in the course of their lives that show them to be temporarily off their base, and makes their friends wonder if they are not getting ready for the lunatic asylum. Every man counts certain doings of his among his "mistakes in life," when he followed impulses that, in the light of subsequent reflection, seemed unaccountable, perhaps irresistible.

Sympathetic crazes are far more common than individual. Men are gregarious like sheep. If one goes over a wall the whole flock follows, if it is to plunge into a ditch on the other side. An army is routed if you can only start a panic in the ranks. Law and order are overturned in the crowded city if you excite and spread the mobocratic fever on a stirring question. Under the influence of sympathetic fear strong men act like children. There are crazes of every variety in style, social, civil, political, religious crazes in fashion, crazes in amusement, business crazes, money crazes, and each has its crowd of followers and fanatics. Like the inmates of a madhouse, each ignores his own malady and wonders at the craziness of his neighbor.

At the beginning of the last century the gigantic speculation known as the Southeast bubble crazed all England. Shares went up in a few weeks from £100 to £1,000. It lasted only one season, from April to September, 1820, but thousands of families were reduced to beggary and the directors punished. Small consolation to the multitudes who had been ruined by the infamous fraud. Another stupendous swindle of the same era was George Law's Mississippi scheme. The shares of the company were sold for a while at sixty times their original value. Inevitable collapse and ruin followed, and the originator, once regarded as the prince of financiers, died in poverty and disgrace a few years later.

The spread of the stock-gambling craze is one of the most notable of our later insanities, due to two causes mainly, the innate love of hazard and its games on the one hand, and a covetous desire to be rich on the other. The spread of this craze is as unaccountable as that of tobogganism or the roller rink. Gambling is forbidden by law, lotteries are interdicted, but the little agencies, rills to Wall street, established all through the country, enable newcomers and children, clerks and servants, to invest their earnings and very soon their stealings, in gambling ventures in stocks, till the whole community is infested by the mania for sudden wealth.

The spread of this infection during the last few years among bank cashiers, presidents, and holders of trust funds, and the corresponding fraud and rascality are at once astonishing and alarming. Every now and then whole communities are beggared by the collapse of a trusted bank, and a worse feature than the loss of the money is the wreck of confidence in man—above all the shock to all outward professions of honesty and religion. The highwayman is a dreaded outlaw who takes what you happen to have about you at the moment; the burglar is a vulgar thief, who raids your premises and takes what he can lay his hands on in a hasty visit, the banker, perhaps an Archbishop, a church elder, a Sunday-school superintendent, kindly takes charge of your all. You trust him as you would the angel Gabriel, and in a trice he "scoops" it all, and beggars you as no chance burglar or highwayman would think of doing. The detected burglar or highwayman goes to prison under heavy

Is imparted to the kidneys and bladder by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is most useful in overcoming torpidity of these organs. Besides infusing more activity into them, this excellent tonic endows them with additional vigor, and enables them the better to undergo the wear and tear of the discharging function imposed upon them by nature. Moreover, as they are the channel for the escape of certain impurities from the blood, increases their usefulness by strengthening and healthfully stimulating them. In certain morbid conditions of these important organs, they fall into a sluggish state, which is the usual precursor of disease. What then can be of greater service than a medicine which impels them to greater activity when slothful? No maladies are more perilous than those which affect the kidneys, and a medicine which averts the peril should be highly esteemed.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrate. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

An Evident Canard.

Some newspaper fiend who possibly did not know better, was induced to send a despatch that the Vermont Central railroad had leased the Boston & Lowell railroad, with of course all its newly acquired mileage. Of course any one who for a moment reflected that a corporation of the character and value of the Lowell road, having its domicile in Massachusetts, would for any purposes not be likely to be passed over to an organization like the Vermont Central road, would pay no heed to the rumor. A lease of the Lowell to the Vermont Central would be "the tail wagging the dog." The Boston & Lowell railroad, while it extends its lines so that its superior terminal facilities in Boston can be all the more turned to a good account, and the road be thereby enabled to receive an additional remuneration for generous outlays expended for this business in past years, is not likely to play a second part to roads either competitive or on its line toward the great west.

McConnell on Trustee Process. A treatise on trustee process as administered in the New England states, at law and in equity, by Geo. W. McConnell, of the Suffolk bar; 8vo, law sheep, $4.00. Boston: published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

In this work, which including the index comprises 378 pages, the author has given the pith of every case bearing upon the subject decided in the six New England states, which has been reported, comprising all the decisions contained in two hundred and two volumes of the reported decisions of these states. As incidental to a discussion of the laws relating to the trustee process, the author has also considered the subject of how far equity will aid or enjoin a trustee process. There is inserted also a chapter relating to this process in equity as administered under the statutes of Massachusetts and Maine.

The book will prove of value to the jurist of our day, not because it is a treatise per se, but for the reason that in a small compass is found a complete digest of the decisions of the highest courts of law in New England, continued from the earliest and down to the latest reports. The book is divided into thirty-five chapters, relating to the nature of the process, and the varied rights of all parties under this branch of statutory enactment. The foot notes give the authority for the text in every instance, showing the subject matter to be a condensed collection of authorities which can be easily consulted; not the deductions of the writer, but the decisions of the courts upon the subjects treated.

In the production of a work of this value, a most incalculable amount of labor must have been expended. While the book treats of the mode of administering the law upon this subject in the New England states, of course in the discussion of the principles referred to, it has its especial value to the judge and practitioner in every state of the Union, where law as in many other respects, is similar to that of this region.

Choice Pieces for Children to Speak.

BOSTON, January 22.—All parents and teachers know how hard it is to find choice pieces for boys and girls to speak at school exhibitions and entertainments. To meet this great want to-morrow's Boston Sunday Globe will have a large and varied collection of the best, suitable to children of all ages. Be sure and get the paper, and save it for future use if you don't want it just now. Of course you know that the Sunday Globe now has the largest circulation in New England, and that all the ladies particularly appreciate it.

MARITIME NOTES.

The Biddeford Journal of Jan. 21st said: "Contractor Solon S. Andrews went to Boston on the early afternoon train, to-day, accompanied by his old tender, Michael Hurley, of Portsmouth, N. H., to discharge and wreck the schooner Juliet, which recently went down in Broad sound, back of Deer island, off Boston harbor. The three bodies that sunk with the wreck will also be recovered if possible. This schooner lies in fifty feet of water, and is laden with 285 tons of fine cut granite, in blocks weighing from 2 1-2 to ten tons apiece, belonging to the Mount Waldo granite company, of Waldo in this state. Mr. Andrews expects to be engaged upon the wreck from a week to ten days."

The four-masted schooner Elliot B. Church, and the three-masted schooner Hattie S. Williams, are both reported missing. Both were out in the great gale of the 8th and 9th, and though both were splendid vessels, well manned and officered, it is feared the fury of the gale was too great for them to withstand. The Hattie S. Williams registered 898 tons, and some time ago brought to this port the largest cargo of coal ever landed here from a schooner.

The steamer Williamsport, before reported as having got ashore inside the Horseshoe buoy on the trip from Philadelphia to this port, was floated on the 21st inst., and returned to Philadelphia for repairs.

The schooner Bradford C. French, which was damaged to the amount of over $3000 by fire at Portland, Me., on the 14th inst., was towed to Kennebunkport on the 18th for repairs, by the tug L. A. Belknap.

The number of new vessels added to the Gloucester fishing fleet last year was twenty, of a tonnage of 1528.96 tons. This year is quite a falling off from the previous three years.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."

Bright's Disease

Prevented

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. THE DEVIL'S AUCTION.

This evening, at Music hall, the spectacular extravaganza "The Devil's Auction" will be presented by Gilmore's company of sixty persons, with all the special scenery, magical transformations and gymnastic and ballet novelties attending its production in large cities. Reserved seats tickets can be procured at Goodrich's bookstore.

ACCIDENT.

The sleet of Thursday evening made pedestrianism both difficult and dangerous, and few persons used the sidewalks after dark. Quite a number of persons went down, even the wicked finding it difficult to stand; and others involuntarily performed all sorts of erratic war dances in the endeavor to keep from falling. Several persons had falls on the post-office steps, among them Mr. John Knowlton, who had an arm broken,—the only serious mishap from that cause yet reported to us.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

FRIDAY, Jan. 22d.

Edward Lolley, who had been complained of by his father for being drunk, was brought before the court, but the complainant not appearing was allowed to go on probation.

SEWING CIRCLE.

The sewing circle of the Methodist church met on Wednesday of this week at the home of Mr. Thomas C. Cole, on Boyd road, the ladies going out early in the afternoon, and the gentlemen at about 6:30 o'clock in the evening, two barges being furnished by Mr. Cole for their transportation, and a large number of single teams being also employed. After the arrival of the gentlemen and the laying aside of the ladies' work, the entire party, to the number of over a hundred, sat down to a generous supper provided by the host and hostess of the occasion—a genuine New England feast, with abundance of the best for all present, and enough over to have fed another good-sized company. The meeting was a very successful one, both in social enjoyment and in forwarding the aims and ends of the circle.

FRANCIS E. PARKER'S WILL.

The will of the late Francis E. Parker, which was filed in the Suffolk county, Mass., probate court on the 22d inst., contains the following bequests: To Albert F. Sise, Francis P. Sise, Horace F. Sise, Hannah W. Long, Susan F. Kittredge, and Henry W. Torrey, $10,000 each. To Lucretia A. Lyman, Abbie L. Burbank, George S. Hale, and Robert Levi, $5000 each. To the Boston Athenæum, $5000. His law books at his office are left to John L. Thorndike, his library at his rooms to Henry W. Torrey, and the residue of the estate is bequeathed to Phillips academy at Exeter, Harvard college, and the Boston Provident association. The codicil gives to Richard H. Dana $86,000, and to John P. Lyman and Thomas C. H. Smith of Marietta, O., $5000 each. His household goods, bronzes, etc., are given to Francis P. Sise, and a portrait of Prof. Farrar and a portrait of his father to Harvard college.

Mr. John W. Young, agent in this city and vicinity for the Vienna Pressed Yeast, is now using a new-style cart sent him by the yeast company, for delivering to the grocers their regular supply of this article, now indispensable in most households. The acknowledge superiority of this yeast, in its absolute purity and reliability, is of course what maintains for it its wide popularity; yet the very large sale it has attained in this city is to small extent due to Mr. Young's energy and persistence, and the close personal attention he has always given to the business.

A gentleman who on Thursday last took an extended drive through Greenland, Hampton and Rye, informs us that the ice-cutting business was enjoying a grand boom that day; wherever there was an ice pond within sight of the road, men and teams could be seen at work on next summer's cold comfort; and throughout his drive he was frequently obliged to give way to ice-loaded carts and wagons.

The obsequies of the late Francis E. Parker took place at King's chapel on Tremont street, Boston, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon on Thursday, the 21st inst., Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., conducting the services. At the close of the ceremonies the body was taken to the Eastern railroad station, and brought to this city in the afternoon for interment in the south cemetery.

The Portsmouth and Dover bridge between Newington and Dover point was opened to the public on Thursday evening last, after being closed several months while extensive repairs were being made. The bridge was opened to railroad travel some days before.

Mr. James Shaw, formerly of this city but now a resident of Aurora, Ill., has taken the general agency at the west for the Common Sense Jacket Co. of this city. The excellent and serviceable garments made by this company, though at first sleeveless, are now made with sleeves as well, for both ladies and gentlemen. For persons driving or traveling by rail, especially, the common-sense jacket is invaluable.

The Middle street church has been fitted with new water-conductors along the Middle street side.

We have received from Mr. Wm. H. Gardiner, chief clerk of the bureau of education at Washington, a copy of the 10th annual report of the Dartmouth college class of '76, Mr. Gardiner being the class secretary. To any one who knows the thoroughness with which Mr. Gardiner prosecutes any work he undertakes, it is needless to say that this class history is well nigh exhaustive of the subject.

A snow slide from the roof of the North church, Friday afternoon, went flying across the street and smashed in two windows of Rice's oyster saloon. A farmer from Rye who was attending to a stew in one of the stalls was so astonished at having his stew knocked galley west by a lump of ice that he declined to accept another one which was offered him, his appetite having departed.

The Rockingham Bicycle club on Thursday evening elected William C. Walton secretary in place of Harry A. Tucker, declined, and adopted the uniform of the League of American Wheelmen as the uniform of the club.

Mrssrs. Enoch J. Connor and A. Brackett Trefethen have taken the contract from Contractor Shanahan to excavate 400 linear feet of the ledge on Deer street, on the line of the brewery drain, and have commenced operations. The sewer is to be completed early in the spring, before the heat of summer sets in.

Col. Charles E. Blunt, United States engineers, for some years past in charge of harbor and river improvements in this district with headquarters at Portland, Me., is assigned to duty as supervising engineer in the 5th and 6th lighthouse districts, extending from Metomkin inlet, Va., to Cape Carnaveral, Fla.

The state treasurer has recently paid to the several cities and towns the balances due them from the railroad, savings bank and insurance taxes and literary fund, after deducting the state tax. Portsmouth receives $8,649, Rye $1,302, Dover $3,943.

A Providence exchange states that "the several Masonic bodies of that city are making elaborate preparations for dedicating their new building, on the third of February." This is the building in which the Knights Templar of this city, on their recent pilgrimage to Providence, had the honor to partially dedicate one room in particular.

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by Constipation, and there is no other ill flesh is heir to more apt to be neglected, from the fact material inconvenience may not be immediately felt from irregular action of the bowels. sentence; the respectable swindler or defaulter for a light period, or he escapes altogether, except now and then when a Fish or Ward commits enormities that compel prompt punishment. Swift and sure justice on offenders in high places can alone check the tendency to show disposition to appropriate the hard earnings of others, and return to society the confidence lost through the swindling operations of trusted men in public and private life.—Albany Journal.

The project of drying up the huge Zuyder Zee is being urged in Holland.

It is said that wildcats of enormous size still haunt the back country towns of Connecticut. In East Lyme they dart up trees about the farm houses at night, snatch a fat turkey and make off with it easily. In Bozrah, the other day, a big cat killed a full-grown sheep and had partly eaten it before the farmer could get his gun. Hunting parties frequently get on the track of the animals, but have not got a shot at one as yet. Last year several wildcats were killed in East Lyme and on the western border of Salem.

The great river Euphrates is in danger of disappearing altogether. Of late years the banks below Babylon have been giving way so that the stream spread out into a marsh, until steamers could not pass, and only a narrow channel remained for native boats. Now this passage is becoming obliterated, and there is danger that the famous river will be swallowed up by the desert.

It is estimated that there are 100,000,000 acres of land on the Pacific coast that are especially adapted to wheat culture. Of this California has 25,000,000, or one-fourth of the whole; Oregon has 18,000,000 acres, Washington Territory has 16,000,000 acres, Colorado and Idaho 10,000,000 each, Montana Utah and Wyoming 7,000,000 each, and the great bulk of all this wheat land yet lies untouched.

Yvens and Capello, the Portuguese African explorers, now the lions of the day in Paris, have bilious complexions and the ague-stricken look that living in a new country gives. One of them—Capello—is worn to a thread. Has an English head and English ancestors. Yvens is much younger. The history of his life is stamped on his energetic face. He has an air of resolution and an audacious enterprise and must be of an impetuous disposition.

Miss Catherine Rae explained in a recent chit-chat on science in Aberdeen, over the sea, the way in which she got a dog, within three weeks, to ring a bell. She began by letting "Tiny" smell the bone of a mutton chop, and then tied the bone to the string of the bell. At first "Tiny" was in a great tremor, but by taking her very kindly and stroking her, she found that she could induce her to pull at the bone and so ring the bell. After that she tied a small piece of wood to the string, but the dog would not pull it. At last she pulled her gently back until the bell rang, and in this way in the short course of three weeks, with not more than one lesson a day, the dog would go and ring the bell when being told: "'Tiny,' go and ring the bell." At the end of three weeks she gave an evening party, and during the evening they were all electrified by the sudden and violent ringing of the bell. "Tiny" had been neglected to be indulged with any tid-bit, and had taken this means of receiving attention.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Reveries of bachelors used to contain an alloy of painful anticipation, on account of sleepless nights with the prospective baby, but Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has made all that part a joy forever.

At Portland, Me., Jan. 21st, a cylinder head at the Glasgow dye house, on Pilon street, blew out. The explosion broke down a partition wall, knocked Captain Doughty out of a front window, and knocked Mr. Stewart, the manager, into a corner, but did not injure them seriously. Damage to building about $150 and to stock $70.

For 20 years Henry F. Balcom, of Shirley, Mass., suffered with rheumatism. He found no relief till he took Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Harvey D. Hadlock, Jr., son of the noted lawyer of that name at Portland, Me., shot himself through the head in the presence of his father on the 22d inst., rather than go to school. The young fool was fifteen years old.

Peter Jepsen, of Patersburg, Ill., has been expelled from Germany by the authorities. Mr. Pendleton, United States minister, protested against the expulsion.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. All druggists sell them.

By a cloud-burst at Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 19th, fifty houses were wrecked, every bridge carried off, thousands of acres of land flooded, two women (and probably other persons) drowned, and damage to the amount of $500,000 done.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, and are satisfied that purging yourself till you are weak and sick is not good commonsense, then try Carter's Little Liver Pills and learn how easy it is to be free from biliousness, headache, constipation, and all liver troubles. These little pills are smaller, easier to take and give quicker relief than any other pill in use. Forty in a vial. One a dose. Price 25 cents.

An invaluable article. An article like Ely's Cream Balm has long been desired, and now that it is within the reach of sufferers from catarrh, hay fever and cold in head, there is every reason to believe they will make the most of it. Dr. W. W. Buckman, W. E. Hamman, druggist, and other Eastonians have given it a trial, and all recommend it in the highest terms.—Easton, Pa., Daily Argus. Price fifty cents.

The United Ireland, the organ of the Irish nationalists, in an article entitled "Breakers Ahead," warns the British government as follows: "The suppression of the National League will inevitably lead to a conspiracy. Invincibleism and dynamite will replace the league's open methods; for which the government will be answerable."

A clear skin adds to the beauty of a fine face, and often lends a charm to homeliness. To beautify your complexion, you should purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. As a tonic and alterative medicine, it has no equal. Price $1. Six bottles, $5.

Of Interest to Athletes.

James Robinson, trainer of athletes at Harvard and Princeton colleges, writes from Princeton, Jan. 24th, 1885. "For cuts, bruises, strains, rheumatism and colds, I always use Allcock's Porous Plasters for myself and pupils. Never have known them to fail in over one hundred cases. They strengthen the muscles and give instant relief. They are the only external remedy used by our athletes."

Just get up

Had pains in back, limbs and around the heart, she took two bottles of Athlophoros and was very much better right away."—W. B. MOUNLEY, Lynn, N. H.

Neuralgia, though one of the most common and most painful of diseases, has baffled all medical skill, and until ATHLOPHOROS was discovered the discovery of a remedy was almost as good as almost, if not quite incurable. Athlophoros stands and quickly cures it. This statement, though seeming strange to the public, Thousands have tested its value and recommend it as the only remedy that brings relief. For ladies subject to neuralgia or nervous headaches it is indispensable. Athlophoros contains no opium, morphine, or other dangerous ingredient. It is absolutely harmless and universally successful in the prompt cure of this painful disease.

Ask your druggist for Athlophoros. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express prepaid on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

THE FIENDISH SIOUX.

The Terrible Manner in Which a Stalwart Soldier Was Tortured by Indians.

The chief sent for me and gave me to understand that I might go and talk with the prisoner. At the time I took it as a gracious favor, but later on I saw that it was only the first step on the programme of torture. They wanted to torture the poor fellow mentally as well as physically. I at once went over to him. He was dust-covered and blood-stained, and evidently half-dead of thirst. Before speaking to him I brought him a gourd of water. The vessel held a full quart, and he drained it to the last drop before he looked up.

"My God! You are a white man!" he exclaimed, as he saw my face.

"Yes, but a prisoner, like yourself."

"Oh! you will save me, won't you? These infernal devils are going to torture me!"

I promised to interfere for his life, though holding out no hope that I could save it, and then asked:

"What command do you belong to?"

"Gen. Sully's."

"Where is it?"

"I was captured about twenty miles from here, and we broke camp this morning."

"Who was your captain?"

"Capt. Smith."

"What is your name?"

He promptly replied to the query, but I cannot now recall the name; it was like Salisbury or Slaterly. He had the most direful forebodings of the immediate future, and anxiety and ill-usage had almost driven him crazy. He was a large, stout man, with black hair and deep-black eyes, and had evidently been in the service for years. He might have been termed a game man, but the fear of torture had made a child of him. At his earnest solicitation I went to seek the chief, but before I reached the tent a crowd of warriors seized the prisoner and hurried him to a stake driven in the clear space in the center of the village.

I saw that I was too late, and started for my lodge, but before I reached it I was seized by two bucks and hurried to the stake and made to sit down on the grass beside a sub-chief. The head chief had a seat a few feet away, and his countenance expressed the great satisfaction he anticipated. The soldier's arms were tied behind him to the stake, while his legs were left free. Such terror and anguish I never saw in a human before or since. He entreated me—he begged the chief—he appealed to the Indians to save him. He offered to be a slave—a dog—to join them and fight the whites—to do anything on earth to preserve his life. I was half wild, but dared not even reply to him, while the chief and spectators mocked him.

At a sign from the chief the torture began. The soldier, as I had neglected to state, was striped stark naked. The first move was to cut a great slice from his left arm just above the elbow. The piece was held up to view and then thrown to the dogs. The man shrieked and shouted, and tugged at his bonds, but while so doing a slice was cut from the calf of his right leg. Blood flowed so freely that I believed he would be a dead man in five minutes. Then his other arm and leg were sliced, and his calls for mercy were answered by sneers and laughter.

Then, at brief intervals, the prisoner's ears, nose and chin were cut off, his body cut and slashed, his toes severed from the foot, and brands of fire held against his legs and body that the braves might see him squirm and dance. Even now, fifteen years after, I grew faint at the thought, and I shudder as I recall his groans and shrieks. At last there before him I neither turned nor eyes away nor fainted. There was a horrible fascination which I could not shake off, and the feeling was strong upon me that I would be the next victim.

The torture continued for a full hour, during which time the man never fainted once, and there was scarcely an instant when he was not pleading and begging for mercy. He was dyed in blood after the first five minutes, and it ran down until the ground was saturated, but it was certainly a whole hour before he gave up. Along towards the last, when he showed signs of fainting, the knives were applied to a fresh part and the fire-brands thrust again thine, when he would at once revive. At length he fell forward, almost gone, and a warrior stepped up and scalped him. This was a signal to about twenty boys in waiting, and they at once rushed in, each armed with a knife, and cut and slashed and stabbed, until what was left of the poor body resembled a piece of bloody beef.—Captive Physician in New York Sun.

The Medical Summary thinks that theatrical people are too much inclined to drink absinthe, and considers the taste especially unfortunate, as the dipsomania resulting from it is very violent and almost incurable. The imitation article drank in the United States is said to be made from a mixture of essential oils and indigo—mostly poisons.

A few days ago a heated lamp chimney in a New York elevated railway car snapped into twenty pieces or more, which fell upon the seats below. Fortunately there was but one passenger within range of them, and no damage was done. Not many months ago, at the Union League Club's ladies reception, a piece of carbon, heated to a white heat and about as large as a pea, fell upon the white silk dress of a lady guest who was walking beneath the electric light. Had it fallen a second sooner it would have burned her shoulder frightfully. Electricity has its dangers as well as advantages.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD DISPUTE.

The directors of the Eastern railroad company have issued to the certificate-holders of that corporation a lengthy statement in the form of a pamphlet circular, in which they critically review a circular recently sent out by the trustees, and give a full review of the causes for and the present status of the controversy that has grown up of late. Briefly summarized, it contains the following: Concerning the preferred stock scheme, it says that the proposal for the issue of this stock dates from the time of the first lease in 1883. Attention is called to the fact that the movement in favor of the lease of the Eastern road to the Boston & Maine company originated with the bondholders and was pushed by their directors with the avowed purpose of strengthening the bonds and averting all possible danger of foreclosure under the mortgage with the attendant heavy loss.

The belief that the guarantee of the payment of the interest on the bonds by such a corporation as the Boston & Maine railroad, would give the bonds an increased strength and value, has been amply justified by the results. But the proposed lease could not be executed without the consenting vote of the stockholders; and as an inducement to them to take favorable action in the matter, a provision was introduced into the lease, under which bonds, sufficient in amount to reduce the bonded debt to $10,000,000, could at the option of the bondholders be converted into preferred stock; and, with the bonded debt thus reduced, the management of the road would, under the provisions of the enabling act of 1876, revert to the stockholders. Influenced by the hope of a more speedy resumption of their control over the property, the stockholders gave their assent to the lease.

No action was taken by the directors looking to the issue of the preferred stock, but, as was expected, and in accordance with their wishes, the legality of the act has been referred to the Massachusetts supreme court, and the matter now awaits a hearing and decision.

The enabling act of 1876 provides that until the bonded debt is reduced to $10,000,000 all the annual net earnings of the Eastern railroad company, as defined in said act, "shall be paid into a sinking fund to be held by the trustees thereof for the redemption or purchase of the certificates of indebtedness issued under said mortgage, whenever the same can be redeemed or purchased at a rate not exceeding par, which certificates of indebtedness shall be cancelled when so redeemed or purchased." We are assured by able counsel that the amendment to this act, passed by the Massachusetts legislature of 1885, authorizing the purchase of certificates at market rates, in no measure removes the necessity of cancellation until the debt is reduced to $10,000,000. Yet this plain requirement of the law has been wilfully disregarded by the trustees, although the directors have called their attention to the unlawfulness of their neglect to cancel the bonds.

Nothing can be more absurd than the statement made by the trustees in their circular, that the refusal of the directors to pay the coupons of bonds in the sinking fund "prevents and destroys all benefit to the sinking fund." Although the coupons must be cancelled under the law, the trustees seem to have forgotten that there is a provision in the lease under which the Boston & Maine railroad will continue to pay an amount equal to the interest on the cancelled bonds; that is to say, the amount of interest will be paid semi-annually to the treasurer of the Eastern railroad, passed over to the trustees, and credited to the sinking fund, until the debt is reduced to $10,000,000. Equally ridiculous is the assumption of the trustees that the premium paid in the purchase of certificates of indebtedness at market prices is an entire loss.

It is also claimed that there was no delay in the payment into the sinking fund of income received during the last year. It is enough to say that the enabling act of 1876 requires the payment of moneys received during any year, only at the end of that financial year. In regard to the claim of $43,000 from the company, referred to in the trustee's circular, the directors say that serious doubts have been expressed as to the validity of this claim; but one thing is certain, that if all the earnings due under the lease have not been paid into the sinking fund, the Boston & Maine railroad have received any unpaid balance, and hold it as cash assets under the lease; for the Eastern railroad has no $43,000 in its treasury to pay the claim.

The circular closes with the following reference to an alleged attempt of the trustees to control the election of officers of the company:

But the Eastern railroad is not in the hands of receivers. The office of trustee, until the road has defaulted, is merely a fiduciary one, and should be kept so. It was never intended that the trustees should directly or indirectly manage the affairs of the corporation; that power is vested in the board of directors by law, and in them alone. But when the trustees select their own board of directors, and take practical possession of the management of the corporation through their own appointees, we see a centralization of power in the hands of three men which bodes little good to those who own the stock or bonds of the road. We do not believe that the holders of certificates will regard with complacency the attempt of the trustees to assume the management of the corporation.

This document is signed by Arthur Sewall, Samuel C. Lawrence, Frank Jones, Francis I. Amory, Thomas W. Hyde and Charles Houghton.

Comptroller Cannon Resigns.

H. W. Cannon, comptroller of the currency, tendered his resignation to the President on the 22d, to take effect Jan. 31st, in order to accept the office of vice-president of the National Bank of the Republic of New York. It is said that the president and secretary of the treasury each personally requested Mr. Cannon to withdraw his resignation, at least until after the adjournment of Congress, and that Mr. Cannon will probably comply with their request if they can make satisfactory arrangements with the bank.

Another Blizzard.

Despatches from St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., Kansas City, Mo., Chicago, Ill., Ellendale and Sioux City, Dak., and Winnipeg, Man., on the 22d, reported the worst storm known for years to be raging, with the thermometer from twenty to fifty-seven below zero, the latter figures being reported from St. Vincent, Minn.; in Manitoba it was only forty-nine below. Railroad travel was almost wholly suspended. The cold wave was expected to reach New England on Saturday night or Sunday.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or

Bright's Disease

is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The following articles are very much needed at the Hospital:—Bread knife, stone jars, long handled brush, coal shovel, dishes—especially bowls, salt spoons, match boxes, pillow-case cotton (40 inch), bread tins, (long and narrow preferred), hat tree. Ladies desirous of helping the Hospital, may be glad to know that draw sheets will be most acceptable. The sheets should be of cotton, one yard wide, made two yards long and hemmed at each end. Bleached cotton preferred.

APPLY IT EITHER WAY.

Mr. Editor: In the late issue of the New Hampshire Gazette I find the following item: "A drunken vagabond was roaming about in the vicinity of Gardiner street on Friday, entering houses and frightening women where there were no men at home. A vigorous application of sole leather would be a good prescription in his case." Please tell us how the sole leather should be applied; whether to the vagabond who drank the rum, or to the man who criminally sold it to him, or to the police who no less criminally allowed it to be sold? THOS. WIGGIN.

MARITIME NOTES.

The fishing schooner W. B. Keen, when outward bound at three o'clock Sunday morning, the 24th inst., was carried by the tide upon Beacon ledge, grounding close to the beacon. The tide was about quarter ebb at the time, and she remained there until about noon, when she floated off with the flood, but in endeavoring to reach the wharf went on the rocks again, this time near the dolphin off Four Tree island. The steamer James Sampson pulled her afloat, and as she was leaking badly she was berthed at the head of the dock at Commercial wharf, in shoal water. When she was on the beacon ledge the crew got all their personal effects, fishing gear, etc., into the dories, so as to be ready for anything that might happen. The W. B. Keen is owned by Mr. William B. Keen of Malden, Mass., who is also owner of the schooner E. A. Williams, now on the marine railway at Kittery for repairs, she having been knocked down and had her garboards started by a squall in the bay two or three weeks ago, and afterward had her keel twisted out while lying aground on the beach at Four Tree island.

The former schooner Maggie Quinn, the wreck of which was bought by Laighton Bros. and has been made into a barge for freighting, was towed from Union wharf last week to a wharf at the north end, where she will be loaded with ice for the Shoals hotels.

It is reported that the new schooner to be built for Capt. Freeman, late of the bricker Triton, will be built at Quincy, Mass., to cost $6800, and be delivered May 15th.

The Whalesback foghorn could be heard in this city all day Sunday, sounding its friendly and welcome but not particularly musical warning to the mariner. The fishing vessels which arrived during the day reported it very thick outside, with an ugly sea getting up.

All the stock for the new schooner of the Dover Navigation Co. has been taken up, and the subscriptions all paid in; and on Thursday evening last the stockholders voted that the new craft shall bear the name of "Jonathan Sawyer"—a deserved compliment to a gentleman who has done much to build up the manufacturing and commercial interests of Dover.

There was a very large audience at Music hall, Saturday evening, to witness the performance of the spectacular extravaganza "The Devil's Auction." As so frequently happens, the curtain did not rise until nearly half-past eight o'clock. That this is the regular time of commencing a performance seems to be quite generally understood, as more than half the audience came in after eight o'clock; but it is a little rough on the many who make it a point to be in their seats at the advertised hour for the show to begin.

The tide ran very high last week. On Friday several timbers of Hon. Moses H. Goodrich's wharf at Christian Shore were lifted from their places, and would have been carried away had they not been secured with "dogs" and lines. The north pond on Saturday was bare of water, except the thread in the channel. Large boulders have been washed out of the pond since the removal of the gates, and deposited below Goodrich's wharf, and the channel of the pond has been very perceptibly deepened.

At the late G. A. R. fair in Newmarket three prizes were drawn by Portsmouth men, as follows: Barrel of potatoes, by John W. Caswell; $1 in cash, George B. French; coal-hod, George E. Hodgdon. Mr. J. H. Swett, of Kittery, drew a gold ring. The principal prize, a horse, harness and buggy, was won by A. Wilbur Frost of Newmarket.

Mr. George Kimball, who has for some time been the agent in New York of the New England Associated Press, has been appointed clerk to the United States senate committee on education and labor, vice Lrael Kimball, Jr., deceased.

The following facts in relation to taxation in Rockingham county are taken from the report of the state board of equalization: Total valuation of the county, $22,917,706; total tax, $326,-551.21; average rate, $14.20 per $1000; town paying highest rate, Newcastle, $24.30; lowest, Newington, $4.50; highest total tax, Portsmouth, $103,249.08; lowest, Newington, $920.56.

A load of hay from Newington, on a bob-sled drawn by one horse, capsized at the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets, Saturday forenoon, so astonishing the horse that he ran away with the sled, and did not stop until he reached the toll-gate at Newcastle bridge.

A former Portsmouth lady, now residing at Fort Scott, Kansas, in a letter to relatives in this city says that during the late blizzard weather there was not a house in Fort Scott in which one person did not remain up all night to keep the fires going at full power, to keep the rest from freezing in their beds.

The big bell, similar to a New England cow-bell, which does good service in notifying pedestrians when crossing the street that the express sleigh driven by Valentine Hett is coming, was brought by Mr. Hett from Homburg, Germany, when he came to this country.

The Gilbert opera company opened its "Mikado" season with a performance at Plymouth, Mass., Thursday evening, and the opera is said to have been given in a most creditable manner. James Gilbert as Ko-Ko, John Ramsay as Poo-Bah, Miss Harriet Ernst as Yum-Yum, and Miss Helen Adelaide Russell as Katisha, are said to have been particularly happy in their efforts. The company is booked for New Hampshire the present week.

Mr. John W. Young, agent in this city and vicinity for the Vienna Pressed Yeast, is now using a new-style cart sent him by the yeast company, for delivering to the grocers their regular supply of this article, now indispensable in most households. The acknowledge superiority of this yeast, in its absolute purity and reliability, is of course what maintains for it its wide popularity; yet the very large sale it has attained in this city is to no small extent due to Mr. Young's energy and persistence, and the close personal attention he has always given to the business.

Her Lover's Initial.

"It is said that ladies often have the initial or monograms of their lovers placed upon their arms?" was suggested.

"Oh, frequently! They often come in their carriages and have it done. Once I put the words 'Dear Harry' on a young lady's arm."

"Do they ever come afterward and wish it erased or changed?"

"Oh, often. I had a curious case once. A very pretty and stylish young lady came here in a Herdic cab. She said she had left her carriage standing near the Public Garden and had taken the Herdic to avoid notice. She wanted the initial "P" in a fancy letter placed upon the top of her shoulder."

"You see," she explained, 'P stands for Paul, the—the gentleman whom I—I am to marry. I don't want it where it will show, of course; but put it just where the shoulderband will cover it when I am in full dress. Make it blue shaded with red.'

"She screamed a little when the needle made the first prick, but she soon discovered that the pain was insignificant, and the work was soon done to her satisfaction.

"'How pleased he will be,' she said when it was over. 'But he shan't see it until after we are married,' she added as she went out.

"A few months afterward a Herdic stopped at the door and the same lady alighted and entered. 'You see,' she explained with a very slight blush, 'that the gentleman whose initial you put on my shoulder doesn't—doesn't come any more, and I want it changed. Do you think—do you think you could change it to a B?'

"'Oh, yes, said I, 'that can be done very easily.'

"'You see, this gentleman's name is Bashford, and I thought you could change it easily.'

"So I changed the P to a B and put on a few flourishes, and she left. I thought I had seen the last of her, until a few months ago, she came again, and blushed in earnest.

"'Well, said I,' laughingly, "must I change it again? What is his name now?'

"'His name is Mortimer, and oh! we are to be married next week, and my dress and veil are all done, and I am afraid of making him angry, for he knows nothing of the others. Do you think you could change the B to an M?'

"'That would be impossible,' said I, 'but I can cover the letter over with some other design, if you would like that.'

"'No, I shouldn't like that. It wouldn't mean anything,' she said, looking almost ready to cry. 'Oh, I have it. I just dote on Beethoven, and so does he. I'll let the B stand for Beethoven, and you shall put on the first two measures of his sonata in A minor. Won't that be nice?'

Seizing a pencil, she marked a staff and a few notes of music on a scrap of paper, and handed it to me. I sketched on her shoulder a scroll bearing the initial B in the center, and then drew in the staff and notes as she had indicated. It was quite a nice job, but she was very patient, and finally went away smiling and humming the air which I had tatooed on her shoulder."

"Did you ever see her again?"

"A few days later I chanced to be in the Boston and Albany depot, when a lady and gentleman passed me, going toward the train. She had the look of a bride, and as they passed me she gave me a glance and hummed the air that I had scratched upon her shoulder."—Philadelphia Press.

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Of Interest to Athletes.

James Robinson, trainer of athletes at Harvard and Princeton colleges, writes from Princeton, Jan. 24th, 1885. "For cuts, bruises, strains, rheumatism and colds, I always use Allcock's Porous Plasters for myself and pupils. Never have known them to fail in over one hundred cases. They strengthen the muscles and give instant relief. They are the only external remedy used by our athletes."

At Cartersville, Ga., on the night of Jan. 23d, the house of Aaron Collins, United States commissioner, was blown up with dynamite by Tobe Jackson's gang of moonshiners, who not long ago blew up Revivalist Sam Jones' house because he preached against whiskey making and selling, and are believed to have murdered many revenue officers. The house was destroyed, and Mr. Collins and his wife badly hurt.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY.

What Eminent Chemists say.

PROFESSOR HENRY A. MOTT, PH. D., F. C. S., New York, writes:

"Analysis shows Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to be entirely free from Amylic Alcohol, commonly called fusel oil, in the sick room it should meet with great success."

PROFESSOR A. E. MENKE, D. SC., F. C. S., F. I. C., Professor of Organic Chemistry, Kentucky State Cc. ege, late Chemist, Agricultural Dept., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I have made an analysis of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and found it absolutely pure, or containing a trace of fusel oil. It is peculiarly fitted for medicinal purposes."

PROFESSOR HARVEY L. BYRD, late President of Faculty and Professor Baltimore Medical College, writes:

"From careful analysis of your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, I find it free from fusel oil and other objectionable materials. It is specially recommended in all cases requiring alcoholic stimulant."

PROFESSOR WILLARD H. MOORE, Westfield, New Jersey, (Reply to Dr. Bocock's questions, upon his article, "Notes on Amylism as a Factor in Diseases of the Cerebral Convolutions," New England Medical Gazette, November, 1885, p. 495,) writes:

In another place I have spoken of the well-worth of malt, and no not need to repeat my well known opinions here, but touching upon the suggestive words of Dr. Bocock I may be redoubled in calling attention to a fact that bears closely on the matter at issue. Putting preference upon malt, and calling attention to its chemistry compared with that of the product of distillation, I submit that whiskey from malt cannot be so readily distilled beyond the point when the last C2 H6 O is distilled over, and is therefore the whiskey to be preferred. Two puppies were fed, one on a half pint of the new Duffy's Malt Whiskey for twenty days, and the other on the same quantity of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the same length of time. They were then killed, and the former was found with well-defined cerebral lesion, and the latter without any such lesion and without any hepatic cirrhosis. Inflammation of the liver). Moreover, a man given Malt Whiskey instead of his habitual stuff, came to the laboratory to ascertain what the difference in effect might signify, as contrary to all his former experience, he had stopped on the way to universal sclerosis, and had no alcoholic tremors, or muscular atrophy."

Ella Wheeler-Wilcox.

Ella Wheeler-Wilcox, the author of "Poems of Passion," has a fair complexion and hazel eyes. It is said that the poetess took her first dancing lessons at a village near her home, when she was 8 years old. She became a terpsichorean devotee, and, when not composing, often gayly tipped the light fantastic, like some fabled faun, humming a tune to suit the motion. Years afterward she was at a reception given in her honor, and danced with such grace that a reporter described her not only as "the poetry of motion, but poetry in motion." Her first attempt at composing was at the age of 8 years. A lot of old-fashioned flowers grew about her home. On the blank page of old letters she found she wrote a story describing the jealousy of Mr. Hollyhock because Miss Dahlia danced with Mr. Nasturtium and Miss Fouro'clock hung her head in a sulky manner because Mr. Bachelorbutton did not waltz with her. Ella's mother noticed her absorbing occupation, and when the little story was read, she foresaw the literary future of her child. But poetry, success, adulation, and even marriage have not robbed her of the love for dancing, and her grace in that accomplishment keeps pace with her literary progress. She was in New York the other day reading proof for her forthcoming novel, "Mal Moulee." She said: "I am not as impervious to criticism now as I was before I was married. Since I was married many cruel and bitter things appeared in print about my husband and myself. Why, a woman who professed to be my friend wrote to an Indianapolis paper that she saw my husband, and described him as a man devoid of any emotion. She wound up the letter by saying that he had exhausted all pleasures, and at last concluded to marry a poetess just for the novelty. These are mild stories compared to some. If all couples were as happily married as we the world would be filled only with sweetness and light."

Couldn't Stand the Test.

"Who is this young fellow who has been sparking you for the last six months?" suddenly inquired old man Foraker the other evening as he looked up at his daughter.

"Willie Blank," she demurely answered.

"Worth anything?"

"Not much, but he has prospects."

"Humph! I don't like his looks. He has a bad temper."

"Why, papa, he's an angel! Nothing on earth can make him angry."

"Does he wear a plug hat?"

"Oh, yes, he's just bought a new one—a regular daisy."

"I never saw it in the hall."

"But he takes it in the parlor with him."

"I see; you may run along now."

That evening, after Mary and her beau had got comfortably seated, the old man went coughing and stamping into the parlor. The lover's plug hat sat on a chair. Foraker walked over to that chair and sat down with all his might, smashing the hat flat as a 10 cent piece, and observed:

"Fine evening, sir? What do the papers to-night have to say about the Servian-Bulgarian troubles?"

The young man grew red and then white. He attempted to speak, but the words would not come. He finally got up, cast one annihilating look on the old man, ignored the girl entirely, and walked straight out of the room and the house. As he descended the steps the girl ran to the door and called:

"William! William? Won't you speak to me?"

The old man followed her and called:

"Boy! you'll catch cold in your head without a hat!"

But the young man never halted or turned his head, and when his hoof-beats could no longer be heard on the walk the father turned to the girl and said:

"I was right, Mary, in regard to his temper. A young man who won't let his intended father-in-law smash his plug hat is no'chap for you to marry. Beware of him as you would the deadly boa-constrictor."—Detroit Free Press.

An Eyelash Makes an Error.

A Washington financier, who is well acquainted with Col. Lew Washington, the genial teller of Lewis Johnson & Co.'s bank, told the Hatchet a good story on the colonel. It was at the close of business hours, and Col. Washington was poring and perspiring over a long column of figures on the balance-sheet. The sum total of the column should have read $6,090. Instead of that amount, however, it showed a total of $6,990, or $900 more than he could account for. The vexatious mistake caused the colonel to scratch his head vigorously and wonder where the excess was in the column of agonizing figures. While gazing carefully over the column for the twentieth time he discovered the error, and it was one that would hardly occur once in a thousand years. One of the Colonel's eyelashes had fallen on the balance-sheet and adhered to the first 0 in the line of figures $1,000, making a perfect figure nine of the naught, and increasing the whole amount to $6,990, instead of $6,090. In going down the column the twentieth time he brushed the eyelash away with his forefinger. Hereafter, Colonel Washington says, he will go over his balance-sheet with a street-scraper before he commences to add the columns.—Washington Hatchet.

A Gentle Stimulus

Is imparted to the kidneys and bladder by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is most useful in overcoming torpidity of these organs. Besides infusing more activity into them, this excellent tonic endows them with additional vigor, and enables them the better to undergo the wear and tear of the discharging function imposed upon them by nature. Moreover, as they are the channel for the escape of certain impurities from the blood, increases their usefulness by strengthening and healthfully stimulating them. In certain morbid conditions of these important organs, they fall into a sluggish state, which is the usual precursor of disease. What then can be of greater service than a medicine which impels them to greater activity when slothful? No maladies are more perilous than those which affect the kidneys, and a medicine which averts the peril should be highly esteemed.

—"Ain't it time you paid me that five dollars?" asked a farmer of his neighbor. "I don't due," was the reply. "But you promised to pay me when you got back from New York." "Well, I hain't been there," he replied.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—the working man's friend. You who have to be out in all sorts of weather and can't afford to lay by, cannot afford to be without Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Consumption follows in the wake of a neglected cold.

A board of pay officers met at the navy department on Jan. 23d to recommend a system of printed forms and blank books to be used at the several navy pay offices. The board consists of Pay Director James Fulton, Pay Inspector Richard Washington and Passed Asst. Paymaster George A. Deering.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribe. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the causes of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Fiery Horrors.

At Manchester, on the night of the 23d inst., Mrs. Michael J. Callahan was burned to death by her dwelling taking fire; and Mrs. Thomas Meehan, who lived in a tenement overhead, was suffocated to death.

The county poorhouse at Jackson, Mich., was destroyed by fire on the night of Jan 23d. There were forty inmates and only two attendants, who worked nobly and rescued all but five of the poor creatures. Three insane women aged about seventy years, a blind man aged seventy-two years, and a deaf man aged ninety-two, were burned to death; the thermometer was ten below zero, and many of the survivors will die from exposure. William Mills, one of the inmates, was the original issuer of Sanders' spelling books, and was once worth $250,000.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK, ME., Jan. 22d.

John Goodwin, democrat, has received his commission as postmaster at Cape Neddick, vice Joseph Weare, who had held the office for over thirty years. Mr. Weare retires with the respect of the community. Postmaster Goodwin opened the office this week at the store formerly occupied by Daniel Goodwin.

A new post-office has been established at York village by the post-office department to accommodate the people living in that neighborhood, as since the appointment of Mr. Fremont Varrell as postmaster at York the mails have been carried to his store at York harbor. Capt. Edward Baker has been appointed to be postmaster of the new office, and has forwarded his bonds to Washington preliminary to receiving his commission. It is supposed that the office will be kept at Walker's store, as formerly. There are now four post-offices in the town of York, all kept by democrats; there has been a rumor that still another office will be petitioned for, but as the town of York is nearly as large as "Little Rhody" there need be but little wonderment.

Mr. Edward Herbert Banks has recently arrived home from Boston, where he has been employed in Quincy market during the winter. He proposes to run a provision team from York during the present year.

Rev. Mr. Jones of North Berwick preached at the Methodist church last Sunday. The evening services were interrupted by a messenger who came to notify the preacher of the sudden and dangerous illness of his wife. Mr. Jones of course immediately proceeded home, but information was afterward sent to York that the lady had recovered from a severe attack of the croup.

Rev. A. J. Corey, of the Methodist church at the village, was visited at the old parsonage house on Wednesday evening by a large "pound party" of his parishioners, who had with them and left behind when they retired, many acceptable parcels. The new parsonage house is about completed, but is not considered healthful for the clergyman and his family to occupy until warm weather.

The sea has for the last few days along York beach been very high, and has to some extent eaten away the part of the new road near the Hotel Bartlett where a section was washed away during the previous gale.

The snow which came this week is opportune, for the roads were bare in many places, and the farmers were unable to haul their timber and wood. The ice cutters are hard at work, and are now enabled to easily transport their crop to the ice houses for packing.

Thirty men were at work on Preble's pond, Wednesday, cutting and loading ice. Mr. George Preble made a slip and was immersed in eight feet of water, and when he got out was as wet as though it was fifty feet deep. The accident excited the risibilities of the by-standers, as is too often the case in misfortunes, but George thought it no laughing matter; he would rather bathe in August with the mercury at ninety, than in an ice-pond with the mercury at zero. He was rescued after some trouble, the hair growing so crisp close to his head that it was difficult to capture him. The road from Emerson's pond to York harbor was well frequented by teams that day, carying ice to the Marshall house for packing.

Mr. John Sanborn (of Sanborn & Preble) returned to the Garrison house, York beach, on Wednesday, from Pocahontas point, Kittery, for a short stop. The Hotel Pocahontas, built by him there, is nearing its completion; and it is reported that the preliminaries for the erection of several summer cottages at the point will soon be begun.

Little Miss Lydia Preble, daughter of Charles Preble of the Garrison house, though only eight years old gives promise of being a fine musician; she already plays popular airs on small instruments after only once hearing them, and no doubt will by and by be playing the piano in the drawing room of that popular summer resort.

Mr. William Philbrook of York, whose new barn was erected last fall, entirely finished it before the severe weather. It is thirty-six feet by forty on the ground, and affords such good protection to his stock as is needed in this climate. The farm, which has been known as the "old Beetle place," is on the road to Cape Neddick, and has good buildings on it, as the old house was entirely rebuilt and renovated not many months since. Mr. Charles Nason has been an efficient helper to Mr. Philbrook.

The new house of Mr. John Chase, at Chase's pond, York, built over the foundation of the one burned last fall, is rapidly approaching completion. It is modern in style, and an ornament to that neighborhood. VIATOR.

Coast Defences.

The secretary of war has submitted to to the president the report of the fortifications board. It is a long document, and describes fully the necessity and advantages of better coast defences. It is estimated that it will require about $126,000,000 to establish a good system of defences. The appropriation bill will call for $21,000,000, as a start in the line of making heavy guns.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using

Bright's Disease

Prevented

AYER'S

The Senates.

In the Ohio senate, last Friday, two reports were made on the Hamilton county election cases, the majority report recommending that the four democrats elected by the frauds of the returning officers and the partisanship of the supreme court be declared entitled to their seats, while the minority report favored seating the four republicans who were elected by the votes of the people. Much confusion ensued, and ended in a division of the senate, the republican side adjourning to ten o'clock Saturday morning, instead of taking a recess to four o'clock Monday afternoon, as the democratic side did.

Saturday morning the republican members met, but all the democratic seats were vacant. The president appointed a temporary clerk, who entered a call of the senate showing the republican members all present, and an adjournment was then taken to ten o'clock Monday morning.

"BETSY AND I ARE OUT."

There is a difficulty pending between the Singer Sewing Machine Co., which has its manufacturing works located in the pleasant but impecunious city of Elizabeth, N. J., and the city authorities. The city is fearfully and wonderfully in debt. The Singer Co. hold the city's bonds, and wish to pay their taxes in unpaid overdue coupons, due from the city. This would be all right if the city was just now paying its interest, but it staggers under a load of indebtedness which in proportion to its wealth is enough to astonish even a New York aldermen.

"Very well," chirps the Singer, "if you will not receive your own legal obligations, due to us, in payment of our indebtedness to you, we will fold our mammoth tent and with our six thousand employes quit Jersey for an atmosphere less redolent with repudiation."

The Elizabethan authorities regard this as simply bluff. Not so our neighbors at Bath, on the Kennebec. Here have the ship builders of the country held out the longest in the vain attempt to make a living in building ships after the demand for vessels had to a great degree ceased. The people of Bath now see the necessity of establishing some new industry on their shores, and they extend a hand of welcome to the Singer Co., with the assurance of the usual exemption from taxes, and like benefits. The chances are that Elizabeth will have to take a seat a little lower down, and by some concessions, perhaps be able to retain the great advantage of the Singer establishment within her borders.

Elizabeth is not far from New York, whence are shipped by land and sea the great product of the S. S. M. Co., and the concern will hardly go so far east as Bath, for a new location. Should the managers however conclude to keep the thing up, and make a visit to the Kennebec in response to an invitation from the people of that once famous ship-building region, we trust that en passant they will stop long enough at Portsmouth, which is so much nearer everywhere than is Bath, to see the great advantages which Portsmouth possesses over all other places on the face of the globe for their business. As the administration has decided that it will not pay to repair the dry dock, and will be better to close the navy yard, perhaps that excellent location could be purchased or rented upon a long lease, say for ninety-nine years, or until another democratic administration could be trusted with the power. Here are buildings so situated as to be safe from conflagrations, even if one should burn. Here could be loaded into cars at their works their machines, and sent all over the western world; while being situated in a harbor with the deepest water at its wharves of any port in the United States, and free from ice, save when the ice-man comes around in the summer months, shipments of material and product could be received and sent at all seasons by water communication. There are other locations in our vicinity which might be available. The extensive shops and grounds of the Portsmouth Machine company would make an excellent location for the Singer Co. Perhaps the board of trade or the city government have already taken measures to bring our admirable advantages to the notice of this wandering minstrel of the Jersey swamps; if not, the Chronicle extends to the unfortunate holders of Elizabeth's bonds an invitation to come and take up an abode with us, stipulating that if they ever are able to get hold of any Portsmouth indebtedness the interest will be promptly paid, as nominated in the bond.

Of the 128 prizes, valued at $3002, in the lottery of the G. A. R. fair at Dover last week, not one was taken by a resident of Portsmouth. Sixty-seven were won by Dover parties, their value being $2,183 50. Thomas Cash of Dover captured the highest prize, a government note of $1,000; he lives on Back river, and is a second hand in one of the Cocheco mills weave rooms. Three prizes went to Berwick, Me., namely: Ten dollars in cash to M. L. Brown, a rubber coat to George H. Bryant, and a pair of woollen blankets to Ida F. Blake. E. R. McIntyre of South Berwick won half a dozen pairs of hose, and Laura A. Jenkins of Eliot fifteen dollars in cash.

The funeral of the late Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler was from the Unitarian church in Dover on Monday, and was largely attended, Rev. J. P. Sheafe, pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Alonzo H. Quint, D. D. The pall bearers were Hon. Gilman Marston, Hon. Charles W. Woodman, George N. Eastman, Esq., Col. William H. Hackett, Hon. Joshua G. Hall and Hon. Thomas J. Smith. The remains were interred in Pine Hill cemetery.

Streeter of Concord, vice president; Obadiah Morrill of Concord, secretary; C. C. Danforth of Concord, treasurer; board of directors, the treasurer, John A. Spalding, George F. Andrews, V. C. Gilman, Isaac Eaton of Nashua, Solon A. Carter, E. H. Woodman, J. F. Jones and Stilman Humphrey of Concord. Policies will not exceed $5000, and the officers expect to begin issuing them Feb. 1st.

Report of the State Board of Equalization---Summary.

The report of the state board of equalization, compiled from returns received during the year 1885, shows the increase of property over the preceding year to be $282,979, and the increase of savings banks deposits in the same time $1,716,530. The following is a summary by counties of the valuation of real and personal estate, and the taxation:

Counties.	Valuation.	Taxes.
Rockingham	$22,917,706	$326,551.21
Strafford	18,822,811	262,392.44
Belknap	7,829,759	124,447.58
Merrimac	24,806,316	333,273.57
Hillsboro	46,266,946	692,091.41
Cheshire	17,231,857	198,865.83
Sullivan	3,106,223	122,502.65
Grafton	16,514,944	245,087.18
	$174,719,891	$2,601,851.46
Deposited in savings banks, less real estate investments	$43,402,663	$434,026.64
Total	$218,122,554	$3,035,878.10

The board say it is still evident that a large majority of the towns whose inventories were increased in 1883 for the purpose of making apportionment for the state tax, made a low appraisal in 1885, and that a large amount of the money on hand and at interest escapes taxation. They advise the taxpayers, in towns where the assessors persist in undervaluation, to look after their individual interests, and ascertain whether the burdens of taxation are fairly distributed among them.

Rescued by a Lady.

The Tor is a mountain peak rising west of Haverstraw, and is a favorite resort for visitors in the summer. Mr. Blakeledge, of Newark, recently, with a young lady as a companion, climbed to its summit, over seven hundred feet above the sea level. They ascended by the winding path, which is the only proper and safe course up the mountain. They remained an hour on the summit, enjoying the view, which is one of the finest among the mountains, and then began the descent. The slippery condition of the path made the walk more dangerous than usual, and when about one-third of the way down Mr. Blackledge suggested that they leave the path and turn to the left, where the walking was apparently better. They did so, and a few minutes later Mr. Blackledge lost his footing on a loose rock, fell, and rolled over the edge of the cliff, ninety feet high. His cry of alarm and his almost immediate disappearance caused his companion, a few yards behind him to stop. Then, instead of screaming or fainting, she cautiously crept to the brink of the precipice and looked down. She expected to see his dead body on the rocks below. To her relief she saw that he had been caught on a jutting crag about twenty feet down, and that he supported himself with a small tree and with his feet in a cleft of a rock. He was deathly pale, but called to her that he was unhurt and wished her to call for help. This she did lustily, but without avail. Then telling him to wait a few minutes she began active measures of relief. Around some large rock on the edge of the cliff she built a sort of a platform on which to stand. Then she devoted her wrap and a flannel skirt to make a rescue. To her almost fainting friend she lowered the strongly-knotted cord, and slowly but surely he came up, hand over hand, to the top of the cliff, where for five minutes he lay exhausted. The young lady then helped him down the mountain path, and without further mishap they reached the outskirts of the village shortly after dark. The young lady is Miss Mildred Porter, of Elizabeth, N. J., and she is visiting friends in Haverstraw. Mr. Blakeledge came to visit her. He has not yet fully recovered. He certainly owes his life to Miss Porter's coolness and bravery.

The Paris Gaulois announces that Jay Gould is about to visit the French Capital, and narrates the following anecdote of the American millionaire: "Jay Gould started in life in New York twenty years ago without a cent in his pocket. He was about to be expelled from the little room he had rented, as he was unable to pay for it, and as a last resource he went and related his misfortunes to one of his neighbors, a shirtmaker, who took pity on him and lent him $10. Gould paid his debts and started for San Francisco. A few years afterwards a stranger presented himself at the residence of the shirtmaker, and happened in just as the latter, surrounded by his neighbors, was celebrating his daughter's wedding. The stranger made himself known—his name was Jay Gould. A most touching scene of gratitude took place between Gould and his former savior; but Gould had not come solely for the purpose of enacting a little domestic drama—he had at heart only the payment of a debt, and he handed the astonished shirtmaker a check for $100,000.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and enlarged?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, marks the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in a monthly instalments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectus and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier." of ATHLOPHOROS cured my wife of acute neuralgia. Instead of being laid up for two or three days as usual, it was all over in three hours and she has not had an attack since."—JOHN AUGER, 1 Hove Street, New Haven, Conn.

Some times ATHLOPHOROS will not act as quickly as usual, but in such cases, rest assured it is sure and the more severe the pain the more quickly it will act. There is no disease more common and none more intensely painful than neuralgia. Ladies particularly are subject to headaches of neuralgic origin. Neuralgia in any form can be speedily cured. Athlophoros is absolutely safe and absolutely sure. Thousands who have suffered intensely with neuralgia and been cured by the use of Athlophoros prove the truth of this statement. Is it not worth a trial in your case?

The Undertaker's Season.

When asked by a reporter whether he had any funerals on hand, an Olive street undertaker answered in the negative, adding that he expected to have some very good ones very soon.

"What makes you so confident?" queried the reporter.

"Why," quoth the undertaker, "the rich men die in winter and poor men in summer. As winter is coming on it follows naturally that we will have the remains of people belonging to rich families to bury. When I say that rich people die in winter and the poor in summer I am prepared to give my reasons for that assertion. In the summer time rich men, as a rule, take it easy. They keep in the shade and spend their time at summer resorts, where they get plenty of fresh air. Poor people on the other hand remain at home. They work in the sun, live in basements and hot rooms, and enervate themselves until they take sick and die. It is a well-known fact that poor people, as a rule, have more children than rich people, and it is also a well-known fact that the mortality among children is greater during the summer months than at any other season of the year. Men who work on high walls, as brick masons, men who clean the streets, and teamsters, as well as others who are exposed to the hot rays of a midsummer sun, are poor men, as a rule, who are compelled to work the year round for their daily bread. Rich men die in winter because they are subject to dangers they take no precautions to avoid. Poor men suffer from exposure, yet their very hardships fit them for the sudden changes of the weather which are almost constantly occurring. Rich people, wearing furs and heavy overcoats, crowd into overheated and badly ventilated theatres. When they come out they catch their death of cold. Rich people indulge in greater excesses in winter than in summer. They attend more balls and wine parties, and lose more sleep in cold than in warm weather. There are many other reasons for the fact stated to you, but it is hardly worth while to enumerate them here. Suffice it to say that the undertakers have nearly all of their best paying funerals during the winter months."—St. Louis Republican.

Fossil Shark in New York.

The remains of a fossil shark, consisting of a portion of a defensive fin spine, were found in the drift in a cultivated field in the town of Benton, in this county, by Mr. David Croizer, a few days ago. The specimen was partly incased in a block of coldferous limestone, from which most of the lime had been dissolved out, leaving the usual flinty horns and a thin layer of chalk. The portion found was two and three-tenths inches long, and the entire spine must have been at least nine inches long. The extinct shark to which it belonged is known in paleontology as Machærcanthius Major of Newberry, and is often found in Ohio. This is supposed to be the first time this species has been found in New York State. The fin spines of this genius of shark were formidable weapons of defense, being shaped like a double bayonet, and ancipital or two edged, but curved like a tusk, and fixed at the base into the cartilaginous skull, and hence were not movable, as are the little spines of the catfish. The sides of the spines are concave on each side of the raised angular ridge running the whole length through the middle of each side, and are thus like two bayonets applied together by their flat sides, giving great strength. They occurred in twos, and were rights and lefts. These ancient sharks had no real bones, and their framework or skeletons were of cartilage, except the spine, which was bony and covered with smooth enamel. For this reason it is rare to find fossils of the other parts of these sharks, the soft parts of the skeletons generally decomposing before petrifaction could take place.—Penn Yan Chronicle.

What American Women Spend.

"There is hardly a trade that has grown so rapidly during the last few years as the cloak trade," said a New York manufacturer to a reporter recently. "A few years ago it was a trade almost unknown on this side of the Atlantic. In this country now there are hundreds of houses devoted to this interest alone."

"Can you give me any figures as to its progress?"

"According to the returns made at the last census, we find that the amount of business transacted in the matter of women's clothing footed up nearly $30,000,000, and it is likely the greater part of this was for outer garments. About two-thirds of this, or $19,000,000, is credited to New York; to Philadelphia, $2,500,000; Boston, $1,800,000; Chicago, $1,500,000; Cincinnati and San Francisco about $1,000,000 each. According to the 1880 census the amount of capital employed was about $7,500,000."

"What is the centre for manufacturing cloaks in Europe?"

"Berlin, probably because of the cheap manner in which they can be put together there. A number of cloaks used to be imported here from that place, but the imports have largely fallen off, and domestic goods are chiefly used. The foreign manufacturers cannot make goods to fit our American ladies well."

"Where do the various styles come from?"

"Paris stands at the head of the list of cities furnishing designs, although we are every year advancing in the line ourselves. Nearly all the cloak houses have representatives abroad, who visit London, Paris, Berlin, and Vienna. They buy samples of what they think would be a popular style and send them over to be copied."

A little girl suffering with the mumps declared "she felt as though a headache had jumped down into her neck." St. Jacobs Oil would have removed it.

A despatch to London from Rome says that the Moniteur De Rome, the organ of the Vatican, expresses annoyance and disgust at the opposition displayed in the queen's speech to the sundering of the legislative union between Great Britain and Ireland. The Moniteur longs for the time to come when the world shall see Protestantism entirely extirpated from Ireland, and Catholicism universally recognized.

"Reform is Necessary."

Mr. Barney Conroy has been appointed transfer mail agent at the union depot in Indianapolis, Ind. It is said there are some blemishes on Mr. Conroy's record. In 1872 he was sent to the penitentiary for two years, for grand larceny. In 1877 he pleaded guilty of larceny and robbery, and got two years more. In 1879 he was convicted of riot, and indicted for petit larceny and robbery; and in 1883 he was convicted of assault and battery. He has been arrested numberless times for minor offences. But he has always been an ardent worker for democracy and reform.

The Ohio senate failed to make much progress on Monday. The republicans were on hand at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and the democrats came in at four o'clock in the afternoon. There was a scene of confusion, and finally the republicans adjourned to Tuesday forenoon, and the democrats to Tuesday afternoon.

Admiral Lord John Hay, commanding the British Mediterranean squadron, consisting of the Alexandra, Neptune, Thunderer, Dreadnaught, Iris and Helicon, has received instructions as to the course he shall pursue in the event of it becoming necessary for him to take action on England's demand of Greece to disarm.

A despatch from Wilhelmshafer, one of the principal German naval stations on the North sea, says that the iron-clad Prinz Frederich Carl is being rapidly fitted out for sea. Her destination is the port of Athens, Greece.

Depression has been caused in Servia by the announcement that the powers have decided to coerce Greece. An informal alliance was only recently arranged between Servia and Greece. It is reported that the Greek fleet has gone to Salamis.

The North German Gazette says: "The attitude of England with regard to the warlike position assumed by Greece toward Turkey must be vigorously supported. The powers must not allow that small firebrand state to jeopardize the peace of Europe."

Great activity exists in Turkish military and naval circles. Troops and horses are being hurried off for Salonica. The transportation department is using extraordinary efforts to expedite the despatch of troops and munitions of war to the Greek frontier.

MARITIME NOTES.

The ship Grandee, Jacobs master, sailed from Manila for New York on the 6th of December.

The barque Harvard, Pray master, was cleared at Boston for New York on the 25th inst. by M. F. Pickering & Co., to load for a port in Java.

A correspondent of the Biddeford Journal, writing from Kennebunkport, says: "The heavy sea of last week washed up on Ogunquit beach the keel of a large vessel with copper fastenings, which, from its appearance, has laid on the bottom of the ocean for many years. It is evidently a part of the wreck of the bark Isadora, Capt. Leander Stevens, from this port for New Orleans for cotton, that was lost with all on board off York cliffs the last day of November, 1842. Old ocean will one day bring to light many deep sea mysteries of which such relics painfully remind us."

A despatch from Gloucester, Mass., says: "It is generally conceded that the schooners Mabel Dilloway and Hyperion, both of which have been published as lost, will form the only two total losses of the fishing fleet by the terrible gales of Christmas and Jan. 8th and 9th. Most of the other vessels lost sails, anchors, cables, etc., and it was feared that several of them had sailed their last voyage, but this fear has not been realized."

J. A. Litchfield of North Scituate, Mass., while off the beach in a small boat, Jan. 23d, picked from the surf a common lager beer bottle, in which, written in a rough but legible hand, on a small blue and white card, were the following lines: "Crew of schooner Mabel Benton wrecked off Devil's Back, Dec. 25, 1885. George Ross and Bill Bugley only ones saved." The bottle has not been opened, but the finder will hold it pending any developments. It is believed by some seamen that the bottle was thrown overboard from some outward-bound vessel, by which the survivors of the lost vessel may have been rescued. Others, however, believe that it is merely a silly hoax.

The shipping committee of the house finally considered Mr. Dingley's bill to abolish certain fees for officials' services to American vessels, and for other services, Saturday. The bill was considerably amended, and Mr. Dingley was instructed to report it to the house and secure action upon it at the earliest opportunity.

Charles A. Clowes, secretary of the Riverton Alcohol works of Chicago, Ill., a wealthy and handsome young married man, murdered his mistress, "Blanche Grey," and then shot himself, both dying almost instantly. The woman was an inmate of a notorious den on South Clark street.

The nihilists are again active in Russia.

Mrs. Lydia Larrabee, who was convicted of manslaughter in the supreme court at Belfast, Me., has been released on bail furnished by her three sons. Her case will go to the law court.

R. D. McKelvy, son of Mayor McKelvy of Allegheny City, Pa., is charged with obtaining money under false pretences. He has eloped with a young woman, who like himself was a member of a society of evangelists.

Henry Neimeyer, second cook at the Sherman house, Chicago, was fatally shot by William H. Bebler, during a quarrel about religion, which led to the murder.

A movement is on foot in the British house of lords to present Earl Granville with a testimonial in honor of his thirty years' service as liberal leader.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."

Bright's Disease

Prevented

AYER'S

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PERLE, Salem, Mass.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

One of the pleasantest social gatherings of the season occured on the seventh inst. at the home of Charles F. Trefethen and wife in Rye, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The invitations were not general, it being a strictly family affair. The brothers and sisters, children, grandchildren and immediate relatives, to the number of about fifty, assembled at the old homestead. Presents of gold coin, table ware, etc., testified the regard and affection of all. Among those present, one couple, E. W. Lang and wife, celebrated their golden wedding seven years since, and another, Joseph P. Trefethen and wife, who witnessed the marriage ceremony fifty years ago, expect a similar event in 1887. A bountiful dinner was served, and the remainder of the day and evening was spent in an enjoyable manner by all present. Many neighbors and friends of the family called to offer congratulations to the worthy couple who have spent half a century so happily together.

He Got His Applejack.

William H. Vanderbilt came down to Staten Island a few days before his death and went to New Dorp and looked at his gigantic mausoleum there. While he was viewing the work Tunis Butler came up with a pair of horses that were hauling material to the spot. Mr. Butler has the contract for hauling the stones and other articles to the place.

"Tun" is a little younger than Mr. Vanderbilt was, and, perhaps, a little less wealthy. In the years that are long agone, however, Tun used to know Mr. Vanderbilt very well. In fact, they were neighbors, and in the good old days of yore, when simple Bill Vanderbilt was an humble youth working on the old Vanderbilt farm, he and Tun were chums. They grew up to be young men together.

When Mr. Vanderbilt heard Tun yell "Gee! haw!" at the yoke of oxen, the Croesus quickly glanced around as though he had heard that voice and the same command so often before that it had become familiar.

Mr. Vanderbilt quickly turned his head just as Tun raised his eyes to look at the financial magnate. Their eyes met at the same time.

"Hello!" said Mr. Vanderbilt, "how do you do, Tun?" and his soft fingers were clasped in what Mr. Butler calls his hands.

"Well, Bill, I'm purty well; but it's a good while since we have met." replied Butler.

"Yes: that's so," responded William H., who added: "We used to live close by, and had some good frolics together."

"Yes; that's so," continued Mr. Butler. "But I say, Bill," he put in with that quizzical look that all who know him are familiar with—"But I say, Bill," said Mr. Butler, "do you recollect the last time we met?"

"No," said the hundred millionaire, smiling freely, as though expecting a characteristic joke from the other.

"Well, I'll tell you," said Tun. "It was when you was trying to haul a load of moss-bunkers up from the beach, after we had got them out of the bay, to use for fertilizers. You had one of the old Commodore's teams, and I had my team. Your horse got stuck in a mud bank, and couldn't get out with the bunkers. I bet you a gallon of apple jack that my team could pull the load out, and you bet they couldn't. I won, but — if I ever got the gallon of applejack yet."

Mr. Vanderbilt laughed heartily at the blunt humor of Mr. Butler, and said he would make the omission good. He said he remembered the circumstance well.

A few days afterward Tun received by express a gallon demijohn of royal old applejack, accompanied by a bottle of the best champagne, from the Fifth avenue mansion of the former New Dorpite.—Richmond County (N. Y.) Sentinel.

Judge Lochrane stated in one of his prohibition speeches that he intended to empty the contents of his wine cellar "in rich libation on the ground." Under this assertion he has decanted on the unheeding soil some very rare wines. All that he has left is a few gallons of Irish whisky, which he imported in 1870, and several bottles of which he had promised to friends some time ago. When these are delivered, he says, the remainder shall hit the grit.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $8,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."
